ORGANIZED LYING ABOUT ARTISTS

There is a widespread interest as to the private lives of actors and actresses which a certain type of modern journalism has done a good deal to foster. It is, perhaps, only natural that women should want to know things about actresses which men would never think of trying to ascertain about actors. Female curiosity is in a class by itself, and before it mere man can only bow his head in silent acquiescence.

But there is a curiosity that is closely allied to impertinence, and this is the curiosity which the vulgar section of the American press has popularized and almost deified. Thus it comes about that in certain papers which are not named, because they would thereby gain free advertising, the avid curiosity of a certain class of individual is fed and fanned by alleged details of the most intimate type regarding both actresses and actors. Their private lives, their affections, their thoughts, their personal and business affairs, are laid allegedly bare for the grubbing inspection of the morbidly curious, both male and female.

How much of this is pure fiction, of course, it need not be said, can easily be estimated by those who are not concerned in grubbing. But it passes for what it purports to be with the classes for whose special delectation it is written. And the result is that a very large number of people entertain ridiculously inaccurate ideas of the lives of the leading members of the theatrical profession. They are represented as paragons of virtue, as scintillating stars of vice, as vampires, as angels, as heartbreakers, as woman haters, as giant intellects, as people of astounding idiosyncrasies, as moral lepers, as anything and everything; in fact, save what they are—just plain men and women, "most remarkable, like you and me."

* * * *

It is a thousand pities that a class which does so much to bring pleasure into the life of the community should be so strangely misrepresented. Yet the fact remains. While we are informed—if we care to read the rubbish—in various papers that this or that particular popular star is engaged in exploring the Mexican deserts or in pursuing tuna, off the coast in dare-devil motor boats or in writing a mysterious play or in bringing to a crisis some absorbing love-adventure, the actual facts are that the star in question is quietly enjoying himself in a country home with his wife and family, living a quiet country life like scores of thousands of other sane, well-balanced, healthy people, doing nothing extraordinary, neither astounding his neighbors nor disgusting them, neither alluring crowds to see him nor creating sensations by hermit-like propensities.

I could cite fifty examples of this sort of thing that have come to my notice since the summer holidays began. One reads them with a disgust that is not allayed by the fact that they are circulated by papers which ought to have some regard for other people's feelings. But this sort of publicity-mongering is a mania with the type of paper in question.

Fortunately there are many signs that a revulsion of feeling is taking place among the artists themselves which may lead eventually to some common action against misrepresentation. The wretched dictum that because a person earns his living by appearing in public his private life should be public property may receive a jolt some day that will go far to kill the present detestable habit of organized lying to feed curiosity's gaping maw.—S. MORGAN-POWELL, in Montreal Daily Star.

Out of a clear sky—a blinding bolt. Not as a deft—not as a jolt. And yet unmistakably an answer to the Producing Managers' "nothing to arbitrate" letter. Thus is ultimatum matched with ultimatum.

There is a fine line in The Theater Guild's triumphant production, "John Ferguson," viz.: "From the world's beginning men have been answering blow with blow, and what have they profited?"

What does—what will fighting prove? Anything save that one side is the better fighter?

Does not discussion and argument promise far more brightly?

And even if arbitration has to be resorted to, is it not infinitely to be preferred to war?

Organization is only justified if it is resorted to to facilitate debate and invoke the rule of reason. If perfected with other ends in view it will do more harm than good.

The Producing Managers organized. Then to all intents and purposes they said: "We are mobilized! We are prepared! We will not arbitrate! It's your move!"

But as things turned out, the Actors, tho in check, had a move—and made it.

The story of the move is most interesting:

At exactly 4:37 p.m. Friday, July 18, representatives of the White Rats Actors' Union and the Actors Equity Association affixed their signatures to a document that promises to be the Magna Charta of the American actor. It was an agreement to affiliate both organizations under a charter of the American Federation of Labor, and was signed by the Executive Boards of the W. R. A. U. and A. E. A.

The name of the new organization is The Associated Actors and Artistes of America, and it is a new American Federation of Labor International Union. The charter for the acting profession in the A. F. of L. has been held for many years by the White Rats Actors' Union and negotiations have been going on in secret for some time between representatives of the W. R. A. U. and A. E. A. to arrange a means for the A. E. A. to join up with organized labor. This was finally settled yesterday by amalgamation of the two bodies.

The Actors' Equity Association takes jurisdiction over all branches of the English speaking and French dramatic stage in America, including musical comedy. The White Rats have jurisdiction over vaudeville, concert, burlesque, circus and chautauqua. Each retains strict autonomy over its own affairs and acts independently of each other in its own jurisdiction. Both bodies are represented by delegates to the International Union, who in turn compose the International Board. This board deals only with matters that fall within international jurisdiction or are referred to it by the respective unions composing the international.

The international officers of the Associated Actors and Artistes of America were elected yesterday by unanimous vote of the International Board, and will hold office till May 31, 1921. They also continue to hold their present positions in their unions as heretofore. The officers elected yesterday are: Francis Wilson, international president; James William FitzPatrick, international vice-president; Frank Gillmore, international treasurer; Harry Mountford, international executive secretary. Messrs. Wilson and Gillmore are respectively president and secretary of the A. E. A., and Messrs. FitzPatrick and Mountford are respectively president and big chief and secretary-treasurer of the W. R. A. U.

Under the terms of the affiliation a member of one branch who is playing in another branch automatically comes under the jurisdiction of the branch in which he is playing, and must pay his dues to that branch. Thus, a member of the vaudeville branch who goes into a show, pays his dues to the A. E. A. while he is with the show, and the opposite obtains if a member of the A. E. A. goes into vaudeville. By doing this the member does not lose his membership in the branch in which he originally belonged. He merely comes under the jurisdiction of the union that controls his branch of the theater and must obey all its orders.

A committee has been appointed to look for quarters on Broadway for the international headquarters, and it is expected that the proper offices will be speedily found. When they are official announcement will be promptly made of their location.

Sam H. Harris was called up on the telephone at his home in Great Neck, Long Island, and asked if he had anything to say about the affiliation for publication in The Billboard. Mr. Harris was reluctant to talk, but finally said: "We expected the affiliation and that is the reason we did not consider any action on the A. E. A. proposals. We had talked with them and knew they would eventually do this. We do not consider the matter of sufficient importance to call a special meeting of the Producing Managers' Association, but at our regular meeting next week we will take the matter up and our conclusions will be given out thru the regular channels."

An interview was then sought by The Billboard reporter with Harry Mountford. He was found at his offices hard at work, as usual, but he found time to receive the reporter. Mr. Mountford was asked several questions by The Billboard man, but he was remarkably uncommunicative. He was asked about the status of the Actors' Equity dispute with the managers. Mr. Mountford replied: "I have no official knowledge of the matter whatever. The Actors' Equity have not taken this matter up with the International Board at all. You see, they have three courses open to them: First—To manage it and run it entirely by themselves. Second—To ask the advice and assistance and co-operation of the International Board. Third—To turn it over in its entirety to the International Board. Up to the present they have done neither of the two latter, for I know nothing about it."

But The Billboard man pressed Mr. Mountford and asked him for his personal opinion as to the prospects of success of the Actors' Equity fight. "Well," said Mr. Mountford, lighting a fresh cigarette from the end of the old one, "that's a very simple answer. It all depends upon the members. If the members do exactly as they are told by their council, and, as far as I can gather, that is what they are doing, it's a hundred per cent, lead pipe cinch."

"The managers must have members of the Actors' Equity," continued Mr. Mountford, "because without them there will be no show, and now they can't get vaudeville actors. Furthermore, with this affiliation, any person who takes their places will be a scab and only fit to be a member of the N. V. A. I do not think the membership of that organization will show any gain from such a source."

"The great thing," emphasized Mr. Mountford, with a ring of sincerity and earnestness in his voice, "for the members of the Actors' Equity to do, is to trust their leaders. They elected them and have pledged themselves to follow their commands, and, above all, no member of the Actors' Equity Association should believe anything they are shown, anything they are told, anything they read anywhere about this matter, unless it is over the signature of one of the officers of the Actors' Equity Association or of one of the international officers of the Associated Actors' and Artistes' of America."

The Billboard man, having run across Big Chief FitzPatrick, who has been in town for the consummation of the affiliation, asked Mr. FitzPatrick what his opinion was on it. "The best thing that ever happened to the actors of this country," promptly replied Mr. FitzPatrick. "The best thing that ever happened to the theaters of this country. The best thing that ever happened to the managers in this country and the future will prove it."

After he had left Mr. FitzPatrick, The Billboard representative went to the Actors' Equity headquarters. Things were humming there, but Frank Gillmore courteously consented to talk for the benefit of the readers of The Bill-

T. M. A. SELECTS NEW TITLE AT CONVENTION IN TOLEDO, O.

Will Be Known Hereafter as Theatrical Mutual Association—Daniel F. Pierce Elected To Succeed Arthur DeArmond as President—Toronto Gets Next Meeting, July 12, 1921

Toledo, O., July 19.—Before adjourning the seventeenth biennial grand lodge convention of the Theatrical Mechanical Association here Thursday the 200 delegates in attendance voted to change the name of the organization to the Theatrical Mutual Association.

Walter Thompson, representing Cincinnati Lodge No. 33, introduced the resolution and led the fight for the change. He argued that the word "Mechanical" conveyed the idea that the association was one for stage mechanics only. It is, in fact, a benevolent order open to actors, ushers, stage hands, stage mechanics, theater owners, producers, movie operators, professional artists, athletes and all others who are connected with the amusement business.

Some of the old guard voiced objections to the proposal, but were swept under when the Cincinnati's resolution came up for a vote.

The next convention will be held at Toronto, Canada, the week of July 12, 1921. Buffalo and Memphis put in a strong bid for the event, but withdrew in favor of Toronto.

Toronto also came out on top in the election of officers. Daniel F. Pierce, Toronto Lodge, No. 11, manager of the Star Theater, was elected president of the association. Arthur DeArmond, retiring grand president, declined nomination owing to the pressure of business, he said.

John J. Barry, Boston Lodge No. 2, was named first grand vice-president; Adolph Dohring, San Francisco Lodge No. 21, second grand vice-president, and D. L. Donaldson, Buffalo Lodge

Seattle's Auditorium

Seattle, July 19.—Aubrey White, president of the Spokane Park Board; George W. Dodds, editor of The Spokesman-Review; James Smythe, capitalist of that city, and Louis M. Davenport, of the Hotel Davenport, were here this week conferring with the Seattle Memorial Association. It is planned to have a Memorial Auditorium in that city, which will cost one million dollars, exclusive of land and fittings. Its seating capacity will be large, but not yet definitely determined. The Spokane party attended the city plan convention in Buffalo last month and have visited all of the cities in the West and Middle West, where there were old or new auditoriums. The $2,500,000 auditorium now being built in Cleveland met with their special approval, and the Memorial Bridge across the Niagara River at Buffalo, to be built by American and Canadian money at a cost of fifty million dollars, was given special mention by them.

Leases Oklahoma Theater

Oklahoma City, Ok., July 20.—Hathaway Harper, theatrical manager, has leased the Overholser Theater for the coming season, and is booking all high-class attractions, including first-run feature pictures, obtainable.

Mr. Harper says that Oklahoma City will be the center of theatrical and musical attractions in the Southwest next fall, and predicts that it will be one of the most brilliant seasons ever known in Oklahoma.

No. 18, third grand vice-president. There was no opposition for any of these posts.

Ed Hollenkamp, Cincinnati Lodge No. 33, nosed out M. J. Cullen, Newark Lodge No. 28, and was re-elected grand secretary and treasurer.

Edward A. Green, Chicago Lodge; James C. Parmelee, St. Louis Lodge No. 5; Shirley D. Boyle, Beaver Falls

Lenney Company Formed

Harrisburg, Pa., July 21.—A new motion picture establishment has been formed in Harrisburg and has been incorporated in the Pennsylvania State Department under the name of the Lenney Amusement Company. The new concern will establish and maintain motion picture houses. The capital stock of the new concern is $50,000. The incorporators are J. M. Lenney, Jr.; J. M. Lenney, Sr., and J. E. Gipple, all of Harrisburg.

Theater Company Chartered

Harrisburg, Pa., July 21.—One of the biggest theater companies organized and chartered in Pennsylvania is the Metropolitan Theater Company, Scranton, Pa., which recently received its charter from the Pennsylvania State Department. Subscribed capital stock totals $250,000, according to the statement of incorporators.

The purpose of incorporation, according to the statement made when application was made for a charter, is to construct, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire motion picture houses, concert halls and amusement places, and to become theatrical and amusement proprietors and motion picture exhibitors.

The incorporators of the new concern are Michael E. Comerford, Scranton; L. A. DeGraff, Dalton; F. J. Hebriegel, Scranton.

Strike Hurts Theaters

Denver, Col., July 19.—The motion picture theaters of Curtis street, Denver's great White Way, suffered seriously last week, when the Denver tramway strike was on. The big houses are estimated to have lost $1,000 daily each for four days. Traffic was completely tied up all over the city until an adjustment was made, which ended the strike. The people ordinarily patronizing the movies satisfied themselves with the smaller neighborhood houses when they could not get to town on the cars.

Touring Theaters in England

According to word from London a movement is on foot there to build theaters on motor lorries for the purpose of touring country districts.

A method similar to this was used years and years ago when the drama was in its infancy in England—when the old mystery plays of the sixteenth century were given on platforms on wheels and moved from town to town.

New Project in Middle West

Include Boardwalk and Amusement Building at Davenport, Ia.

Davenport, Ia., July 20.—Charles Berkell, pioneer in Davenport amusement enterprises, in association with local business men, has secured a twenty-five-year lease on a block plat along the Mississippi River, which will be converted into a boardwalk. An amusement building, 320x42, facing the street, will be erected to house entertainments, and there will be a score of concessions along the thirteen-foot promenade.

The building will be of Spanish architectural type. Concerts, boat races, pyrotechnical displays and hydroplane flights will be among tri-weekly feature free attractions. The company expects to spend $40,000 in the Mid-West pier. The municipal levee commission owns the ground and the boardwalk will adjoin LeClaire Park, a city river front park.

Cleveland's New Theaters

Cleveland, O., July 19.—Plans for three more new theaters for Cleveland constitute the big announcement in local amusement circles this week. The projects will include a theater for the Loew interests, one that will probably be known as the Opera House to take the place of the present structure bearing that name and housing Klaw & Erlanger plays, and the other a large film house. The two theaters for vaudeville and legitimate enterprises will be in the rapidly growing upper Euclid avenue section adjacent to East Fourteenth street. The Loew Theater, according to present plans, will seat 4,000 persons. This project, combined with the Opera House plan, will probably call for an outlay of $2,500,000. That part of the enterprise housing Loew attractions will be directly under the management of the Loew organization. The Opera House project will be under the direction of a group of Cleveland business men, who have purchased the franchise from the Klaw & Erlanger interests in New York City.

The third and separate project is that planned by Clare F. and Graham Hoffman, widely known in theatrical enterprises as the Hoffman Brothers. This firm has acquired a long-term lease on property in the rear of present buildings on Euclid avenue at East 102d street. They plan a motion picture house to cost $250,000. It will seat 1,800 persons.

Managers Up in Arms

Providence, R. I., July 19.—A law providing that theaters in the city shall pay the firemen $3 a day is taken any way but kindly by theatrical managers in the city. In all probability steps will soon be taken to test the constitutionality of the measure. The managers were notified by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the city in May that the law had become effective and that they must conform to the law, but it is said some of them are not yet doing it. The City Solicitor has been in conference with representatives of the theaters.

The theaters may pay the salaries of the firemen on duty at their respective houses in accordance with the provision of the law under protest and still reserve the right to test the constitutionality of the act. The firemen on duty at the various theaters are appointed by the theater managers, but must have the approval of the Board of Fire Commissioners. They are not city employees and some of the theatrical managers seize upon this point as a basis for their argument that this is an infringement upon the rights of the employers to pass such an amendment.

G. W. King

Purchases Lyric Theater in Binghamton, N. Y.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 19.—The Lyric Theater on Water street, years ago known as the Bijou and at one time the popular melodramatic house of the city, was this week sold to George W. King, proprietor of the Endisbire Hotel, for $15,500.

The old playhouse has had a checkered career, passing from one management to another with various degrees of success, but for the past year it had been devoted exclusively to motion pictures.

Mr. King took possession last Wednesday and will continue the present policy of the house. Frank Bovay, for some time pianist at the house, will manage it. Numerous improvements are contemplated by the new owner, including the erection of a large electric sign over the entrance.

Hippodrome To Use Tank

New York, July 19.—Rehearsals for the new Hippodrome spectacle are in full swing. The ballet is practicing every day at the 34th Street Armory. The title of the new show has not yet been decided upon, but it is a fact that the famous water tank will be brought into use this coming season. Many visitors last year wondered why this big sensation of the world's biggest playhouse was thrown into the discard, and Mr. Dillingham and Mr. Burnside have decided to requisition this feature, with its myriad of possibilities, for their forthcoming production.

Attorney General After 'Em

Chicago, July 21.—The Attorney General of Illinois has instituted proceedings to compel corporations that have forfeited their charters because of failure to file annual reports to dissolve.

A number of theatrical corporations are involved in the proceedings. Generally when a show is produced a corporation is formed. If the show is a failure the directors are said to invariably forget all about further legal requirements and occasionally fail to pay the corporation's debts. Unless the debts are paid the corporation cannot be legally dissolved.

Picture House Combine

Chicago, July 21.—A. J. Obreshk and Nick Bikos are reported to have combined their picture theaters in Gary, Ind., thru a new organization called the Venus Amusement Company, which will control seven picture houses, the Star in Whiting, Ind.; the Venus, Gem, Lyric, Cosmo and Royal in Gary, and the Hegewisch in Hegewisch, Ill. Mr. Obreshk is president and Mr. Bikos vice-president of the new organization.

Harry Bernard in New York

New York, July 20.—Harry Bernard, from the Pacific Coast, is in town but is leaving for Chicago in connection with the Klaw & Erlanger time. Bernard is a producer of note in San Francisco. He will produce the Honolulu Girls and will be featured with the Western company, under the management of Norman Friedenwald.

Give Up Road Shows

Chicago, July 19.—The Orpheum Theater management in Joliet has announced that it will cease showing road attractions and will play vaudeville seven days a week. A similar announcement comes from the management of the Orpheum Theater in Malesburg, Ill.

New York, July 19.—The New York Police Relief Association has in its roster some of the real outdoor showmen of the universe.

The preparations made for their annual Field Day at Sheepshead Bay Speedway proves this in full.

They have sold hundreds of thousands of tickets at one dollar each and have provided a program that is extraordinary in all that the term could imply.

The wonders to be revealed have been culled from the four quarters of the country and are made up into one composite performance features that are notable in the Aviation, Aquatic, Operatic, Circus, Carnival, Arenic, Athletic, Burlesque, Vaudeville, Automobile, Chautauqua, Concert, Dramatic, Musical, Comedy, Spectacular, Pageantry, Hippodrome, Wild West, Side Show, Fair, Exposition, Park and Motion Picture world.

This event can truthfully said to be the all-absorbing big feature of the day, despite the heavy downpour of rain that has been going on with violence since morning with the exception of a few minutes when the sun threatened to shine.

This wonderful show will be repeated next Saturday, July 26, and all those holding original tickets or rain checks will be admitted on that day, rain or shine.

BLANEY PLAYERS

Elmer J. Walters has been managing the Yorkville Theater for the past thirty-four weeks, where the Blaney Players have been playing to great business. The house closed July 15 and will open again in four weeks with the same combination of favorite stock stars. Mr. Walters says that the only losing week was when the Thirteenth Chair was on the boards. He assures us that if the occasion requires they play the same piece he is going to add a couple of camp stools to the cast, to counteract the accredited "hoodoo"

SAFE

The Great Clayton came rushing down Broadway yesterday in his new Aero S "Cole" car (please note, not coal car). By his side was seated the Great Leon. They passed the Putnam Building, the crowd on the sidewalk cheered them. Ten minutes later the newsboys started to holler: "Extra, extra, all about the accident." Doctor Harmon bought a copy, and after

Providence Theater Renamed

Colonial Now Known as Mayflower—Opens Labor Day

Providence, R. I., July 19.—The Colonial Theater, which has been taken over for a term of years by A. L. Erlanger, has been renamed the Mayflower. It will open Labor Day under its new policy.

It is announced that Albert M. Sheehan, formerly manager of the Tremont Theater, Boston, and at present manager of some of D. W. Griffith's feature films, will be the new resident manager. Robert J. McDonald, manager of the Colonial during the past season and now in charge of extensive alterations, will remain until the house is opened. Mr. McDonald will in the fall go to the Holyoke Theater for a brief stay before going to Bridgeport to have charge of the Park Theater.

Putnam Building To Stay

New York, July 19.—Despite the fact that the Putnam Building, 1493 Broadway, was recently sold by the Astor Estate and announcements have been made in various papers that the historic pile would be torn down, it has been discovered that this is not likely to happen for many a year.

Some of the stores holding leases, so it is stated, have asked such exorbitant sums for their leases that it has been decided to leave the building as it is, at least for the present.

It may, however, be possible that a theater will be built in back of the building proper, the present entrance to the offices becoming also the lobby of the proposed theater.

Singer Succeeds Woolfolk

Chicago, July 19.—A shakeup of some sort has occurred in the management of the La Salle Theater. Boyle Woolfolk, general manager and owner of The Honeymoon Town Company that has been playing in the theater, having resigned. Mr. Woolfolk has been succeeded by Will Singer, a brother of Mort Singer, of the W. V. M. A.

Bernard Granville, the leading man in The Honeymoon Town Company, will start a new production of his own in New York in September.

Yiddish Theater Passes

Cleveland, O., July 19.—Passing of the Royal Theater, said to be the first Jewish theater to be erected west of New York City, was completed this week when the building was dismantled to make way for industrial tenants, who will occupy the building henceforth. The Royal was built 20 years ago at Woodland avenue and East Thirty-seventh street, and was then known as the People's after the theater that bears that name in New York. For nearly a decade it was the only house in Cleveland where Yiddish plays were given.

Alexander Takes Rest

Seattle, July 20.—Alexander, the Man Who Knows, and his organization, arrived here today, following the Portland engagement, for a vacation of a month or six weeks. The Alexander company opens its California bookings the last of August, and is booked solid for the coming season. Mr. Alexander will spend the time here hunting and fishing in the nearby streams, and at the mountain retreats.

During the past season the Alexander show has played at the Metropolitan three times, a total of seven weeks, and to capacity business throughout the engagement.

SUN & JAMES AMUSEMENT CO. CLOSES BIG DEAL IN TOLEDO

Secures 99-Year Lease on Property Now Occupied by Arcade and Empire Theaters and Rialto Hotel—
New $300,000 House To Replace Arcade—Empire To Be Remodeled

Toledo, O., July 21.—The Sun & James Amusement Company will pay an annual rental of $30,000 for property on St. Clair street, occupied by the Arcade and Empire theaters and the Rialto Hotel, which was leased last week for 99 years from Mrs. Nettie Poe Ketcham.

The theater company gave a mortgage for a $150,000 bond issue to the Ohio Bank and Trust Company, it is said. The property is valued at $600,000, and improvements planned by the Sun & James Company, which include the building of a new $300,000 vaudeville house and the remodeling of the Empire (burlesque) Theater and the hotel, will increase this to $1,000,000.

Plans for the new theater will be announced soon by C. Howard Crane, Detroit, and construction will start as soon as the old Arcade has been razed. The Sun & James Company plans to open the new vaudeville house January 1.

Gus Sun and W. M. James will be in Toledo early this week to take up the building plans.

Incorporation of the Pentheon Theater Company with a capital stock of $100,000 assures Toledo the erection of one of the finest movie houses in the country in the near future. The company has taken over property formerly occupied by the Kaiserhoff Cafe, in the center of the downtown district.

A large foyer, which will accommodate more than 300, will be utilized as a dance hall on special occasions, and dancing may be made a regular feature of the program. Back of the lobby will be a large reception and music room, elaborately furnished, where concerts may be held. The stage will be 18 feet in depth. The proscenium will meas-

Palace in Cincinnati

To Open About September 1 With Popular-Priced Vaudeville

The beautiful new Palace Theater, nearing completion on Sixth street, between Vine and Walnut, Cincinnati, is scheduled to open about September 1. The policy will be popular-priced vaudeville, with almost continuous shows, booked by the Keith Circuit. E. F. Albee and several other vaudeville celebrities of the East will be present for the opening of the structure.

Mack Carrig in Control

Cleveland, O., July 19.—Something of a sensation is created here this week in the announcement that Mack Carrig, formerly manager of the Priscilla Theater, has become sole owner and manager of this big enterprise. Mr. Carrig now has the distinction of being one of the youngest vaudeville house owners in the Middle West.

Mr. Carrig assumes all the separate interests formerly identified with the enterprise, including those of the estate of Charles Kitts, senior member of the firm. Gus Sun vaudeville will be continued. Plans of the new manager call for enlargement of the seating capacity and redecoration of the establishment thruout.

Associated with Mr. Carrig will be Cad Wheeler, long identified with theatrical enterprises in this city, as assistant manager of the Priscilla.

Murphy and Collins Reunite

New York, July 21.—Frank (Rags) Murphy, featured comedian of the Crackerjack Burlesquers, and well-known vaudeartist, has joined hands with his old partner, Charles Collins, who will work opposite him next season. The boys are now filling in a few weeks in vaudeville playing the Fox Time until rehearsals are called.

Damerel's Act Starts

Chicago, July 20.—George Damerel's act of Temptation, now in rehearsal, will open today in St. Louis, then on Pantages Time. The same cast of principals as of last year will be seen again, but a new chorus has been supplied.

Cadieux Returns

New York, July 20.—Pete Cadieux, the famous bounding wire artist, has just returned from South America after two years of phenomenal success.

Royal at Victoria, B. C.

To Become Link of Orpheum Circuit
August 15

Seattle, Wash., July 20.—The Royal Theater at Victoria, B. C., becomes a link in the Orpheum Circuit August 15, according to word received by local representatives of that circuit. This will break the jump and layoff now necessitated by the long distance between Calgary and Vancouver. The acts will play the Victoria house Fridays and Saturdays after closing at Calgary Wednesday. From Vancouver they will come to Seattle as heretofore.

The Seattle house of the Orpheum Circuit, the Moore, opens its new season August 24.

Peter J. Schaefer Marries

Chicago, July 19.—Peter J. Schaefer, theatrical magnate, was married to Mrs. Clara Arnold, prominent in North Shore society, in the French room of the Blackstone Hotel Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Judge Joseph Sabath, long a friend of Mr. Schaefer. Only the immediate members of both families were present, together with Mr. Schaefer's two business associates, Aaron J. Jones and Adolph Linick, and their wives. After a wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer left for a trip among the Canadian Rockies. They will winter in California.

Dumb Acts Get Recognition

The Riding Duttons played the Temple Theater, Detroit, recently and were placed in fifth position on the bill. The classy equestrian offering went over big and received several flattering notices in the local papers. Somebody, somehow, in the booking offices is beginning to realize that song and dance does not constitute vaudeville.

Gordons for Pantages

New York, July 20.—Mark Germain and Tommy Gordon, known as the Bounding Gordons, have just finished fifteen weeks for the camps, having to close on account of an injury to Mr. Gordon's foot. The act will play the Pantages Circuit, opening in September.

Florence Gest in Vaudeville

Chicago, July 21.—Florence Gest, one of Pavlova's promising pupils, has signed vaudeville contracts for a tour of the bigger houses. She will appear in a novelty written for her by Will Harris and Will Bradshaw. Gil Brown staged the act, which is of production caliber.

Lindholm Company Closing

Chicago, July 21.—The Carl Lindholm Company will close July 26 in The Man From Sweden on Pantages Time.

Vaudeville Reviews by Special Wire

Majestic, Chicago

(Reviewed Monday Matinee, July 21)

Chicago, July 21.—The bill received every evidence of being built to the taste of the audience that gathered in goodly numbers for the afternoon.

No. 1—Pictures were unusually good and were run for a full half hour.

No. 2—Joe McCormack and Harry Mellon started as all such acts do and then switched into a musical turn with a serious attempt to do something with the violin. This met sufficient favor to justify an encore. They then went into their real work and did some very clever dancing. They won two good bows. They worked in one and held forth for thirteen minutes.

No. 3—Tommy Hayden and Carmen Eriello were not happily cast, as they had much that favored of sameness with the opening act and they had hard work to get their stride. Miss Eriello won the first fall with her clever violin work. Mr. Hayden needs to get up-to-date as the signs of the times indicate that America is out of step with the English ale and stout notions so popular in past decade. The closing steps put them over to a finish that was worth while. Eighteen minutes in one.

No. 4—Slayman All and his Arabian Troupe lifted the audience right off their seats and kept applause going and growing. These clever boys did more in eight minutes than many entire bills furnish for a show. Full stage and splendid lighting effects. They took the audience to the pinnacle of enthusiasm and were never dislodged.

No. 5—Hardman and McManus work hard, do some bits that are clever and seem to get sufficient attention to draw their act to a successful finish. The girls are capable of a better reason for being before the footlights. Fifteen minutes is all they take. Their is too much stalling in this act.

No. 6—Thomas F. Swift and Mary H. Kelly present a little skit of their own, mixing some minutes of acting with a little nonsense and songs so that it makes a please diversion. There is a striking reminder of Jack Norwood in Mr. Swift's twang and tone and much of the same quality of pleasing. They are good for seventeen minutes.

No. 7—Ciccolini, the grand opera star, had a wonderful following, and they were there to eat up all he had to offer. He sang in Italian, French and English and it all sounded alike so that it was all appreciated. Dear Old Pal o' Mine was good for a good encore and three bows and that was not sufficient. They wanted more. I'll Come Back To You did not seem to satisfy the audience and the lights were switched to show that the act was like Jess Willard—thro. Twenty minutes. Real appreciation of merit shown every minute that this act held the boards.

No. 8—Emma Haig, assisted by Jack Waldron, captured the audience. Miss Haig held all of her oldtime friends and admirers and added a new generation to her string. This act is beauty, grace and terpsichorean art combined. It is cleverly staged and entertainingly done. Beauty and femininity with a rich appeal to the eye to those who love form and color are all neatly tucked away in their offering. Twenty minutes; full stage.

No. 9—Jimmy Savo and Joan Franza do some nut stuff and mix their offering with worthwhile burlesque so that it is a scream. The facial work and contortions in the way of dancing win the audience. Nineteen minutes.

No. 10—The Great Koban and two assistants are wonderful acrobats and they carry the reputation of the Cherry Blossom country still a notch higher by their meritorious feats. They have a clean cut set of thrillers that are beyond what is generally offered by such acts. They riveted the audience to their seats and held them there to the close. Six minutes.

Week of July 22.—The bill presents Barnes and Crawford, Julius Tannen, Walter Delon and Mary Davies, Royal Gascoignes, Alleen Stanley, Eva Shirley, assisted by Ed Gordon's Musical Boys and Al Roth, Lohse and Sterling, and Emma Carus with J. Walter Leopold at the piano.—HIGH.

BALL BROTHERS RESTING

New York, July 20.—The Ball Bros. & Co. have just returned to New York after playing the Orpheum time. They are resting at their summer bungalow at Sheephead Bay.

THIS IS NOT A FACE POWDER.

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE THEATER

(Reviewed Monday Matinee, July 21)

New York, July 21.—It cannot very well be said that St. Swithin and the Palace management have entered into a conspiracy in restraint of trade, but the fact remains that the rain of the last week has cost the various beaches and outdoor amusements around New York a cool million of dollars, and the Palace, Riverside and other Keith houses have been packed to suffocation at every performance.

The Palace program today abounded with entertaining novelties; in fact, in the opinion of this reviewer came nearer his ideal of what a vaudeville bill should be than any show he has recently witnessed. Several acts practically new to Palacegoers gave the touch of surprise always necessary on a vaudeville program.

Two of the outstanding hits were made by Charles King and Billy Reeves. Lucille Cavanagh is billed in big type as next week's feature.

While the Kinograms were being shown on the screen the seats rapidly filled and the lifeline had to be requisitioned at the back of the chairs.

No. 1—Three Kitaro Brothers opened with some old stunts, including the spinning of the water jars at the ends of a rope, but when these Japs got down to their risley work the audience showed a real enthusiasm. They have a series of tricks which elicited much applause and their final feat in which one of the troupe doubles himself in a ball at the top of a stack of stools, the whole being balanced on the feet of the man below, who suddenly kicked away the support and adroitly catches the human bundle, brought the trio back for several bows. Booked by Fred Bryant.

No. 2—Regal and Moore. Ye gods, but the Palace management must have got a fit of acrobaticitis today. 'Tis true that Regal and Moore sing, dance and talk, but their piece de resistance is their marvelous hand-to-hand balancing work. These boys have played here before, and as is their wont went over big with their concluding number, the foot-to-foot catch while one is suspended in midair being particularly sensational. Booked by Max Hart.

No. 3—Billie Reeves, in The Right Key But the Wrong Flat, soon had the audience shrieking with laughter. Reeves is inimitable in his particular line, and received a big reception on his entrance today. Opening in one for several minutes this master of pantomime fell and staggered all over the stage and into the footlights until some in the audience thought he was really intoxicated. Then into full stage wobbled Billie, and, of course, into the wrong bedroom. His antics with the crying baby and the "wife's" clever explanation to her own husband, who has also come home drunk, that he had brought the other man with him gave the Palace crowd some of the heartiest laughs they have enjoyed in many a year. Reeves is ably assisted by Dolly Lewis and C. Carroll Lucas. Booked by Claude and Gordon Bostock.

No. 4—Klein Brothers rely upon the comedy efforts of the smaller of the pair. They started none too fast, but eventually had everything their own way and became prime favorites. They sang some verses and were encored over and over again. Their finishing number being Von Tilzer's When You Get 'Em Up in the Air, showing how the old gag about a girl getting out of your automobile and walking home would be impossible when you take them up in an airplane. Booked by Lewis and Gordon.

No. 5—Charles King, in Dream Stars, written by Hazard Short. When King made his appearance in front of a beautiful silver bordered black satin drop he was accorded one of the longest and most enthusiastic ovations yet tendered an artist here. It reminded one of the reception to Sarah Bernhardt. King seemed overcome and took several minutes to recover his composure. The act is magnificently costumed and staged with wonderful attention to detail. King sings of his dream girls of the past, each one making her appearance thru the top of the grand piano set back stage. The Girls, Una Fleming, Lucille Chalfant, Alleen Poe and Marie Hollywell are vivacious morsels of loveliness, one in particular being exceptionally clever. The last number is the Shimmie, all of the girls participating. King, long a favorite, seems to have surpassed all of his previous efforts, as this offering is of real biggest big-time vaudeville caliber and class. Many curtains and bows galore. Booked by Lawrence Schwab.

INTERMISSION

No. 6—Topics of the Day from The Literary Digest got many a laugh today. This picture interlude seems to have caught on with the Palace crowds.

No. 7—Toto, the Hippodrome clown, suffered in a way, as a few of his stunts had already been done by Billie Reeves, but his marvelous contortion work and posturing proved rare entertainment. His burlesque imitation of a ballet dancer, in which he was assisted by four stage hands, was funny. Booked by Max Hays.

No. 8—Frisco, Creator of the Jazz, has been at the Palace so often that he seems to be part and parcel of the regular show. He is still assisted by Loretta McDermott, and between the two of them and the jazz band excitement is kept at fever heat thruout the act. There is only one Frisco in spite of his many imitators. Booked by Harry Weber.

No. 9—Ben Welch, the Hebrew comedian, just as funny as ever, held down next to closing spot in good shape. Booked by Joe Sullivan.

No. 10—Albertina Rasch and Her Dancers in classic dance interpretation closed the bill, the star being assisted by Agnes Roy, Florence Trevor, Emelle Cutler, Irma Summa, Jeanette Keyton and Alberto Bachman, Violin Virtuoso. Altho late Miss Rasch's beautiful offering kept most of the crowd in their seats until the final curtain. Booked by H. B. Marinelli.—HILLIAR.

American Roof

(Reviewed Friday night, July 19.)

New York, July 19.—A well filled house saw an excellent vaudeville show on the Roof at this performance. The bill was much above the average and was put together well.

No. 1—The Zirras; special set in two; man and woman; nine minutes. A fast juggling act, costumed quaintly and presented in a showman-like manner. Here is a novelty act that is well worth while. They started the show in excellent fashion and were a genuine hit for this spot.

No. 2—Rose and Shaw; man and woman; in one; eleven minutes. This couple have a neat little act. There is nothing startling original about it, but they dance well and filled their place on the bill acceptably.

No. 3—Brindamour and Co., three people; interior set; eleven minutes. Brindamour is doing a magic act. He carries nothing very big and most of the feats have been seen before. The "egg bag" trick took up much of Brindamour's time and there is a flag finish to the act that got some applause.

No. 4—June Mills and Co.; in one; thirteen minutes. Miss Mills is an entertainer of marked ability and her rough comedy kept the audience in an uproar, the entire time she was on the stage. Then like a real showman, she left them wanting more. The Co., is a bass singer in the orchestra pit. He has a fine, deep voice and sang a solo that was very pleasing. The hit of the entire bill.

No. 5—Summer Girls and Fall Guys; six girls, two men; exterior set; twenty-two minutes. A very ordinary musical comedy act. The best part of which is the girls' dancing. They are good looking and are costumed in tasteful fashion. A little real comedy to the act would help a lot.

No. 6—Fred Ferdinand; in one; fifteen minutes. Ferdinand is a Frenchman who whistles, tells a few stories and sings. He has a quaint dialect and made the audience laugh mildly. He has a nice personality and by virtue of this, got the audience to join with him in whistling a popular song for a finish. This got him over big.

No. 7—Ronair and Ward; man and woman; in full; twelve minutes. A real classy talking act. They evidently have a special set, but only part of it was used on the Roof. The talk is positively brilliant and this couple get it across the footlights well. During their act, some "lame brains" in the balcony evidently found it over their heads and started a disturbance. This was promptly squelched by their prompt ejection, for which the management is to be complimented.

No. 8—Senator Francis Murphy; in one; eleven minutes. Senator Murphy was a young "riot" with his monolog. He was a bit from every angle.

No. 9—The Rainbow Girls; interior set; eleven minutes. Two girls who do a series of dances, in which there is nothing original. They have a piano accompanist who played the Rachmaninoff C sharp Prelude indifferently well, for a solo. The act drags and did not hold the audience in. They might have been placed on earlier to better advantage.

The International News Weekly closed the performance.—GORDON.

STILL DISCRIMINATING

A certain well known vaudeartist who holds contracts to open in September for a long route, wrote to his agent recently and told him that he had received an offer to play a house in a town hundreds of miles away from any mentioned in his contracts, and asked him if it would be O. K. The agent wrote back and said: "Would advise you NOT to play it."

MICKEY FEELEY IN NEW ACT

Mickey Feeley, the acrobat, has a surprise in store for his many admirers. He is arranging a new act, which, from all accounts, will be a sensation, but then Mickey was always enterprising.

IN NEW YORK

Chicago Vaudeville Notes

Chicago, July 20.—Fries and Wilson open at La Crosse, Wis., today for a tour of the coast. They are booked by the Helen Murphy agency.

The Stratford Comedy Four, booked by Earl & Yates, open on coast time today.

Bobbs Ben All, of the troupe which bears his name, will play Association dates the coming season. The Takiti Brothers, of which Joe is the central figure, have a route for the entire season, starting in August.

Barney Walker, of the Helen Murphy Agency, has postponed a contemplated trip to New York owing to booking engagements.

George C. Warren, formerly manager of McVicker's Theater, also of the Olympic Theater, is now theatrical editor of The San Francisco Daily News.

So popular has the new foyer on the third floor of the Woods Theater Building become that several score artists visit it each day.

Willie Zimmerman, who is out with his new act, Melange, reports that the piece is going over fine.

Joseph Winninger, manager of the Appleton Theater, Appleton, Wis., was in Chicago Tuesday and reports business excellent.

R. Clay Crawford, manager of the Illinois Theater, Rock Island, Ill., was also in Chicago Tuesday.

George S. Robbins, who recently closed as leading comedian with Gloriana in Havana at McVicker's Theater, went to Fort Sheridan Wednesday with several other Association acts to give an entertainment for wounded soldiers.

Murphy and White, the sunny songsters, are said to be making a hit in their new staging and comedy act.

Clay Crouch, who is staging I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles and Tell Me Why, two Jerome H. Remick productions, is reported to be making a success.

Anna and Harry Seymour, who have been making a hit with their song O'er the Desert Wide, at the Majestic Theater, will motor to New York shortly. Mrs. Seymour has purchased a new automobile for the trip.

MISS RANDOLPH NOT ENGAGED

Chicago, July 21.—E. D. Dutton, who is presenting Maxine Alton & Company in a new play by Jack Lait, called Well, Well, has asked The Billboard to correct an item appearing in this publication the week of July 19.

The item in question stated that Gladys Randolph will appear with Maxine Alton in a new act. Mr. Dutton stated that this is an error, as Miss Randolph has not been engaged for the new production, nor for Mr. Dutton's other act featuring Cecil Elliott and Company in Love, written by Miss Alton.

PHILLIPS AND TENLY AT BRONX

New York, July 20.—Larry Phillips and Elmer Tenly have gone into the outdoor show business for the summer months. They will return to vaudeville in the fall.

JAP MURDOCK'S NEW SKETCH

Chicago, July 20.—Miss Jap Murdock, late of the Gaumont picture force, is entering the vaudeville lists once more in a new comedy sketch of four people.

WADE FINISHES ORPHEUM

New York, July 21.—Sherman Wade, the monologist, has closed his tour of the Orpheum Circuit and will open again in September. He is at Far Rockaway for the summer.

Arnaut Brothers, because they are Cheery, Captivating Clowns; because they are Violin Vagaryists, because they are Siffleurs Supreme, because they are Acrobatic Artists, because their offering is always new, because they have been often imitated, and because they scored one of the big hits. At the Palace Theater Monday matinee.

Lucille Cavanagh, because Lucille's Lovely Limbs are much in evidence, because this wonderful little woman has become a great favorite, because she is a Dainty Dancing Divinity, because she receives able assistance from Wheeler Wadsworth, Mel Craig and William Taylor, and because Miss Cavanagh has developed into one of America's greatest Nymphs of Terpsichore. At the Riverside Theater Monday evening.

Olga Petrova, because she is a Distinguished Delineator of the Drama, because she takes the Paim for Particularly Pleasing Personality, because she was the Applause Act of the Afternoon, because her drawing power at the box-office has been demonstrated over and over again, and because she was the big hit of the show. At the New Brighton Theater Tuesday matinee.

Joe Towle, because he is a Merry Monologicist Marvel, because his Oratory is Overwhelmingly Original, because he is a Perfect Pianist, because he could be billed as the Laughter Loosener, because when this Towle is thrown into the ring the show really starts, and because he scored splendidly. At the Orpheum Theater Tuesday evening.

Maryon Vadie and Ota Gygi, because this is a Captivating Combination, because they bring to vaudeville a touch of real music and artistry, because Miss Vadie matches her beauty and Twinkling Toes against Gygi's Masterly Music, and because, placed properly, they caused a sensation. At the Riverside Theater Monday evening.

Herbert Ashley and George Skipper, because Ashley has long been recognized as a brilliant vaudevillian, because he has in Skipper a good straight man, because they sing, because they can sing, because their material is wonderful, because Ashley can be congratulated upon putting it over once more. At the Royal Wednesday matinee.

NEW BILL IN GEORGIA

Would Censor and Tax All Kinds of Amusements

A bill has been introduced into the Georgia Legislature which provides for a board of three censors, to be known as the Georgia State Board of Censors of Public Amusement, for the purpose of examining all programs and synopsis of vaudeville performances, theatrical performances, circuses, carnivals, films and other public performances. The measure also calls for the censoring of all posters, folders and advertising matter used for such performances. Same must be approved before they can be publicly used. For each vaudeville performance, theatrical performance, circus or carnival, a fee of $10 for each program or synopsis examined shall be paid in advance, and in addition the board is to receive $1 per day when the performance is given within the corporate limits of the State of Georgia. For each film the board is to receive in advance a fee not to exceed $2 for each reel approved or censored, whether original or copy. Each member of the Censor Board would receive $3,600 a year.

REUNITED AFTER EIGHT YEARS

Chicago, July 19.—James and Sadie Leonard and Richard Anderson are again united professionally and are playing at the State-Lake Theater. Eight years ago the trio did an act together until the Leonards were divorced and Anderson went into burlesque. The three are playing in an act called When Caesar C's Her.

MABEL BARDINE IN PICTURES

$600,000 DETROIT THEATER

Allan Theater Enterprises of Toronto To Build

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—The Allan Theater Enterprises, Toronto, Ont., controlling forty-five modern theaters in the principal Canadian cities, plan the immediate construction of a $600,000 theater here. The site comprises 133 feet on Woodward avenue, between Watson and Erskine streets, depth 200 feet. It will be known as the Allan Theater, and will have a seating capacity of 3,000 people.

C. Howard Crane, local architect, has prepared the plans. The house will be the last word in theater construction. It will be devoted to motion pictures, but will be fully equipped to take care of legitimate attractions.

The personnel of the Allan Theater Enterprises, Canadian holding corporation, follows: B. Allen, president; Jay J. Allen, vice president; Julie Allen, secretary-treasurer.

McQUINN FAMILY NOTES

This aggregation of cutups closed eighteen weeks of satisfactory business. The tour embraced towns east and west of Detroit. Kathleen and Jeanette are taking a summer course in music in Toronto. Leo Ellsworth left for Detroit to visit his parents before returning. W. J. is looking after the bookings for the coming season. Chas. McQuinn is back at the Rex Theater, Bradford, N. D.

FT. SCOTT THEATER OPENS

Ft. Scott, Kan., July 19.—The new Liberty Theater here has been doing a good business since opening its doors last week. It is the most beautiful theater in Southeastern Kansas. It is complete in every detail, with comfortable opera chairs in all parts of the house. The theater is equipped to play all classes of attractions, but will go thru the summer months featuring motion pictures. Several attractions have already been booked thru Klaw & Erlanger and the Messrs. Shubert for the legitimate season.

SULLIVAN'S SUDDEN SORROW

New York, July 19.—When sudden sorrow enters the life of a pessimist, he accepts it as a matter of course, but when it strikes home to an optimist he accepts it as predestined at the same time he feels it far more keenly at heart than the other fellow.

One of the most optimistic theatrical managers of the present day is Tom Sullivan, who a week ago was happy in the companionship of his immediate family which included his mother who was visiting the Sullivans at their cozy bungalow at Great Kills, Staten Island, where Tom's mother was taken suddenly ill and died on Tuesday last.

When we met Tom on Friday we were surprised to note his sorrowful appearance and learned later the cause thereof and the fact that Tom was accompanying his loved one to Middletown, Ohio, where Mrs. Sullivan will be buried in the family plot.

AFFILIATED

board. Mr. Gillmore is a fine upstanding sort of man, with a direct manner, and all the earmarks that betoken fine breeding. He put the reporter at ease at once and desired to know what was wanted.

The reporter said he wanted to know what the Actors' Equity Association and Mr. Gillmore's attitude was regarding the new affiliation. Mr. Gillmore said: "I am so enthusiastic about it that I find it hard to express my feelings, and you can say that that is my attitude personally and officially and the attitude of the Executive Council."

Mr. Gillmore was then asked how he liked association with the officers of the other organizations. Without a moment's hesitation Mr. Gillmore replied: "I find a splendid desire to cooperate for the benefit of every branch of the entertainment world."

The reporter then wanted to know what the plans of the Actors' Equity Association were for the future. Mr. Gillmore stated that he was not in a position to discuss them for publication at the present moment.

"How is the dispute with the managers coming on?" asked The Billboard man.

"As far as it is humanly possible to foretell," said Mr. Gillmore, and here there was an impressive pause. "I think another week will see the finish. At the present moment all I can give you is this." And so saying Mr. Gillmore handed the reporter an official announcement of the Actors' Equity Association which read as follows:

"July 19, 1919.—The Council of the ACTORS' EQUITY ASSOCIATION is happy to announce that it has received a Charter from the American Federation of Labor thru the International body known as ASSOCIATED ACTORS AND ARTISTES' OF AMERICA."

"The Council has never lost hope that an amicable arrangement will be reached between the Producing Managers Association and the Actors' Equity Association by which a contract to both organizations may be decided upon. "It would be a great pity, the Council feels, if an element of uncompromising obstinacy on either side should precipitate a fight that could not but very seriously affect the theatrical profession."

"FRANK GILLMORE, Executive Secretary."

Mr. Gillmore was then asked what the Constitution is of the new International Board. His reply was: "That is a matter of arrangement between the branches and by my oath of office I am forbidden to reveal the internal workings of the International Board."

All Broadway was agog today with the news of the affiliation. The first intimation of it was obtained in the news dispatch published in all the morning papers. Actors talked of nothing else and all seemed agreed that it was the right move and one that placed the actors of this country alongside their brother artists of France and England, where the actors have been unionized for some time past. One actor who is very prominent said: "The watchword of the day is organization. Everywhere you see it. It is what won the war. It is that which makes modern business possible. It is the thing that has brought happiness into the lives of workers who otherwise would have led but a blank and weary existence. Why not the actor? He is the mainstay of the theater, but for him there would be no theater at all. Why shouldn't he reap the advantages that can only be obtained thru organization. Thank heaven that a few far-sighted men have brought this amalgamation about. I'm for it, hook, line and sinker."

This seemed to be the opinion of nearly all the actors, and last night when the news was taken to the Lambs Club there was great justification. All seem to think that a new era is coming into the American theater and there is an air of confidence about all concerned that seems to bespeak an absolutely unshakable belief in the success of the movement.

The New International is composed of six Hebrew branches, one German, one Polish, four chorus branches and one grand opera chorus, a branch called The Playwrights' League, The Actors' Equity Association and the White Rats. The basis of representation is equality for all.

Active preparations are being made to form other branches.

Another prominent theatrical manager who declined to let The Billboard use his name said on Sunday: "A special meeting of the Managers' Association has been called for Tuesday, and the president, Mr. Harris, has informed us all it is most important, everyone should be there. I don't know whether every manager will be there, as some big managers are not members of the association, and I understand they have entered into agreements with The Actors' Equity. I also know that certain members of our association are not issuing any contracts at all, telling the actors to rehearse without contract and that they will then give them The Actors' Equity contract in a week or ten days. I myself can find no fault with The Actors' Equity contract. I want no trouble with my actors. I am obliged to recognize the stage hands' and musicians' unions and do not see why I should fight the Union of Actors on which I principally depend."

"I have a lot of money sunk in my forthcoming productions like the rest of the producing managers, and do not feel like being made a goat of to please the owners of the big syndicates. I believe that the men who are really responsible for this position amongst the managers are due for a big jolt on Tuesday.

"The talk of doing without the members of the Actors' Equity is all nonsense. There are not too many good actors in this country, and as far as I can learn all of them are members of the Equity and under a bond and subject to an injunction if this thing really goes to an issue now."

The Actors' Equity are members of organized labor and with Mountford to advise and counsel them. It means only one thing, a strike and, while the big managers of syndicates in New York and Chicago and Boston might not suffer very much, it would mean ruin to every independent producer in the other towns in the country. It would be God Help Us in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and right thru the West. I prophesy that there will be a large percentage, probably a majority, of the Association who, on Tuesday, will register the same objection, and, if necessary, will leave the Association."

The Billboard interviewed one or two big actors in the legitimate who are not on the Council of the Actors' Equity, and in each case while not allowing their names to be used they stated that they were with the Equity to a finish whatever was required of them.

The feeling in the Lambs, the Friars and the Greenroom Clubs was absolutely unanimous in favor of any action that the Council of the Equity might take. The only regret that the Billboard can find was that this step had not been taken sooner, instead of the expected small opposition which The Billboard thought existed.

Towards Mountford the universal impression was that in him The Actors' Equity had secured another Foch or Pershing, and that he was worth as much in the fight as all the brains of the managers put together.

On Sunday The Billboard endeavored to see the Actors' Equity and the New International, but no one would utter a word.

New York, July 21.—Actors' Equity Association today issued the following statement: After three years of persistent effort, we have at last been able to enter the ranks of the American Federation of Labor, under conditions entirely satisfactory to ourselves, but it is eminently desirable that our members should understand the relations of the component bodies one to the other. First, study this: The American Federation of Labor, Associated Actors and Artists of America, other international bodies, Actors' Equity Association, Vaudeville Actors, Hebrew Actors, chorus, others.

The Associated Actors' and Artists of America, which will be hereafter referred to as the Four As, receives from the parent body, the A. F. of L., a charter covering all branches of the entertainment world, many of which are at present unorganized, such as concert singers, chautauques, etc.

The Four As, which is a sort of holding company, is often termed The International. It has a constitution of its own, and officers of its own. It receives a per capita tax from all branches. Its powers are strictly defined in its constitution. The Actors' Equity, The Vaudeville Actors and other groups have applied to and received from the Four As charters covering their respective jurisdictions. All autonomous bodies which, however, does not prevent them should they so choose from making agreements one with the other or with separate labor organizations, a step which should not be delayed. No branch of the Four As can be ordered to strike because another branch does so, but if one branch does strike no other branch can take the place of the one striking. For instance, if the Actors' Equity declared a strike at the 4th Street Theater members of the Vaudeville Branch could not take the place of our members; or vice versa.

Officers of a branch can also be officers in the Four As, just as business men can be officers in several corporations. Thus, Francis Wilson is president of the Four As and also president of the Actors' Equity; Frank Gillmore is treasurer of the former and executive secretary of the latter; James William FitzPatrick is vice-president of the Four As and president of the Vaudeville Branch; Harry Mountford is executive secretary of the Four As and of the Vaudeville Branch.

The Council of the Four As is composed of delegates from the different branches. To sum up, the branches act independently, but can act together for the common good. (Signed Frank Gillmore, Executive Secretary of the Actors' Equity Association).

OUR COLORED COVERS

Starting with next issue, that of August 2, The Billboard will appear each week in an attractive, two-color cover.

This innovation, we are sure, will further add to The Billboard's prestige in the amusement field, increase the circulation and generally prove more pleasing and satisfactory to our readers and advertisers.

It is necessary to print the cover some days in advance of the regular forms, therefore advertising for the cover pages must be in our Cincinnati office two weeks in advance of the publication date.

Address advertising inquiries to C. M. WILLIAMS, General Advertising Manager, The Billboard, Cincinnati, Ohio.

T. M. A. SELECTS NEW TITLE AT CONVENTION IN TOLEDO, O.

Lodge No. 120; James Duncanson, Lonlaville Lodge No. 8 and William M. Gallagher, Boston Lodge No. 2, were elected trustees. Marlon Crawford, Kansas City Lodge No. 13; William Newman, Cincinnati Lodge No. 31, and James P. Ryan, Cleveland Lodge No. 9, also on the ticket, were defeated.

Charles R. Wells, Minneapolis Lodge No. 50; Al M. Huland, New York City Lodge No. 1, and James J. Quigley, Memphis Lodge No. 17, were named a committee on laws, appeals and grievances.

M. J. Collins, Pittsburg Lodge No. 37, was named grand tiler, and Joseph P. Schmid, Philadelphia Lodge No. 3, chaplain.

Grand lodge headquarters. It was said, would be maintained at Cincinnati, the home of the secretary and treasurer.

The delegates pigeon-holed a resolution introduced by Edward A. Green, Chicago Lodge No. 4, calling for the organization of an auxiliary for women under the ruling of the grand lodge. Green made a hard fight for his measure. He declared there were many women in the show business that are desirous of becoming members of the association. A committee, however, recommended non-concurrence, and the convention sustained it.

The age requirements were changed. Now, anyone connected with the amusement business who has attained his eighteenth year, instead of twenty-first, may become a member.

A resolution of thanks to Toledo and Toledo Lodge No. 29, for the hospitality shown the visiting members was adopted.

Altho the convention formally closed Thursday night, the delegates remained in town to attend a moonlight party and dance Thursday night on the Great Lakes Steamer Greyhound as guests of the Toledo lodge.

The convention was to have extended into Friday, but the work of the organization was disposed of so rapidly and without any material hitch, that it was possible to wind up affairs a day sooner.

The new officers were installed Thursday afternoon. Retiring Grand President DeArmond's last official act was to attempt to block the appointment of a committee to purchase him a suitable present. He lost in the first round and was counted out. J. J. Quigley, Memphis; J. M. Heinrich, Chicago, and D. J. Pierce, Toronto, were appointed.

DeArmond in turning the reins over to his successor, urged the members to keep the organization alive, wherever they went. He said this convention had been the most progressive meeting ever held by the grand lodge.

President Pierce said: "I came to Toledo to attend the convention—not seeking election to any office. I feel highly honored and would not, under any circumstances, refuse to serve you. I intend to institute a strong campaign throughout the United States and Canada in the interest of the association, and assure you that when the next convention meets there will be three times as many delegates in attendance. That will mean the organization of many new lodges. I'll see that they're organized."

Mr. DeArmond and Secretary Hollenkamp left Cincinnati Sunday night for Trenton, N. J., to take necessary legal steps to amend the charter in regards to changing the name, the organization being incorporated under the laws of New Jersey.

BURLESQUE

Conducted By ALFRED NELSON

NATIONAL BURLESQUE ASSN.

Holds Election of Officers in Philadelphia—John H. Walsh, President

New York, July 21.—Incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware for $100,000 with the People's Trust Company of Philadelphia as custodian of the fund the promoters and stockholders of the National Burlesque Association held a meeting in Philadelphia and elected officers, viz: John H. Walsh, president; Joseph Howard, vice president; Charles E. Barton, secretary and general manager; William E. Mosser, treasurer; Albert H. Ladner, Jr., counsel; John W. Ford, chairman of the executive committee which is composed of Edward C. Schmidhiser, Albert Baltz, Wm. Helm and John F. Dugan.

From a reliable source we are advised that Philadelphia capitalists are the financial backers of the new third wheel which claim to have twenty-five one week stands in desirable houses. In the leading cities with prospects of more to follow, supplemented by a few weeks of one, two and three night stands east of Milwaukee and St. Louis.

A special feature of the new association is a financial inducement offered producing managers to give meritorious shows and local managers to make their houses attractive. Twenty-five per cent of the net earnings of the association will be held in reserve as a reward to ten shows giving the best performance and ten houses playing to the most business.

This in itself will prove an incentive to producing and house managers to give to burlesque patrons something superior in the way of enjoyable performances and comfortable theaters.

According to the Sunday Transcript of Philadelphia under date of July 20, thirty-two cities will be included in the National wheel. The chief moneyed men concerned in the enterprise are Philadelphia brewers whose fortunes mount into millions. With these financiers a number of potential politicians are actively associated along with practical showmen.

John Baltz of the Baltz Brewing Co., and Edward Schmidhiser of the Louis Bergdoll Brewing Co., are active factors, along with John W. Ford, Supreme Dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose, Albert H. Ladner, Jr., former Registration Commissioner, Wm. Moser, Wm. Helm, John Dugan, Phil Isaacs, Col. John F. Walsh, Joseph M. Howard and Charles Barton.

Messrs. Walsh, Howard, Barton and Isaacs are showmen intimately familiar with every detail of burlesque production. The plan will ultimately include two theaters in Philadelphia, two in New York and two in Chicago.

Besides these chief cities the National wheel will include Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Springfield, Mass., Worcester, Boston, Toronto, Montreal, Buffalo, Rochester, Troy, Schenectady, Syracuse, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

It was reported at the meeting held for formal organization that ninety producers have applied for franchises and, while none was finally granted, it is certain that the Dinkins Amusement Co., will be awarded a franchise.

The Walsh-Howard interests will put out several shows, as will others who have long been identified with organized burlesque.

Several actors well known in burlesque have been named as owners of franchises.

If these men get franchisees in their own name it may be assumed that they are merely dummies for franchise owners on the other wheels who want to work under cover in the National wheel.

All of the productions staged on the National wheel will be modified burlesque, appealing to audiences of women.—NELSE.

It is understood that negotiations are now under way for taking over Heuck's Theater in Cincinnati for the new burlesque attractions.

BUCKINGHAM THEATER CO.

Wins Case Against Columbia Amusement Co.

New York, July 21.—The case of the Buckingham Theater Co., of Louisville, Ky., against the Columbia Amusement Co., which has been in litigation for some time, was settled last week in the United States District Court in this city, Justice Mack presiding, an agreement being reached to the effect that the Columbia Amusement Co. will within sixty days pay the plaintiff the sum of $40,000.

House, Grossman and Vorhels represented the plaintiff and John B. Stanchfield the defendant.

The case grew out of a contract entered into in 1913 between the Buckingham Co. and the Columbia Amusement Co., whereby the latter was to present Columbia Wheel attractions at the Buckingham Theater for a period of twenty years. In 1916 the Columbia Wheel attractions were switched to the Gayety, an opposition house.

In Mexico, by Joe Burton

REVIEW

As usual, there were two reels of motion pictures, prior to the curtain, for the burlesque—the first part was a scene in the Hotel Shot, into which came a bevy of epic and span chambermaids, garbed in grey, and an equal number of blue satin eaten jacketed, feminine bellhops, who made an attractive ensemble of singers and dancers.

Joe Burton, as a typical tad, owner of the hotel, handed out a line of Celtic patter that was highly amusing.

Babe Wellington then came on and rendered in the Sweet Dry and Dry, as only the Babe could render such a topical song.

Producer Leo Stevens, highbatted, white-vested, evening dressed, came into scene by way of the "sneeze" route, and was joined by Jimmy Francis, the natty straight man of B. F. Kahn's, who introduced to Leo, Ruth Rollins, prima donna, a voluptuously formed, blackhaired, smiling-faced damsel, who came out of the West to captivate the patrons of Union Square by her refined mannerism and accomplished vocalism with Johnny and Me, after which Leo delivered to her a dissertation on "The fly who made moderna love." A holdup bit by Jimmy Francis, in a tough guy characterization, forced Leo to part with his bankroll to Babe Wellington, Grace Howard and a nickel tip to Hotel Proprietor Burton. Frank Mackey and his eccentricities entered into the bit and evoked much laughter, while the choristers made merry with hand flash-lights.

Emily Clark, the titian-haired Union Square favorite, put over Open the Gates to Dixieland, in her usual pleasing manner.

Burton Carr in French makeup and mannerism put over the insult to sister, pistol practice dueling bit. Grace Howard, ingenue (another new comer to Kahn's), a petite blonde of pleasing personality, rendered Give Me the Sultan's Harum, and while doing so put over a neat little dance and pose a la Eddie Foy.

Leo then introduced the phone bit, afterwards presenting eccentric Mackey to Emily Clark, who affected a Parisian mannerism, while narrating the death of her four husbands and a quarter for each.

Leo, then worked up the ice cream table bit, and evoked much laughter by serving ice cream to a box party, after which he pulled off a chorister contest: No. 1—Ja Da; No. 2—Scottish dancer; No. 3—Babe Quinn, reciting Kipling's Vampire, which displayed her versatility, which runs the gamut from acrobatic dancing to drama and burlesque; No. 4—A pretty blonde kid, After You Have Gone, which was well applauded; No. 5—Leo introduced a blonde girl, but before she could sing, Margie Fontaine, from an upper box, vocalized to repeated recalls; No. 6—A rather pretty black-haired girl, did a skipping rope dance in a graceful manner; No. 7—A well-formed blonde sang Marie, after which, Leo argued with the orchestra, who handed him a jazz jazz, and then went on a strike, but were recalled by Jimmy Francis, who officiated as an agent of the department of mediation and conciliation, who induced the musicians to furnish some Harrigan and Hart music for the Souza of Long Ago, during which the choristers appeared in a dancing specialty as Little Lord Fauntleroy and Kewpie Dolls, while Hurton Carr and Babe Wellington, as an elderly couple, interpreted in song, I Loved You As I Never Loved You Before, to encores.

An Oriental fantasy by the choristers introduced Gara Zora, the classic dancer, whose work was par excellence.

Part two, scene in Mexico, by Joe Burton. In this scene there was the usual Mexicans, peasants, soldiers, matadors, cowboys and citizens, who interpreted their various roles in a highly amusing manner.

the oriental and Mexican scenes in which the lighting effects blended harmoniously with the stage settings.

The gowling of the feminine principals and the costuming of the chorus was above par. Taking it as we found it on Thursday afternoon, it was what we personally consider a corking, good presentation.

Special commendation is due the choristers for their individual work in the contest, and the same goes for the management, that gives choristers an opportunity to demonstrate their talent. Leo Stevens demonstrated the fact that he can produce likewise act.—NELSE.

SOCIAL SESSION AT MARTIN'S

New York, July 18.—It may have been the usual interior cheerful atmosphere at Martin's or it may have been the exterior watery atmosphere of yesterday, be that as it may there was an unusual large attendance in the cozy cafe.

Chief among the participants was Joe Donegan, manager of the New Century Theater and proprietor of the Hotel Edwards at Kansas City. As an entertainer Joe is par excellence, and if there is anyone in burlesque that Joe doesn't know by their first name they did not appear yesterday.

Next to Joe sat Henry P. Dixon, famous as the Bet a Million sporting producing manager of the American wheel burlesque attraction, Big Review.

After panning Nelse for not crediting Henry P. with first honors in the dancing contest on the Outing, Dixon handed him a rehearsal call ad, which reminds ye editor that Dixon and Lou Reals were the first to give ad recognition to Nelse's burlesque shortly after he had been assigned to grind out Bur-le-que copy.

Close by was Bob Gordon, ye old time paternal manager of burlesquers, formerly of Rose Sydell's London Itelles, who is now at liberty, but with excellent prospects of signing up ere long.

Joe Dix was there also with photographic beauties of burlesquers cameralized by Aldene.

Harry Abbot exhibited a swell line of small stuff that will attract Bur-le-que patrons to Rose Sydell's Shows during the current season.

George H. Lux was much in evidence prospecting for new buds for the United States Show Print Company.

Pete Stecknecht, Sim Williams, publicity promoter of the Girls' from Joyland handed ye scribe a skull, to review rehearsals at Bryant Hall on Monday and thereafter.

Frank Forrest awaiting rehearsals call to do the featured mixologist at Dave Marion's Toma River Inn.

Nat (Harv) Golden, Marlon's man ahead of America's best, secretive ns to the methods of advertising Dave's Show for the coming season. It is rumored that "The Baron" is at work on something new, novel and unique in publicity.

Miss Host John Martin and Friend Walter, the boss of the box-office, made everyone comfortable.

Yea Bo, it sure was some social session.

THE ALLIES AND THE ACTORS

OR

July 18th, 1918, and July 18th, 1919

ON JULY THE 18TH, 1918, Marshal Foch, in the Marne salient, counter-attacked the hordes of Prussianism with the combined forces of the Fighters for Freedom and the Devotees of Democracy, and [the initiative gained by the Allies on that day was never lost up to the end of hostilities.

JULY THE 18TH, 1918, marked the beginning of the Allied drive which brought Germany to her knees on November 11th, 1918.

So much is History.

And History, with its usual habit and in the usual course of its Cycle, is about to repeat itself.

ON JULY 18TH, 1919, THE ACTORS OF THIS COUNTRY CONSOLIDATED THEMSELVES, BECAME ALLIES IN FACT AS WELL AS IN THEORY.

THEY AFFILIATED THEMSELVES TOGETHER, COMBINED THEIR FORCES AND THEIR LEADERSHIP, AND WE CAN SAFELY SAY THAT THE INITIATIVE GAINED BY THE ALLIED ACTORS ON THAT DAY WILL NEVER BE LOST UNTIL THE END OF HOSTILITIES.

Naturally in such a consolidation various changes have to be made.

In a fair and equitable alliance made in good faith, based on a desire for mutual good, there has to be an equality of opportunity, a fair distribution of the responsibilities and changes in the General Staff.

There could not be two International Presidents, there could not be two International First Vice-Presidents, and so, without fuss or long discussion or grave deliberation, Commanders of Brigades became Commanders of Armies and Commanders of Armies became Chiefs of Staff.

When we relinquished our International offices it was done for the good of the cause.

When we helped to unanimously elect Francis Wilson, the President of the Actors' Equity Association, International President; when we helped to elect unanimously Mr. Frank Gillmore, International Treasurer, it was done for the good of the Association.

To the great credit of our old and new International Executive, Harry Mountford, it must be stated that he also resigned his position as International Executive-Secretary and left himself entirely in the hands of the new International Board.

To put it into his own words, Mountford said: "DON'T THINK OF ME AT ALL IN THIS MATTER OR CONSIDER ME PERSONALLY IN ANY WAY. IF WE CAN WIN I AM PERFECTLY WILLING (TO ACHIEVE THAT END) TO BE THE MAN THAT CLEANS THE CUSPIDORS."

It is a source of great pleasure to us, and we know to our members, and a matter of pride to us, and to our members, that the new International Board unanimously elected Harry Mountford to the position of International Executive-Secretary of the ASSOCIATED ACTORS AND ARTISTES OF AMERICA.

While one of us (James William FitzPatrick) ceases to be International President and becomes International Vice-President I am still Big Chief and President of our Branch.

While one of us (Edward Clark) ceases to be International Vice-President I am still Vice-President of our Branch, and Harry Mountford still continues as Executive Secretary and Treasurer of the same Branch.

We now control Circus, Burlesque, Chautauqua, Concerts and Vaudeville.

For a brief time our offices are still the same, 207 East 54th Street.

In the future great care must be exercised by our members in noticing the additions or alterations following our names.

Thus, if an article is signed Harry Mountford or H. M. it is merely Mr. Mountford's personal opinion. If it is signed International Executive-Secretary then it is an order or a direction or an explanation of such order or direction of the International Board of the ASSOCIATED ACTORS AND ARTISTES OF AMERICA. If it is signed Executive Secretary-Treasurer it is some order or direction or explanation of such order or direction from our Branch.

The same thing applies to our signatures and our utterances.

THIS CANNOT BE TOO CAREFULLY REMEMBERED, SO WE GIVE THIS PUBLIC WARNING.

It is impossible just at the present to go into the fuller details of this consolidation, but the rights of each branch have not only been preserved, but have been strengthened.

Our Branch, while it has no control in itself over the Actors' Equity Association, is strengthened by the affiliation with that Association.

The Actors' Equity Association and ourselves and all the other branches are in the position now of the separate and individual States in the United States. Each with their separate State power, but each a component part of the Federal Government of the United States and making up the United States.

New York would not count for much in the World's League of Nations by itself, but added to Massachusetts, Illinois, Ohio, California, etc., etc., and speaking through the Federal Government of the U. S., it amounts to a great deal.

And so it will be with us.

There is no need here to reiterate the pledges we gave to our members on our Election. They know what they were and they know how faithfully and at what cost we have observed them, and with all the strength that lies in our body, in our minds and in our souls we shall continue the fight which we took up years ago.

We shall press the advantage gained on July 18, 1919, by the Allied Actors of America so that that initiative will never be lost until the end of hostilities.

And that time probably will be about the same time, but only a year later than when on the battlefields of Europe Prussianism admitted defeat, NOVEMBER 11TH, 1918.

IT MAY BE BEFORE NOVEMBER 11TH. IT MAY BE A LITTLE LATER, BUT IT WILL SURELY COME.

EDWARD CLARK, Vice-President.

JAMES WILLIAM FITZPATRICK,
International Vice-President, A. A. A. and Big Chief.

 SOUTHERN BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D. C.

Telephone Main 4344.

July 15, 1919.

Mr. Harry Mountford,
 International Executive and Secy.-Treas.,
 White Rats Actors' Union of America,
 207 East 54th Street,
 New York City.

My Dear Mr. Mountford:

My attention has been called to a copy of "Variety" of the issue of the 4th inst., containing an editorial quoting excerpts from the testimony of James William FitzPatrick, given by him in the proceedings of the Federal Trade Commission against the V. M. P. A. et al., wherein Mr. FitzPatrick makes some reference to the disbursement of about $12,000 of the strike funds of the White Rats Actors' Union during the strike of the vaudeville actors.

The article is obviously calculated and designed to have the readers of "Variety" draw the very indecently unfair inference that inasmuch as Mr. FitzPatrick disbursed about $1,000 of that fund, that the other $11,000, which was disbursed by you or subject to your individual check, did not go to the legitimate purposes of the organization. No such inference can properly be drawn.

So far as I have been able to judge the strike situation, you, Mr. Fitzpatrick, and those actors who were associated with you, made a brave, intelligent, honest and telling fight against an organization with millions of dollars, which threw all its wealth and influence against your paltry $12,000. The article is clearly intended as a club to strike at any lingering life the union may still have, to "scotch" what I think is regarded as a serpent attempting to raise its head.

I did not call you to the stand in the proceedings despite the many requests that you made of me that you be called, for your testimony tending to prove the allegations of the complaint charging the respondent with unfair methods of competition in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act would be merely cumulative, and I did not want to submit you to cross-examination in reference to the affairs of the White Rats Actors' Union, because the Union was not under investigation in the proceeding, and because the secrecy of the affairs of the Union are, in my judgment, inviolable, and not subject to inquiry by anyone not a member of the Union.

However, in view of this covert attack upon your integrity, I feel that in fairness to you I should inform your professional brethren that nothing ever developed in the proceedings of the Federal Trade Commission, or out of it, that has in any way led me to suspect that you have ever received any money of any one that was not honestly disbursed. On the contrary I think that you carried on the strike with a zeal for the welfare of the craft that eliminates all thought of dishonest disbursement of funds.

In view of the fact that the Union asked for so little it is incredible to me that the men in the management of the vaudeville industry should wage, and continue to wage, a warfare against reforms which, if adopted, would promote the general welfare of the industry, both from the standpoint of the manager as well as the actor. Their lack of foresight in this regard is entirely out of harmony with the advanced thought and methods adopted in this age by captains of industry everywhere in this country. In all ages the favorite weapon of vested and entrenched interests has been to disqualify the champions of rights and reforms by vilification and misrepresentation. These javelins have been hurled at you for years in unusual numbers, and with varying force. You must, indeed, be a "Happy Warrior" to return during all these years blow for blow and maintain the unembittered poise and equanimity that constitutes a first qualification for successful leadership in any cause.

You are at liberty to use this letter in any way to reassure the good men and women in your profession that your fight has been their fight and that it has been carried on with honesty and by methods becoming a scholar and a gentleman.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN WALSH.

Facts Versus Fiction

Now, will you be good!!

Walsh, FitzPatrick, all the Irish supporting the English (?) man.

Wonders will never cease. The millennium must be at hand.

Soon there shall be seen Francis Wilson having breakfast with Lee Shubert, James William FitzPatrick spending a week-end with J. J. Murdoch and the writer of this column living up at the editor of the Green Sheet's house, without the forks and spoons being locked up.

But really, I must thank Messrs. John Walsh and James William FitzPatrick publicly for their wonderful letters. I thank them not so much because of their tribute to me, for I really don't personally mind what anybody says about me as long as I know I am right, but I thank them from the bottom of my heart because of the effect it will have upon the actors' organization, their members and the nonmembers in this country.

Mr. Walsh's point that the chief weapon of all employers is calumny of the Union's leaders is well shown by what occurred after our vice president's (Edward Clark) libel suit against Variety.

After the trial was over, Sime went up to Eddie Clark and said: "You know, we didn't mean anything against you, Eddie. We were out after the White Rat leaders."

Here is clear confession and clear proof that these attacks are not made on me personally, but simply because I am one of the leaders in the fight.

Any weapon is used against us. Last week the Green Sheet praised FitzPatrick. This week, in big type it puts James William FitzPatrick over Gene Hughes' evidence. This is done for the sole purpose of misleading the actors and the public who read it to make them believe that President FitzPatrick gave the extraordinary evidence that testimony is full of.

In other words, it was an attempt to kill the effect of President FitzPatrick's other testimony by taking a vaudeville agent's evidence and tacking FitzPatrick's name to it.

There is no clearer proof required that Silverman and the Green Sheet will stop at nothing in their masters' interest when they twist and change the record of a Federal proceeding.

There is one thing Sime acknowledges. On Saturday last, when he read the announcement in the New York Times of our affiliation with the Actors' Equity Association, he turned around to the man he was with and said: "I guess I backed the wrong horse."

By actual count, there were in the N. V. A. the other night, 80 lay-members and four actors. This is about the proportion now. As the lay-members come in, the actors will be as scarce in the N. V. A. Club as the truth in the Magazine of Fools.

I am informed that some persons living in the N. V. A. Club last week lost nearly all their valuables, which were stolen from the room they were occupying.

But I have no sympathy. Any person who belongs to the N. V. A., who supports the N. V. A., who lives in the N. V. A., is helping to rob the actors of this country of their rights, of their contracts and of their salary.

Just a word of warning: The inflation fee is going up. You don't think we are going to let you into this big army and share the rewards and benefits which are coming on the same terms as the men who came in, the men who did the fighting, receive.

You have got another week or two whereby you can become a member or be reinstated and your dues paid up to October 1, 1919, for $10.00. Send it to me and don't say you don't know the address. It is 207 East 54th street.—H. M.

OH, DADDY

To Be Pretentious Production

New Show To Be Put Out by Kilroy & Britton, Inc., Will Carry Thirty-Three People

Chicago, July 20.—Will Kilroy, of Kilroy & Britton, Inc., says that the people, costumes, music and equipment of Oh, Daddy, the new show that he is putting out would look good on Broadway.

"Our costumes," said Mr. Kilroy, "are being made by Lester and will rank with the finest seen in Chicago. We are spending the money on this show to make it the best possible, and we believe the public will pay good money to see it. Nothing is too good for us in costumes, voices, instrumentation or personalities. We will pay the chorus $35 a week for example, altho we don't use the word chorus. They are all simply members of the company.

Everybody in Oh, Daddy will do something, according to Mr. Kilroy. All will be able to do specialties. There will be a saxophone quartet, two banjoists, two cornetists and other similar specialties. There will be thirty-three persons in the company. Among the persons engaged are Backous and Manlove, Walter F. Davis, who will be the manager; Mrs. Lilla Warner Davis, the prima donna; W. J. Bunge, H. B. Clafin, Belva Jane French, Ruth LaBanx, H. J. Johnson, John H. Anderson and A. M. Zinn, musical director. The show will open August 31 in Janesville, Wis. Harry (Stubby) Rice will attend to all matters ahead of the show.

Mr. Kilroy will put out My Sammy Girl again greatly enlarged, touched up and improved over last season. Billie Robinson will appear in the title role. The show will open August 10 in Janesville, Wis.

Among other performers in the show will be The Coltons, Mack Smith, Martin Bowers, Glen P. Henry, R. C. Miller, Peggy Shipman, Mand Henry and C. Eugene Yarnell, manager. Dave Vining will be musical director. Jerry Ketchum will go ahead of the show.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL DE CARDO Playing Return Engagement in At- lantic City

Atlantic City, July 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Paul De Cardo, among the most noted of America's hall-room dancers, have returned to the Submarine Grill of the Traymore for the season. The De Cardos have appeared for a number of engagements in the Submarine Grill during the past four years. They have provided a complete list of new dances, including a new

Musical Comedy Productions

GREENWICH VILLAGE FOLLIES

GREENWICH VILLAGE FOLLIES—A revusical comedy by Philip Bartholomae and John Murray Anderson. Music by A. Baldwin Sloane. Staged by John Murray Anderson. Presented by The Bohemians, Inc., at the Greenwich Village Theater, New York, July 15. (New York, July 18.—Greenwich Village Follies furnished a pleasant surprise because of its originality, the unusual beauty of its costuming and scenery, and for its comedy.

The beautiful and pretentious production is worthy of a larger stage, altho considering the space limitations it was well handled.

The music is dreamy, The Stolen Melody and I Want a Daddy being particularly pleasing.

The costuming exhibited the touch of something more than money, the color combinations being beautiful and effective. From the quiet and demure to the glittering and bizarre, they were all truly artistic.

One of the ensemble dance scenes had the movement, gaiety and color of Bal Bouillier, the more intimate students' festivity of the Paris Latin Quarter.

Much originality and beauty was exhibited in the scene Up in The Air. There were the blue heavens, floating clouds, the milky way and the evening star, an effect invented and patented by George Hanlon.

Bessie McCoy Davis was the most conspicuous member of the talented cast. As an automaton her dance classique, The Marionette, was interestingly and artistically rendered. She also danced amazingly in I'm the Hostess of a Bnn Cabaret.

In the Message of the Cameo, completely attired in filmet white, with hoop skirt, partially draped poke bonnet, and shawl of cobwebby texture, Bessie McCoy Davis presented a dainty, saintly picture of ephemeral loveliness, on which the famous Blue Madonna has nothing except color.

This versatile artist with personality and the fleeting spirit of comedy is as charming as she is talented.

Ted Lewis and his jazz band did much to put a lively riot into the performance, which caught the audience like wildfire.

Jane Carroll and Irene Olson sang skillfully.

Ida Forman in My Little Japanese did some clever dancing. Her bare feet were expressive to their carefully pinked toetips. The Egyptian back drop in this scene was of rare, delicate beauty.

Robert Edwards, in a brown checkered shirt, as the Village Minstrel, talked some funny original verses with his toy guitar accompaniment.

Jack Wilson, one of the shining lights of vaudeville, proved a conspicuous acquisition to the comedy end of the program. He was his usual self, sympathetically humorous, and brought a laugh with every line.

Cecil Cunningham, also from vaudeville, sang several songs and did a clever song number. Instructing the orchestra members to play different tunes for accompaniment.

The chorus was as pretty as that of any Broadway show.—MARIE LENNARDS.

EXCERPTS FROM THE NEW YORK DAILIES

Times: "The Greenwich Village Follies has melody and beauty pre-eminently. It scores also on novelty burlesque and comedy."

Sun: "A show remarkable for its fine costuming and setting, for the beauty of its girls, for its novelty, tunefulness and for its vigor."

Globe: "For the courage displayed in the Greenwich Village Follies it deserves a long run."

Herald: "The performance was a good deal of a triumph for Miss McCoy Davis, and she deserved every recall."

Tribune: "The show has all the elements of a successful musical revue."

World: "A lively and colorful evening's entertainment."

THE SONG WORLD

THE ALCOHOLIC BLUES

Prohibition Making Song More Popular than Ever

New York, July 19.—The Alcoholic Blues is the cause for much elatement in the Broadway Music Corporation office at 145 West 45th street here. The whole staff are talking over the added impetus that has been given the song by Prohibition legislation. It was a hit before, but now it is a super-hit.

In musical quality The Alcoholic Blues is a delight to the ear and the clever lyric is always sure-fire with an audience. In addition to this, several clever versions of the song have been prepared so that a place can be found for the song in almost any act. The English version is particularly good. Many syllabled words are strewn throught the verse and chorus with humorous effect and the theme of the song is cleverly twisted into the way an English "Johnnie" is supposed to deliver it.

The song is most timely at the present moment and those vaudeartists who wish to be up-to-the-minute should write to the Broadway Music Corporation, 145 West 45th street, New York City, for a copy and the special versions. They will be sent immediately on mention of The Billboard.

CHAS. K. HARRIS' SONGS

New York, July 19.—Chas. K. Harris' beautiful Chinese love ballad, When the Lotus Flowers Bloom in China Land, is fast becoming a favorite among ballad singers on account of its melodious refrain and charming lyric. The rest of the Chas. K. Harris catalog is getting a big play among vaudeartists. Among the more prominent artists using Harris numbers are Emma Carus, Sophie Tucker, Lee Palmer, Arthur Deacon, Juliette Dika, Lillian Herstein, Lang and Shaw and Bernard and Duffy.

THREE POPULAR SONGS

Chicago, July 20.—Mort Bosley, Western manager for Gilbert & Friedland, Inc., has announced three songs that he said are proving immensely popular. They are Granny, now being sung by Adele Rowland, Bring Back Those Wonderful Days and Mending a Heart.

McKINLEY MUSIC COMPANY

The latest "picture song" is The White Heather, published by the McKinley Music Company, of 145 West 45th street, New York City. It is being featured over the country in connection with the Paramount-Aercraft special of the same title. This ballad has a charming melody and tells the story of the play in an interesting manner. Aside from its picture value, it is meeting with favor among vaudeartists and has been recorded by six phonograph concerns and several player roll concerns to date.

The Methodist Church Assembly didn't exactly endorse the new song and dance number, Oasis, published by McKinley, but according to the publishers, the selection of the name

"Oasis," for the new "dry" drinking places would seem to indicate unconscious "plugging" of the number and, they say, they expect to see Oasis on sale in soda fountain soon.

REMICK NUMBERS IN DEMAND

Chicago, July 19.—Harry Werthan, Chicago manager for the music publishing house of Jerome H. Remick said today that an apparently spontaneous call from all sections of the territory is coming in for Your Eyes Have Told Me So, by Walter Blaufuss, one of Chicago's best known musical directors.

Mr. Werthan said that Give Me a Smile and a Kiss and Alexander's Band is Back in Dixieland are two pieces that will be brought out in a few weeks and he predicts big things for both.

Shubert's Gayety Show of 1919 which opened in New York last week is said to be enjoying a huge success. All of the numbers are Remick productions.

Willie Howard, with The Passing Show at the Palace Music Hall, is making a genuine hit with Sahara, a Remick song.

THE HOME OF THE BLUES

New York, July 19.—Pace & Handy are an instance of the modern tendency towards specialization in all lines of endeavor. They have specialized in "blues" ever since the inception of their business. Whenever a vaudeartist wants a number of this character, he is almost sure to think of Pace & Handy first. The "Home of the Blues," as they call their firm, is the Mecca nowadays for those seeking this popular type of song and any artist desiring "blues" can do no better than request professional copies from Pace & Handy, 1547 Broadway, this city.

ENGLISH FIRM

Will Export Product of Young Music Company in Foreign Countries

Contracts were closed this week whereby the English publishers, B. Feldman & Co., of London, are to publish all numbers of the R. C. Young Music Co., of Columbus, O., and exploit them in England and all foreign countries. That this arrangement will prove profitable to both parties goes without saying, as the Young hits, When I Dream in the Moonlight of You, in Dear Old Chinatown, Alabama Ball and Be Prepared, are proving wonderful sellers.

The Ideal Music Co., of Toronto, which has lately opened offices in Winnipeg and Montreal, reports that When I Dream in the Moonlight of You and Alabama Ball are among the biggest sellers it has ever had, and it has contracted to publish the Young numbers in Canada for a number of years.

Orchestra leaders by the hundreds are using these hits and every day brings letters telling of the success of the songs.

The Young Co. will in the near future release two new songs that are sure to prove immensely popular. One is a waltz and the other an Oriental number that will compare favorably with anything of kind on the market.

NEW PUBLICITY MAN FOR STERN

New York, July 19.—Edward F. Breler is the new publicity manager for Jos. W. Stern & Co. Mr. Breler has been on the editorial staff of several high-class magazines and was at one time circulation manager for The Woman's World in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

At one time Mr. Breler was on the stage, but left it to go into publicity work. He was with William Fox in his early days at 24 Union Square and with Frank V. Straus, handling theatrical publicity. It should also be noted that Mr. Breler plays eleven musical instruments but he says that should not be held against him.

STERN OPENS NEW BOSTON OFFICE

Following hard upon the heels of the removal notice of Jos. W. Stern's New York City professional offices from 1356 Broadway to 226 West 46th street, New York, comes the announcement of the establishment of New England headquarters at 181 Tremont street, Boston, Mass.

With Charles Lang, district manager, Billy Moran, professional manager; assisted by a staff including Eben Littlefield and Sam Wallace, a territorial annexation is created that will not only be of advantage to the theatrical profession, but should also add further prestige to Stern's program of expansion.

BERT PETERS AT IT

Chicago, July 20.—Bert Peters, music arranger, is preparing a song for Clarence Williams, called Play 'Em for Mamma, Sing 'Em for Me, which he believes contains much promise.

TELL TAYLOR

Will Move Main Office to New York

Chicago, July 19.—Tell Taylor, music publisher, said today that he will move his main office to New York. Mr. Taylor will still maintain a business connection in Chicago. He has rented a portion of his present offices to Irving Berlin, formerly of Watterson, Berlin & Snyder.

Mr. Taylor said that On the Trail to Happiness, by himself and George Little, is a song that is going over the top in popular favor. He announced three new songs that will be on the market shortly. They are Don't Take Her to the City, On Some Fine Day and When You Come to Say Good-By.

S. R. HENRY NUMBERS IN GREAT DEMAND

New York, July 19.—S. R. Henry's compositions are enjoying great vogue. Leaders of discrimination feel that their programs are incomplete without one or more Henry numbers and in consequence one hears them everywhere. Kentucky Dream is conceded to be one of the best waltzes written in many years. Pajamah is also rapidly making its way to the front and should blossom into a real success when the fall season opens. This also applies to the latest effort of S. R. Henry and D. Onivas entitled Hualaya.

The orchestral arrangements of these pieces deserve special commendation, as they contain nothing cheap or "jazzy," without are tremendously effective for small combinations. S. R. Henry and D. Onivas are rapidly building up a reputation for unusual popular successes. J. S. W. Stern & Co., are the publishers of all the above compositions.

SQUIRES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, N. J., July 21.—Harry D. Squires, the young song writer, is now at the new music store opened by The Joe Morria Music Company, on the Garden Pier, where he is popularizing his new sensational ballad hit, In the Heart of a Fool, which has already made a big hit here. Harry is also the author of Some Day I'll Make You Glad, which is another big hit here. He's only twenty years old, but if he keeps going as he is, he'll surely make a big man in the business.

HUNKATIN

New York, July 19.—A half-tone one-step is rather an unusual type of musical composition and a most attractive type when well done. Belwin, Inc., of 701 Seventh avenue, this city, have a number of this character in Hunkatin. It well deserves a place in the repertoire of all orchestras, for it is a work of real musical merit. Copies can be obtained from Belwin, Inc., at the above address.

ARTMUSIC NOTES

New York, July 19.—Among the other numerous vaudeartists using Artmusic, Inc., songs are Munford and Stanley, who are singing Forever is a Long, Long Time, The Girl in the Moon using the same number; Fashlers a la Carte, featuring Somewhere Someone's Waiting, and Billy Rhodes singing Forever is a Long, Long Time. All of these numbers are of exceptionally high quality and those desiring this class of song should request copies of Artmusic, Inc. They will be forwarded on application by return mail.

SOL P. LEVY

Sol P. Levy is a well-known musician, who was born in Chicago in 1881. He received his entire musical education in this country. Mr. Levy played first-clarinete with Sousa's band and with Pryor's band for years. He then went with Witmark & Sons, the music publishers, as a musical editor and arranger. Leaving Witmark, he embarked in business for himself and became well known in New York as a "song doctor" and arranger. He got tired of "doctoring" up other people's compositions and commenced to compose himself. Mr. Levy wrote the musical scores for the famous Edgar Lewis films, The Barrier and The Bar Sinister and a comic opera called The Best Seller. Of late years he has devoted his time almost exclusively to the writing of popular music among his more widely known numbers being Hunkatin, an instrumental fox-trot, Bleeding Hearts, a musical reverie; Because You Say Good-bye, a high-class ballad, and That Naughty Waltz, a novelty waltz song. All of Sol P. Levy's numbers are

NEW PLAYER ROLL SELECTIONS

Chicago, July 19.—The Q. R. S. Company, manufacturers of player music rolls, report that Miss Moonlight, a new waltz composed by Lee S. Roberts, is having a sale that is spreading with gratifying rapidity. Hawaiian Nights, one of Mr. Roberts' most popular waltz numbers was recently issued as a word roll by the Q. R. S. Company.

Everybody Wants a Key to My Cellar is proving to be a winner as a music roll. Broken Blossoms, issued by the Q. R. S. people, is to be seen in the windows of a number of music stores in the loop section.

Another player roll selection that has sprung into instant popularity is In the Heart of a Fool, with words by Max Freedman and music by Harry D. Squires. Mississippi Moonlight, a waltz, with words by J. Will Callahan and music by Lee S. Roberts, is another swiftly growing favorite that the Q. R. S. people are pushing. The Red Lantern, a fox-trot, with words and music by Fred Fleher is a music roll the demand for which is growing daily.

NEW IRISH SONG

The Vandersloot Music Publishing Company, of Williamsport, Pa., has on the market now a fine song in Myra. The lyrics were written by J. H. Shannon while the music was composed by F. W. Vandersloot. The chorna has a pure Irish lilt and is very catchy. The song will no doubt be very popular with vaudeville artists and many are already using the number.

A BALLAD AND TWO NOVELTIES

New York, July 19.—Al Piantadosi and his professional staff are centering their entire attention on the popularization of the three most prominent numbers in their catalog. These are, The Woman Thou Gavest Me, And That Ain't All, and Oh, You Women. The first named is a ballad of merit and the two latter are novelty songs that have a good audience appeal. All of these songs are worthy of the attention of vaudeartists and copies will be sent on application to Al Piantadosi Co., Inc., 234 West 46th street, this city.

WITMARK'S SEATTLE OFFICE

Seattle, July 19.—M. Witmark & Sons have opened a branch office here in the Pantages Theater Building, with Barney Hagan, former assistant manager of the San Francisco office, in charge. Al Browne, of the Frisco branch, arranged for the local offices here while on a tour of the Northwestern territory. Three of the big Eastern publishers now have branch offices in this city.

BASKETTE WRITES ANOTHER

The King Vaughn Music Company of Oconomowoc, Wis., have started a big campaign on a new number by Billy Baskette entitled Mystic China, an oriental one-step, which looks like a clean sweep.

Baskette is the composer of Hawaiian Butterfly, Key to My Cellar, Jerry, Good-bye Broadway, Hello France, and others.

NEW BOOKING ORGANIZATION

Formed in Chicago To Supply Talent in Singing and Instrumental Music

Chicago, July 19.—A new booking and managerial organization, formed for the purpose of supplying the highest grade talent in singing and instrumental music as well as other forms of select entertainment, is that of Miller, Resseguie & Tufts, with offices in Kimball Hall.

This firm made its preliminary plans in April and is beginning its bookings. The permanent organization of the firm represents several Chicago names that are known far outside of their home city. The pianists are Moses Boguslawski and Lyell Barber; cellists, Hans Hess and Vera Poppe; sopranos, Margery Maxwell, Marjorie Dodge Warner, Gladys Swarthout, Mae Graves Atkins and Ethel Benedict; contraltos, Rose Lutiger Gannon, Roma Swarthout, Edna Swanson, Vera Haar and Nina Hager; tenors, Hardy Williamson and Joe B. Miller; basses, Gustav Holmquist, Burton Thatcher and Herbert Miller.

Lathrop Resseguie, the manager of the firm, said that the above organization will be divided into any combination, solo, duet, trio, quartet or into any other form to meet the needs of the concert, chautauqua or any other function desiring the highest class talent available. In addition, this firm will manage the Chicago Operatic Company and make its bookings. Mr. Resseguie has returned from a six weeks' trip thru the larger cities of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, and said that he has arranged for numerous dates. It is expected that the activities of the firm will reach seven States.

This firm now has the Chicago Operatic Company working with the Colt Alber Independent Chautauqua organization on a chain of fifty dates.

"We have seventeen of Chicago's very finest artists under our exclusive management," said Mr. Resseguie, "and will meet all calls for concert, oratorio and recital service."

The Swarthout Sisters will be heard in Orchestra Hall all next week. Alfred A. Kanberg is in charge of the Chicago dates. Mr. Resseguie said that he had signed up Frederick Hughes, the Welch tenor, for five years.

"Hughes is a phenomenon," he said, "and I look for the greatest results from him."

The firm's officers are Hen O. Tufts, secretary-treasurer, and Lathrop Resseguie, manager.

TENTS OF ARABS

Sight acts of all kinds usually find difficulty in getting a suitable instrumental number as a musical accompaniment for their turns. The requirements are that it shall be melodious and that the continued repetition of the number shall not become wearisome to the audience.

A composition that is being used by some of the best known silent acts in the profession is Tents of Arabs, published by B. D. Nice & Co., Inc., 1544 Broadway, New York. It has given satisfaction in every instance where used and is well worth a trial by any act looking for such a number. Nice & Co. will send it on request to recognized vaudeartists.

HUNKATIN

New York, July 19.—A half-tone one-step is rather an unusual type of musical composition and a most attractive type when well done. Belwin, Inc., of 701 Seventh avenue, this city, have a number of this character in Hunkatin. It well deserves a place in the repertoire of all orchestras, for it is a work of real musical merit. Copies can be obtained from Belwin, Inc., at the above address.

ARTMUSIC NOTES

New York, July 19.—Among the other numerous vaudeartists using Artmusic, Inc., songs are Munford and Stanley, who are singing Forever Is a Long, Long Time, The Girl in the Moon using the same number; Fashioners a la Carte, featuring Somewhere Someone's Waltz, and Billy Rhodes singing Forever Is a Long, Long Time. All of these numbers are of exceptionally high quality and those desiring this class of song should request copies of Artmusic, Inc. They will be forwarded on application by return mail.

SOL P. LEVY

Sol P. Levy is a well-known musician, who was born in Chicago in 1881. He received his entire musical education in this country. Mr. Levy played first-clarinet with Sousa's band and with Pryor's band for years. He then went with Witmark & Sons, the music publishers, as a musical editor and arranger. Leaving Witmark, he embarked in business for himself and became well known in New York as a "song doctor" and arranger. He got tired of "doctoring" up other people's compositions and commenced to compose himself. Mr. Levy wrote the musical scores for the famous Edgar Lewis films, The Barrier and The Bar Sinister and a comic opera called The Best Seller. Of late years he has devoted his time almost exclusively to the writing of popular music among his more widely known numbers being Hunkatin, an instrumental fox-trot, Bleeding Hearts, a musical reverie; Because You Say Good-by, a high-class ballad, and That Naughty Waltz, a novelty waltz song. All of Sol P. Levy's numbers are

NEW PLAYER ROLL SELECTIONS

Chicago, July 19.—The Q. R. S. Company, manufacturers of player music rolls, report that Miss Moonlight, a new waltz composed by Leo S. Roberts, is having a sale that is spreading with gratifying rapidity. Hawaiian Nights, one of Mr. Roberts' most popular waltz numbers was recently issued as a word roll by the Q. R. S. Company.

Everybody Wants a Key to My Cellar is proving to be a winner as a music roll. Broken Blossoms, issued by the Q. R. S. people, is to be seen in the windows of a number of music stores in the loop section.

Another player roll selection that has sprung into instant popularity is In the Heart of a Fool, with words by Max Freedman and music by Harry D. Squires. Mississippi Moonlight, a waltz, with words by J. Will Callahan and music by Leo S. Roberts, is another swiftly growing favorite that the Q. R. S. people are pushing. The Red Lantern, a fox-trot, with words and music by Fred Fisher is a music roll the demand for which is growing daily.

NEW IRISH SONG

The Vandersloot Music Publishing Company, of Williamsport, Pa., has on the market now a fine song in Myra. The lyrics were written by J. H. Shannon while the music was composed by F. W. Vandersloot. The chorus has a pure Irish lilt and is very catchy. The song will no doubt be very popular with vaudeville artists and many are already using the number.

A BALLAD AND TWO NOVELTIES

New York, July 19.—Al Plantadosi and his professional staff are centering their entire attention on the popularization of the three most prominent numbers in their catalog. These are, The Woman Thou Gavest Me, And That Ain't All, and Oh, You Women. The first named is a ballad of merit and the two latter are novelty songs that have a good audience appeal. All of these songs are worthy of the attention of vaudeartists and copies will be sent on application to Al Plantadosi Co., Inc., 234 West 46th street, this city.

WITMARK'S SEATTLE OFFICE

Seattle, July 19.—M. Witmark & Sons have opened a branch office here in the Pantages Theater Building, with Barney Hagan, former assistant manager of the San Francisco office, in charge. Al Browne, of the Frisco branch, arranged for the local offices here while on a tour of the Northwestern territory. Three of the big Eastern publishers now have branch offices in this city.

BASKETTE WRITES ANOTHER

The King Vaughn Music Company of Oconomowoc, Wis., have started a big campaign on a new number by Billy Baskette entitled Mystic China, an oriental one-step, which looks like a clean sweep.

NEW BOOKING ORGANIZATION

Formed in Chicago To Supply Talent in Singing and Instrumental Music

Chicago, July 19.—A new booking and managerial organization, formed for the purpose of supplying the highest grade talent in singing and instrumental music as well as other forms of select entertainment, is that of Miller, Ressegue & Tufts, with offices in Kimball Hall.

This firm made its preliminary plans in April and is beginning its bookings. The permanent organization of the firm represents several Chicago names that are known far outside of their home city. The pianists are Moses Boguslawski and Lyell Harber; cellists, Huns Hess and Vera Poppe; sopranos, Margery Maxwell, Marjorie Lodge Warner, Gladys Swarthout, Mae Graves Atkins and Ethel Benedict; contraltos, Rose Lutiger Gannon, Roma Swarthout, Edna Swanson Ver Haar and Nina Hager; tenors, Hardy Williamson and Jno. B. Miller; basses, Gustav Holmquist, Burton Thatcher and Herbert Miller.

Lathrop Ressegue, the manager of the firm, said that the above organization will be divided into any combination, solo, duet, trio, quartet or into any other form to meet the needs of the concert, chautauqua or any other function desiring the highest class talent available. In addition, this firm will manage the Chicago Operatic Company and make its bookings. Mr. Ressegue has returned from a six weeks' trip thru the larger cities of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, and said that he has arranged for numerous dates. It is expected that the activities of the firm will reach seven States.

This firm now has the Chicago Operatic Company working with the Coit-Alber Independent Chautauqua organization on a chain of fifty dates.

"We have seventeen of Chicago's very finest artists under our exclusive management," said Mr. Ressegue, "and will meet all calls for concert, oratorio and recital service."

The Swarthout Sisters will be heard in Orchestra Hall all next week. Alfred A. Knberg is in charge of the Chicago dates. Mr. Ressegue said that he had signed up Frederick Hughes, the Welch tenor, for five years.

"Hughes is a phenomenon," he said, "and I look for the greatest results from him."

The firm's officers are Ben Q. Tufts, secretary-treasurer, and Lathrop Ressegue, manager.

RIVALRY

Between Leon Errol and George Robey in London Continues

London, July 5.—Julian Mitchell has been in a whirl of discomfort during his short stay here under a six weeks' contract with the Moss Empire because he has been forced to depart to America without witnessing a presentation of any of the ideas he has unloaded for foreign approval.

Primarily, Mr. Mitchell came to Europe to produce a new DeCourville revue in Paris, but this was declared off when the bottom fell out of theatrical business in Paris. To fill out his contract time, Mr. Mitchell was set to work "patching up" the current revue at the Hippodrome, J-y-Bells, which was originally produced by Ned Wayburn, Tommy Gray and Walt Pink. Rehearsals were called, and Mr. Mitchell's first aim was to insert George M. Cohan's number, The Girl I Left Behind, into the revue, with Leon Errol in big prominence, artistically supported by an elaborate chorus display. His efforts also included additional typical Julian Mitchell artistic ideas.

The DeCourville management heartily endorsed the additions Mr. Mitchell contributed, but the producer was obliged to return to America without witnessing the changes offered for public approval. This resulted from George Robey severely objecting to what Mr. Mitchell suggested for changes inasmuch as it gave Leon Errol more than eight minutes appearance in the revue. Thereby, Julian Mitchell's ability is added to the scalps that George Robey is taking of talent imported by the DeCourville management.

Robey's big whip in objecting to any possible headway being made by Errol is the support he's got from the libraries, known in America as speculators. The comedian threatens to walk out of the show if Errol is given any especially starring stunt, and he's got the libraries waiting on the DeCourville management to turn back the long advance buy of tickets if he walks out. Accordingly, the DeCourville management, regardless of its desire to get the full benefit of the fabulous salaries paid American artists to come to London, has to govern itself in final decisions, according to box-office ideas.

It is thought to be the first time that Julian Mitchell has ever had any of his ideas for a show checked by an actor, but it still furnishes a new angle to the possibility of closer relationship between the stage people of Great Britain and America, which at the present time is receiving a serious setback, due to Robey's attitude against American artists.

Conservative English actors and actresses are taking a keen interest in the outcome of the much discussed matter, for many of them are planning an immediate foreign visit, and they fear they will suffer for what they claim is an unfair attitude that Robey is allowed to assume against artists imported by the DeCourville management.

It is stated in West End circles that Robey once played "over night" in New York, following a brief visit to Newark, and he complied his present hostile feeling during that engagement of brevity in connection with his Broadway premiere.

SWORDS AND PLOWSHARES

Minneapolis, Minn., July 20.—Swords and Plowshares, a pageant, is to be produced by the Civic Players on the steps of the Art Institute July 29 and 30. Charles Bolles Rogers has been drafted to play the role of the kaiser. Mrs. Louis L. Schwartz will portray the character of the Spirit of Freedom and speak the prolog. Louis Kiebba, formerly with the Chicago Opera Co., will be the tenor soloist and sing the role of Abraham in the opening episode. F. H. Stinchfield will enact the role of Lot. The Dayton chorus, St. Mark's choir and members of the Rotary Club will augment the chorus under the direction of Stanley R. Avery, choral director.

THE GUMPS IN REHEARSAL

Chicago, July 19.—Errett Bigelow, of the Bigelow Dramatic Agency, has completed the task of furnishing the people for the new and third book on The Gumps, and the rehearsals started Thursday. The show will open August 17 on K. & E. Time. The new version is by McKent Barnes, and the music, all of which is specially written, is by Watterson, Berlin & Synder. The organization will go out for a time as a one-nighter, after which week stands will be played. Thirty-five people will be included in the show. James R. Frazier will play the part of Andy, and Blanche Clifford will impersonate Min.

HARVEY ORR HAS THREE

Chicago, July 19.—Harvey Orr, in Chicago Tuesday, announced that he will take out three musical shows the coming season. Come Along, Mary; The Million-Dollar Doll, which has been entirely rewritten as The Million-Dollar Doll in Paris, and which will be put on on an expensive scale, and Little Miss Blue Eyes will be the three productions handled by Mr. Orr.

COMIC OPERA

To Be Produced in Elmira, N. Y., by Charles Tingle

Elmira, N. Y., July 19.—Charles Tingle has signed a contract to produce comic opera at Rorick's Gien Theater here, beginning July 21, with The Chimes of Normandy as the opener. He will be manager of the show and will also sing tenor roles. Programs will be changed weekly, and a well-known company which Elmira knows will be presented.

The operas will be offered at popular prices, and judging by past experience should prove a success. Tingle was tenor in a company which played at the theater several years and made a host of friends. To assist in making the opening night a success the Rotary Club has decided to attend in a body. Tingle is a Rotarian. During the war he was a captain in the aviation service and only recently secured his discharge.

The demand for comic opera has been great recently in view of the fact that Hoyt's Revue, which held the Rorick contract, was unable to draw anything like the crowds Tingle used to. He was asked by many local business men to organize the company.

The complete schedule of operas to be presented has not been decided as yet, but so far it has been agreed to give Robin Hood, Mikado, Pinafore, Bohemian Girl, La Mascotte and Pirates of Penzance.

IT HAS BEEN admitted by the house managers who have played LeRoy Osbornes Baby Dolls that this organization is one of the fastest, classiest and best shows on the V. C. M. C. time. The company carries enough vaudeville acts to fill a regular bill besides putting on nothing but up-to-date script bills of former Broadway successes and have made the natives sit up and take notice. The features of the show are: Barnette and Murdock, dancing marvels; Fad and Fancy, harmony bugs; Vollet and Warner, in bits of versatility; Tom Meredith, silver tenor, and the Four He-Dolls, a quartette hard to beat. The roster of the company is as follows: Tom Meredith, producer and comedian; Lester Fad, straights; Earl Warner, juveniles; Joe Barnette, characters; Clara Fancy, ingenue; and Katherine Murdock, soubrette; in the chorus are Edna Meredith, Violet Warner, Teddy Schrader, Lulu Schrader, Jackie Mathewson, Alice Vandis, Ruth Kiar and Ida Daly—FAD.

WILKES PLAYERS

Close 4th Season in Seattle

Fanchion Everhart Played Thru Entire Run—Company Re-opens Aug. 31—Addison Pitt To Return as Director

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—With the final performance tonight of A Fool There Was, at the Wilkes Theater, the Wilkes Players ended their fourth season in this city. The house will remain dark until August 31, when the new season opens.

During the long run of this organization here, the Metropolitan, Orpheum and present Wilkes theaters have been the home of the players. Of the original company which opened at the Metropolitan Theater, March 18, 1916, Fanchion Everhart is the only actress that has continued thru season after season and will remain at least for another season at the Wilkes. Addison Pitt has directed the productions for the greater part of the four-year run and will continue as director for the next season. Pitt is one of the best producers the West Coast has ever had. There have been but few productions repeated during the long run and a number of plays were given their premiers here at the Wilkes.

Male leads have been played by Norman Hackett, Anthony Smythe, Alex Luce and Ivan Miller. Feminine leads have been played by Phoebe Hunt, Inez Ragan and Grace Huff. Miss Huff will not be with the organization the coming season as she has planned to accept an eastern engagement. With the company has played George Rand, John Sheehan, William Walsh, Norman Fensler, John Nickerson, Norman Seavey, George Cleveland, Fanchion Everhart, Cornelia Glass, Ruth Henck, Jane Darwell.

As to cast and stage productions many of the plays produced by the Wilkes Players have been equal to or better than traveling attractions offered by eastern casts. Individually and collectively, the players can always be depended upon to enact their several roles in the most artistic manner and Director Pitt knows how to cast them to best advantage and get the requisite scenic embellishments that always fill the bill to a T. The patronage accorded this stock organization has always been most satisfactory and regular patrons hold 95 per cent of the seats at all performances, forcing transients to become regulars or miss the performances offered.

FRED JACKSON'S PLAY

To Be Given by Washington Stock Next Season

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Fred Jackson's latest work, One a Minute, will be given a tryout by the Washington Stock organization, who are holding forth at the Shubert-Garrick week of July 27. Should the production prove a success it will be taken to New York in September.

The stock company has been strengthened for the production. Miriam Collins will be seen in the comedy role and others who will be seen in the production are Eileen Wilson, Mrs. Jacques Martin, Leah Winslow, Rita Homely, Eleanor Harte, Earle Foxe, Lynne Overman and Donald Meek. Daddy Long-Legs continues for the current week.

MISS STONE VACATIONING

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—Florence Stone, stock star, well known in the West, closed her season at Minneapolis last week and arrived here to spend the summer in this city and nearby camp sites. Miss Stone has been starring in stock in the Minnesota metropolis for the past several years, and this will be her first vacation of any length for some time.

BLANEY PLAYERS CLOSE

Will Reopen Again in New York Aug. 9

New York, July 19.—During the final week of the long stock season at the Yorkville Theater the Blaney Players made farewell speeches at every performance. The favorites of the company received presents and flowers without number, a farewell party after the close of the most remarkable season brought the entire company together for refreshments. On the following day Miss Frances McGrath found transportation on a boat bound for New Orleans. Forrest Orr, the leading man, is rusticating at Sheephead Bay, together with Hal Briggs, the Blaney Players stage director.

The season reopens at the Yorkville Theater on August 9th with Miss McGrath and Forrest Orr retained in the leads.

EVERYWOMAN WEEK AUGUST 4

Washington, D. C., July 20.—George Marshall, sponsor of the stock company at the Shubert-Garrick Theater, signed contracts Friday for the production of Everywoman by his organization during the week of August 4. The title role will be in the hands of Leah Winslow, and Walter Morrison will play the character of Nobody.

DRAMATIC STOCK

To Open at Wichita Falls, Texas, July 28

Chicago, July 19.—Harry Sheldon, of the Harry Sheldon Dramatic agency, has supplied Eugene Oliver with people for the opening of his stock company in The Brat, at Wichita Falls, Tex., on July 28. Among the performers engaged thru Mr. Sheldon are Miss Bobbie Robbins, Stanley Andrews, Earl Ross, Lew Streeter, Jack Goodwin, W. W. Craig, Vane Calvert, Fern Ikenworth and Virginia Stewart.

SALVATION NELL

Offered by Keith Stock Company

Columbus, O., July 19.—Salvation Nell was the offering of the Keith Stock Company the current week. Jane Grey in the title role never let down a minute and worked hard right up to the very last. Selmer Jackson was seen in something entirely different than anything in which he has as yet appeared. Maude Allan was seen to advantage as was Tommy Williams. Russell Fillmore and Raymond Bramley were also good. Next week What's Your Husband Doing? will be offered.

TAKING A REST

Lafayette, Ind., July 19.—Vada Hellman, who has been leading lady of the Otis Players the past two seasons, is resting this summer at her home at Saugatuck, Mich. Miss Hellman will rejoin the company again at St. Paul in August.

MAE PARK

To Open at the New Majestic Labor Day

Arrangements have been made with the National Amusement Co. (Inc.) of Birmingham, Ala., by which the Maddocks-Park Players, headed by the little southern favorite, Mae Park, will open at the New Majestic on Labor Day for an indefinite period.

During the early part of this year this clever little stock actress scored a most successful run of seventeen weeks in this same theater, breaking all previous records for dramatic stock in the city, making hundreds of friends and playing to capacity at nearly every performance during the stay.

Meyer Kaufman has been reengaged as her leading man, Jessie Lyons for second business, and several others of the original company will return. The productions will be under the personal direction of Sam J. Park, assisted by Henry Coroneas.

Manager Maddocks will be placed in charge of the house as well as the company and with his past records of executive ability there is little doubt but what the company will score a second successful run at this playhouse.

OLIVER GOES TO TEXAS

Chicago, July 18.—Eugene Oliver will leave for Wichita Falls, Tex., tonight in company with the people engaged by him in Chicago for his new stock company in the Texas city. Mr. Oliver said that Wichita Falls was a good show town when it had 4,000 population, and that it has improved in proportion, as the city has increased to almost 60,000 people.

VERNE LAYTON AT HOME

Seattle, July 19.—Verne Layton, stock star and film director, has arrived here from Denver, where he has been playing with the Wilkes organization the past season, for a short vacation with his parents. Mr. Layton was director of the Chief Seattle Film Company, this city, and was star at the old Seattle Theater when that house was the home of local stock organizations.

CHICAGO STOCK CLOSES

Chicago, July 19.—The stock company at the Wilson Avenue Theater closed last Sunday night. Harry Hollingsworth, Nan Crawford and Vincent Dunn have gone to New York.

PLAY HELD OVER

Toronto, Can., July 19.—Owing to the big success of Yes and No, as presented by the Robins Players last week at the Royal Alexandra, it was continued again this week. Tho it was the second week it nevertheless drew large houses. A Very Good Man will be the offering for next week.

GRACE HUFF

Accepts Vaudeville Engagement

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—With the close of the season of the Wilkes Theater tonight until August 31, when the new season opens, Grace Huff, leading woman with the company for the past two seasons, will begin a vaudeville tour next Monday. She has accepted the vaudeville engagement for the period which the Wilkes will be closed as a form of vacation, and if the variety tour proves as pleasing as she anticipates, she may continue in vaudeville for the coming season. Miss Huff has been the most popular leading woman the Wilkes organization has had during the four year run in this city.

STOCK AT TWO CHICAGO HOUSES

Chicago, July 20.—Ralph Ketterling and Sam Levin will, it is reported, open with stock the coming season in both the Wilson Avenue Theater and the Harper Theater on the South Side.

STOCK NOTES

Lillian Stuart has just closed a year's engagement with the Lyceum Players, Duluth, Minn., as second woman.

Earl Ross arrived in Chicago last week from Peoria, Ill., where he has played ten weeks with Jack Bossey's Stock Company, which has closed for the season.

IN REPERTOIRE

JESSE BLAIR

Given Ovation in Home Town

Plays Two Weeks' Engagement to Fine Business at Sherman, Texas—Show Now Carrying Thirty People

For the first time in the history of the organization Blair's Comedians played Mr. Blair's home town of Sherman, Tex., two weeks beginning June 16. Very seldom a show is accorded a reception like that given this popular company in Sherman. Mr. Blair had hundreds of friends in the city before he played the town. He has hundreds more now. The newspaper enclosures and personal letters of commendation received by Mr. Blair during those two weeks were enough to turn the head of most any man.

Nor were the attentions all bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Blair. Not a member of the company, but was a guest at a number of homes during the engagement, and attentions of all kinds were showered on the company. Needless to say the business was big.

Mr. Blair now proudly claims the best tent show in Texas. Several changes have recently been made in the personnel of the company, and we now have it just the way we want it. An acting company of fifteen people, and a five-piece orchestra, and each one of the twenty an artist in his or her special line. Then we have a ticket staff of five and a crew of five working men.

Rehearsals are getting pretty well over, tho we will put up a new bill occasionally, just to keep from getting rusty and lazy. Our big special feature Bill, The Auction Sale, continues to pack the big top at advanced prices.—A. C.

MADDOCKS-PARK

Dramatic Company Scoring Big in Virginia

The Maddocks-Park Dramatic Company, under the management of Sam J. Park, now touring Virginia, is meeting with exceptional success and making a reputation in new territory second to none. The company numbers fifteen people and a staff of eight working men. The big eighty by one hundred and fifty canvas theater built by the Beverly Company is a beauty, and taken as a whole the outfit is one of the best equipped tent theaters on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Maddocks, while not taking an active part with the company, are spending a vacation traveling along for a few weeks, making the weekly trips overland in their big six cylinder car, which is certainly a wonderful ride over the mountains of Virginia. Business continues good in spite of much rain, and the company will continue into Tennessee and Alabama until the cold weather sets in.

LESLIE E. KELL SHOW

Leslie E. Kell Show is still in the wilds of Missouri and getting our share of the business. It rains nearly every Monday night and we are growing accustomed to losing that night. Mr. Kell's parents are visitors on the show at present and Leslie is doing his best to show them a good time. They are joy riding most of the day and fishing and blackberry picking the rest of the time. July 9 was Mr. Kell's twenty-fifth birthday and he was the recipient of many presents from the company.

When the weather is very warm Fred Miller can be seen with his shirt off and Tom Benton lying in the shade and reading.—R. HARPER.

TO OPEN IN EARLY FALL

Jack H. Kohler Players are making preparations to open their regular season early this fall. The company will number twelve people and will play their old territory thru Missouri. J. Lawrence Nolan and Leda McGlasson will again be seen in the leads.

KIDD STOCK COMPANY

Loses Big Top in C, clone July 11

While the Kidd Stock company was playing Carbondale, Ill., week of July 7, the big-top was torn to ribbons by a cyclone, the storm occurring July 11 at 3:25 p.m. The company was unable to give a performance that night but the following day they played to capacity business. For that performance they took the side walls and airdomed the lot.

FOX SHOW NOTES

Arrived in Alto, Texas, O. K. from Larkin. Business has been very good with us in spite of the fact it has rained every night for the last three weeks.

There have been several changes in the cast the past few weeks. Leon Bostwick has opened his own show and we all wish him well and that he makes a barrel of money. He was replaced by our old friend and pest, Vern Douglas, who just recently finished his contract with Uncle Sam.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden have joined the Fox banner and are more than making good in their line of parts. Bud Naim is painting his car and it sure looks fine. Chas. Starr has a motorcycle and he is going so fast on it that you can almost see him.

It is rumored around that Vern Douglas is thinking of matrimony. The writer will keep his many friends posted on results thru this page.—SOUSA.

CLINT ROBBINS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 19.—Clint Robbins, manager of the Clint and Bessie Robbins repertoire show, was in Chicago this week from his summer home at Newaygo, Mich., looking for new plays for the coming season.

Frank Winninger's Comedy Company will open the season at Merrill, Wis., August 2.

WANTED FOR Charles and Gertrude HARRISON Theatre Company Good, Strong, Capable General Business Actor.

State age, size, height, experience and salary if you desire an answer. Also want String Bass and Tuba. Have a top-notch nine-piece Orchestra and a twelve-piece Band. Will add Cello and Viola, or Flute (as my Flute Player also plays Viola), who can double in Brass, preference Alto. Salary, $25.00. Pay your own. Season runs all the time. Two to four-week stands; no walking parades; use auto band wagon. Address CHAS. HARRISON, Owner Harrison Theatre Company, Abilene, Texas.

N. B.—We do not play the oil fields. Costs too much to hire.

CLINT AND BESSIE ROBBINS WANT

A young, clever Leading Man, must be tall and good looking; a young, clever Leading Woman, some second business; a Man for General Business, mostly Juveniles, some Heavies. Wardrobe MUST be up to the minute. Photos and references must accompany applications. ORCHESTRA—Want an organized Orchestra of four or five pieces, or Musicians, including Leader. Want a Singing Orchestra. Season of 40 weeks opens August 10; rehearsals the last of July. Open in Iowa; tour the Northwest.

CLINT A. ROBBINS, The Robbins' Nest, Newaygo, Michigan.

WANTED QUICK, for the Demorest Stock Co.

Wanted, for Shew Boat

Superior Sketch Team, man to do blackface; those playing piano given preference. Address WM. REYNOLDS, New Geneva, Fayette County, Pennsylvania.

WANTED, Vaudeville and Repertoire Shows

for week stands. Address J. G. HOWELL, Manager Franklin Opera House, Franklin, Ohio.

ANGELL'S NOTES

Angell's Comedians, under the management of Billie Angelo, encountered a storm in the early hours of July 11. It blew down sheds and several trees close to our lot, but our big-top rode thru like a battleship at sea.

C. B. Macklin and Maurice Hazen have installed a pop-corn and peanut roaster to their concession stand. A big improvement.

It was necessary to give four shows on the Fourth at Elliot, Ia., to accommodate the throng wanting to see Angell's Comedians, notwithstanding the free attractions.

Lew C. Eckles and wife and M. J. Landrum were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt of Elliot, Ia., July 6. A very pleasant day was spent bathing and boating.

Billie O. Angelo, our hustling manager, is seriously considering the purchase of a car. If he does, we predict that he will add another line to his spiel, namely, "Good Morning, Judge."—EMJAY.

CUTTER STOCK COMPANY

The Cutter Stock Company played Sherbrook, Can., week of July 7, to good business but were all glad to get back to the good old U. S. A. Met the Sparks Circus Sunday en route thru Canada. They report good business as the rule. Last week we showed at Colebrook, N. H., a summer resort.

Edmond Moses left last week to join the Chicago Stock Company at Altoona, Pa., for the summer. Mr. Cutter is still in New York City arranging for the coming season. Ed Wilson, agent, is located in New York with the McKinley Music Company. Mrs. M. A. Brewer, who was here visiting her husband, left to join one of the Klark Urban Shows.—JACK.

ED C. NUTT COMEDY PLAYERS

Business with this attraction is the best in the history of the show, everything being bustle from Monday morning until Saturday night, and it's the same old story everywhere, "capacity." And there is good reason for it, for the show is the largest and best ever carried by the management.

Ray Howell and Al Thurman recently joined after getting their releases from the army. H. H. Vandenburg, another old standby of this show, has again joined for tuba and string bass. F. E. Clayton is closing shortly; we wish him good luck. Our new outfit makes quite a flash

REPERTORY NOTES

Joseph D. Reed is with the Ella Morgan Stock Company in the capacity of stage director.

Harry Shannon Stock Company is playing thru the State of Ohio and is doing a very nice business.

The Wallace Bruce Players will open their season August 7, playing in houses for three-night stands. Rehearsals commence August 1. The Wright Bros. Tent Show has been doing a very good business this season and pleasing wherever it plays. The management has a fine repertoire of plays.

Business is good all along the line for Menke's New Sensation Show Boat, Nat Ford, who is producing the bills, is doing very good and making many friends.

Glen D. Brunk, who recently arrived in the three States, writes that he will have his No. 3 company out on the road in the near future. He needs his best wishes along to all his friends in the show game.

James J. Brennan, formerly of the Great Western Four and other big harmony acts, is now with the Heffner-Vinson Stock Company and has organized another jazz four. Brennan would be pleased to hear from friends in care The Billboard at all times.

The Wm. F. Lewis Stock Company, now in the twelfth week, reports excellent business. The company includes the following: Wm. F. Lewis, mgr.; E. O. Ferguson, advance; V. A. Varney, Walter Hankins, Rayford Wilbur, Oscar Howland, William Desmond, Jack Lowery, Iva Lewis, Lillian Hampton, Rilla McMillen and Estelle Lamolande.

The Chas. and Gertrude Harrison Theater Company is meeting with phenomenal business this season. The complete roster of the show is as follows: Chas. Harrison, sole owner and general director; J. D. Colgrove, business manager; C. I. Cary, advance agent; Gertrude Harrison, Estelle Jones, Adelaide Irving; Foseye Pope, Sadie Steelsmith, Bob Grandi, Eugene Phelps, Edgar Albietz, Johnny Sullivan, Glenn Harrison, Geo. Clarke and Carey Shell.

The DRAMATIC STAGE

WALTER HAST

Preparing for a Busy Season

An Exchange of Wives, by Cosmo Hamilton, Will Be First Production—Whiteside in a New Play

New York, July 19.—Walter Hast, the Chicago manager, who is at present in New York, is preparing for a busy season. An Exchange of Wives, Cosmo Hamilton's new play, will be one of his first productions, and for the cast he has engaged Lee Baker, Helen Bolton, Marlon Coakley and Forrest Winant. Early in the autumn Mr. Hast will bring his Scandal company from Chicago to New York, with Charles Cherry, Fancine Larrimore, Isabel O'Madigan, George Henry Trader, Carl Eckstrom, Mary Cecil and Wm. Davis in the cast. Another company will present the same play on tour for which Mr. Hast has already engaged Richard Dix, Betty Murran, Malcolm Fassett, Maud Milton and Darby Holmes.

In addition to the above Mr. Hast will present Walker Whiteside and Regine Wallace in a new play, as yet without a title and will produce four other plays, for which he has engaged Ramsey Wallace, Lucille Manlon, Mabel Bert, Stanley Harrison and Maurice Barrett.

BILLIE BURKE

To Return to Speaking Stage in Leading Role of Caesar's Wife

New York, July 20.—After an absence of two years, during which she devoted her time to motion picture work, Billie Burke is to make her return to the dramatic stage in September in the stellar role of Caesar's Wife, the comedy drama by Somerset Maugham, which is running at the Royalty Theater in London. Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., her husband, has made arrangements with Charles B. Dillingham, who controls the American rights to the play, for Miss Burke's appearance in the piece with her own company.

Mr. Maugham is at present in England, but will start soon for New York to direct rehearsals of the three-act comedy. This will be the third of his plays in which Miss Burke has appeared, the others being The Land of Promise and Mrs. Dot. Her last stage appearance was in a revival of A Marriage of Convenience at Henry Miller's Theater.

TO SUPPORT CHAUNCEY OLCOTT

New York, July 19.—A. L. Erlanger on Thursday engaged the first one to support Chauncey Olcott in the revival of Rita Johnson Young's Macushla in the person of Media Harrington. The tour will begin during September and take the company to the Coast.

JANE COWL'S PERMANENT CO.

New York, July 20.—If the tentative plans of Jane Cowl do not go awry, she will have at the beginning of the new season a company of players as a permanent organization to support her for several seasons to come.

Henry Stephenson, who has appeared with Miss Cowl in several plays, was engaged Thursday by Adolph Klauber for a term of years.

IDA ST. LEON BACK TO STAGE

New York, July 19.—Ida St. Leon, who gave up the dramatic stage two years since while playing in Upstairs and Down at the Cort Theater, is to return to the fold under the management of Oliver Morosco in the role of the bashful bride in Please Get Married, which will tour. She has been in California and is probably now on her way East to begin rehearsals.

EDNA GOODRICH TO STAR

New York, July 21.—Edna Goodrich is to make her return to the legitimate stage the coming season after an absence of several years. She will star in Sleeping Partners, taking the role played by Irene Bordoni. Oliver Hall has been engaged for the same company, which will open in Schenectady, September 2, and tour Eastern and Southern territory. During her absence from the speaking stage Miss Goodrich has been in vaudeville and motion pictures.

MOROSCO GETS OLIVE TELL

New York, July 19.—Olive Tell, of late in motion pictures, came under the management of Oliver Morosco this week when she signed a contract to play the leading feminine role in Thompson Buchanan's new comedy, Civilian Clothes, which is proving a big success at the Morosco Theater in Los Angeles. It finishes its fourth week there tonight, with every indication of running another month.

GOLDEN AGE OPENING DATE

New York, July 20.—July 28 has been selected as the opening date of The Golden Age by George Tyler. The play is an American comedy by Sidney Toler and Marlon Short, and will have Helen Hayes in the leading role, assisted by Donald Gallaher, Minna Gale Haynes, Claire Mesereau, Glenn Hunter, Viva Ogden, Paul Kelly, Vivian Tobin, Genevieve Tobin, Raymond Hackett, Marlon Abbott, Rosalie Mathieu and James Terbell.

the other a musical comedy, entitled Oh, What a Girl, hitherto known as Oh, Uncle, which will be offered at the Shubert. A Lonely Romeo, now at the Shubert, will be transferred to the Casino.

MISS MARBURY HONORED

Paris, July 19.—Elizabeth Marbury of New York has been decorated with the medal of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium in recognition of services she has rendered to Belgium since 1914.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

New York, July 20.—Joseph Hart is preparing to present in the near future a three-act comedy, entitled Boys Will Be Boys, founded on Irvin S. Cobb's story of the same name. Charles O'Brien Kennedy made the dramatization.

MACK'S PRINCE OF SWEDEN

Chicago, July 20.—J. Harvey Mack will soon go out with A Prince of Sweden Company. The play, which is a Swedish comedy-drama, will be taken by Mr. Mack up thru the Northwest.

DRAMATIC NOTES

Lillian Rhodes, of Chicago, has signed with May Robson's Tish Company for next season.

Ed Rowland will take out the Little Mother-To-Be Company within the next few weeks.

Nancy Fair has signed a five-year contract with A. H. Woods. Her first play under his management will be The Bashful Hero.

Ira Harde has been engaged to direct the rehearsals of Gyp for Short, which will be produced next month by the Gyp Producing Co.

Gustav Amberg has gone abroad commissioned to acquire plays for the Shuberts. This is his first trip abroad since the beginning of the war.

The play Sleepless Night has been renamed Tin Pajamas, and will be produced in Atlantic City this week by Al Morgan, well known as a company manager.

Rehearsals of Eugene Walter's latest play, The Challenge, in which Holbrook Blinn is to be starred, started last week. The play is to open at the Selwyn Theater, New York, Monday night, August 11. Included in the cast assembled in support of Mr. Blinn are Allan Dinehart, Ben Johnson and Lotus Hobbs.

Friendly Enemies closed a year's run at the Hudson Theater, New York, Saturday night, July 19. It is said that the show grossed on an average of $13,000 a week.

My Lady Friends, a new farce with music, will be opened Labor Day in Pittsburg by H. H. Frazier, and will probably go to New York in October. Clifton Crawford will be featured.

Dark Horses is in rehearsals again after being rewritten since tried out in the Spring at Washington. Mary Newcome Edison is a late addition to the cast.

Three Wise Fools has been successfully launched in London. The engagement of the New York production at the Criterion Theater has been extended to July 26.

Cyril Kelghtly will remain with A Little Journey, at the Vanderbilt Theater, New York, until Rachel Crothers produces her latest play, He and She, early in the fall.

In the cast of Those Who Walk in Darkness, a play by Owen Davis, which the Shuberts have placed in rehearsal, are Irene Fenwick, Mary Shaw, Arthur Shaw and William Harrigan.

Lewis Stone opened last week in The Great Lover at the Majestic Theater, Los Angeles, and will present it on the Coast as a starring vehicle. Byron Beasley and Barry Melton are among his support.

Walter Hast, the Chicago manager, was in New York last week, and among the artists he engaged was Lee Baker, Forrest Winant, Regine Wallace and Helen Bolton, all for the new play Cosmo Hamilton has written.

Bertha Kalleh, who finished her Chicago engagement in The Riddle Woman two weeks ago, is spending the remainder of the summer in Jefferson, N. H., working on her autobiography, The Making of an American Actress.

Wearing a French Croix de Guerre and two other decorations, Marlon M. Pullar, who appeared with Mrs. Fiske before enlisting in an American ambulance unit with the French army in March 1918, arrived in New York, July 14. She served as a canteen worker.

For two weeks, beginning Monday, July 21, DeWolf Hopper and Marla Abbe will take the places of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Coburn as Old Bill and Victoire in The Better 'Ole at the Booth Theater, New York. They have been playing the roles on tour.

Daniel Frohman has received a check from Odette Fryer, representing ten per cent of the gross receipts of a benefit entertainment given by her at the home of W. A. Clark, Jr., on the Coast, and in which several members of the Actors' Fund took part.

Flo Rockwood, better known as Flozari, who played a special engagement last week in Fires of Spring, Robert McLaughlin's new drama, which had its premiere at the Shubert-Colonial Theater in Cleveland, used to be with Otis Oliver's Stock Co., when a youngster.

A. H. Woods has signed Leon Gordon to support Florence Moore in Breakfast in Bed.

Tilly of Pileasilly, the American rights to which were purchased by A. H. Woods on his recent trip abroad, has proved a success at the Apollo Theater in London. It will be done in New York next season.

One of Walter Wagner's new plays the coming season is The Purple Slipper, a comedy of American life by Maria Thompson Davies. It goes into rehearsal this week for production in the early autumn. For October he has a drama of Parisian life called Irofane Love.

New York, July 19.—Mrs. Grace Filkins Marix, widow of Rear Admiral Marix, U. S. N., is in the city for a few days prior to her return to Gloucester, Mass., for the summer and states that she will return to the stage early in the fall. She retired from the footlights when she married the late Admiral.

GLORIA FONDA WITH FRAWLEY

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—Gloria Fonda, Seattle girl who won a motion picture prize a few years ago in a beauty contest, has given up film work and joined the Daniel T. Frawley Dramatic Company, which sailed from Frisco last month for a tour of the world. Rodney Hildebrand is another Seattle performer with the show.

FRANK BACON'S OPENING

Chicago, July 20.—Frank Bacon, who, with Winchell Smith, rewrote Mr. Bacon's Lightnin', will open the season in Cohan's Grand Opera House about September 1.

ROSE TAKES VACATION

Chicago, July 20.—Edward E. Rose, the Chicago dramatist, is spending the summer at Pineview-on-the-Wolf, near Fremont, Wis.

TWO PREMIERES JULY 28

New York, July 21.—Two premieres are scheduled for Monday night, July 28, one a melodrama called A Voice in the Dark, which will be presented at the Republic Theater, and

NORMAN HACKETT RESTING

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—Norman Hackett, star in the Tea for Three road show, and former star of the Wilkes' Players here, is spending a six weeks' vacation in Seattle with friends. He will rejoin the company in California.

BURR MCINTOSH RETURNS

New York, July 19.—Burr McIntosh arrived here yesterday aboard the Augusta Victoria after serving eight months in France under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

DANCING SCHOOL IN SEATTLE

Seattle, July 19.—Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Bouley, well-known American and European terpsichorean instructors, have opened a summer school of dancing here in the Arcade Building, with a goodly size class of pupils, both old and young. The establishment of the Seattle school has been under consideration for some time, but its actual opening delayed from time to time on account of the war.

Taking advantage of the vacation season in other schools, a course for public school teachers has been arranged so as to enable them to receive training here instead of going East for this instruction. The folk dances of the Chalet school will be taught here, and regular diplomas awarded those who complete the course. Other courses include children's fancy and professional dancing, French, Italian and Russian Imperial toe, ballet, classic Greek dancing, interpretive dances—Egyptian, Scotch, Spanish, Oriental and grotesque. Ballroom dancing will also be taught.

Address,
NO. 366 FIFTH AVE., NEW YORK.

Interest in the new educational activities of the Stage Women's War Relief is growing fast. There is keen and widespread hope that it will embrace adult schooling by correspondence and advisory reading courses. There is a great need of such help. Nothing would do more to help uplift the profession as a whole.

The soldiers' welfare department under the management of Fanny Cannon holds a busy session every Monday afternoon. Any man of the theater returned from overseas service who finds it difficult to get a position or who needs financial assistance to tide him over the rehearsal period may come to her. Almost without exception she has been able to steer them into the proper channels and bridged the wide chasm the war has made.

The entertainment committee of the Stage Women's War Relief under the chairmanship of Mrs. Eula S. Garrison, sent a very interesting program to the U. S. S. Columbia, now lying in the North River, from the entertainment of the sailors.

The entertainment was held on the deck and the moonlight added charm to the girls' pretty faces and graceful movements. Rear Admiral H. P. Hase and Capt. H. L. Brinser honored the players with their presence. The cast included Sylvia Bowhan of the Gloriana Co., Adele Neff, Pearl Haight, Pasquill and Golden, the musical bit of the Keith circuit, and the war trio, Carl Hatley, William Foster and Larry Leady—all of whom have been with Uncle Sam as sailor, soldier and marine. Miss Mariel Pollock was the accompanist. The evening seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by both the entertainers and the entertained. Chaplain Richard J. Davis was in charge. Mrs. Garrison is arranging another program to be sent to the U. S. S. Arizona, lying in dry dock in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The most urgent call has been sent from Serbia for surgical dressings and clothes. Clothes for everyone, but particularly for children. All during these frightful years we have not been able to give relief to Serbia, and now that it is possible to reach her, she is in a state of misery and numbness pitiful to behold. 500,000 little tots are holding out their emaciated little arms for food and something to protect them from the cold, either clothes or shelter. They cannot imagine having both. Every Tuesday evening at the Twelfth Night Club, members of the S. W. W. U. under the management of Bijon Fernandes finishes enough surgical dressings to fill a case. At the workroom, 366 Fifth Avenue, Marie DeBecker cuts 200 yards of flannel a week for nightgowns for babies besides all the other articles of clothing, that are made. However, that is a very small amount compared to the vast numbers who are uncared for. So once more we are calling for donations. The tops of silk stockings can be turned into the dearest little caps and a man's shirt that is worn at the collar making it unfit for use has still plenty of material in the tail to make a dress for a diminutive young lady or a pair of trousers for a small young gentleman. The emulative has been signed but the havoc wrought before that time is still with us.

but special concerts are given each night. We are in the fruit belt now. The largest crops in years are being marketed, and everybody has money and anxious to spend it.

U. W. Compton has joined as extra advance man, and is doing good work ahead, while John Garver still attends to all the contracting. Some dash when they get thru with a town. Roster of the company now is: Ed C. Nutt, Roland Sedgwick, Ted F. Chase, James Palmer, F. E. Clayton, Harve Holland, Ray Howell, Al Thornburn, John S. Garver, Charles P. Gulf, E. E. Mason, It. A. Burns, A. C. Swango, Houston Spangler, H. H. VanDenburg, Thomas Dean, C. W. Compton, Ralph Tate, Marlon E. Bell, S. E. McLean, Chas. M. Clark, Felix Smith, Roy E. Coleman, Edw. Hayner, James Beauteaux, Nona Nutt, Merab Hinchcliffe, Dorothy Palmer, "Dot" Chase, Euna Vyse, Nola Burns, Mrs. E. E. Mason, Maxine Holland and then the kids (some bunch), Farrell Palmer, Harve Holland, Jr.; Floyd Burns, Joe and Bill Mason—and not a dog on the show. E. V. Dennis and Josephine Costa are joining next week for parts and specialties. We have ten Elks on here and some great times are had among the local lodges when this bunch gets in town.—KERNAL.

GEORGE C. ROBERSON SHOW

The George C. Roberson Show played to over five thousand paid admissions at El Paso, Ill., week of July 7. This was the first visit of the show to El Paso; however, they will visit it every season after this. Helen K. May and Griff Barnett joined last week replacing P. J. Butler and Louise Carter. The company will start playing return dates August 1st.

MORRIS STOCK COMPANY

En Route With Golden Eagle Carnival

The Morris Stock Company, under the stage direction of Bankson and Morris is now en route with the Golden Eagle Shows appearing as one of the feature attractions. The company is presenting a line of up-to-date royalty plays, featuring Her Unborn Child.

The roster of the company includes Sydney Morris, juvenile leads; Ray Bankson, heavy leads; Frank L. Brown, heavies and general business; J. L. Nichols, general business; Harley Canard, props; Olga Woods, leads; Edna B. Roberts, second business; Marge Richards, characters; Verle Mayfield, specialties and the Von Tello Sisters, lady orchestra.

JORDAN DRAMATIC CO. NOTES

Albany, Tex., welcomed us with open arms the first week in July. Fine weather gave us a gross business that would satisfy the Standard Oil Co. Can you imagine jamming them in at 75 cents, and having them smile? In the old days a fellow could take his sweetheart to the tented theater, get a bottle of soda pop and ice cream or beef stew afterward, and still have some change out of a dollar. But now? Wow! The world has indeed revolved a few times since the writer came home from France. But all credit is due to Manager Whitey Holtman, whose knowledge of human nature runs the late Mr. Barnum's reputation a close second.—TOM McELLIANEY.

HILA MORGAN STOCK CO.

Business this season with the Hila Morgan Stock Company is wonderful. The company is playing thru Iowa and the management is "wearing the smile that won't come off." This is the company's fifth season in this territory and it is just like meeting home folks, anywhere along the route. The company numbers twenty-five people and the outfit is one of the best on the road.

Miss Hila Morgan is a big favorite with the theater-goers and is making a host of new friends each year. The six-piece jazz band under the leadership of Henry Benz is one of the many features with the show. The stage is under the direction of Joseph D. Reed. Nothing but royalty bills are used.

PRICE'S SHOW BOAT

Price's New Columbia Show Boat is doing big business and are reported all along the line as having one of the best shows on the river. The Columbia Players, under the personal direction of Irvine E. Mayberry, are presenting A CHILD OF THE HILLS. Meta Walsh, our leading lady, is scoring big as the little mountain wail. Mabel Weston is successfully handling the difficult role of Zella, while Clarence Weston is convincing as Jack Hamilton. Ralph LaRue as Nat, the young mountaineer, is worthy of the praise he receives, while Irvine E. Mayberry and J. T. Doyle are sharing honors in the two comedy roles and little Moss Mayberry never fails to receive his share of appreciation.

The orchestra under the direction of Harry Sutton always makes them sit up and take notice. Manager S. E. Price and other members of the show attended the Elks' banquet given on the beautiful steamer Virginia recently. All had a fine time.—I. E. M.

THIRTY-FIVE PEOPLE

Carried by Guy E. Long's Comedians

Guy E. Long's Comedians are doing fairly well thru Illinois and everybody is happy and contented. We are carrying splendid musical talent. The band numbers twelve under Lane Shankland's direction and an orchestra of ten.

The following people are with Guy E. Long's Comedians: Norman V. Gray, director; Lane Shankland, leads; W. S. Hurley, heavies; Billie "Hed" Roy, comedy; James Walker, characters; Lou Stricker, general business; George Curtis, character comedy; Flossie Stricker, leads; Uldene Moran, ingenue; Ruth Curtis, general business; Bertha Natino, characters and heavies; Benoin Stone, characters; Guy E. Long, owner and manager; Clarence E. Long, stage manager; Wrinkle, carpenter; Moopeas Pritchard, props; and Frank Ashby, boss canvasman.

The specialties are taken care of by Tom Willis, the little man with the big voice, Curtis and Curtis, singing, talking and dancing act, and Rey and Stone, fanologists and harmony singing.

SHERMAN KELLY AT FAIRS

Chicago, July 19.—Sherman Kelly is in Chicago hiring people for the coming season. He will play repertoire at fair dates, after which he will open in stock at Superior, Wis.

DON GREY STOCK COMPANY

The Don Grey Stock Company is proving to be one of the most successful on the Pacific Coast. The show is being greeted by capacity houses at practically every performance.

The personnel of the company includes: Don Grey, leading man; Mrs. Don Grey, characters; Hope Wallace, leading lady; La Tyrell, juveniles; Tom Sullivan, heavies; Fred Sullivan, heavies and characters; Raymond Bell, comedy and Katherine Graham, ingenue.

Some of the plays included in the repertoire are: Our Wives, Kindling, The Private Secretary, All of a Sudden Peggy, The Great Desire and Polly With a Past.

PRAISE FOR PRICE & BUTLER

The management of the Price & Butler Co. is exceedingly proud, and deservedly so, of the following letter received from the editor of The Middleton (Mich.) Record, following its recent engagement in Middleton:

Middleton, Mich., July 12, '19.

The Price & Butler Co. Players—Gentlemen: My defective hearing prevents me personally enjoying anything in the nature of a play, even attendance at church being more a sense of loyalty than actual benefit from the preacher's admonitions, etc.

However, both in my home and business, I have been in constant touch with your nightly performance. I want to go on record, that, of the many traveling companies I have seen in your profession, it is many years since I met one that has merited such all-round commendations, both for personal and clean repertoire as well as execution, as yours.

You are doing an uplift work of its kind, in admirable emulation of the new idea of after the war reconstruction.

Sincerely I am,
J. W. BETTS,
Editor, The Record.

CAPT. BURROWS

Will Return to Stage Shortly

Capt. J. Warren Burrows, well-known stock actor who has been in the service the past two years, is now located at Ayer, Mass., and expects to be discharged soon.

Capt. Burrows and Mrs. Burrows (Leona Leslie), will return to the stage the coming season and have already received a number of offers for their services, both being well remembered as capable and versatile artists.

Clyde E. Davis will take the Davis Stock Company to Western Kansas and Colorado, opening about July 25.

Atlantic City, July 17.—It was not many minutes after the curtain had gone up Monday night at the Apollo Theater on Mark Swan's latest comedy, A Regular Feller, before the audience was roaring with laughter at the rapid-fire humorous actions of Ernest Glendinning and his associates, each of whom was particularly good in his special role. Nor was it all comedy, for thru it there ran a thread of romance and love, without which no play, however amusing, is complete.

The story reminds one somewhat of the old play, Checkers, and then again the mind reverts to the theme in the play, Turn to the Right.

Charlie Winter is a genius, who has invented a puncture-proof tire, but he is one of the dreamy sort, who, as his garage mechanic, "Butch" Hawkins, so aptly puts it, "could make Edison sit up, but needs a road-map to get to bed with." He and his sister Bessie are dragging out a meagre existence in a little onehorse village, he as proprietor of the garage and Bessie as his bookkeeper, where no one stops except for an occasional purchase of gasoline. The life of the place is "Butch" Hawkins, his assistant. While they are tinkering with an old "mud-hen" of an antiquated car that had been left with them because it was not worth the storage charge on it, Dan Brackett breezes in. He is a "Regular Feller," who would rather fuss over any kind of an automobile than take an interest in his father's huge business affairs, much to the disgust of old Joseph Brackett, who becomes angry and tells him that he can look out for himself hereafter, and make his own living, as he washes his hands of him. Dan coaxes the old automobile into running and succeeds in selling it to Cyrus Pond, the county road commissioner, who had heretofore been averse to automobiles but soon becomes a regular auto fan. Next appears a handsome touring car, containing Milton Cross, president of the Cross Tire Co., and his daughter, his sister, his secretary and their liveried chauffeur. They are bothered with a punctured tire and need gasoline. Charlie Winter discovers in the daughter, Jocelyn, his old sweetheart, from whom he had resolved to stay away until he had made good in business. Dan Brackett sees his opportunity to interest Mr. Cross in the wonderful puncture-proof tire and get it on the market under the auspices of the Cross Tire Company. Every excuse and device is exercised to keep the party in the village until Dan has succeeded in his scheme, and the amusing situations incident thereto remind one very much of It Pays to Advertise. Mr. Cross, feeling an attack of indisposition, hands a power of attorney to his secretary, with instructions to attend an important meeting the following day in New York, and vote the stock for the re-election of Mr. Cross as president of the Cross Tire Company, but the secretary opens negotiations with the elder Brackett, Mr. Cross' business rival and competitor, and agrees to elect himself president and run the business in such a way as will inure to the benefit of Brackett's company.

How the conspiracy is discovered by Bessie Winter, and folled by Dan Brackett, with the ensuing interesting developments, is a succession of thrills and mirth-producing situations that can better be seen than described; but is a wholesome, amusing and thoroughly entertaining comedy, written in broad style, with many snappy lines couched frequently in automobile language that appeals to the largely increasing number of those interested in automobiles.

The cast was excellent. Ernest Glendinning, with his snappy, quick humorous actions; Dudley Clements, the fat, funny and faithful mechanic "Butch" Hawkins; James Bradbury, as Cyrus Pond, the shrewd county road commissioner; were equally good in their important roles; while the other members of the cast did such splendid work in their respective parts that to make special mention of any one of them would be obviously unfair to the others.

The play was staged by Frank MacCormack, and was produced under the personal direction of Mr. Cook. It has all the earmarks of success.—E. EDMUNDS FOSTER.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT, LOQUITUR

Delightful Reminiscences With a Happy Biographic Touch—Folly and Injustice of Laws Interfering With Stage Children—Valuable Comments on Audiences, Their Tastes and Composition

Saratoga Springs, July 19.—Mr. Chauncey Olcott, when seen by an editor of The Billboard in the beautiful gardens of his Saratoga home, "Inscarra," one of the show places of the city, spoke optimistically concerning the season at hand. "Everyone," said Mr. Olcott, "is looking forward to the biggest theatrical season that was ever known."

"Sir Thomas Lipton at a dinner a few weeks ago in New York," continued Mr. Olcott, "told me he thought he would go back to England and build theaters, for all one has to do is to put an electric sign in front of it and when the theater is filled, shut the door."

About his plans for the coming season Mr. Olcott said: "Macushla (an endearment, meaning 'My Darling' or 'Pulse of My Heart') has been selected for my next play. It is a revival, I produced it about ten years ago and it was a great success. I have been doing modern plays for the past three years," he said, "and Mr. Erlanger, my present manager, felt that my audiences like me best in romance and costume plays laid in Ireland, with the Irish songs. We open in Saratoga on September 22."

When asked if he considered the work in his charming roles as strenuous as some of the strong emotional roles of the legitimate stage, the famous actor replied: "I work as hard as anyone of the stage today. I sing from six to eight songs thruout the performance, and to be in good voice means eating breakfast at 10 or 11, dinner at 4:30, and go until midnight for my supper, and taken for months at a stretch, year in and year out, I confess things do get a bit strenuous. But I love the stage and wouldn't miss a night of it for anything, and I believe that every actor on the stage, if he'd tell the truth, loves that adulation and applause of his public. It's food for him. If the actor did not go on the stage for the love of it he could not make a success."

"My first engagement was with Haverly's Minstrels. I received $30 a month and board, and I love the stage just as much today as I did then, and I believe every other actor feels the same way, because there are hundreds who could make more money in business or in some enterprise which their fathers developed, but they prefer to go on the stage."

Questioned why so few actors achieve real success, Mr. Olcott replied: "That is a certain something lacking in actors who seem to be worthy of success and do not acquire it. That something is personality, a gift so subtle yet pronounced that, should a man appear in black-face and full beard and do a part, his magnetic personality, or that harmonious attraction between the audience and himself, would still come thru all the props and get to the people, and their smile is their acknowledgment."

Speaking of the talented children in his plays, he said: "I had Mary Pickford and her sister, Lottie, and brother, Jack, in my company at the same time. Mrs. Pickford traveled with them. Mary had a charming personality, everyone would come back and want to see this little girl with the curls. Blanche Sweet was also with my company for two years. Little Marie Vernon, who made such a decided hit as Comfort in A Prince There Was, is another."

These little tots exhibited personality even at their tender ages. Do you recall that smile of Marie Vernon in A Prince There Was? From that moment she had her audience. The same with John Barrymore in his entrance scene of The Jest. With his wonderful head, face and eyes, his personality strikes the audience instantaneously. The eye of the audience is the first consideration. If the eye is pleased half the battle is won before the actor proceeds with business at all.

"I have always divided my own work into three parts: First, appearance; second, acting, third, singing."

Referring to the stage children, Mr. Olcott spoke of the annoyance of the laws in some parts of New York State, where an intruding inspector asks the children's ages and attempts to prevent their work. In Massachusetts the children of any age can't go on at all, while in Illinois, with influence, he said, one can sometimes get by. "Eddie Foy, with his own children, has been caused much unnecessary trouble,

"When one thinks of the poor young children on the street corners of New York and other cities, wet, cold and hungry, selling papers at all hours of the night and day, and who meet with no objections on the part of the authorities whatsoever, it does seem incongruous that they should deny a child the training which like in some of the instances mentioned above, has made for them a brilliant future, materially and artistically, unequalled possibly by any single individual in the world of art, or business, for that matter."

Referring again to his road experience, he said that he kept a record of conditions in every town he makes and adds to it on each return visit. For instance under the name of a certain city he lists as follows:

"Great for comedy."

"Not so strong for singing."

"Liked the play very much," or not over-enthusiastic," etc.

of the greatest achievements of the American Expeditionary Force has to boast of besides its achievement of arms.

The task of organizing the army entertainment forces was unique. Nothing like it has ever been attempted by any army. During the war entertainment work had been handled almost altogether by the Y.M.C.A., with the cooperation and support of the army. After the signing of the armistice, when the S. O. S. embraced nearly all of France and contained nearly all of the American troops excepting the Divisions moving into Germany, the need of a much greater amusement organization was seen. And with the hearty support of the Y.M.C.A. and other welfare organizations the army established a bureau to promote, organize and conduct a great, new entertainment program. This bureau was located at S.O.S. headquarters in Tours, and it was placed in charge of Lt. Col. R. B. Gamble, U. S. Infantry.

The way the army has handled its big job mans, of Denver, Colo., playwright and magazine writer. These men have been assisted by a staff of musical writers and directors, scenic men, costumers and coaches.

To the Play Factory were sent soldiers who had stage experience and soldiers who possessed musical or dramatic talent. The qualifications of these men were noted by the Play Factory staff and they were given parts in theatrical productions fitted to their individual abilities.

Like a Mecca to which the pilgrims flock the Play Factory was a magnet that attracted the player-men of the army. At all times scores of soldier-stage aspirants were housed in the players' barracks, near the Play Factory, waiting for places in army productions.

As plays were written and cast by the workers of the Play Factory the performers were chosen from the men present and drilled and rehearsed in their roles while costumes and scenes were being made ready. After the productions had been fashioned to the satisfaction of the directors of the Entertainment Bureau they were sent out on the long theater circuit that covered the entire A.E.F.

And let it not be thought that these shows were crude, amateurish productions. In settings, costumes and personnel they rivaled some of the biggest shows on the professional stage of America. Out of the ranks of the army came many stars who in civil life were footlight favorites. These men gave their best to make the army entertainment program a success.

In the feminine roles of the army plays—comedies and dramas—were many professional actresses who volunteered their services for overseas work. In addition to these there were many excellent female impersonators who became bewitching girls under the tuition of the army play directors and coaches. Frequent shaving, skillful make-up, and pretty gowns, made fascinatingly beautiful principals of many husky soldiers.

A booking office was opened at the Entertainment Bureau in Tours and placed in charge of men who had theatrical booking office experience before entering the army. A system of booking was introduced that provided constant entertainment for all units in the S.O.S., and that made possible the exchange of shows between the S.O.S. and the Third Army in Germany. In spite of the difficulties of transportation in many parts of France, the thorough system of routing devised by the booking men enabled the entertainment forces to reach into every corner of the A.E.F. with an unceasing barrage of fun and laughter that effectually prevented the demons of gloom from ever gaining entry to an American camp.

THE WORKMEN'S THEATER

An interesting experiment is about to be made by six of New York City's strongest labor unions, who propose, thru the newly organized Workmen's Theater, to "bring art close to the masses," as they express it in an announcement of their project.

Thru a representative committee of twelve they intend the production of one plays before a combined membership of 200,000 working men and women. Furthermore, to assure themselves complete independence from uplifter, dilettant or philanthropist, the unions will finance the theater exclusively from their own treasuries.

Richard Ordynski, stage director of the Metropolitan Opera House; B. Iden Payne, art manager of Frohman's theaters, and Emanuel Reicher, distinguished for a memorable performance of The Weavers several seasons back, are to control the artistic destinies of the undertaking.

Each of these gentlemen will in turn produce a play, the plays to be selected by them in conference with the workers themselves. The choice for the opening performance is still undetermined, but lies apparently between Andreyev's To the Stars, Ibsen's Brand and Galsworthy's Strife. As the future audiences of workmen have expressed a curious predilection for high-brow drama, the works of all the famous moderns—Brieux, Hauptmann, Shaw and the rest—are being reviewed carefully for the purpose of a continuous repertoire.

In its seating arrangement the Workmen's Theater will spring a distinct innovation upon the playgoing public. For $1 each member of the supporting unions may purchase a ticket to three performances—"outsiders" will pay $1.50. A day or so before the play the workers and all others will assemble to draw from

The Problem of Re-Employing Returning Soldiers

By MAJOR WARREN BIGELOW, U. S. A., Director Re-Employment Bureau of New York City for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.
505 Pearl Street, New York City.

When it appeared that the employment situation was drawing critical the Secretary of War called Col. Arthur Woods to be a special assistant and to handle the problem of placing the returning soldier, sailor and marine back in civil life.

Colonel Woods grouped about himself a number of officers, and he has sent them thruout the country in an effort to harmonize and coordinate the work of all agencies engaged on this problem.

He sent the writer to New York and placed him as Director of this Bureau. Our problems have been many and diversified. In general 60 per cent of the men who are discharged go back to their former jobs or take up their former profession. Of the other 40 per cent a great many have no job to go to and still another large number would not go back to their old job if they could. They want something better and something different.

The problem is not so much what might be called unemployment as it is adjustment of the men to the places. But, in order to make that adjustment and fit a man into the place where he will be competent to do the work and happy in doing it, we must have thousands of jobs sent into the bureaus handling soldiers, sailors and marines, and it is every employer's duty at this time not merely to take back his old employees, but to use every possible effort to make places for these returned men.

The sovereign power of the nation took them out of their employment and sent them to the defense of the country. Every individual member of that sovereignty owes it as a prime duty to see that these men have employment when they return. Do not think I mean the other man. I mean you, the man who is reading this article. In whatever town you are send a job to the Employment Bureau for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines. Make a place, take a man on and teach him your business, and you will find that his fighting blood will soon begin to earn money for you.

Also he notes the acoustics of the house. In Helena, for instance, he said: "About 10:30 the baggage man, who handles scenery, comes yelling for baggage up the theater alley, and if I am in a pretty scene or singing a song it kills it dead, so I always refer to my book when I arrive in Helena and arrange at once for some one to look out for the truckman."

"For twenty-five years in succession I have played the Christmas and New Year's week at the Walnut Street Theater in Philadelphia. Audiences do not vary much in their tastes in the same localities."—MARIE LENNARDS.

THE PLAY FACTORY OF THE A. E. F.

The building and operation of a vast amusement enterprise—a project that was conceived and put into execution almost overnight, and that since Armistice Day has furnished a wealth of entertainment to the great host of American soldiers in the cities, towns, and even in the isolated hamlets of France, is one of entertainment—a job as big as any ever undertaken by any privately owned amusement enterprise—has been thorough. Men of theatrical experience and those with theatrical talent have been trained, costumed and equipped, and shows have been written and produced with speed and efficiency that would amaze veteran producers.

At S.O.S. headquarters at Tours was located a novel organization that has been the keystone of the whole army entertainment structure. It was the Play Factory.

Quartered in one room in a little stone building in the historic old Rannes Barracks it soon outgrew its home and, as the entertainment forces of the army increased in numbers the Play Factory increased in size until it possessed three big rehearsal rooms, as many stages, a large and completely equipped costuming and equipping department, and a staff of writers, coaches and producers. The Play Factory has been directed by Maurice Stewart of the Y.M.C.A., a noted actor and theatrical producer from California, and Sgt. "Ted" Sy-

PRESS-ADVANCE AGENTS

Lester W. Alder is the new manager of the Ideal Pictures Corporation's New York Exchange.

Glenn Condon, a well known newspaper man, has been appointed manager of the Majestic Theater, Tulsa, Ok.

Whitby Surajine, late of the Walter L. Main Show, has joined the advance of the California Exposition Shows.

Ed R. Salter is sure getting the press notices for the Johnny J. Jones Exposition, and front page stories, too.

Frank C. Beattie has been appointed director of advertising and publicity of the Creation Films, Inc., Cliffside, N. J.

Patrick Heavey, formerly treasurer of the Grand Terre Haute, Ind., will be in advance of St. Stebbins Co., season 1919-20.

Frank Prescott has been engaged to go ahead of the Wm. H. Kibble U. T. C. Company. This makes his second season with that organization.

Ed. Shaw has succeeded Col. Joe Becker as agent for the Alabama Minstrels. Becker resigned to put out a show of his own from Kansas City.

Billy Eaton, press agent of the John Robinson Circus, writes: "Weather is great and business greater, so there is absolutely nothing to complain about."

Jack L. Winn still calls Los Angeles home and finds time occasionally to take a trip to Catalina Island, where flying fish—and other attractions—abound.

George Alabama Florida has been promoted to general booking manager for Max Spiegel's Productions. His new duties start July 21. "Alabama" says so more carnivals for him.

Frank Cooper, widely known thruout the circus world, has been engaged to handle the advance of The Gump Show, which is being put out in its newest form by Morton, Bunnell & Klumpt of Chicago.

W. H. Bedwards is back at his old post as business manager of the Al G. Field Minstrels, and has as his able assistant Charles F. Higgins, of Columbus, O., Local No. 55, filling the position of second man.

Edward C. Thomas, for the past two years West Coast manager of the Exhibitors' Trade Review, has given up that position to become publicity director at the new Henry Lehrman studios in Culver City, Cal.

Postal Card Ben Kraus, second agent with The Bird of Paradise for the past five seasons, has returned from overseas after a year with the U. S. Army, and can be seen with the U Know Me and the Howdy to all the boys on Broadway. Will again be with one of the big attractions and will be glad to see all the boys.

If the natives of Fargo, N. D., and vicinity didn't know the Worham Greatest Shows played the North Dakota State Fair it was simply a case of their not reading the dailies, for "Punch" Wheeler "planted" many a line.

Walter Knight has been placed in charge of the publicity department of the Dowell Producing Corporation, the new producing firm

HOW TO MAKE ACTING PAY

IN VAUDEVILLE, LEGITIMATE PICTURES AND LYCEUM WORK

The real truth about the stage and how to break in; how to keep working and how to get the big salaries. This is not a treatise on acting but over eight thousand words about the business side of the acting profession. Thousands of beginners don't know how to make a start. Hundreds of professionals struggle along on poor salaries and poor engagements when if they would put to use the knowledge contained in my instructions they would be enormously successful.

in New York, located in the Straud Theater Building. He is at present devoting his efforts principally to On The Rocks, a new play by James Faller, which will have an early season production.

Lon H. Ramsdell, last season ahead of De Wolf Hopper and Jamea K. Hackett in The Better 'Ole, is at home resting after a trip to the coast. Ramsdell's home, 11 Seaside Terrace, Lynn, Mass., faces the rolling breakers of the Atlantic, and his main wearing apparel is a bathing suit. Ramsdell has been offered a position to handle the publicity for the big outdoor park at Bridgeport for the summer months.

Harry W. Rice, ahead of the Klump-Leekins Mighty Shows—sounds like a car-nival, but 'tain't; it's an opey—is still in the wilds of Michigan, and once in a while runs into a street car, but not head-on. He ran into Kalamazoo July 11, and says "sort a felt good to get into a city with street cars and everything, made me feel like I was human again. Have been out in these small towns for so long that I hardly knew how a street car run or looked." Business, he reports, has been very good up that way so far, and no one has any klick coming. "But we don't put out the S. R. O. sign every night," he continues, "like I see some of the other tent brethren claim they are doing. We can seat 1,400, tho, so that might be the reason or perhaps what they are saying is 99 percent h. d."

The International Editorial Association, formed at a recent convention in Chicago, by the consolidation of several editorial organizations, has just purchased the Jeter Institute property, Bedford, Va., consisting of a three-floor brick building and several additions, in all containing 100 rooms, and seven adjacent acres of land. This property is already occupied by the association as its headquarters and more than $20,000 will be expended on the buildings in repairs. Newspaper men, incapacitated for further work, will be admitted to the home, if sent by local clubs or branches or the organization. The International Editorial Association is the only beneficial and fraternal organization of newspaper men in existence and admits to its membership press agents of theatrical or other enterprises. Any inquiries concerning membership should be addressed to the International Editorial Association, Bedford, Va.

an urn whatever seats they are to occupy. Thus stern chance alone will determine whether a man shall sit in a stage box or in that row which crawls ambitiously to the ceiling. In time the workers hope to build a special playhouse of their own, sans box, sans second balcony, but meanwhile one of the large houses of the city will be rented.

The Workmen's Theater is but one of several projects advanced by the unions thru their enterprising committee of twelve. The announced purpose of this body, whose fuller title is the United Labor Education Committee, is "to promote a greater mutual understanding between labor, science and art."

CORT COMBS THE TALL GRASS

"John Cort was the first producer to desert Broadway and comb the tall grass country for talent," said Errett Bigelow, of the Bigelow Dramatic agency, in an interview with a Billboard representative.

"Sometimes," resumed Mr. Bigelow, "it seems to me that Cort is still the only manager who has fully awoke to the wealth of talent in the West. One morning five years ago I was going into the city hall in Chicago. I saw a number of chauffeurs grouped around another chauffeur who was dancing on the sidewalk. When the dancer saw me watching him he stopped and ask, 'cab, sir?' I said no and asked him how he would like to dance professionally. He was eager to try it and I got him on Askin's Girl at the Gate Show, in the chorus. Anyway, that dancing chauffeur is Donald Kerr, of Kerr and Weston, and he is pulling down $1,000 a week now. He appeared at the Majestic Theater with Annette Kellerman three weeks ago and has been with Arthur Clamage, I. M. Weingarten, at Rector's in New York and with Cohen's Revue on his upward climb."

Commenting on talent that had been unearthed by John Cort, Mr. Bigelow added: "I worked my head off, almost, some time ago to place a promising young fellow at $35 to $50 a week but he got $750 a week this season in Fiddlers' Three. He is Hal Skelly and made his success thru Cort. I had quite a time getting Howard Langford on with William B. Friedlander at $50 a week, but Cort is now paying him $750 a week. After a lot of persuasion I got Doc Bell placed with the Golfing Girls at $40 a week and he was pleased. Cort now pays him $250 a week and is pleased, too. Bing Cushman offered to sign with me for three years at $75 a week and is now pulling down $250 a week with Luten Lester."

Mr. Bigelow remarked that several of his promising youngsters had done well outside of Mr. Cort's organizations.

"I picked Pearl Hamilton out of a chorus where she was doing such fine work for $25 a week that I believed she had bigger stuff. She is now drawing $75 a week with Irons and Clamage. One year ago I saw Olive Walker in chorus at Electric Park, Kansas City. I was amazed that some other manager or agent hadn't got her before me. I got her on in Berg's Hell for a Night Company. She is already in a title role, doing a dance act at $250 a week."

TRADES TO PLAY BIG PART

In Actors' National Memorial Day Drive

New York, July 19.—Plans are being completed for prosecuting the Actors' National Memorial Fund drive in every market of trade thruout New York City.

Letters are pouring into national headquarters from leaders in the various markets endorsing the movement and volunteering to serve on committees for carrying on the work. The present plan contemplates assigning a trade to a theater and in this manner those attending the different performances which will take place December 5 in every house thruout the United States will be in an audience where they are largely known to one another.

The national aspect of the campaign is also very encouraging in that reports coming into headquarters show that the work of organization is moving forward in great strides and rapidly approaching completion. Every phase of the situation is assuming an outlook that presages greater success than was at first thought possible. The present plan calls for the disposition of the tickets fully a month in advance of the date of the nationwide testimonial.

Committees have been formed in several trade centers and chairmen are being appointed. Those who have up to the present accepted invitations to serve on trade committees are: Samuel W. Fairchild, Clubs; M. L. Morgenthau, Candy Trades; F. W. Wilkinson, Fish Markets; Louis J. Robertson, Hide and Leather; J. C. Good, Meats Products; Arthur Lehman, New York Cotton Exchange; Benjamin Fox, Brokers; John R. Wildman, Accountants; Alfred Marling, Real Estate; John Slater, Shoe Industry; J. A. Chipperfield, Laundry Trades; E. F. Albee, Theatrical and Motion Picture Interests; Sidney Blumenthal, Upholstery and Lace Curtains.

To complete the tentative program that has been mapped out for carrying on activities among the various trades a series of luncheons has been arranged, which will be held at the offices of Daniel Frohman, president of the Actors' Memorial Fund, from time to time. The first luncheon was held last week, at which the various chairmen of committees that will be saddled with the responsibility of promoting the campaign in the different markets of trade thruout the city were assembled. It was decided that each trade is to take over a theater and attend to the distribution of tickets.

L. J. Robertson, chairman of the Hide and Leather Trades, announced that the Liberty Theater, which he had undertaken to fill, has already been sold out.

MESSENGER OPERA HOUSE

In Goldsboro, N. C., To Be Converted Into Modern Theater

Goldsboro, N. C., July 21.—The Messenger Opera House property has been purchased by a Goldsboro combination of capital, and is to be virtually made over into a modern theater and a new name given to it. The entire building is to be changed, inside and out, in appointments, appearance and capacity—with a new seating capacity of 1,500. The stage is to be enlarged and equipped to accommodate any kind of attraction. The theater when completed will be leased to the Mason Amusement Enterprises, headed by H. R. Mason. The work of reconstruction is expected to be completed by November 1.

LITTLE BLUE DEVIL FIRST

New York, July 19.—Joe Weber returned from his vacation early this week, and is now at work on The Little Blue Devil, the musical comedy founded on Clyde Fitch's The Blue Mouse, which will be his first production of the 1919-20 season. The new version is by Harold Atteridge and Harry Carroll, who are now at work on another musical play, which Mr. Weber plans to produce in November.

The Little Blue Devil will have its metropolitan premiere early in October, preceded by a three weeks' tour during September. Bernard Granville, Fay Marbe, Wilfred Clark, Jack McGowan, Edward Martindel, Louise Kelly, Catherine Duffin and Jean Merode are among the principals engaged.

New York, July 18.—At the last council meeting the members present were: Messrs. Wilson, presiding, McRae, Stewart, de Angelis, Gayer, Christie, Mrs. Hull; Messrs. Westley, Harwood, Browne, Mills, Mordant, Stevenson, Trevor and Deming.

New members (all thru New York Office): Mary Frederica Belasco, Charles Corwin, Mrs. Charles Corwin, John A. De Weese, John J. Filkins, Eleanor Foster, Pearl Hazleton, Dora Mae Howe, Loretta Lappington, Ruth Miller, Hal Munnis, John Roche, Tom C. Ryan and William J. Tate.

Acknowledgment is hereby made to the following members for having brought in the above named candidates:

St Condit, Maurice Franklin, Edgar Norton, Doris Predo, Hassard Short and Eddie C. Waller.

Did you see the editorials in the big dailies? It has come at last and without waiting very long—a recognition of two or three publicity seekers, no longer billed the people. The issue, stripped of its frills, stands clearly defined. The actors ask for their old contract, which heaven knows, does not give them over much. As for the eight performances a week proposition, they expressed a willingness to submit to arbitration. Could anything be more moderate? Yet it has been refused in toto—thrown back at us without an apology. The policy of the managers' association is thus disclosed; there is no longer any doubt it is to kill the actors' organization. Well, we are not altogether sorry that the managers have so frankly declared themselves, for it has swept aside the last lingering doubt in the minds of our conservative members about the desirability of joining the American Federation of Labor. There is no longer any opposition. We are practically a unit, and now we can go to the GREAT MOTHER and she will give us her protection, asking only fidelity in return. We wish we were the first body of legitimate actors to do this, but England and France have preceded us. Yet, tho we shall be late comers, we can make up for our tardiness by loyalty and sincerity.

Let us not forget the responsibility which this step entails. It must not be "self" alone which is considered, but the betterment of the living condition of all wage earners.

Autumn productions have already started. Mr. Brady opened the ball with "Nine Forty Five" three weeks ago, almost before the summer had commenced, and several others followed hard upon. If this cutting short of the dead season continues, it will be a great boon to the actor—the elimination of the summer lay-off.

The great pageant which was presented at the Methodist's Centenary at Columbus, was a pronounced success and will be doubtless seen in the Metropolis during the winter. Many of our members have called at the office and expressed their high appreciation of the generous manner in which they were treated by the high minded gentlemen conducting this enterprise.

COHAN & HARRIS

Preparing for Biggest Season in Their History

Chicago, July 19.—Harry J. Riding, manager of Cohan's Grand Opera House, returned from New York this week and said that Cohan & Harris are making comprehensive plans for the coming season, which they believe will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest, year of their history.

Mr. Riding said that The Acquittal, a new Cohan & Harris play, which had its premiere at Atlantic City Monday night, shows every prospect of being a winner. Cohan & Harris are also working on a new play for George Sidney. The play deals with a young Jew who made his way into the heart of the New England country, where the name of his race was all but anathema. Then the story follows of how he broke down the barriers of racial prejudice by highminded business methods and by living a life of such spiritual fullness that he fairly melted the "Puritanical ice"—and won out at last.

Mr. Riding also had business in New York with the officials of the Actors' Fund. He said that the greatest determination and enthusiasm mark the plans for the Actors' National Memorial Day, December 5.

LYCEUM & CHAUTAUQUA

CONDUCTED BY FRED HIGH

Should the Talent Organize?

Words Received From Lyceum and Chautauqua Workers—Musicians and Singers Should Study These Hints—Are There Traitors in Our Midst?—Read and Then Discuss

Should the lyceum and chautauqua talent have a separate organization? The article which we published advocating such an organization has brought forth many time more replies to our questions than any other article that we have written since Hector was a kitten. We are certain that there is a greater, stronger determination in the minds and hearts of all real performers than ever to see that some of the blessings of prosperity are strewn in the path which the man and woman on the road travels.

We have heard from two bureau managers and they have both said that there is no reason why talent should not get together. The managers meet many times a year to discuss managerial problems. Talent should meet at least once a year to discuss the problems that must be purely talent problems. Reason dictates that course and justice would grant that as a matter of fact.

One of our readers wrote: "But talent won't stick together." Of course they won't. They are human. Name an organization or association that ever did stick together. It is natural for people to differ. It is extraordinary for people to act in unison. It is the extraordinary that wins.

"There was an effort to organize a talent body—it failed." That was another jolter which we received from one of our good friends. In fact two wrote that same objection to making an effort.

The trouble with the other effort was that it was a select bunch who wanted to make themselves believe that they were better or higher or more select—it was a sort of Clammy Clams effort. It died as it ought to have died. Only not half soon enough. This shouldn't be any selfish effort. This should be a united move. The problems that should come before this proposed organization should be the kind of problems that would better the entire organization of lyceum and chautauqua forces.

Any movement that is intended to aid a cause must be democratic enough to recognize all who are engaged in that cause. What would an organization of musical artists amount to if it said there will be no one admitted but Caruso, Galli-Curci, John McCormack and people of that type?

Here is one example of what talent could do in a real talent organization to better their standing in one activity. We will take the musicians, singers, artists and performers. Our present I. L. C. A. efforts can never be for the betterment of a class—neither readers, musicians nor lecturers—we should be so organized that musicians could talk music. About 85 per cent of the members of the I. L. C. A. are musicians or interested in that line.

Last year we had a great number of music publishers attend the I. L. C. A. Convention. This year there will be more than ever. To those who were on the inside it was really a joke to see our lyceum and chautauqua artists go into these headquarters where the wide awake publisher's representatives would load them down with the numbers that the publishers wanted pushed. Then as some of our artists were leaving the room they would ask: "How Much Do I Owe You?"

At best we are trail horses in this race. We ought to be pace-makers. We have literally made a great many popular songs. We have blazed the trail thru the wilderness for such songs as A Long, Long Trail and a flock of popular favorites. But after we make a song popular then comes some artist like John McCormack and he sings it for the phonograph. Then everytime a record is sold John and our old time lyceum college chum, Charles L. Wagner, divide some of the coins that flow their way as recognition of the silver voiced efforts of John and Charley. And that is as it should be.

If an ordinary vaudeville nasal twanger were to hove within sight of an average song plugger there is much fuss. Generally a big spread—a Bacchanalian spread with Bevo and much eats. Not long ago we saw one representative of one music house here in Chicago spend $72.50 on a special blow-out for a lady singer who treads the vaudeville boards with a light fantastic toe and a cracked-ice-voice whose split

We ought to run that machine and not allow any one else run it for us or tell us what kind of music we will use. We should decide that for ourselves. We should be creators and cease to be imitators for creators get the coin.

Should we commercialize the platform. No. It is already so commercialized that there is little need of furthering it. But we should see that there is a better distribution of favors. There is no reason why John McCormack should get so much of the glory, honor and pelf while our great army of workers do so much of the slavery and pay for the privilege of doing it. Let's show what your work is worth. Publishers will appreciate your worth more when they learn of what you are doing.

Two years ago the writer visited New York and made the rounds of a lot of publishers. We were received with the same old time cordiality that used to greet us when we were engaged in the seductive work of selling Dr. Chase's Household Receipt and Cook Book. Most places we didn't get even a look in at the innermost sanctuary. The past spring we spent a few weeks on Broadway and we met a number of the best publishers by appointment. They had learned the worth of the lyceum and chautauqua. That increased their idea of our worth.

SOREN C. SORENSEN

Manager Allen Lyceum Bureau, Lima, Ohio

The other day we spent a few hours at Alliance, O., and while there took a little jaunt to Mt. Union College that brought up a sort of reminiscent strain that revealed a string of ideas that seemed to drag one Soren C. Sorensen into the foreground. Why?

Friend Sorensen when a young man of twenty got up one morning, not to discover that he was famous, but to realize that he didn't have enough education to carry him through this world, so he liked out for Mt. Union College. He spent three years at that seat of learning, then went to Oberlin College at Westerville, then two years at Wooster, when he felt ready to go to work.

This rude awakening came to him as a result of what Dr. Russell H. Conwell said in a lecture, Acres of Diamonds, delivered as one number of the hometown lecture course.

Sorensen once told the writer that he went into the lecture hall determined to quit struggling with the thought that he might better his condition in life. He said: "I could see nothing ahead but mountains and clouds. But after I heard that lecture I decided to do things."

Manager Sorensen is simply trying to multiply the opportunities for other boys to receive that same mental shock by his bureau activities. He started at first to lecture himself and he has proven a success at that. But the idea of talking for an hour each day, then loafing and waiting for the next date, was not appealing to his active nature. He started a lecture bureau. One reason for that was that the old time bureau didn't feel the need of having his name on its list—so he started his own bureau so that he could see his own name on a talent list. Not a bad idea.

He had done some "distrect" managing for the Alliance Bureau and he had done time booking lecture courses in Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin. He made quite a record booking talent in his territory. But the talent was of a variety that was not much to brag about—most of it being cheap, amateurish junk.

He said: "I had so much trouble with the new beginners that I determined to start my own activities and handle nothing but tried and trained professionals. After fussing with incompetents who thought they owned the earth and musical cranks who fought the audiences instead of entertaining them I decided to play quits. I swore off. Never again for me."

"With my own bureau I have employed practically nothing but the best professional talent I could secure. By the term professional I mean attractions who have had at least three successful years' work in the lyceum and chautauqua field. Such talent know the ropes, so to speak. They understand the people, and I

I. L. C. A. Special Issue of The Billboard

For the past two years one of the most talked of, read and discussed events of the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Convention has been the Special I. L. C. A. issue of The Billboard. The Billboard is cursed and discussed, but everybody reads it, and its pages have set the pace for higher, better actions of both talent and bureaus. The lyceum and chautauqua have both found in this publication a forceful friend and champion. This year there will be no letdown. The Billboard I. L. C. A. Special will be the literary event of the convention, and it will be the business getter.

Last year our advertisers said that they had never found a medium so productive of results as The I. L. C. A. Special. Do you want more or better business? Do you want more or better engagements? Do you want more money for what you are doing? Do you want to help the cause with which you have cast your lot? If you do, come with us even if you do no more than run a little dollar card in that issue to let all our readers know where you are and what you are doing.

Let beggars ask you for ads and beseech you for favors, because you OWE THEM alms. The Billboard is under obligations to you. We owe you the best service that a trade journal can render to its patrons. We owe it to you to leave no act undone that will turn the cornucopia of plenty your way.

This isn't pure philanthropy. We are not angels. We are not above worldly, material things. We don't talk spirituality and then pluck the pelf. We talk straight business. We know that when we advance our friends we advance our own interests.

Our advertising has paid our advertisers. This year it ought to pay even greater return. Let's hear from you. Address Fred High, Chicago Office, 35 S. Dearborn street.

tones fairly ooze from her much reduced but still over weight being. That was done just to gain her good will. It was worth it.

Now, had that artist been the best one in the lyceum and chautauqua what would have been the attitude of said music emporium? Some half baked plugger would have insisted that said artist simply must have the latest jazz number of her program or all would be lost. A cheap professional copy would be handed to the artist and may be then there would be no piano part, the whole thing would have been printed on cheap paper that even the alley rats would have hesitated about chewing up this work of creative art and using it for a nest. Some palaver and the artist would pass out to make money for the publisher by acting as his agent, drumming up customers for said chosen one.

In the matter of music we are where the small town is in the matter of moving pictures, we get second and third runs. We ought to use first runs. We come piking along after Broadway has had a year to pass on a number.

A producer like Louis O. Runner who has twenty-five companies out right now ought to have all music as soon as it is off the press. He should have his pick. Up until a few months ago he had to buy his music. At that time the publishers were paying ordinary cabaret and vaudeville singers to use their songs while our musicians paid retail prices for all they bought.

A talent organization could be used to educate the music publishers to the fact that we have the greatest machine thru which to reach the American mind and heart that is in existence.

Attractions should get together, compare notes as to the earning power of artists. Are you making as much net now as you did three or four years ago? Can you afford to sign up contracts to work for less salary when the cost of living has increased three and four fold in the last couple of years? Can you honestly believe you are getting ahead when you see that shoes will be twenty dollars a pair by next spring and a suit of clothes will probably cost $75.00?

Three or four have written that they have had a good time and that their salary has been raised each season. But has it been raised in proportion to the cost of living?

You should not meet in the spirit of the cut-throat or black-hand hold-up. You should organize as lyceum and chautauqua workers, intent upon getting a more equitable distribution of the favors that are to be passed out to those who labor in this field.

One lecturer writes: "I know how far the talent will stick together. Some of them will cut your throat as soon as they see a chance to get a better job." That is true. Some of our members have been branded as front door men. Some have done the bureau dirty work. Even some of the talent have received the right to judge their fellow men by studying their feet instead of looking them straight in the eye. There is no class that is free from the Uriah Heaps and the cut throat traitors. Talent shouldn't expect to be wiser than the Man of Gallilee. He picked one traitor in selecting twelve co-workers. Your average probably classic audiences' cultured tastes. Think it over.

Dr. Burns checked a clam bake, with watermelon on the side, at Redwood Falls, Minn. Miss Wright, the kiddies' friend, and Henry, the magician, joined in the festivities and put up such a race for the championship of the cats that Dr. Burns was laid up for a few days as a result of this gustatorial revelry.

Mrs. Emily Hansch of Chicago, a member of a Chautauqua troupe was killed near Mitchell, S. D., July 8, when the automobile in which she was riding turned over and pinned her underneath. It is said the car was being driven forty-five miles an hour. Five other members of the troupe escaped with slight injuries.

The Standard Chautauqua circuit C in playing Anselmo gave wonderful satisfaction but the paper had the following to say about one attraction:

"Tuesday was rather a disappointment to all, especially the musical number. Joseph Braggers undoubtedly is a great violinist but the chautauqua platform is not where he can be appreciated. His performance on his instrument may be fine, but he acts too much like an undertaker to have people take to him. His support likewise is too formal and still."—Anselmo, Neb., Enterprise.

At Shinnstown, W. Va., Martha Abt found that the sole activity of the Women's Club was to look after the cemetery. She asked the ladies what they were doing for the living; what provision are they making for the children to have decent play grounds, and a baseball diamond. She stumped the good mothers by suggesting that they open a rest room and comfort station. To make a short story still shorter the women met at the M. E. Church and got busy and now there is a rest room and comfort station in Shinnstown and the women are caring for the living even as they care for the graves of the dead. Selab.

companies will have to start somewhere. All right, I am sure there are plenty of managers who will gladly have beginners, but I can not use beginners to work up a strong lyceum business. Then a beginner's company should be sold as such. It is not square business to palm off an amateur bunch under the name of a high grade professional company."

Does it pay? Up to the present Manager Sorensen has a record of losing but one town to another bureau. So far he has lost but twice in competition with rival bureaus. In each case his competitor cut the price way down below cost to get the business. Sorensen says: "I never cut the price. One committee will pay just as much and no more than any other committee. Regardless, my agents are instructed that they must not cut prices. If one does he or she cuts it off his or her own commission, and is told not to do it again. If an agent continues to cut prices he or she is discharged."

Manager Sorensen is a firm believer in one price and one price only system, and it is working fine with him.

He says: "I am paying the highest prices for my talent. I believe in good salaries, but I demand a good deal. Personal conduct especially must be faultless. I will not retain a company that gets less than 50 in grading, or one which does not average at least 95 or more."

Manager Sorensen is looking for talent for next season now. He specializes on courses running no higher than $400.00. He says: "I am perfectly willing to leave the big towns to my competitors. But when it comes to the smaller towns I am here to get them."

Soren C. Sorensen was born in Denmark. His mother died when he was but eight years of age. He went to work to earn his own way when he was eleven. He came to America when he was fourteen. He left behind him in Denmark much hardship and enough poverty to make him think even as a boy. He came here alone and after landing his first work was in a coal mine. Later he was a fireman on a locomotive.

Today he owns his own home at Lima, O., is the manager and sole owner of the Allen Lyceum Bureau and its business. He says there are no reasons that he can see why the Allen Lyceum Bureau will not eventually win a large place in the lyceum household. We certainly hope that it does, for we believe that the lyceum movement would prosper as it has never done if all the managers would take the same stand for better talent and better courses. His motto is: Economy, Service and Quality. He has no training camp connected with the Allen Bureau and there are no graft stations where amateurs are plucked in the name of art. He sells artists, not students.

The Allen Bureau had 90 towns last season and they expect to book one hundred and fifty towns this year. Committees should study this man and his activities before buying elsewhere.

SHOULD THE TALENT ORGANIZE?

wouldn't be any higher than that but even at that it is worth the effort.

Organize and talk about organizing. Discuss a uniform contract. Let us hear from you on this point. Should the talent have a separate organization? Have you any idea on this that you care to set forth that your fellow artists may read and discuss?

The Billboard is not interested in such an organization save as it may be of help to the great number of people who make up the talent body of the lyceum and chautauqua movement.

OLD IDEA

Disproved by Oliver Denton

American Pianist Demonstrates Conclusively That Success Can Be Attained by Native Born Artist

Oliver Denton is a native of New York and spent his boyhood in Hempstead. The Denton history has it that one day when he was only five years old he suddenly showed indications of becoming a composer, then and there it was decided by the family that he must have piano lessons. His elder sister was his first teacher and taught him until he was entered as a student at the National Conservatory of Music of New York City.

During the time Wassilo Safonoff was conductor of the New York Philharmonic, he heard Oliver Denton play and this resulted in a friendship which has meant much in the development of the young pianist. When the eminent conductor went to Russia he was accompanied by Mr. Denton, and in the seclusion of the Safonoff home, where he had nothing to distract his attention, he devoted himself to the hard, exacting work which later showed such splendid results.

Feb. 7, 1913, Mr. Denton made his debut with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, and in 1913-14, he toured Switzerland and Germany, and during 1915 he played with many of the leading orchestras in both of these countries. His American debut was made in his own home State, New York, when he gave his first concert at Aeolian Hall in 1918, and met with instant success. During that year he toured all the principal cities of the United States, and won recognition as one of our best pianists. In fact to quote the words of the well known musical judge, W. J. Henderson, "Oliver Denton is one of the mighty few who do belong at the top."

Many engagements for the 1919-1920 season have already been made for Mr. Denton by his personal representative Mr. Loudon Charlton and there is every indication that Mr. Denton will have an unusually busy season.

CELEBRATED ARTIST

Re-Engaged for New York Oratorio Society

The New York Oratorio Society has re-engaged Reinald Werrenrath, the famous baritone, for a third season. Mr. Werrenrath will also appear with the Symphony Society under the direction of Walter Damrosch, and his services have also been secured with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

EDMONTON'S 1920 MUSIC FESTIVAL

The 1920 Provincial Musical Festival of Alberta Province, Can., will be held at Edmonton. At a recent meeting the provincial executive committee, consisting of Claude Hughes and Mr. Robinson, of Lethbridge; Mr. Eaglesham, Mus.B.; H. K. Putland, Mus.B., and Mr. Weaver of Edmonton; with G. H. Knight, Mus.B., P. L. Newcombe and Dr. J. E. Hodgson, of Calgary, held a meeting in this city for the purpose of electing officers and selecting music for next year's syllabus. Mr. Eaglesham, Mus.B., was elected president, and Dr. J. E. Hodgson vice-president for the ensuing year.

UNIQUE

Musical Organization at Huntsville, Canada

In Huntsville, Ont., a picturesque village on the Muskoka Lake, there is a most unique musical organization, which had its origin in December of 1914. A little band was secretly organized in order that the employees of the Anglo-Canadian Leather Company might serenade Mr. Shaw, the President of the organization. It so happened that Mr. Shaw was a musician himself, and when he found his employees were interested in music he encouraged their efforts. Mr. Geo. Simmons of Bracebridge was engaged as a conductor and Mr. Shaw himself joined the band. Soon word spread about concerning the musical opportunities afforded the employees of the leather company and many musicians joined the band. Herbert L. Clark, formerly of Sousa's Band and one of the greatest cornetists of this age, became director of the band a year and a half ago. Every member of the band is an employee of the leather company and each Far and Middle West. Texas, Kansas and Michigan are particularly well represented, and every State in the Union has at least one student.

NATIONAL AMERICAN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Opens at Lockport, N. Y., Monday, September 1—Object of Great Festival To Promote the Cause of Native Artists, Composers and Music—Not Run for Profit or Gain

Five years ago, to be exact, a unanimous determination to advance the cause of native artists and composers was started in Lockport, N. Y., a small city set upon a hill, located twenty-six miles from Buffalo, twenty-two miles from Niagara Falls and whose gradually sloping hillside reaches to the beautiful shores of Lake Ontario twelve miles to the northward.

There is no particular reason why this little city, famous for its old fashioned hospitality and casual locks, should have become the mecca for music lovers who worship at the shrine of pure Americanism—other than that the man who was the founder and pioneer of this great American movement lived there. From the staging of the first all American artists series (a modest beginning) to the present Festival, recognized as the greatest held in this country, its growth has been gradual and certain.

Within the past few years, leading managers, music publishers, artists, speakers and prominent business clubs of the country have all gone on record as friends and actuaries of this great new musical American propaganda.

Musical patriotism and expression have taken form at this great Festival. The public is interested. From nearly every State in the Union during the first week of September men and women gather who are prominent in the musical life of the country. The American Festival was established primarily as an institution for the highest artistic standards and to help rid if possible the unjust discrimination that had been placed against our own artists and composers.

The engagement of American born artists, performing the best works of American born composers, and in the case of vocal numbers sung in the American language with the great success that has resulted thereto, is proof positive that the American concert artists are the equal of those of any other nation in the world.

A glance at the prospectus of the National American Music Festival would indicate that its domestic limitations will be no curtailment of the eminence of its artists or the excellence of its concerts.

A LIST TO CONJURE WITH

Among the many great American artists and attractions appearing at the National American Festival this year we find such well-known names as Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mrs. Edward MacDowell, Florence MacBeth, Arthur Middleton, Frederic Gerhardt Downing, Oliver Denton, Iain Robeson, Mme. Sturkow-Ryder, Frederick Gunster, Melvena Passmore, Marie Sandellus, Charles W. Clark, Wynne Pyle, Cecil Burleigh, Arthur Hartmann, Oscar Seagle, Lucille Stevenson, Edna Gunnar Peterson, Blanche De Costa, John Powell, Kathleen Howard, Orville Harold, Edna DeLima, Maria Conde, Gaylord Yost, Rost Hamilton, Olive Nevin, Edith Crill Wild, Mme. Marie Zandt, Mable Corlew Smith, Harvey Hindemeyer, Dr. Carver Williams, Earle Tuckerman, Vera Kalghn, Harriet Case, Cleveland Bohnet, Pittsburg Artists Trio, Rubinstein Chorus, Kathryn Melsic, Marguerite Hingo, and a score or more equally well known.

While the management does not claim that these are the greatest American artists, they do claim, however, that these represent the highest ideals in the American concert and operatic fields.

The fate of all such estimable adventures in art invariably hinges upon that beloved impersonal and ineluctable agency which we call the public. The National American Music Festival is approved by the public in general. It is a great altruistic movement run without profit or gain and is declared an educational institution by the United States Government.

GOOD NEWS FOR PHILADELPHIANS

The performances to be given in Philadelphia next season by the Metropolitan Opera Company have been increased. The Opera Company will make sixteen appearances in all.

OLIVER DENTON

The old idea that success cannot be attained by a pianist unless he is born abroad has been conclusively disproved by Oliver Denton, a native of New York. Mr. Denton has attained an enviable success both at home and abroad, winning recognition as one of our best pianists.

one is allowed one hour a day of the company's time to practice.

The band played at the Toronto Exposition last year and it is said to be the best band in Canada and they are anxious to discover if any other band in America has anything on them.

SUMMER SESSION

Of Peabody Conservatory of Music Opens With Enrollment Twice That of Last Year

Baltimore, Md., July 19.—The classes of the summer school of the Peabody Conservatory of Music has opened for a session of six weeks, the number of students enrolled being twice as many as last year.

One of the features of the course this year will be a series of twilight organ recitals by members of the Conservatory staff, to be held at 7:30 on each of six Sunday evenings. Frederick R. Huber, municipal director of music, will give the first recital next Sunday.

As in former years, the school will be conducted in conjunction with Johns Hopkins University summer school, and musical studies taken as electives will count as credits toward the degrees of bachelor of science and art.

An interesting feature of the student personnel this year is the strong representation of the Daniel Beddoe, famous tenor singer. Mr. Beddoe has been engaged to take the place left vacant by Dr. Fery Luick.

Daniel Beddoe is well known throughout America as an oratorio singer and his first appearance in Cincinnati was with the Symphony Orchestra in 1907, when his success was so great that he was immediately engaged for the 1908 May Festival.

Mr. Beddoe was born in Wales and came to America when a young man. He has won considerable distinction as a singer of modern songs and ballads, and altho he sings in half a dozen different languages, he sings in English as a specialty.

Cincinnati will give Mr. Beddoe a very warm welcome, as he has a host of friends in the Queen City.

For a number of years Mr. Beddoe has been living in New York, taking an active part in concert work as a teacher.

Miss Baur is endeavoring to engage for the Conservatory of Music a celebrated French pianist, who at present is in Paris but who has played concert engagements in America, to take the place left vacant in the piano department by the resignation of Theodore Bahlmann.

LAURENCE A. LAMBERT

Opens New Musical Bureau in Portland, Ore.

Laurence A. Lambert, who recently resigned as General Manager of the Ellison-White Musical Bureau, has returned to Portland after a two months' trip in the East and has organized the Western Musical Bureau, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon, and is arranging to open several branch offices throught the Northwest and Canada.

Mr. Lambert has a large personal following among the Concert Managers and Clubs throught the entire Western territory, owing to having managed the Western Canada Concert Bureau at Calgary, and, as he is firmly established with the leading New York Managers and Bureaus, he will be able to book concerts for the first-class artists and feature musical attractions.

Last year Mr. Lambert managed the entire Western tour of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company and the Famous French Military Band. That these two famous musical organizations included the West in their tour was due entirely to the enterprising methods of Mr. Lambert.

The New Bureau will establish a North-western department for the purpose of taking under his management artists residing throught the Northwest and will promote them in Concerts and Festivals in that territory.

A complete list of artists under the management of the Bureau will be announced very shortly.

CINTI SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

To Have Busy Season Next Year

The coming concert season will be a very busy one for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, as plans are practically completed for the regular symphony series, also the "Pop" concerts, and a number of tours are being arranged which will take the orchestra to some of the large Eastern cities, also several of the principal cities of the South, including Nashville, Atlanta and New Orleans. Additional soloists have been engaged; among them Albert Spalding, the famous young American violinist, and Lucy Gates, who will make her first appearance in Cincinnati as a soloist with the Symphony Orchestra early in December. Conductor Yasye has added a number of distinguished musicians to the orchestra, among them Modeste Altop, who for some years was solo trombonist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

CINCINNATI BARITONE SAILS FOR AUSTRALIA

Raymond Leder, a former student of the College of Music, Cincinnati, upon his return from a year of enlisted service in France was engaged by Conductor Petri as leading baritone in grand opera for a tour in Anstralia. Mr. Leder has had several years in concert and opera abroad.

PERMANENT ENDOWMENT FUND

Planned for Kansas City Symphony Orchestra

Kansas City, July 19.—The business men of Kansas City are at work endeavoring to obtain a permanent endowment fund for the Symphony Orchestra. The proposed plan is to sell 250 memberships, admitting two persons to each concert, $1,000 per membership. With a sum realized in this way, together with the sale of tickets to performances, it is believed it would be possible to obtain an excellent orchestra. A project whereby the local opera and orchestra interests may be combined is also under dis-ussion. There is no reason why Kansas City should not obtain the necessary financial support to make the Symphony Orchestra an assured success.

NEW SYMPHONY BAND

To Purchase Equipment Costing $75,000

New York, July 18.—The Executive Committee of the New Symphony Orchestra has entered into negotiations to purchase a full complement of instruments for the use of the orchestra. The executive committee has arranged that a sinking fund shall be created by setting aside a fixed sum each year until the fund is sufficient to not only complete the purchases but to maintain them thru a period of years.

The New Symphony Orchestra is on a permanent basis and is planning to become an important factor in New York's music life, and in order to carry out the ideas of the orchestra, namely, to give the best possible in music, it is necessary that their musicians have the best instruments obtainable, hence the need of the sinking fund.

GERALDINE FARRAR

To Give Only One Performance in Northern California

San Francisco, July 19.—Announcement is made by Manager Frank W. Healy, of San Francisco, that the first artist to give a concert in that city for the coming season is Geraldine Farrar, who will make her only appearance in Northern California at the Curran Theater, San Francisco, October 5.

CONCERT AND OPERA NOTES

The 107th Season of the London Philharmonic closed recently.

The Congressional Library at Washington now contains seven thousand war compositions from many countries.

Maud Powell, the violinist, has returned to New York after an extensive tour thru Wyoming and Colorado.

The New Symphony Orchestra has added Leopold Godowsky, the pianist, to their list of soloists for the 1919-1920 season.

Pietro Ten, the successful concert organist, is booked for an American tour next year which will call for more than 100 appearances.

Fredric Fradkin, violinist, is the first American to hold the position of concertmaster and soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

On Tuesday evening, July 29, Liza Lehmann's Persian Garden will be given by Bruno Huhn at the Madstone Club, East Hampton, L. I.

Soloists for the concert at the Stadium, New York, for Saturday evening, July 26th, will be Max Rosen, violinist, and Greta Mason, soprano.

Word has been received that Katharine Goodson, the celebrated pianist, is to appear with several of the prominent symphony orchestras this coming season.

Helene Ksanders, soprano from the Metropolitan Opera House, holds the record for having obtained more reservations for her Concerts next season than any solo artist.

Mme. Margherita Silva, prima donna, is to sing in vaudeville. Her tour extends from San Francisco to New York and will begin next month and end in April.

John L. Blakemore, pianist, and Gustaf Holmquist, basso, gave a recital Saturday, July 19, at the Bush Conservatory's new building on North Dearborn street, Chicago.

The Bethoven Musical Society is preparing to give a series of four concerts on the Mall, Central Park, N. Y., this summer. The society is under the direction of Henry Lefkowitz.

Mischa Lertski is the only pianist to be engaged as soloist during the series of concerts which will be given next season under the direction of the Central Concert Company of Detroit.

Plans are being made to use compositions by the students and faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music on one of the programs at the famous "Pops" in Symphony Hall, Boston.

One of the soloists to appear at the Lockport, N. Y., Festival in September, will be Florence Macbeth, the prima donna of the Chicago Opera Association. Miss Macbeth will include in her group of songs, Frank H. Grey's, Mother of My Heart.

The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music is receiving from all over the United States registrations for the Master Violin Class which is under the direction of Ysaye. The class will begin in October.

Prior to the opening of his regular concert season in October, John McCormack will give his only public appearance at his annual concert in the Auditorium, Ocean Grove, on the evening of August 9th.

Henri Casades, founder of the Society of Ancient Instruments, has been asked to bring the Opera Comique Company from the Gaiety Theater to New York and New Orleans for a short engagement next season.

Fred Patton, whose engagements are made under the direction of Walter Anderson, is being congratulated upon his success in the musical field. There is much demand for his services in oratories and concerts.

The Inter-State Publishers' Corporation has just issued Volume 1, No. 1, of the "Critic," which is to be a "Review of the Musical World." Miss Lella Chevallier, who is a well-known writer on musical subjects, is the editor.

At Forest Park, St. Louis, Victor Herbert's opera, The Wizard of the Nile, was given the week of July 13. This was substituted in the place of Carmen, which the Municipal Opera Company had expected to put on for the last week of the opera season.

During the absence of Conductor Walter Damrosch in France, the New York Symphony Orchestra will be led by the well-known conductor, Rene Pollain, when they expect to give two concerts daily at Chautauqua, N. Y., during the week of July 27 to August 2.

At a recent concert given by the N. Y. Military Band, under Conductor Goldman, an American soprano, Mrs. Lenore Van Blerkom, made her debut in New York concert circles and made a very favorable impression on the audience.

The J. C. Williamson, Ltd., has engaged Thomas Egan, the Irish tenor, to appear in Australia, during its Grand Opera tour. Mr. Egan will sail from San Francisco on August 12th. Alfredo Valent, Karl Fornes and Walter Wheatley will also sing with the same company and sailed July 8.

Eleanor Spencer, the celebrated pianist, sailed this month for Holland. Miss Spencer is the first American artist to return to Europe for actual concert work after the war. During August and the early fall she will be heard in concerts and recitals thru Holland, where she is a great favorite. This makes Miss Spencer's second tour thru that country.

Hugo Riesenfeld is holding a series of voice trials every Saturday between 12:30 and 1:30, endeavoring to discover new soloists for the Rivoli and Rialto, New York. Edward Falk, formerly assistant at the Metropolitan Opera House and one of Mr. Riesenfeld's assistants will supervise the hearing.

Otto Goritz, director of the Star Opera Company has leased the Lexington Theater in New York City and is arranging to give light opera and classic opera in German. The season will begin October 20 and continue until January 15. Most of the German singers who were at the Metropolitan will be with the new company.

Henry Eichheim, a Boston composer, writes from Japan, where he is studying Oriental music, stating that the Orientals by a process of elimination have evolved perfect art and a perfect music. Mr. Eichheim is studying the primitive music of the laborers with a view of using them as themes for his compositions.

Vera Janacopulos expects to remain in America another season and is planning to give a song recital at Aeolian Hall, New York, early in November. During her first American season she appeared with the Russian Symphony Orchestra at the Hippodrome and she also had a very successful tour out side of New York City.

A chorus division has been organized by the National League for Women's Service of New York City, and the League reports the appointment as chairman of the division, Mrs. Kenneth J. Muir. The new chorus will co-operate with the International Music Festival chorus, of which Mrs. Muir is secretary of the foreign-born section.

The musical program at the Strand Theater, New York, for the week of July 20th was an interesting one. Walter Pontius, the tenor, sang La Donna e Mobile from Rigoletta, and Dorothy South, the soprano rendered The Valley of Langbier. Organ solos were played by Ralph H. Brigham and Herbert Sisson and the orchestra was under Alois Reiser's direction.

The public is nightly showing its appreciation of the splendid concerts at the Lewisohn Stadium, New York, with the increasing crowds, and the concerts are doing a great deal toward bringing before the public notice, young American composers and singers. Henry Hadley, the First American Guest conductor, directed his own composition at one of the recent concerts. Inez Barbour, soprano, was the soloist.

Mabel Garrison, Alice Gentie, Orville Harrold and Leon Rothier are meeting with much success in the series of operas being given at Ravinia Park, Chicago. In Lakme, these artists played to a most appreciative audience and repeatedly the performance was stopped by applause. One of the Chicago critics stated the performance should be repeated because it was one of the best things ever done at the Park.

Giovanni Tagliapietra, well known as an opera singer, has organized the Tagliapietra Quartet for a concert tour next season. The other members of the Quartet are Mme. Josephine Bettinetti, soprano, Miss Viola Robertson, contralto, who met with much success during her appearance at the Park Theater, New York, last season at the performances given by the Society of American Singers and Mr. Valenza, tenor.

Musicians and others interested in the Arts have for some time advocated the establishment of a Secretary of Fine Arts to sit at the Cabinet Table with the Secretaries of Labor, Commerce and Agriculture, and that their work is beginning to bear fruit and their long sought recognition from Washington seems likely to be given in the near future is evidenced by the present activities, which seem to indicate that the appeal is being considered.

Vol. XXXI. JULY 26. No. 30

Editorial Comment

In these days of celebrations, and this country is literally full of them and will be for some time to come, there is one feature of it all that stands out as essential—that is, the part that amusements must play in all of our activity.

We are naturally, and have a right to be, proud of our victorious army. We want to show our appreciation for what it did, so we celebrate.

July 4th we witnessed such an event
—20,000 people celebrated.

Perhaps 600 soldier boys from that country took part in the fighting—about sixty of that number made the supreme sacrifice—and five minutes of solemn silence was devoted to them and much praise paid to their heroism by the speakers.

The speaking was more for the living than for the dead—much of it was tainted with politics. Some of it was worthy of being studied as local history.

At least three-fourths of all present were women and children. In all, perhaps, seventeen thousand of the crowd needed entertainment—the young people needed amusement.

It is estimated that more than $5,000 was spent by the committee in charge.
The great outstanding need of expert direction during the entire day was evident on all sides. A stage manager was needed or a master of events.

Here is an incident: One of the thirteen experts who went to Paris to assist in settling the world war controversy was let loose to speak for a heterogeneous crowd, while three brass bands marched and countermarched within twenty-five feet of where he was struggling to make himself heard.

A mammoth grand stand was erected out in the broiling sun. It was foolishly built, and, naturally, never used. Money and time wasted is the best you can say for it. The women and children were largely overlooked in planning for the day.

A merry-go-round, without even as much as a canvas cover, slowly squeaked around as often as it could get up steam. It had not calloped to attract, hardly any light to guide the crowd at night, but in spite of it all the old junk heap that had been playing the smallest burps in the county was a big attraction in the great county celebration.

A $100 spent in procuring a whip, a ferris wheel, a real merry-go-round would have added $1,000 worth of pleasure to the multitudes who gathered for that celebration.

These features could have coined money, and they could have been had if the committee had used ordinary business foresight and had used The three-fourths of the crowds that gather on these occasions.

Committees should never fail to provide a great quantity of free features on such occasions. They spell success in large type. Tanks of free ice water are absolutely essential on such occasions.

Amusement is essential. Toys are among the first things that we buy for the babies. Amusement for the old folks is as natural as play for the babies. The child wants to take a part in its own entertainment, while the old folks must be amused. These are nature's laws and must be obeyed.

In planning celebrations look well to these features. They are vital, and around them are strewn more wrecks than the average person dreams possible.

When you study the great successful gatherings you will find that they placed their amusements in the hands of experts. A good amusement committee and a good publicity expert are half the battle in the fight for the people's attention and patronage.

torney, is back in Chicago from a fishing trip

SINN FEIN, SELF-GOVERNMENT, INDEPENDENCE, AUTONOMY

These words all mean and are understood as meaning practically the same thing and are really the foundation and the basic idea underlying the system of organization of the American Federation of Labor.

Each international union has its own autonomy, its own self-government. In fact, the charter granted by the American Federation of Labor to any international union specifically guarantees and conserves the autonomy of the union.

And, in turn, the international union guarantees the autonomy and self-government of its branches or locals.

Each branch or local has its own self-government, its own separate rules, its own separate by-laws.

Any union can make any rules, laws or orders which it pleases, provided they are for the honest and legitimate benefit of its members.

If its members are satisfied it can do everything or it can do nothing.
If it pleases the members they can have a minimum wage or a maximum wage or no wage scale at all.

They can have a regular scale of hours of labor or no scale at all.
It is up to the government of each separate autonomist self-governing branch or local.

They call and end their own strikes. Without their consent they cannot be called out in a sympathetic strike.

No one has any power over them except themselves.
Even the American Federation of Labor can not order the union on strike.

Even the American Federation of Labor cannot order a minimum wage.

Even the American Federation of Labor cannot interfere with their internal autonomy or economy.

The whole matter of government, of demands, of wages, of salaries, of hours, of conditions, is vested and remains entirely in each international and in each branch.

Billboard on a large scale and had sold this event as hundreds of other towns do to supply themselves with such things.

There used to be a sort of religious prejudice against all forms of amusements, but that day is rapidly passing.
On July 4th the Methodist Centenary drew more than five times as many patrons at the gate at Columbus, O., as the world championship Willard-
Dempsey prize fight drew at Toledo.

How was this done? The Methodists seem to have partially recognized the value which amusements would hold in connection with their greater purpose.

At Waynesburg, Pa., 20,000 people gathered and celebrated the 4th of July and the return of their soldiers, and not a drunken man was seen in town.

When the day's events were all over there was not an auto missing, but there was an extra machine left in town. But it was confidently expected that between 30,000 and 40,000 people would visit town for the great celebration. There they fell short.

Waynesburg had the biggest day in her history, but she should have far clipped it if her people had only planned more for the multitude and spent more for the entertainment of the women and children, who make up more than

MAGIC & MAGICIANS BY WILLIAM J. HILLIAR

Address all communications for this column to WILLIAM J. HILLIAR, care of The Billboard, Putnam Building, New York.

New York, July 15, 1919.

Dear Editor, Magic and Magicians: There seems to be some agitation going on just now re crystal gazing acts and "fortune tellers" that seems to be pointed directly towards myself, therefore, if you will have the kindness to give this letter space in OUR most valuable aid "The Billboard" I will be very thankful.

First this being a new era, we will say the "20th Century." I will admit that it did not take me a life time to complete the act that has been so successful in Eastern vaudeville the past season. I have no malice towards anyone, no matter what system they may use, even if I do think their system is obsolete. It matters not to Clayton how many of different kinds of acts are placed before the public, even if it does take but a short time to teach some boy their method, or some woman, that has been in the business only as an auditor, in the same length of time. It is not of the others that I wish to speak but myself, and that in a few words:

First, I was the first act of this kind to be accepted in the East as a vaudeville attraction, and that I made good there is no doubt, for over 10 acts have copied my work in the last year—that is flattery. I do not claim to be the originator of this style of act, but I do claim originality of working methods that protect the audience, the management and the demonstrator, and those who have had the pleasure (?) of witnessing my act will recall the words I always use, "I have no supernatural powers, I do not want one person in the audience to believe one thing they see or hear during this demonstration unless they are intelligent enough to understand its foundation." The foundation may or may not be understood, if they understand the foundation, they understand the secret, therefore, it is common property—4 add also, "If you do not understand, please take it for its entertaining quality and forget it as you leave the doorway, as you would any other act—I want you to know I do not prey upon the credulous mind."

Second, I was the first act of this kind to be accepted in the East as a vaudeville attraction, and that I made good there is no doubt, for over 10 acts have copied my work in the last year—that is flattery. I do not claim to be the originator of this style of act, but I do claim originality of working methods that protect the audience, the management and the demonstrator, and those who have had the pleasure (?) of witnessing my act will recall the words I always use, "I have no supernatural powers, I do not want one person in the audience to believe one thing they see or hear during this demonstration unless they are intelligent enough to understand its foundation." The foundation may or may not be understood, if they understand the foundation, they understand the secret, therefore, it is common property—4 add also, "If you do not understand, please take it for its entertaining quality and forget it as you leave the doorway, as you would any other act—I want you to know I do not prey upon the credulous mind."

Third, I was the first act of this kind to be accepted in the East as a vaudeville attraction, and that I made good there is no doubt, for over 10 acts have copied my work in the last year—that is flattery. I do not claim to be the originator of this style of act, but I do claim originality of working methods that protect the audience, the management and the demonstrator, and those who have had the pleasure (?) of witnessing my act will recall the words I always use, "I have no supernatural powers, I do not want one person in the audience to believe one thing they see or hear during this demonstration unless they are intelligent enough to understand its foundation." Fourth, I was the first act of this kind to be accepted in the East as a vaudeville attraction, and that I made good there is no doubt, for over 10 acts have copied my work in the last year—that is flattery. I do not claim to be the originator of this style of act, but I do claim originality of working methods that protect the audience, the management and the demonstrator, and those who have had the pleasure (?) of witnessing my act will recall the words I always use, "I have no supernatural powers, I do not want one person in the audience to believe one thing they see or hear during this demonstration unless they are intelligent enough to understand its foundation." Fifth, I was the first act of this kind to be accepted in the East as a vaudeville attraction, and that I made good there is no doubt, for over 10 acts have copied my work in the last year—that is flattery. I do not claim to be the originator of this style of act, but I do claim originality of working methods that protect the audience, the management and the demonstrator, and those who have had the pleasure (?) of witnessing my act will recall the words I always use, "I have no supernatural powers, I do not want one person in the audience to believe one thing they see or hear during this demonstration unless they are intelligent enough to understand its foundation." ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

F. GOKENBACH, 1909 Lynch Street, St. Louis, Mo.—Any dealer in magicians' supplies advertising on this page can supply you with everything you need. We cannot recommend any particular one.

JOHN R. MILES, care M. C. Farms, Moore's Sta., Trenton, N. J.—Many thanks for letter. The information contained therein will appear in this column later.

C. C. C., Hamilton, O.—The following are the addresses you ask for: Pantages Circuit (Walter Keefe, manager), Fitzgerald Building, Broadway, New York, Poll, B. F. Keith's, U. B. O. and Gus Sun, Palace Theater Building, New York.

MARTINE the MYSTERIOUS, en route.—Much obliged for your letter. Send us news items at any time and they will be appreciated.

ARTHUR LONGFELLOW, Adolphus Hotel, Dallas, Tex.—Your letter saying: "I was at a local vaudeville theater last night and saw a magician cause any card suggested by members of the audience to rise from the pack and jump into the performer's hand. Upon my return to the hotel I happened to pick up a copy of The Billboard and found the column Magic and Magicians. I read it with great interest. As you seem to be an authority on magic will you please tell me if I could do this trick myself after proper tuition." in reply will advise you to purchase a copy of Howard Thurston's Card Tricks, which contains a full explanation of the Rising Card Trick, with which Thurston "fooled" Herrmann the Great.

B. P. G., care of the Follies, Abilene, Kan.—Maro, Germain and Durso were lyreum and chautauqua magicians. Brush is one of the prominent artists in this branch of amusement today.

Garland L. Moore is now playing around Burkburnett, Tex., one of the biggest oil spots in the United States, and doing very well.

George Turner, the Juvenile Trickster, is still in France with the A. E. F. 5th Division vaudeville show, mystifying the boys.

Robert Kudarz sends us from New Zealand a clipping from The New Zealand Truth, which tells the story of a bunk show put over in Wellington by a phoney magician.

MAGIC IN ENGLAND

Oswald Williams is still the big feature at Maskelynes. On the same bill with him is Victor, in magic and limboettes, Goff Godfrey in a reproduction of a spirit seance, and Griff in his soap bubble novelty.

Billy O'Connor is playing the Stoll Tour. He expects to announce the publication of his new book on card tricks very shortly.

Judson Cole, who is in England with the American army, scored a hit with the Cow of smart witticisms accompanying each trick at Finsbury Park Empire.

Mesour presents a magical story of Persia and produces cigarette, coffee and refreshments, one of the performers vanishing in a cloud of smoke. The playlet is clever and portrays all the mystery and glamour of the Orient.

Van Hoven has had several offers to join the Zeigfeld Follies in New York.

Pascola produced his act at the London Coliseum, doing 25 minutes of magic and illusions. He uses 14 people, are under the stage management of Zelka and uses several new illusions. One of the best in the production of six girls in gorgeous costumes in which the girls finish with an Oriental dance.

Mr. Louis Davenport ably filled the spot of Mr. Williams, who is sick. Cecil Lyle, with another original act, presenting golf sticks and bag-a-la-wand and envelope, production of hats and trimming by magic, finishing with his original gramophone vanish, was on the same bill.

The Magic Circle held their 13th Grand Seance April 14 at St. Georges Hall. The entertainers were: Bradley Alexander in drawing room magic, Maurice Charles, Douglas Dexter, Herbert Collins, Reg Wisbart in his bottle and bar escape, Edward Victor in his marvelous hand shadows, who was one of the big hits of the program; Herbert-Lea, Ernest Noakes in silent thought transmission, Frank Staff, who caused big laughs with his spirit slates and to close the show Nevil Maskelyne introduced his magical classic, "The Levitation," bringing a wonderful evening to a close (Max Holden in June Sphinx.)

Richards writes: "I have just returned from a visit to Saginaw, Mich., and while there saw the Clarence Wortham Shows and La Plano, the magician, who is in the side-show. He

NEW WAGON SHOW

In the Field Season of 1920

Samuel Emswiler Buys Sautelle-Demarest Outfit and Will Enlarge It Considerably

According to present plans there will be in the field next season one of the largest combination Wild West and circus shows ever put out on wagons.

The entire show property of the Sig Sautelle-Barney Demarest combination was bought by Samuel Emswiler Saturday, July 12, at the Trenton Fair Grounds, Trenton, N. J. In company with W. A. Jacks, Mr. Emswiler immediately loaded the property on two fire-truck trucks and moved it to Red Lion, Pa., where it will be enlarged to a twenty-five wagon show to open early in the spring of 1920.

As the Sautelle-Demarest Show was only one a few weeks, Mr. Emswiler found the property to be just as good as new and in perfect condition. The big top, which is a hundred with a forty, will be enlarged so it will have three forty-foot middle pieces. The kid top will be a fifty with two thirties, and the show will be under the capable direction of Walter Boyer, who will also have charge of the concert in the big show. One of the features in the side-show will be Nero, the man-eating lion.

As soon as the show was stored in Red Lion Mr. Jacks, in company with his wife and son, left for his ranch in Nevada, going across country in his machine. He will stay there this fall and winter and return East in February with two carloads of stock. There will be sixty head of baggage stock and thirty-five head of ring stock. The parade will carry at least four dens of animals, two band wagons and a calliope, and will have some of the most magnificent wardrobe ever seen with any show. There will be a twelve-piece band with the big show under the direction of Charles Brickner, and Mr. Emswiler is now endeavoring to locate an eight or ten-piece ladies band for the annex.

PARKER QUILTS THE GAME

Charles W. Parker, of Meriden, Conn., who has been in advance of the Barnum & Bailey Circus for the past eighteen years, last year brigade manager, has quit the circus business, and is located at his home in Meriden. Mr. Parker established the reputation of being one of the best banner squarers in his day. His pleasing personality gained for him probably more billposting friends in the country than any other single man. The first circus Mr. Parker traveled with was the Sells & Downs Circus, and later was the first man to put up a Sells-Floto lithograph when that show was organized in 1906. He stayed with it the entire first year, touring Old Mexico. Mr. Parker didn't believe in jumping from one show to another. When he opened with a show he stayed with it until the close, and that was the case during his eighteen years' connection with the Barnum & Bailey Shows. All of which speaks volumes for his ability.

GREAT KEYSTONE SHOW

Altho the Great Keystone Show has made stands this season that it played late last fall, business has been above expectations of the management. The roads covered have been found in excellent condition. King Kelley is to take the advance, replacing James Hofferer, who is going to his home in Allentown, Pa. H. R. Brison, Jr., is still with the show, but not doing any act as yet. Manager Sam Dock is preparing to enlarge the outfit, and expects to add a side show in a week or ten days.

Following is a list of acts in the big show: Tom Nelson, wire and juggling; Claire Brison, single aerial rings and swinging ladder; Ed.

Davison, knife throwing and marionettes; Ray Brison, balancing trapeze and coloration; Sam Dock's talking pony, bucking mule and riding dog; George Norman, singing and talking clown; Charlie Jacobs, clown; Ray and Claire Brison, revolving ladder. Concert: Nelson, monolog; Brison, escape act; Norman, mangle; Davison, Punch and Judy; Charlie Jacobs, musical act.—H. R. BRISON.

JOHN ROBINSON CIRCUS

Sunday, July 6, at St. John, N. B., and another one of those uncomfortable days, with prospects of good bathing and boating, but had to stick to the "heavies" once more. Of late the Sundays have been very much against the shows, Monday, two capacity houses, in fact a banner day again, and press and public made much comment upon both performances and the parade. Tuesday, short run and half-mile haul to lot at Fredericton, with a wonderful matinee, but the evening was just fair, rain having dampened the grounds, and also prospects of the "intended." Wednesday, had to detour owing to a condemned bridge, and made a run of 146 miles instead of sixty-four as was originally intended, but reached Woodstock in ample time to give parade and two performances, which were well patronized. Thursday, short run and haul to lot at Edmuntston, but owing to new sewerage system, which was being installed thruout the entire main part of the city, canceled the parade and gave two well attended performances. Friday, short run to Caribou, welcome back to the good old U. S. A. More rain, which hurt both matinee and evening, but did fair business despite the conditions. Saturday, Honiton, Me. All roads and walks led to the show grounds. Matinee very well packed, with fair night's business. Long run from here to Bangor.—BILLY EXTON.

RICHARD BROS.' SHOWS

The Richard Bros.' Shows are now touring North Carolina and playing to fine business. The show is making a good reputation for itself in this State, as the Richards Show is a Western outfit and new to the Eastern people. The troupe opened in Lagrange, Ga., seven weeks ago, where it stopped for a month to make repairs, and has not missed a date since, even tho heavy rains were encountered in the past few weeks. Since opening two large trucks have been added and a larger big top purchased.

Oklahoma Spot, one of the feature bronk riders, in quitting a bucking horse during the performance the night of July 8, got his foot caught in the stirrup and in falling fractured two bones. In the same performance Arizona Kid, lady rider, was thrown from a local mule. Her shoulder was hurt, but not seriously.—SAVOI LASTARR.

RUTHERFORD CONTRADICTS

New York, July 19.—Bert Rutherford was a caller at The Billboard office Monday last to state that the story recently published to the effect that he and C. P. Farrington would reorganize and take out the Sig Sautelle Circus is without fact or foundation, and he wishes to put his friends right in the matter. (The story published was given to one of our New York representatives by Mr. Farrington, who no doubt at the time was convinced that such a deal would be consummated.—The Editors.)

BUSINESS SUPERFINE

Chicago, July 19.—Rhoda Royal came to Chicago Wednesday to order new material for the Rhoda Royal Shows from the United States Tent & Awning Company and to see and greet his friends. Mr. Royal said that business is superfine with the shows, which are touring Virginia and West Virginia, as well as other Southern States.

TROUBLE OVER HORSE DEAL

Elgin, Ill., July 18.—Litigation over the sale of a number of horses may prevent the early appearance of the Henman Brothers' Circus and Carnival in Elgin and other cities in this district. The horse dealer of Gary, Ind., from whom William Henman purchased the animals, is now attempting to regain his horses, according to C. B. Hazlehurst, attorney for the showmen.

UNDER THE MARQUEE

Chaucet, Pa., July 10, 1919.
Dear Solly—Every dark cloud has its silver lining, I believe, for while Al Gipp and the bunch were en route to the Lucky Strike Show, that show's second agent—a billposter—a ten-in-one show and Red Barn and his troupe of educated dogs and ponies were headed for this show. They arrived and wanted work, and it was an easy matter to fix up with them. Wired my printer to change crosslines to read: "Hy Binder's One-Ring Circus. Watch 'Ua Grow." How does that sound? Sid Hill, who wired me to furnish the entire side-show, I guess meant furnish the "hull" show, as he does it all alone. His show got nine dollars at Tidewater. He is talking of adding a cage menagerie now. I was forced to do a Joey walkaround on the hippodrome track last week on account of sickness. Don't like to do these things, as I believe it betitles a manager in the eyes of his employees.
Sincerely,
GOVERNOR HIRAM (HY) BINDER.

Nebraska Bill is again on the John Robinson Show and in the lineup of Joe Webb's Wild West Riders.

The La Mont Bros.' Show, with an excellent program, is said to be doing well on its tour thru Malco.

C. W. Bodine, agent, says Pittsfield, Ill., is circus hungry. Bodine ought to know, as Pittsfield's his home town.

Ray Barrett, principal clown, closed with the Walter L. Main Shows on July 9 and joined the Al G. Barnes Animal Circus.

Katy Robettas, well-known aerialist, has joined the Omar Sisters act, which has extensive bookings at fairs and in vaudeville.

Alvo Parsell, former banner man with Sun Bros., has received his discharge from Uncle Sam's service and is now at home in Angola, Ind.

Adgie Hill recently joined the Backman-Tinch Animal Circus to handle the snake show. "Some snake show, what I mean," says Adgie.

Arthur Whittier, tight wire and iron jaw artist, is still with La Mont Bros.' Show and materially adding to entertain the natives of the Northeast.

Jean Dearth, Billboard representative with Sells-Floto Circus, and Earl De Garro, of the DeGarro Trio, were callers at the New York office of Billyboy, Sunday, June 13.

Geo. Morales is trouping with the Al G. Barnes Circus, doing his single ring act and clowning, having some time ago been discharged from army service. Geo. and Kinko send best regards to friends.

E. N. Weeks, a former driver on the Ringling Shows who, because of an accident, was forced to quit the road, is now operating a tin shop and doing well at Mondovi, Wis., according to Ed R. Williams, of the Walter L. Main address.

F. W. Owens, after closing with the advance of the Alabama Minstrels, has joined the advance forces of Jesse James, telling the natives of Idaho, Oregon and Washington know the "big show" is coming.

Harry Robettas, comedy acrobat, aerialist and equilibrist, closed a fine season for the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association and is now in Detroit arranging a new act for the fall. Says hello to Harry La Marr and the boys.

R. O. D.—Jesse Willard in 1915 was with the 101 Ranch Show, then known as the Miller Bros. & Arlington's 101 Ranch and Jesse Willard Shows. Season of 1916 he was with Sells-Floto, and the following season with the Jesse Willard Buffalo Bill Wild West Circus.

Frank Van Miller has gone up the ladder a bit since leaving Chocoma early in the spring, when he joined the No. 1 car of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus. He has been promoted to checker-up and brigade agent, being one day in advance of the show. From reports received he is making good with a vengeance.

Wm. Denny, who for several seasons was a member of the crew of the Ringling Bros. R. & B. Advertising Car No. 1, has retired as a trouper and is now owner of three concessions at Meyers Lake Park, Canton, O. Denny recently paid his respects to fellow troupers when the car visited Canton, where he has established his residence.

The Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows did capacity business at Akron, O., both afternoon and night July 14—and it rained hard at night. Mlle. Adgie, of Adgie and Her Lions, was in Akron at the time, and with Lloyd Jeffries, who is connected with Riverview Park there, visited the show and renewed acquaintances among the performers.

Clarence Auskins, general agent for the Col. Geo. W. Hill Shows, writes that he has arranged to play the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in British Columbia and a few towns on the Pacific Coast. Auskins adds that the Hill Show will be the first circus or tent outfit to play west of Edison this season. It being practically new territory for shows.

Solly last week received the following from some member of the Sells-Floto Circus: "Mr. and Mrs. Bill Abney will celebrate their first wedding anniversary on July 18. Bill says he feels much like 'chicken'—and to see his young wife, they are both 'chicken.' Both have many friends and it is the wish of every one that they live to celebrate their golden Wedding anniversary."

Ed R. Owens, Car No. 2 of the Walter L. Main Shows, writes that while billing Wabasha, Minn., out of Lake City, recently, he met Fred F. Hoffmann, former clown of Ringling, Gottmar, Walter Main and other circuses back in nineties. Hoffman now has a hotel, saloon and picture house in Wabasha, in as much a trouper as ever, knows how to welcome showfolks and would like to hear from friends. His address is 107 Main street.

Harry G. Goldsmith, circus billposter, better known to his friends as "Goldie," is back in this country after ten months' service in France with the 51st Pioneer Infantry and would appreciate hearing from friends. He is with the Wallace Poster Advertising Company, Elmira, N. Y. Harry says to aid in adapting himself to the home atmosphere he read a copy of The Billboard thru from cover to cover seven times while returning across the big pond.

Murdock, the Man Who Knows, who started East from Seattle last December with his all-new Show of Wonders, and had a very successful tour as far as Kansas City, has shipped his entire paraphernalia and company to Southern California, where his advance representative, Harry G. Seber, has arranged twelve weeks of dates, beginning the second week of the current month. They will play the Coast this summer, going Eastward in the fall over the same route played last winter.

The John Robinson Circus, according to clippings reaching Solly's desk, has been giving great satisfaction thru Canada. "Not since the Barnum & Bailey Circus was here in 1906 has Fredericton seen anything like as good a tented show as the John Robinson Circus, which gave two performances in Fredericton yesterday," says The Daily Gleaner of Fredericton, dated July 9, in almost a column article. The Amherst Daily News says: "The John Robinson Circus has come and gone, yet in its wake it has left no complaints. Altho prices were higher than usual, the performance under the big top was well worth the money." This paper also devoted almost a column to the show.

Frank L. Rain, of Fairbury, Neb., and formerly a well-known Western showman, was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks during the national convention at Atlantic City recently. Mr. Rain will be remembered as a legal adjuster of the old Campbell Bros.' Circus. He also at one time had the billposting plant at Fairbury. At present he is county attorney of Jefferson County and was one of the principle organizers of the Nebraska association. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, as well as the University of Michigan. Mr. Rain became an Elk in 1906 and was one of the organizers of the Fairbury Lodge.

Jolly Jenaro, the well-known clown juggler, formerly of Forepaugh-Sells and many other circus and carnival organizations, is back in harness playing parks and has a number of good fairs booked in the Northwest. Incidentally the season so far has been an unfortunate one for Jenaro. He first lost all his juggling tools in a fire, next he was put out of business for seven weeks on account of being struck by an automobile, from which accident he just recently recovered. Always of an optimistic temperament Jolly says after the rain there is sure to follow sunshine, and he will try to finish the year with no further mishaps. He worked Fourth of July week at Dayton, O., and the following week at Milwaukee, Wis.

Did you ever get hep to how the term, "hep," originated? Before it became of almost general use it had a very definite origin, according to Mike Bodkins, who became remnant while in company with a Billboard representative recently. "It was away back in the early seventies," said Mr. Bodkins, "while I was with the W. W. Cole Shows that Joe Hepp had charge of some of the privileges. He had one of the keenest brains ever in a human head. No matter what situation arose, no matter what danger threatened, Joe Hepp always seemed prepared for it. To such an extent did this talent develop that people on the show began to say 'I'm hep to it,' when they wished to express themselves as prepared or forewarned. It afterward proved to be a popular expression—and grew—and stuck."

Thomas Clifford, one of the best known of the oldtime circus performers, who died in the County Hospital, Chicago, July 10, was one of the first acrobats to turn a double somersault successfully. He was one of the greatest of leapers, an act of such physical demands that it is said to have resulted in his crippled condition in later years. It was while leaping from a powerful springboard over the backs of a herd of elephants that Clifford evolved the double somersault, something unheard of up to that time. According to Mike Bodkins, the veteran showman, who is now custodian of the Showmen's League headquarters in Chicago, Clifford worked with the best shows of his day, including P. T. Barnum and Spalding & Rogers, and was regarded as a performer of exceptional merit. Clifford is said to have a wife living in Missouri and a son in Chicago, whose addresses are not known.

Billy S. Garvie, of Hartford, Conn., sends in a copy of a playbill of Barnum's Museum, New York, the original being in his rare collection of theater bills:

Claude Shelton, 1009 F street, Lawton, Okla., writes he is soon to be discharged from the army, having seen service overseas, and would like to hear from all old buddies of the rope and saddle. He is known to them as "Spider Shelton," formerly with "Curley" Roberts, Hugh Strickland, Bryan Roach and others.

The Roundup to be staged by the Bozeman Roundup Association at Bozeman, Mont., August 12-14, is the first contest to be held by the association in that city. The event is being put on in conjunction with the Elks' State Convention, a point in itself assuring a very large attendance. L. P. Work and R. P. McClelland, directors, are doing all in their power to make the event the best show of its kind ever held in Montana. There are now in course of construction, a quarter-mile track arena and amphitheater, arrangements being made for the seating of 20,000 people. It will also be noted that the Bozeman Roundup follows the Frontier Days at Cheyenne and precedes The Stampede at Calgary, thus affording contestants ample opportunity of attending all three events. Ad Day has been engaged as arena director.

The following letter was received last week from F. T. Corcoran, of Fort Morgan, Col.: "As I have had several letters from the boys as to whether we were going to have a frontier show this fall or not I wish to say that we will not have one. We certainly thank the boys who helped us build up one of the best frontier shows in this part of the country. It was always a big drawing card, and we always paid in full. Also wish to thank The Billboard for the assistance it always gave us. If you will kindly mention this in your Corral Column we will duly appreciate the same."

The Fifth Annual Stampede will be held at Durant, Ok., September 3-6. Gus Massey is manager of the event. Mr. Massey is also manager of the Third Annual Stampede to be held in Tishomingo September 11-13. He may be addressed concerning both events at Durant, "Red" Harris, manager Cowboy Band, writes from Grangeville, Id.: "Saw a reference in The Billboard regarding the Stampede at Thermopolis, Wyo., June 27-29, but have not read a report of this contest. Our band went there from Grangeville to play for the Stampede, and we found a real show and some real Western folks. It was a long trip—railroad fare for the band was $1,200—but it was worth it. I do not recall now who the winners were, but the program was good, and the riding and bulldogging was above the ordinary. Leonard Stroud, of Oklahoma, was the star performer with the ropes, and our Tex Frazzell worked with him in the arena every day. This Stroud boy is sure some artist, and an artist who is a credit to the game. We found Ray C. Alvis, manager of the Thermopolis Stampede, to be bearcat at the contest game and a square shooter all the way. Our riders did not go into the contests, as we were the only band employed by the management and we had our hands full dishing out harmony and jazz. May go up to Guy Weadick's Stampede at Calgary if present plans develop. Grangeville is the home of the original border days—ask Cuba Crutcheff, Jason Stanley, Lew Minor, Johnny Baldwin and others about the show here. Expect to put over another Cowboy's Congress about October 7-10. Will advise as plans develop."

Results of the North Central Washington Roundup held July 3-5 at Wenatchee, Wash.—Every event was on time. About 32,000 people attended and left well pleased, boasting for an annual Roundup. $3,500 was advertised as prizes, but $6,000 was paid, as the business men subscribed an additional $3,000. $2,500 of which went for purses and prizes for special events. There was not a single argument or protest of a decision, also, the judges were publicly thanked for their fairness in judging. There was but one accident to mar an otherwise perfect three days: "Slim" Talbot, just returned from France, had his leg again broken. He had been off crutches but about four weeks when he entered the contest. He put up a fine ride the first day, bareback and with saddle, but on the last day his bareback horse plunged against the side of the chute breaking Slim's leg. However, he says altho it hurt him, he did not know it was broken until he got off his horse from "scratching." He is in the Deaconess Hospital and doing nicely. The ladies' bronk riding exhibited by Alice Metee Wilson and Prairie Lilly was excellent and on the last day they rode the horses that won the "worst horse" money, Alice Wilson on Black Diamond and Prairie Lilly on Blue Blazes. Jim and Frank Roach furnished the backing horses from the United States, and H. Kitcher from Canada. B. C. Dixon, of Pendleton, created quite a sensation during the girl bronk riding by instead of picking up their horses, he just reached out and got himself an arm full of girl, taking them off in the old time "chase for the bride" style. The buckers were all good, no one had to ask for a second horse and not a fall down horse was used. Hans Richter, of British Columbia and Dannie Clark, of Pendleton, were truly helpful around the arena and good fellows everywhere. Wenatchee is a real show town and the people of the surrounding country will support and patronize any amusement of merit. Already plans are under way for their 1920 show.

FINAL PRIZE WINNERS.

Quarter Mile Indian Race—David Minthorn, first, 30 sec., $60.; Hans Richter, second, 31 sec., $30.; Richard Burke, third, 31 1/2 sec., $15.

Cowboy Steer Roping—Jim Roach, first, 1-46; $150.; Dan Clark, third, 2-8, $100.

Trick and Fancy Roping—Bobby Burke, first, $125.; Richard Burke, second, $75.

Bareback Horse Riding—Slim Talbot, first, $75.; Harry E. Ross, second, $30.; Clarence Mandeville, third, $10.

Cowboy Pony Express—Jim Roach, first, total time for 3 miles, 6-42, $150.; Bert McFarland, second, 6-46, $100.; Richard Burke, third, 6-53, $50.

The trick and fancy riding by Richard and Bobby Burke, also the ladies' bucking horse contest was for exhibition purposes only, no prizes being awarded.

In the cowboys' relay race Bert McFarland, was first, total time for 6 miles, 9-57, $150.; Richard Burke, second, 10 minutes, $100.; Jim Roach, third, 10-6, $50.

Steer Bull Dugging—Tex Daniels, first, time for two steers, 2-24, $200.; Buffalo Daniels, second, 2-28, $125.; W. E. Baker, third, 2-30, $75.

Ladies Race—Babe Hardy, first, 30 seconds.

$60.; Alice Wilson, second, 31 seconds, $30. Mrs. Peter Carter, third, 31 1-2 seconds, $15.
Cow Boy Bucking Contest—Bob Clark, first, $300.; Tex Daniels, second, $200.; Bob Ingersoll, third, $100.

Dan Clark of Portland won the maverick race Saturday and Clarence Mandeville of Ephrata won the wild horse race on the last day.

Bob Clark of Yakima won the big bucking event by showing the best skill in riding the toughest horses to be found by the management. Tex Daniels won the steer bull dogging contest and came in second in the bucking contest.

Richard Burke, the Umatilla Indian from Cayuse, Ore., carried away the greatest number of awards and the most money. His three days' work netted him over $500. His brother, Bobby, also did well. Bob Ingersoll made a fine showing, winning third place in bucking contest.

Everyone voted Slim Allen a real promoter. More details next week.

PRIZES RAISED

At Hutchinson (Kan.) Roundup—Several Hands Already on Scene

The Roundup at Hutchinson, Kansas, August 7-9, which will be staged at the State fair grounds, promises to be one of the biggest contests of the season. The dates come at the close of one of the biggest wheat harvests of many years, just when the harvest hands will have some time for recreation and plenty of money to spend.

In view of the fact that the outlook for the contest is exceptionally good, W. W. Block, manager, raised some of the prizes so that they will be big enough to suit all hands.

Fog Horn Clancy, contest publicity expert and announcer, has been engaged to handle the publicity and announcing, and is already on the job conducting one of his usual red hot publicity campaigns.

A number of the hands have already dropped in and are waiting for the contest, among whom are Dan Offutt, Goldie Danaherty, Leonard McCoy and Doc Hayes. The Garden City bucking horses will be used, and the management has engaged a car load of roping and bulldogging horses which it will furnish to ropers and bulldoggers free, thus eliminating the pay of a third or half of what you win for the use of a horse, as practiced at so many contests.

A VISIT TO RINGLING-B. &amp; B.

By FAX LUDLOW (ex-soldier)

After sneaking out of Bridgeport late in March the combined Ringling-Barnum & Bailey Show came back in daylight recently in a pouring rain, and then deliberately put the parade out on time, rain and all. Bridgeport always gets a parade if it is in the middle of the afternoon. Heavier matinee business than when last in was another surprise, all things considered, and the night business was big, too.

Bob Miller of Urbana, O., is trailing the big show selling hot dogs. He was too busy banding out St. Bernards to be interrupted. Lew Graham was headed one way tearing off tickets to the side-show by the yard, and Clyde Ingalls was trying to hide under a brown felt hat that looked like Bill Hart's. They do say that Clyde has had a number of remarkable sales so far this season.

The ticket wagons look very much B. & B. Charley Carroll and Buddy Hutchinson, in the white reserved seat wagon; Joe Boyton, in the blue front door wagon, and Charley Hutchinson, Fred DeWolf and Carl Hathaway in the red wagon. Mr. Hutchinson had a busy day, and wound up the festivities by a party at his home which was enjoyed by as many as could be crowded in. And oh, boy, how it rained.

Frank McIntyre is still at the front door, and John Ringling was also among those present. In fact, with the exception of Harry Jack Snell and Harry Mooney the show looked very much B. & B. Andy has the giraffe, Shaffer has the candy stands, Chick Bell the reserved seat tickets, Fred Bradna toots the whistle and Mickey Gravae hustles the props. Incidentally Mickey and Mrs. Mickey staged an after-the-show party that wasn't missed by anybody that was urged to be there.

Tommy Haynes, for eight years with B. & B. as one of Chick Bell's gentlemanly agents, has just arrived from over seas, and his wife, Mary Haynes, formerly known as Mae Curtis, with McIntyre and Heath, was playing Polka that week. Mr. and Mrs. Haynes were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fax Ludlow, and after the show the ticket-sellers' mulligan club had its last annual meeting at Fax's home, and all the neighbors heard them. Mrs. G. W. Goodsell, Fax's mother, Mrs. M. F. Capron, of Reading, Pa., and Stella Goodsell helped Mrs. Fax with the party. Among those present of international reputation were Chick Bell, Doc Nolin, Scratch Hogan, Stanley Dawson, Blondy Powell, Charley Blummell, Charley Kanally of Sterling, Ill., and Sarasota, Fla.; the younger edition of the Worrell Family, Mr. Smythe, Mr. Courtenay, Mr. Keeler, McGowan of the side-show, and Joe Boyton, who brought along a bottle opener. If anybody was forgotten it is because they sneaked out without paying their dues.

Tommy Haynes never worked harder or better in all his life. Poodles had a lot of friends waiting for him, and he got a nice reception. He made many friends at the Elks' Show two years ago who will never forget him. Bird Millman works very early in the show, and the way the act is staged is as beautiful as Bird.

All of Bagnoli's friends were on hand, and glad of it. There are other midgets, but he has a style all his own. The big aerial number is the grandest display of its kind ever offered. The Clarkonians are right where they belong, over the middle ring. It came to the turn of an aerial act to carry off the honors at Bridgeport. Mile Letzel gaining the greatest applause ever awarded a single star in Bridgeport in modern times. From way down in the blues, where the spectators were using field glasses, she won her greatest admiration.

Mrs. Bradna looked as nice as ever in the Act Beautiful and the statue number scored as beautifully as ever. The string of bulls in the menagerie is a dandy, and so are the elephant acts. The final hind leg lineup is a happy conception.

AL G. BARNES' CIRCUS

Gets Ray Thompson, Fritz Brunner and Barney Kerker

Ray Thompson is now a member of Al G. Barnes' Circus. When the show played Menomonee, Wis., Ray's home town, he came down to see the show folks and had such a good time that the lure of the sawdust caught him and now he is trouping. Needless to add that new stock is being broken and in a few days a new and startling equine act will be presented.

Fritz Brunner is also a new arrival, and is working a big mixed group. Still another is Barney Kerker, who joined in Minneapolis. Barney has seen two years' service over there, and says it is great to be trouping again. Barney is working a big bear act.

Al Flasso, the boy magician, has full charge of the inside of Bobby Fountain's Side Show, and is making a great hit. He was accepted into the R. P. O. E. Lodge in Jamestown, N. D., and will take his degree along the line somewhere. Flasso is a great little magician and escape artist, but from the initiation the boys have for him there will be no escape.

Jose Fuentes, Spanish dancer, is a great hit in the concert. Jose comes from far away Spain and can certainly step the dances that Spain is noted for. He also makes them sit up and take notice when it comes to break riding.

The new animals have arrived from San Francisco and "Governor" Al G. Barnes wires everything O. K. The big shipment is on its way to the show.—REX DE ROSSELLI.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE CIRCUS

Enters Colorado After Successful Stay in Kansas—Charles Andreas Visits

With men in the harvest fields earning $10 and $12 daily, working day and night, Sunday's included, are the present prevailing conditions in the state of Kansas. Despite this handicap, the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus has enjoyed good patronage thru the territory played, and has drawn the farmers from the fields in multitudes. Dodge City, the last stand in this state, to Pueblo, Colo., a distance of 205 miles, was made in record-breaking time.

Charles Andreas, white-haired but still full of pep, and one of the best known legal adjusters in circusdom during the past thirty years, paid the circus a visit at Great Bend, Kan. This veteran has an 1800-acre ranch, three automobiles, and a retinue of servants. Altho past the three score and ten mark, Mr. Andreas has lost none of his dashing, debonair ways that made him a character upon which a great career was built.

The show's visit to Jess Willard's home town, Lawrence, Kan., was a sad affair. Jess has a number of staunch friends and admirers with this organization who backed him to the limit as a winner. In his home village he vaunted that there was no man living who could hand him a wallop that would drop him. Over $50,000 was dropped there on the big ranchman. Some of the big winners on long odds with this circus who cleaned up handsomely were Charles Davis, Pete Seigel, Tom Crum, et al., who are going to New Orleans for the winter tour sports.

Rosa Ryan, one of the pretty trapezists, will grace the front ranks of the New York Winter Garden production when the new revue opens there in November.

Now for the overland trip. Hand flies and all kinds of grit, Carrots, sagebrush and coyotes. Make us feel like Rocky Mountain goats. Whereof came alkali prevails. Brings back tears of joy and wails. But we're on the old Santa Fe route. Thanks to Fred Harvey, who you've heard so much about. —DIXON VAN VALKENBERG.

DREAMLAND CIRCUS SIDE-SHOW

Coney Island, N. Y., July 17.—Business with the Dreamland Circus Side Show is back to normal again after the big rush Fourth of July week. The big money started to come Thursday afternoon, July 3, and did not end until Sunday, July 6. On the Fourth the show opened at 11 a. m. and closed at 1 a. m. the next day.

The Dreamland Social and Swimming Club had its usual meeting last Monday after the show, and everything went fine. A new member joined, namely Fugl. On account of the long hours 4th of July, it was impossible for the club to celebrate on that day, so the celebration was postponed until the following Monday night, when the first banquet of the season was given. All the members were present, yes, even Sir Edwards and Edema. The banquet was opened by President Harry Knowles, and consisted of a chop suey supper. Mr. Salih and Mr. Gumperts were guests of the club, and a good time was had by every one present. The banquet closed with a speech by Mr. Gumperts and Mr. Salih. Richard Abbott did wonderful work in seating the people, and he also did some waiting. Oh, boy, he sure is some waiter, and, as a musician, he is a good phonograph player.

Herman Joseph, the Jew comedian with the Ringling-Barnum Shows, was a recent visitor of Frank Bowes, ticket seller of the Eden Musee; also Charles Buffy, former clown. They had numbers, which, according to present plans, will be in the majority and under the personal direction of W. A. Jacks, who has put in no less than twenty years as a roper and rider with Wild West shows. Vera Jacks and her high jumping thoroughbred, Teddy Roosevelt, will be one of the features.

Mr. and Mrs. Emswiler have been off the road now for two seasons as his two theaters and the Fairmount Amusement Park in Reg. Lion have kept him so busy that he has had little time to think of anything else.

Mr. Emswiler and his wife are oldtimers with the white tops, having been at one time with the Robinson 10 Big, putting on no less than seven acts. As a joey, Emswiler is perfectly at home, and is one of the best male handlers in the business. With his new show he and his wife will get back in harness again, offering their cloud swing, single and double traps and rings and swinging ladder, while Emswiler alone will do his balancing trap, act and slide for life as a free attraction.

The following is an incomplete roster of the show: Samuel H. Emswiler, proprietor and general manager; John W. Eppley, business manager; W. A. Jacks, equestrian director;

Charles Brickner, musical director; Walter Boyer, side-show; Martin Spangler, commissary and privileges. Mrs. Emswiler will make her home in the red wagon with the books and finances.

TO KILL LAZY ELEPHANTS

South Africa Will Exterminate the Huge Beasts

"The life of the famous African elephant seems to be in danger, for the South Africa Cape Provincial Council proposes to exterminate those in the Addo Bush forest, near Port Elizabeth," reads an Associated Press cable from London, July 17. "For generations past these animals have been a great nuisance to the farmers. They have damaged crops and killed several persons.

"The African elephant is noted for its laziness—quite the reverse of its Indian relative, which, when called upon, cheerfully and easily shoulders a burden of a ton or so. However, an effort is to be made to train the young ones for log hauling in the Cape forests.

"The rounding up of the animals has involved the erection of a number of lofty observation towers and so large are the numbers to be killed that the shooting of the animals will take over six months. The natives enjoy elephant meat and the prospect of an unlimited supply for several months is being eagerly anticipated.

"The Provisional Council's announcement has caused keen regret among naturalists, some of whom say that should the threat be carried into effect the elephant, like the mastodon and the Ichthyosaurus, may become extinct."

SELLS-FLOTO ADVERTISING CAR NO. 3

Dan Spayde, chief of the Sells-Floto Advertising Car No. 3, won a lot of attention for the car July 4 by the attractive way in which he decorated the panels with shields and small American flags. The car lay in Long Branch, N. J., over the national holiday, but ran thru Newark on its way to the popular watering place, and in both towns the car created a great deal of admiring interest. Jack Oshier is the manager of the car, and his crew includes Edward Rexa, boss billposter, Harry Farquhar, Tom Bagan, Joe Hawley, Ray McTearke, Ross Hannum, Clyde Malloy, Carl Ahlgren, Carl Grod, Kip Humes, Chas. Fager and Dan Spayde, the famous one-legged chief. Car No. 3 has had a remarkable experience. Practically every man who opened the season with the car is still with it, and the changes have been confined to increasing the number of men, as a larger force has been required. Willard D. Coxy, general press agent of the Sells-Floto Circus, has his office on the car.

SCHLOSSBERG'S SIDE-SHOW

Doing Big Business on Atlantic City Boardwalk

Atlantic City, July 18.—The one big attraction at Atlantic City on the Boardwalk, which, judging from the stream of visitors going in and out, seems to be not only doing a wonderful business, but also giving entire satisfaction to the Boardwalk strollers, is Schlossberg's Circus Side-Show. A perusal of the lineup, both front and inside, is the most convincing argument as to why this attraction is popular and pleasing, and bids fair to close the season with a large balance on the right side of the ledger.

Following is the complete roster of the show: Louis Schlossberg and I. Klastorin, proprietors and managers; Charles E. Huuspath, openings; Don Antonio Cozella, inside lecturer; Mrs. I. Klastorin, tickets. May-Joe "double bodied, three-legged wonder," featured under the personal direction and management of Harry Currier. The Lees, Captain David and the Mrs. Impalement act, Punch and marionettes. The Kriegers, Ed J. and the Mrs., in a very clever and startling mindreading act, selling horoscopes. Tilly Wee-Wee, midjet, fast winning her way into the hearts of Atlantic City visitors by her ladylike and entertaining ways. Mrs. F. M. Weidemann (Wootsie), Electricia in the Electric Chair, Irene Katz, illusionist and spiders; J. Sherman, ticket taker. Joe Shapiro and William Glickman, aerial swinging ball. Joe Heecker, expansionist. As a feature May-Joe is more than making good, and having the time of his young life showing visitors the shimmy dance. "It's the only dance I do," says Mar-Joe, "because I can sit down to it." During the past week the show has been further strengthened by the arrival of Fred M. Weidmann, late of the convict ship, Success, which is stranded now in Pittsburg. Mr. Weidmann will be remembered as the lecturer of the Wonderland Museum in San Francisco during the big fair, and as manager of Polack's Water Circus last year. He says he came here for a rest, and remarks: "Fine chance for a rest in a busy beehive like this museum and show!"

To Soon Leave North Dakota

Preparations are now being made for Myhre's Motor Show to leave the State of North Dakota between July 25 and 30, but just which way the show will head it has not been learned. Business in the State has been very good. Hutton proving the banner spot thus far. Two very good houses were played to at Batgate July 4, considering the fact that there were celebrations all around the show. A. J. Duffy and his assistants autoed over and saw the night performance at St. Thomas.

Manager E. E. Myhre has added another Joey, making a total of four with the show. Frank Gretencord, side show manager, has purchased a number of new animals for the annex. The big show program is the same as when the outfit opened, only that two clown numbers have been added. The staff also remains the same. Frank Bennet, chef, left sometime ago to join a carnival company.

The show played Michigan City Monday, July 14, the first ring outfit to appear there in five years. The town has always been passed up on account of the high license.

Have you looked thru the Letter List this issue? There may be a letter advertised for you.

FAIRS and EXPOSITIONS

FINE PROGRAM

For Minnesota State Fair

Secretary Thomas H. Canfield Goes the Limit in Arranging for Entertainment Features

Hamline, Minn., July 19.—The Minnesota State Fair and Victory Exposition is to be held August 30 to September 6 this year, the first year the fair has ever been held longer than six days. The fair will open Saturday morning and close Saturday evening of the following week. Up to this time the fair has always opened on Labor Day, but this year, Labor Day is the third day of the fair.

The fair this year is putting on the greatest entertainment and educational program it has ever attempted. The entertainment program is to be featured by two of the most thrilling aerial acts ever seen here or abroad. Lt. Ormer Locklear, the aerial wonder of the year, will pass from plane to plane in mid-air each afternoon of the first three days of the fair. During the last five days of the fair, Lt. Virgil Grace, naval aviator, just returned from the Western front, will not only pass from plane to plane in mid-air, but will drop from an aeroplane to a fast moving auto before the grandstand. Lt. Grace will also give an exhibition of aerial acrobatics on his plane, moving out unconcernedly on the tail, upper

MISS MABEL L. STIRE

Secretary of the Mississippi State Fair

As secretary of the Mississippi State Fair it is one of the duties of Miss Mabel L. Stire to see that the fair is well advertised—and on that score Miss Stire is not derelict in her duty. From one end of the State to the other the fair is heralded thru various publicity mediums, and it has never failed to "bring home the bacon"—at least not since Miss Stire has been its guiding spirit.

But advertising the fair and advertising Mabel L. Stire are very different matters. Miss Stire does not court publicity, she has no press agent, and she doesn't like to talk about herself. Which is all the more reason the editor wanted to run her photograph. Genuine modesty is a rare virtue nowadays.

For twelve months the editor has been trying to convince Miss Stire that Billboard readers would like to look upon her likeness and know something of the work she is doing, and finally she has sent a photograph—possibly to be rid of our pestering. "I am sending you the only photo available," she writes. "Not possessing a press agent it just is not possible for me to write a biography of myself. Briefly, was born in Iowa, brought up in Mississippi as a small child, sent back to Iowa to school, and my residence in the two States now averages fifty-fifty. Have been with this fair since 1912, when I worked a few months as stenographer; in 1913-'14 as assistant secretary, and have been secretary of the fair since its purchase by the city of Jackson in 1915."

We might add what Miss Stire is too modest to say, that since she has been secretary the fair has made great strides. Its educational features have been much extended and it has become a great factor for good in the State.

wings and lower wings of his plane, while it is flying at a terrific speed thru the air, and hanging by his knees from the axle. Lt. Grace belongs to the Federated Flyers, Minneapolis, Minnesota, a group of army and navy flyers who have associated themselves for professional engagements.

The Theatre-Duffield production, The Battle of Chateau Thierry, will be the fireworks display before the grandstand. Alex. Sloan will superintend the two days of auto racing, Wednesday and Saturday, the fifth and last days of the fair. Horse racing will be featured Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. A stupendous vaudeville program on two big stages will be given afternoon and evening of each day, except Sunday, under special direction of Fred Barnes, of the Barnes Amusement Co., of Chicago.

The music program of the Minnesota State Fair alone will cost more than $12,000 this year. Three big bands are being featured. They are Thavilla's Concert Band, the famous Million Dollar Band of the Sunset Division, and the 151st Artillery Band of the Rainbow Division, one of the most famous bands of the war. In addition there will be a Victory Concert on Saturday and Sunday, the two opening days of the fair, in which a combined instrumental band of 150 pieces will play and 5,000 persons, selected from the best singers in Minnesota, will sing. This will be held before the grandstand. Miss Florence Macbeth and Paul Althone, noted opera singers, will be the soloists.

The Midway will be in charge of the C. A. Wortham Shows. Last year the Wortham shows broke all previous records for a one-day's showing in America by a sale of more than 100,000 admissions on Labor Day at the Minnesota State Fair. On that day 144,000 persons attended the Minnesota State Fair.

A sum amounting to $100,000 is being spent in a general improvement program. The freight terminals are being enlarged. The big grandstand is being given a new brick front and ends. New walks and new streets are being laid. Nearly all of the buildings are being painted. The grounds cover 350 acres. There are over one hundred permanent buildings. Grounds and buildings are valued at more than $2,000,000.

Late this fall work is to begin upon the big $300,000 livestock barn. This structure will be the largest structure of its kind in the world, and will cover four square blocks of ground. It will be built of concrete and steel. It will house all of the horses and nearly all of the cattle.

VIRGINIA STATE FAIR

Appropriations Materially Increased and New Buildings Erected

Richmond, Va., July 19.—The fourteenth exhibition of the Virginia State Fair will be held the week beginning October 6 and will be known as The Victory Exhibition.

On account of the 1918 fair having been closed by the State Board of Health, the directors determined this year to have a two-in-one fair and materially increased appropriations for all departments.

Three new buildings to house the agricultural exhibits have been built, also new sheep barns. All old restaurants and refreshment stands have been rebuilt standard size and the grounds as a whole will present a pleasant surprise to the visitors this year.

Never in the history of the fair has there been shown so much interest by all classes of exhibitors and concessionaires. The free attractions are the best that money could buy and the visitors will see a show that has never been equaled in Virginia.

Polack Bros.' 50 Big Shows will be seen on Wahoo Lane, and Ben. Gillick, New York City, will handle the concessions.

An old-time Virginia running race will be held, with four flat races and a steeplechase each day, except Saturday, when the track will be used for automobile racing.

You can't stand still in the fair game, and it will be the aim of General Manager W. C. Saunders, to keep them on their toes at the fair and give them something to talk about when they go home.

KNOX COUNTY FAIR

Only County Fair in United States Controlled by Fraternal Organization

Vincennes, Ind., July 19.—F. M. Barnes, Inc., will furnish the big free acts of the Knox County Fair which is to be held here eight days starting August 25 and ending September 1, which is Labor Day. The contrast is the largest ever given by the Knox County Fair and calls for the appearance of Gruber's Animals, the Riding Davenport, Bett's Seals, Rollo, the Limit, the Tokio Japs and Rice, Bell and Baldwin. Mr. Marsh of the Barnes Office will personally superintend all performances.

The Knox County Fair Association has also closed a contract with Campbell United Shows for an eight days' appearance, and will hold an automobile show in a tent 80x200 as well as give $4,100 in purses in the speed ring. A big card will be a live stock parade on August 29, while others will be automobile races August 30, running races on Labor Day and a big peace celebration on Sunday August 31.

The Knox County Fair is unique in that it is controlled by Vincennes Lodge 891 Loyal Order of Moose. It is believed no other county fair in the United States is annually given by a fraternal organization.

RICHARDSON'S FIRST TRIP

E. L. Richardson, manager of the Calgary Exhibition, Calgary, Canada, took his first airplane trip during the recent fair, ascending to a height of 3,500 feet with Captain McCall.

NORWICH (N. Y.) FAIR

Binghamton, N. Y., July 19.—The annual Chenango County Fair will be held at Norwich, N. Y., August 26-29, and Secretary W. W. Smith and President Zuber of the Agricultural Society are busy with the program, premium lists and plans for the biggest exhibit and entertainment of its kind ever held in Norwich. Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo will be the guest of the association August 28.

MORE THAN MAKES GOOD

Chicago, July 19.—The Daily Journal, of Edmonton, Alberta, July 12, in commenting on the record-breaking attendance at the Edmonton fair, adds:

"Manager Edward Carruthers, of the United Fairs Booking Association, of Chicago, who has charge of all the platform attractions and who has more than made good by giving Edmonton the best program of vaudeville features ever presented here, has promised a full program with additional thrills tonight."

HAWAII'S TERRITORIAL FAIR

An Ad in The Billboard Brought Responses From Entertainers All Over the States and Even Australia

Honolulu, June 26.—Hawaii's second annual Territorial Fair, running from Monday, June 9 to Sunday, June 15, inclusive, drew an attendance from the Mainland and the various islands which registered over 145,000 admissions, about 30,000 better than the first fair he last year. Greater improvement was shown in all lines—agricultural, horticultural, industrial and livestock, but what drew the people to the exposition was the entertainment offered, horse racing, polo, athletics, military spectacles, music and, to a very large extent, The Elks' Range. The latter was a great amusement zone, in which were gathered a large number of concessions as well as local stunts produced by the Honolulu Elks, who had the amusement attractions in charge. Quite a number of concessions were imported from the Mainland States, not a few having been obtained as the result of an advertisement for talent inserted in The Billboard.

The ad in The Billboard drew inquiries from all over the States and even from Australia. J. Walter Doyle, executive secretary of the Fair Commission of Hawaii, was besieged by applications from persons with acts and shows and specialties, some wanting to come here for the 1919 Fair, some for the next fair, in 1920, but all anxious to be informed concerning conditions here, and the opportunities presented in Honolulu for making money. Owing to the embarrassed shipping facilities between the States and Honolulu, following the great war, the fair this year, was unable to arrange for all the Mainland talent desired, but these conditions are but temporary, and will be remedied long before the time for next year's fair, when, it is expected, a point will be made of bringing a good number of Mainland attractions to Hawaii. Mr. Doyle was not willing to contract with talent from abroad unless he could assure those with whom he contracted of return steamship accommodations. He did not want to get people down here to be forced to stay over for several weeks or a couple of months. Honolulu is hungry for entertainment, ordinarily having nothing outside of moving pictures to entertain the people in the way of shows. The Elks' Range proved a big success, being crowded every day and evening, clearly demonstrating that the crowds are always ready to patronize good, wholesome, lively amusement.

TO HOLD FIVE-DAY FAIR

Hagerstown Exhibit To Open Oct. 14

Baltimore, Md., July 19.—The directors of the Hagerstown Interstate Fair Association at a meeting Saturday last decided to hold the annual fair five days, October 14 to 18, inclusive. In former years the fair was a four-day event, beginning on a Tuesday and ending on a Friday.

Arrangements were made to hold a large horse show in connection with the fair. Several hundred horses are expected to be entered from Maryland and the Virginias.

BLUE GRASS FAIR PURSES

Lexington, Ky., July 19.—Secretary Ken Walker, stated that it is contemplated to announce for the Blue Grass Fair the first week in September a running race program of five events daily and purses to average $300.

AGRICULTURE WORK

Of Value Being Done by Chattanooga Inter-State Fair Association

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 19.—The Chattanooga Inter-State Fair (formerly the Chattanooga District Fair), is now engaged in some very definite agricultural work.

The association recently purchased two large gasoline tractor outfits, with plows and harrows, and are renting them to farmers of this section at the actual cost of operation.

As a result of the venture about 500 or 600 acres of land are now in cultivation, which would not otherwise have been, and a healthy demand has been created among the farmers of this section for more tractors. It is believed that at least ten or twelve tractors will be purchased this fall as a result of the practical demonstration made by the fair association.

The fair association so far has made no profit from the venture, but it is believed that a great deal of valuable advertising has been obtained, as many farmers are now convinced that the fair is being operated entirely for their benefit.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR SLOPE FAIR

Mandan, N. D., July 19.—New buildings which are planned in anticipation of a successful sale of new fair stock include a stock sales and exhibition pavilion and probably an industrial building. The estimated cost is $10,000 and it is hoped to have the new buildings ready for the fair in September of this year.

Secretary J. A. Biggs states that the race program is particularly attractive, with purses totaling $1,500. The dates of this fair are September 16-18.

FLEMINGTON FAIR

Flemington, N. J., July 19.—The annual Flemington Fair will be held this year August 5, 6 and 7, and there will be running, trotting and pacing races of high order each day.

The first day of the fair will be known as Army and Navy Day, and all men in uniform will be admitted free. Special attractions that will appeal to the service men will be presented. The last day will be known as Politicians' Day, when the usual large turn-out of politicians is expected.

BRORAIN RE-ELECTED

Tampa, Fla., July 19.—The annual stockholders' meeting of the South Florida Fair Association was held in the directors' room of the Peninsular Telephone Company, with Chairman W. G. Brorein presiding. A good percentage of the stockholders was in attendance and the following officers and board of directors for the ensuing year were elected:

W. G. Brorein was elected president to succeed himself for another year of service with C. R. McFarland first vice-president; C. A. McKay, second vice-president; Dr. L. A. Bize, treasurer; and A. L. Allen, secretary. W. G. Brorein, C. R. McFarland, C. A. McKay, Jr., Louis A. Bize, A. L. Allen, C. H. Brown, J. E. Wall, H. E. Snow, Ike Maas, D. C. Gillett, A. D. Cuesta, L. E. Knight, C. N. Benjamin, D. B. McKay, E. C. Flannigan will serve as directors. T. J. Hanlon, Jr., succeeds C. F. Wetterer who resigned on leaving Tampa a short time ago. The former executive committee was re-elected with C. C. Nott to succeed C. E. Range, deceased.

FAIR NOTES

The Malheur County Fair will be held at Ontario, Ore., Sept. 9-12. Secretary E. Leslie Body advises.

The nineteenth annual Missouri State Fair, August 9-16, is offering $44,530.

The Hertford County Fair, Winton, N. C., will be held on October 21-24 inclusive on a bigger scale than last year, as this year's prospects are far better.

County agricultural agents of Wisconsin will hold their annual convention at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., July 22 and 23.

Subscriptions totaling $9,300 have been secured towards erecting a New Orleans building at the Louisiana State Fair.

The Donald Clark Duo made two balloon ascensions and did two acts on July 4 at Fremont Lake, Mich. They have six fairs booked in Michigan.

A new grandstand is being erected on the Ionia (Mich.) fair grounds and is expected to be ready by the opening date, Aug. 12. On that date a special entertainment for returned soldiers and sailors will be staged.

The Wellington, O., fair will be held Aug. 19, 20 and 21, and indications are that the exhibits, races and entertainment features will all be better than usual.

Bell Tinsler Bros. started their fair season on July 4, on the Canadian (Circuit). Their bookings are for twenty-one weeks, closing in Florida at the State Fair at Jacksonville.

Charles Gaylor, giant frog man, advises that he has signed contracts for three more celebrations and fairs—Martinetto, Wis., Newport, Tenn., and North Branch, Mich.

The annual Mason County Fair will be held at Amber Grove, Scottville, Mich., Sept. 24, 25 and 26. Charles Gowan, president of the fair association, states that indications are for a banner fair.

Five thousand dollars is to be spent for the welcome home celebration to be held in Grand Rapids, Minn., on July 24. C. C. Peterson has been appointed chairman of a committee to secure funds for the event.

The North Dakota Dairymen's and Butter-makers' Association will hold its summer meeting at Devil's Lake, N. D., July 28. There will be a number of entertainment features as well as speakers of national reputation.

The dates for the Missouri Slope Fair, Mandan, N. D., have been set for September 16-18. Several new buildings are under construction for this year's fair and the program promises the best in the history of the organization.

At a special session of the Princeton, Ind., County Council, $4,000 was appropriated for a formal homecoming for Gibson County's soldiers, which will be held September 2, the second day of the County Fair. Many special features are planned for the day.

The World Forward, a new pageant composed and directed by J. Clarence Sullivan, Columbus, Ohio, will be presented for the first time at the Ohio State Fair the last week in August. More than 2,000 children will take part, according to Mr. Sullivan.

The Seneca County Fair Association, Ticonderoga, O., which recently acquired an option on the Seneca Driving Park, let contracts for buildings which will cost $17,000. They will be completed within six weeks and it is announced that the fair will be kept open nights.

Prizes and plate valued at $5,000 will be distributed at the twenty-sixth annual exhibition of the Monmouth County Horse Show Association to be held at Hollywood Park, Long Branch, N. J., July 24, 25 and 26. The receipts of the fair this year are to be divided among Monmouth County charities.

During the ten days of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Aug. 29 to Sept. 7, free attractions, the equal of which have never before been collected in the State, will be presented. G. W. Dickinson, secretary-treasurer of the fair association, has secured the country for attractions and he has secured the best the market affords.

Dare Devil Oliver, high diver, states that he traveled all last season and last winter by auto, carrying his entire outfit, and never missed a date. "I enjoy traveling this way," he writes, "but it was hard on me at times, as I did my own driving. After finishing my faira last fall, I drove to Florida, where I spent the winter at Daytona Beach. Mrs. Oliver accompanies me on all my trips, also Uno, the champion high-diving dog."

RUTH LAW AVIATRIX

THE ONLY GIRL FLYER IN AMERICA. AS A "STUNT" AVIATOR SHE HAS NO EQUAL

ON JULY 4TH

Ruth Law flew at Central City, Iowa, drawing huge crowds from a hundred miles around. A dozen men aviators were booked in nearby towns at small prices. Many of them smashed up. They couldn't draw enough attendance at the box-office to pay their salaries.

WHY? Because there are too many men aviators and the public can see them any time without paying for a ticket. They are in every town, carrying passengers and delivering merchandise, flying free of charge.

RELIABILITY Mr. Fair Secretary, it is a well-known fact that when you engage Ruth Law as your feature attraction you can stop worrying, because you know that she will fly in her special built aeroplane, rain, shine or wind, and do her "stunts" equally as well in a 50-mile gale as in a calm. You know that the attendance will be big and that your neighboring Fair can't have the same attraction as you have advertised, because there is ONLY ONE RUTH LAW.

STATE FAIR MANAGERS: If you have engaged men aviators this year book Ruth Law also. Your patrons will enjoy the comparison and come many miles to see America's only girl flyer make the men aviators look like amateurs.

Rain in Early Afternoon Sends People to Their Homes. After Altitude Record

Central City, July 4.—Special: Ten thousand people, coming from every direction, were here for the opening day of the peace jubilee and celebration at the Wapale Valley fair grounds. A heavy downpour of rain which set in shortly after 3 o'clock out the amusements of the day short, but the people were more than satisfied, for they had already witnessed one of the greatest programs ever presented in this part of the state.

Ruth Law, the greatest aviatrix in the world, made two flights, one at 1 o'clock and the second shortly before 3 o'clock. She soared to an immense height and thrilled the people with numerous loop-the-loops, turning somersaults in the air with abandon and doing things the people had imagined were impossible. She was given a great ovation.

AIRPLANE CRASHES INTO AN OAK TREE

The first flight attempted by Lieutenant Jones at the Marion fair-grounds Friday resulted disastrously to the big Curtis machine but fortunately did not injure Lieutenant Jones and only slightly injured his passenger, Neal Bunting, who was just bruised and dazed, but suffered no cuts or broken bones.

It was about 3 o'clock when the propellor of the machine was given its first whirl and the engine was warmed up. It did not seem to warm up just right and was kept running for five or ten minutes before the blocks were removed and it was started tacking across the field. Lieutenant Jones was barely able to clear the fence southwest of the race track and he was heading directly for the grove of trees between the amphitheater and the first entrance to the grounds. The engine refused to pick up power and it was impossible to keep from crashing into the trees. The plane struck and broke off several large limbs of an oak tree and fell sidewise on the planes, crumpling up the planes under the fuselage as if they were paper. Lieutenant Jones crawled out unhurt. Neal Bunting seemed to be stunned and was helped out, his clothing loosened and as soon as he was rubbed and fanned a few minutes, he recovered and was able to stand up.

SPANISH FORT

New Orleans' Pleasure Park

Only Amusement Resort of the Big Southern City Is Enjoying a Profitable Season

New Orleans, July 19.—Located on the outskirts of the city, on beautiful Lake Pontchartrain, noted for its bathing and fishing facilities, approximately five miles from the business center, auto roads and an excellent electric railway schedule to its very doors, Spanish Fort is the only amusement park here in a city of four hundred thousand, and has a wonderful future.

Turning to your right as you enter, H. D. Smith operates his Mighty Whip, in its glorious first season. So successful has Mr. Smith operated that he contemplates buying two more rides for next season. During an interview with the writer, these facts were gathered. "The Whip" has paid for itself double," said Mr. Smith. Two concessions are to his credit—Kewpie dolls and candy lay down. Miss Kate Hancock enjoys her fourth season with Mr. Smith and always manages to be top each night. Give her credit—she is a hard worker and knows how to "get and hold the crowd."

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Sims, formerly of the Johnny J. Jones' Exposition have their roll down with Ed. Hogan, agent. The latter is now recovering from a severe operation. All doing good business.

Ted Cooper has his Wash Board and is getting his.

Jack Griffin has his wheel, pool table and swinging ball. Jack has an excellent idea in the way of a water club here. Go to it, Jack. The boys will be here this winter "cutting up a little dough."

L. P. Mattie, with his shooting gallery and wheels, reports excellent business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ludke, formerly of Littlejohn's Shows have the Hoop-la, while directly opposite A. Martinez operates his Binger.

Chas. Detzel, with his Kentucky Derby is breaking all records. "The usual drop of business which always follows the 4th of July thru the country has no clamp on business this season," says Charlie.

Sam Martinez has two wheels with Ed. Gonzales and Paul Rodriguez as his agents.

McClain and Williams have the drome with W. A. Schiller and Jack LeBeau (late of Sanges Amusement Co.) as riders. Jack stated that he is well satisfied here but the madam misses those Sunday morning rides and concerts on the coraers. She is having a glorious time bathing; almost keeps Jack broke providing antidotes for sunburns.

T. H. (Wlak) Wilson is here looking them over, while Prof. McCoy has charge of the music at the Naval Station.

The swing scenic railway, circle swing, Ferris, etc., are all doing good business.

The 1919 season will be a winner while the 1920 will be commencing. What Spanish Fort needs is more amusement devices such as Crazy House, Trip to Mars, etc. The more the merrier. The time will come when this park will be in the minds of the entire amusement world. What is needed is a live promoter and the boom starts. The people here, as stated, have no other amusement during the summer, and owing to the lack of some other drawing card they are forced to patronize the picture show or vaudeville house. With its large population Spanish Fort offers excellent inducements to the show man. The people have the money but no place to spend it. That's the situation here, so wake up, Mr. Showman, and get in on something which is bound to grow.—JIMMIE KANE.

RIVERVIEW CONCESSIONAIRES

Give Banquet in Honor of Walter R. Johnson

Chicago, July 16.—One of the most successful social functions ever held in Riverview Park was a banquet given in the Casino last night by the concessionaires of the park in honor of Walter R. Johnson, who has charge of the concessions.

The great banquet hall on the third floor of the Casino was filled with the concessionaires, their families and invited friends. A six-course dinner was served, the guests being seated at 6:30 o'clock. After the luncheon President G. H. Lauerma, of the concessionaires of Riverview Park, arose, and after stating the purpose of the meeting, called on the speakers.

William Schmidt, the veteran president of the park, and father of George Schmidt, manager of the park, addressed the assemblage in a vein that brought rounds of applause. He was followed by Miss Carlotta Stockdale, leading woman in the Revue of Notions, who sang, accompanied by an orchestra. She was warmly received and responded with an encore. William Johnson, father of Walter Johnson, who was among the speakers, both amused and entertained his hearers. He was followed by a photographer, who snapped a picture of the guests.

A clever, clean-cut talk was made by Charles Agnew, secretary to Chief of Police John J. Garrity, who spoke on the advantages of co-operation and remarked that he saw manifold signs of that quality in the park management. Joe Gallagher, of the park police, was called on for a talk. He smiled, showed how gracefully he could bow and resumed his seat. Alderman Dorsey Crowe, Chicago's youngest Alderman, spoke and got several "hands."

Alderman Maypole followed, likewise Alderman Steffen and Kostner. The latter fished a spoon out of his coat pocket while talking and looked reproachfully at Steffen. Alderman Kostner demanded that he be allowed to do all of the talking while he had the floor—and did. Louis Hignett, chief clerk in the office of City Prosecutor Harry Miller, spoke and charged the Aldermen present with looking for something for nothing, giving that as a reason for their presence. All of the speakers showed familiarity with both the park and its management and spoke in glowing terms of both.

Ed Hill, a concessionaire, faced the audience and said that if he was in front of his show he could talk better. "I can't seem to find the words that fit this show," he declared, but he did. Mr. Hill then came down to the subject of his chief, Walter Johnson. He told of that gentleman's broad gauge, sympathetic co-operation with the concessionaires.

"I stood Walter Johnson off for five weeks once," he said, "while it was raining every day and night. Johnson said: 'It won't rain always; cheer up.' Then I borrowed some money off of him to show how well I liked him."

Mr. Hill then held up a handsome gold watch that the assembled concessionaires had purchased at a cost of $100 and presented it to Mr. Johnson. The latter responded in a happy vein and was followed by short addresses from President Lauerma, Frank Fisher, superintendent of the park and Chester Argo, chief electrician.

The following members of the concessionaires' organization were present at the banquet:

A. Kass Sam Robbins, John Messner, G. Gross, Fred Wright, V. C. Brady, Moseyama Brothers, Fearnie Sisters, Berry T. Ono, A. Wasserman, A. Doerr, A. Laventer, Henry Merle, G. S. Richardson, Henry Beiden, William

Coultrey, Flora Sauder, F. A. Zinders, S. Ferriti, Taka Matsukowa, J. Stovitzky, Dr. Schuettler, H. Daigle, Mrs. Haight, George Levison, Ed Hill, Allen Corson, W. Hirsch, F. Ashby, Barney Tooley, E. Gard, William Leopold, Kaplin & Burke, A. Gellhardt, Mrs. Hill, William Jordan, Perry Smith, Roland McLaughlin, H. Nord, James McGrath, Kilpatrick Bros. & Klass, Lauerma & McCormick, Charles Browning, M. Penulen, W. P. Merle, Fred Pearce, Austin McFadden, Schwartz & Stark, Mrs. Stewart, B. Tracy, O. B. Daaner, Otto Small, Charles Laner, William Wesley, George Martin, Alfred Gordon and Captain Adams.

Several pleasing songs were sung by the Shaanons, three women and a man, of the Revue of Notions.

RIVER VIEW PARK NOTES

Baltimore, July 19.—It was estimated that over sixty thousand pleasureseekers passed thru the turnstiles July 4, 5 and 6, making it one of the largest weekend crowds in the history of the park.

The Royal Artillery Band journeyed over to the Baltimore city jail the morning of the Fourth and played for over 700 inmates confined there. The jail board sent Mr. DeVito, manager of the band, a letter of thanks.

Manager W. J. Fitzsimmons has added Prof. Rosella and his Punch and Judy outfit to entertain the kiddies who flock here in the afternoons.

In the ballroom as a special feature we have the dancing kewpies, graduates of the Shaftesbury Dance College, of which Prof. Albert T. Hartung, our floor manager, has charge.

Two new rides are expected in this week, as workmen are on the job leveling the ground necessary for the rides.

Hop, Down, the oldest employee in length of service, is anticipating forming a minstrel show to go South this coming fall with one of the large carnivals.

O. T. "Buck" Delsroth, of the Kernstetter Amusement Company, will also be headed that way in charge of a Big Eli for the above concern.

Have you looked thru the Letter List this issue? There may be a letter advertised for you.

MARRIAGES AT RIVERVIEW

Judge Newcomer Ties Nuptial Knot for Two Couples

Chicago, July 19.—Marriages can be performed at Riverview Park now with great dispatch and economy, according to Col. James S. Hutton, who calls attention to a recent double wedding there.

To the park in the hurry of hopeful expectation came Gentle Madon and Bessie Larson, of North Chicago, desiring to be married by a Lutheran minister, whose flock was enjoying a picnic in the grove. Unfortunately, he had departed, and the couple, disconsolate, were about to leave also when Judge John H. Newcomer, who is a frequent visitor at Riverview, drove into the park in his car. His services were immediately requisitioned and the legal ceremony was performed in the Casino.

Among those watching the tying of this knot was another couple, who also had serious intentions. So when Judge Newcomer finished uniting Mr. and Mrs. Madon, he immediately turned his attention to Charlea McBride of Chicago and Miss Ailie McClarie of Rockford, and seat them out of the park as man and wife. Judge Newcomer would charge no fee for his services but insisted on kissing both brides. For this reason Col. Hutton feels that couples should come to Riverview to be married as a matter of economy, besides being on the premises to enjoy their honeymoon.

DETROIT PARKS

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—The amusement parks in the vicinity of the Belle Isle Bridge approach are enjoying good business at the present time despite the fact that business was a little slow at the beginning of the season owing to the unseasonable weather.

Many new added attractions of exceptional merit are in evidence. This is particularly true of the Palace Gardens, with its many new shows, and the mammoth hall room, which is having an unusually good season. The Hamilton side-shows, the Nutty House, owned and managed by R. McLain; the Thousand and One Troubles, under the supervision of Mr. Armer, of the Davis & Armer Amusement Enterprises, are all getting their share of the business, and the park in general is up to the standard of past seasons in drawing the crowds.

The Coney Island Park has made a change in management, and is holding its own, this being the second season. The big feature at the park is Baha Delgarian's Garde of Allah and Armstrong's big 10-in-1, which has given the park a lot of pep this season.

At the Coliseum and Boardwalk many new added features, as well as free attractions in the open, are amusing the large crowds that are attending nightly. Lottie Mayers' Diving Girls are making a big splash. Her diving stunts are the talk of everyone everywhere.

Jack Bly, who has been connected with amusement parks and shows for many years, is managing the Witching Waves and is in the swim with the rest of them.

PABLO BEACH

Pablo Beach, Fla., July 19.—Pablo Beach is having its largest season. With auto races on the Fourth, there were over 2,500 autos on the beach and it is estimated that there were over 25,000 people here on that day.

The concessionaires are having a wonderful season. Some of the old-timers are: Payton O. Gaudy, with a real restaurant; Jimmie Hoy, the famous girl show manager, is here in all his glory with a swell hamburger and juice joint; Mike Macky has a half dozen good wheels going; J. C. Wilson has an up-to-date restaurant (by the way, Wilson was defeated for mayor of Pablo Beach by only half a dozen votes); J. S. "Topsy" Rudolf, has a fine cook-house, and "Smoky" Williams has some candy wheel.

All of the boys are enjoying the heat of health and making big money. They send their friends their best regards and would be pleased to hear from all.—A. D. BROWNE.

ENGLISH PARK MAN VISITS AMERICA

Chicago, July 19.—W. G. Bean, chairman and managing director of Blackpool Pleasure Beach, Ltd., of England, the Coney Island of the British Isles, has arrived in Chicago, and is a guest at the Blackstone Hotel.

Mr. Bean is visiting the resorts and pleasure parks of America and while in Chicago is being entertained by George Schmidt, manager of Riverview Park.

FRANKFORD DANCING GIRLS

The Frankford Dancing Girls, one of the beauty revues which are touring the larger summer resorts, were a feature attraction at Coney Island, Cincinnati, the past week. The girls are not only singers and dancers of the first class, but are vaudeville artists also and introduce many clever turns.

CHINATOWN FOR CUBA

New York, July 19.—G. F. Harris has closed contracts with S. W. Gumpertz of the Santos and Artigas Havana Amusement enterprise, whereby Mr. Harris is to build and operate an Underground Chinatown with this combination when it opens its season in the Cuban capital in November. As per the stipulations in the agreement this is to be the most authentic, largest and most elaborate Underground Portable Chinatown show ever constructed.

BLONDELL'S WATER SPECTACLE

Captain L. D. Blondell is scoring a pronounced success with his water spectacle wherever it is shown. At Lake Orion Park, Lake Orion, Mich., on July 4, an immense crowd witnessed Capt. Blondell's marine fireworks and the destruction of a model of the Tuscania. The week previous Capt. Blondell was the feature at Camden Park, Huntington, W. Va.

ROCK SPRINGS PARK

Will Curtail Activities This Season

East Liverpool, O., July 19.—Refusal of the Pennsylvania Railway Company to grant excursion rates over its lines to this city has resulted in C. A. Smith, owner of Rock Springs Park, the largest amusement resort between Pittsburg and Wheeling, W. Va., to suspend activities other than holidays and special occasions. Smith announces that lack of patronage caused him to close up the park.

July 4 was a big day at the park, all amusements being in full swing, with dancing afternoon and evening. Smith announces that the dancing pavilion, which was built two years ago at a cost of $10,000, will remain open on Tuesday and Friday nights of each week until the middle of September. There will be bathing every day, including Sunday at the new concrete bathing pool, one of the largest in the Ohio Valley. The scenic railway, rebuilt this spring at a cost of $15,000, will be operated on all holidays and for pleasure. The same will be true of the merry-go-round. These two amusements are the only two which still remain intact. The Old Mill and theater were destroyed by fire within a period of two years.

Seven years ago Rock Springs Park was recognized as the best amusement resort in Eastern Ohio and not a day passed that excursion trains carrying merry-makers from Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio did not run to the park. The famous Rock Springs, from which the park acquired its name, is still as popular as in former years.

FRENCH SOLE OWNER

Muskegon, Mich., July 19.—H. P. French, who was associated with A. J. Mulholland in the Lake Michigan Park, Muskegon, Mich., bought the latter's interest in the amusement place last December. Mr. French writes that all previous records in general business have been broken.

NEW CHICAGO PARK

Chicago, Ill., July 19.—Negotiations have been on for some time for the opening of a big amusement park south of Chicago in the suburbs.

The park will be called Chicago Lake Park, and will have water shows and aerial rides. One member of the company owns two aeroplanes, which will be used to carry passengers.

BEACH CREST PARK

The Beach Crest Park Amusement Company has been organized at Helena, Ark., to conduct Beach Crest Park. J. C. Meyers is president of the company; J. R. Daisell, vice president; I. A. Metz, treasurer; C. C. Lyford, secretary, and F. E. Vining, manager. "This is the prettiest spot in the South," says Mr. Vining, "and the only park."

OFFER PARK TO CITY

Decatur, Ill., July 19.—Soon Dreamland Park is to be offered to the City of Decatur for a price. Like tenders have been made previously but declined.

CAYUGA LAKE PARK DOING WELL

Seneca Falls, N. Y., July 19.—Charles Grant, manager of the Cayuga Lake Park, reports that the attendance at the resort this year is exceptionally large. The late opening, he says, did not seem to interfere with the attendance records. Many outings and picnics are being booked for this month and August. The opening of the park has been a boon to local business men too, as it is the only resort in this vicinity.

It is very likely that the slide and bath houses will be put in operation in a few days.

Chicago, Ill., July 17, 1919.

Friend Billyboy: I will have to unloose myself again and tell you all about the big weeks they had at Riverview Park with the school kiddies, the Mayor and the Fire Department. Some weeks, every one happy, every one busy and such a crowd every day.

The Mayor tried to ride every riding device on the park and take all the kiddies with him. It kept the photographer busy trying to get pictures of him at all of them. Mr. Hodges and Mr. Fisher with their staffs had some day of it. It was like oldtime Barnum Day in a carnival stand. Saturday and Sunday were big days, so the whole week was one grand success financially. As well try to describe the wearing apparel of a fashionable lady as to try and tell every enjoyable thing that has happened at this park in the last two weeks.

I wandered down to the large ballroom to see our old friend, James Tinney, the manager. Say Billyboy, you should have been with me. You know the old expression, "Greater and grander than ever." Well that doesn't touch it. In the slang of the kids, it knocked me a tumbler. Now I know why people all over Chicago are talking about Riverview's ballroom and its music. You remember you and I have been to the last three banquets and balls that the S. L. of A. gave and you didn't see me dance once. But when they played an oldtime waltz, well, Billy, I couldn't stand it. I got a partner and waltzed my old fool head off. Now what do you think of that? You would have given me the ha, ha, if you were with me, but it was worth it. Some manager, that "tinney boy."

The Montgomery-Ward Picnic was a great bit of fun for everybody. The Sunday crowd

I was talking to Jene Libberia; he is going back home to Italy at the close of the season. He is in good health and looks fine.

Arthur Adams of the Gingersnap, had a little girl come to his house last week. Every one that met him had a good smoke and Art had a big grin; it has not come off yet, so I guess he will wear it all season.

Frank Lewis and his wife visited the park last week; they are looking fine. Frank managed the House of Troubles for three seasons.

Lots of carnival and circus people visit Chicago this season of the year and all go out to Riverview for a few hours to see the old-timers that are summering at that place.

Well, old friend Billyboy, I will quit for this time and keep on looking for you to come up and spend a week with us.

As ever,
THE COLONEL.

NEW WYOMING PARK

Glenrock, Wyoming, has a new amusement park known as Riverside. "The park is absolutely new," writes Eddie Woods, "but will grow fast, I believe. We have a dance hall and skating rink combined. A little later we expect to add several rides."

Woods is an old time showman, having been with many shows since 1901, and in 1915 had his own show, Woods' Big Show. Riverside Park is located a mile and a half from Glenrock on the North Platte River.

OVER THE FALLS

Is Great Mirth Producing Park Feature

Chicago, July 19.—Continual laughter in all octaves, from the intermittent shrill soprano giggles of the school girl to the explosive basso-profundo haw-haws of the dignified business man, who wouldn't crack a smile at Chaplin's best, prove that Over the Falls is a great mirth producing feature at Riverview Park.

"There's nothing like it!" barks G. J. Kilpatrick, gathering in the shirkers at the ticket stand. To stand and watch the pairs of willing victims come idling stately and serenely thru the swinging portals to the rolling carpet and a minute later begin the wildest antics, the swains grabbing their girls and the matrons and fappers clutching nuddy at their skirts, or giving themselves up to care-free abandon, both bouncing and flopping around in the wildest confusion, wiggling and squirming and unconsciously going thru forty-seven odd and ridiculous contortions to land spluttering, choking with mirth and breathless upon the soft mat is a real treat—like being in an active whirlwind slapstick factory.

"They all laugh!" suggested Mr. Kilpatrick, motioning to the entrance and urging the crowd outside to listen to the shrieks penetrating the walls. He was right. They all did laugh—violently and profusely. Like stolid, matter-of-fact humans they went in and like romping youngsters they came out with every trace of bad humor jolted out of them and bubbling with all varieties and degrees of unsurpassable laughter. And if a few preferred to diet for weeks instead of taking the rapid exercise of the Over the Falls fat-cure, their slight grouches were soon dissipated by watching the acrobatics of the couples who followed. And they all leave with an inward or outward grin.

"This place had the nerve to take in $912 last Sunday. Would you believe it?" inquired Mr. Kilpatrick. That was nearly $120 an hour. Sent thru the mill in bunches of twenty, a double line of experimenters was at the entrance continuously while a babel of mirthful howls and shrieks from the interior developed the envy of those who were on the outside impatiently waiting to get in. The men liked it but the women seemed to like the fun even more and were often seen urging their more timid sisters to go the rounds of the trap doors and surprises.

Nine of these comic rides now in existence: J. J. Jones, C. A. Wortham, Con T. Kennedy, John Sheesley and the Polack Brothers each have one in their shows; one is in operation upon the pier at Venice, California; one has just been installed on Surf Island, Coney Island; and another is under construction on Jefferson avenue, Detroit. The idea originated with H. H. Maynes of Gaines, Pennsylvania. O. J. Kilpatrick, his brother, E. J. Kilpatrick, and Max Klass, all of Riverview, are the producers. They expect to do a tremendous business this season.

NEW STEUBENVILLE PARK

Steubenville, O., July 19.—After an idleness of seven years Stanton Park is again open here as a new amusement park. The park is under the management of W. J. Martin of Pittsburg and so far this season has been quite successful. There was a record-breaking crowd on July 4 and all the amusement features and concessions did a big business.

PARAGON PARK SMASHES RECORD

Boston, July 19.—Paragon Park smashed all records for attendance Fourth of July week. It was the only cool spot near Boston and everybody took advantage of the ocean breeze that Manager Dodge had on tap there. He also had on tap thousands of bottles of near beer, but the park went dry every day the first of the week. Going dry included all sorts of soft drinks, which were all sold early in the evening. Today the police sent out the following report: The crowd was estimated at 175,000 on the Fourth, not an arrest was made and not an intoxicated man or woman seen at the beach or in the town of Hull. The police consider this one of the big records of the record-breaking day.

CRAWFORD BOOKING PARK

Chicago, July 19.—R. Clay Crawford, manager of the Illinois Theater at Rock Island, is furnishing the attractions for Watch Tower Park, in the same city. Five vaudeville acts, each for a half week, are used. Mr. Crawford reports business as being excellent.

PARK NOTES

Fred Grant states that Lagoon Amusement Park, Farmington, Utah, is doing a nice business.

"Every concession went over the top on the Fourth" writes Dan J. Driscoll, of Charleston, W. Va., Luna Park.

Charles Snyder has resigned as head keeper at the New York Zoological Gardens to accept a similar position at Buffalo, N. Y.

Vitale and his band played a week's engagement at Hanlon's Point, Toronto, Can., and made quite a hit with park patrons.

Zappa Park, Fresno, Cal., has installed a roller rink and is doing fair business considering the hot weather the past few weeks.

Union Park, Dubuque, Iowa, was in the path of a severe windstorm and cloudburst which swept over Dubuque July 9 and several persons were caught in the torrents of water and lost their lives.

The weekly carnival night at Buckeye Lake Park, Columbus, O., is one of the strong drawing features of the park. The lake park is now in the midst of its summer season and all attendance records are being smashed.

Seaside Park, N. J., will be without public bath houses this year to take the place of those burned a couple of years ago, the plan of building municipal bath houses having been postponed until the close of the season.

Palisades Park, New York City, with its surf bathing facilities, is enjoying its greatest season. Every day and night this de-

Skating News

MANAGERS, GET BUSY FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

Now that the great world war is over and we all look for a new lease of life for the roller skating game. We have been greatly handicapped during the war period by not having the roller races so common before the war. We must have a real championship amateur and professional meet for next March or April. In order to give all the skaters in the world a chance to prepare for another such meet as was held back in 1914 at the Palace Rink in Detroit, we must let them know far enough ahead so they can make preparations.

The world's meets are sanctioned by the Western Skating Association, no championship event being recognized otherwise. There is no charge for the holding of the meet, aside from the sanction fee of $10. As to the most suitable place for holding a championship meet, it need not necessarily be in a large city. Remember that in 1915 Charleston, W. Va., the smallest city in the world, held the meet and it was a wonderful success. All managers able to take care of the skaters have a chance to secure the event. Get busy, think it over, then write the Skating Editor of The Billboard, Cincinnati, O. Let's see if we can't put on the biggest world's championship meet ever held.

DRY LAW WILL HELP RINKS

Julian T. Fitzgerald, president of the Western Skating Association, believes that prohibition will help the skating rinks. "The old saying is 'There's never an ill wind but what blows some good,'" he says. "This applies to the bone dry law that the American public will have to live down. Ralph Ware, president of the Chicago Roller Skate Co., is of the belief that the closing of the saloons is going to be a great aid to roller rinks. I believe like Mr. Ware, there will be more money spent for such amusements as were never patronized as long as there were other places thought more attractive. We have seen the sudden change here in Chicago already. The American public have got to find a place to spend their hard-earned money. The taking away of the saloons and many of the cabarets will surely give the roller rinks their share of the amusement money spent. Where can any person find any better recreation than spending an hour or two in a well conducted skating rink? So, really the only skate a person can get on after this will be one that they will have to strap on their feet."

PATENTS SILVER LOVING CUP

The Alfred Johnson Skate Co., Chicago, Ill., has secured a patent on a silver loving cup, instead of having the two or three big handles on the sides, they have a regular pair of skates molded in to the cup to act as handles. It is one of the most beautiful silver trophies ever designed. These cups are to be presented to the different cities holding championship races every winter.

"NIG" SHANK RETURNS FROM FRANCE

"Nig" Shank, at one time a very prominent trainer of coming amateur champions, more recently manager of the Riverside Park Rink, Indianapolis, has returned from getting free meals from Uncle Sam and has again resumed management of the popular Hoosier rink. During his absence Miss Iva Block managed the rink with considerable success.

PORTABLES WILL BOOM, SAYS TRAMILL

Charles Tramill of Kansas City, builder of portable rinks, was a visitor in Chicago last week. He stated that the main trouble with portables not being plentiful during the war period was due to the shortage of canvas. Mr. Tramill stated that his factory is turning out rinks as fast as they can be constructed and he looks for a continuation of the portable craze.

NEW RINK AT BUCKROE BEACH

F. Sheldon, of Phoebus, Va., is going to open a roller rink at Buckroe Beach, indoors, and like all others opening a new rink, wants some information about skates and floors. Those interested in the opening of new rinks can perhaps help out Mr. Sheldon and at the same time help the game in general.

JACK SHAFFER MINNESOTA GOVERNOR

John W. Shaffer, of Minneapolis, Minn., a new comer in the skating game and a promoter of no mean ability, has been appointed by President Julian T. Fitzgerald, of the W. S. A., to handle the skating affairs of the association for Minnesota. Mr. Shaffer, known to his many friends as "Jack," is capable of doing wonderful things for the skating game thru the Northwest. He is president of the John W. Shaffer & Co., municipal engineers, and very well known among the skating fraternity.

RIVERVIEW RINK TO OPEN

Riverview Roller Rink, Chicago, will open for the season on or about September 20 with a new floor and skates and will be beautifully redecorated. Manager Jas. A. Tinney will have extra added attractions of and on during the season and special parties every week. The rink will have a "club" for its patrons and also the Riverview News.

ESTABLISHES NEW RECORD

Malcolm Carey, in winning the third race of a series of five for the senior roller skating championship of Berks County, Reading, Pa., covered a mile in 2:38 at the Carsonia Rink, in Reading July 12 and established a new record Seen on Ann street, New York: Syd. Shipman and Ben Matkin. Syd. had just returned from the fight at Toledo. Not another Louisville, was it, Syd?

The "pitchman's blues"—let's have no one singing them when the snow flies, especially regarding business—now is the time to bustle—and keep on bustling.

Hey, you Danville (Ill.) bunch! How 'bout that mulligan party that was planned on the river bank July 13? Hear all the fraternity in town was represented.

"Scotty" Shay says he has not seen "Scotty" Castle since the Fair at Des Moines in 1915 and wants him to drop a line care of The Billboard, San Francisco.

Hear that Dr. Bochner, of Vincennes, Ind., is cleaning up with more than the Hoosier State, remarking to a "Gus" recently that he sold a big shipment at Muncie.

Big Time Hynes is playing all the welcome home songs around New York and doing big business. He played the Elks in Atlantic City and met a bunch of the boys there.

Dr. Chas. Thurmer is glad of one thing: During the hot weather, the boys do not require the proving of his claim of being the champion mulligan maker of the universe.

The small towns in Western Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, etc., are said to be very good especially on Saturdays, considering that the natives are all in—the harvest fields.

R. J. Thariton, of jar wrench fame, Mrs. Thariton and Thariton, Jr., are located in Toledo until the youngster, William, gets a few weeks older when they will start for the Northwest.

C. E. Oxberger, better known to knights of the torch and tripod as "Oxle," is doing fair thru Iowa and Nebraska with soldier. Hear you are going to join the retailer class. Oxle, how 'bout it?

Jack Smart says: "They didn't treat us boys rough out West in fact we all liked it. What say you, D. B.? How goes the sticks, Stone? You better wake up and drop me a line, care of The Billboard, New York."

Monte Ferdon still holding down Columbus, Ohio, and notwithstanding like many other places it was a little difficult to get 'em started, business is now coming his way, so says a knight recently from the Buckeye Capital.

L. C. Hatt and the Missus, the rug needle folks, have been in Chi. for the past seven weeks, working in Kresge's twenty-five and fifty, and doing well. L. C. says they are getting 'em hot up just right for a big business.

Who was that fellow who dropped a card about two months ago that he would kick in with a bunch of pipes as soon as the Government lowered the postage on first-class mail? Haven't re-recognized the hand writin' on any of 'em comin' in lately.

Chew Tobacco Wallace—Dingit, get in touch with Wandering Webb at your earliest convenience thru Billboard. Webb says he has a big "six" for you to ride in this fall and he will make Rolling Fork, Indiana and all live monkey forests along the route.

An erroneous report gained some headway recently thru the Middle West that Dr. James Ferdon had died. In order to dispel this rumor let it be known that James F. is alive and hearty, and continues passing out Pizarro remedies in the East with good results.

Hear that some enthusiastic knight put liniment on the shoe of a subject to remove a corn. The latter soon afterward struck a match on the sole of said shoe, resulting in a conflagration—it is also rumored that the town, Danville, Ill., is on the point of being closed as an aftermath to the incident.

Hear that Bobbie O'Connor has broken into the big league in the soldier game. Bobbie is credited with being some real promoter, as he has framed to work the entire circuit of Kresge's stores thru the Middle West. He was seen working Kresge's five-and-ten in Springfield, Ill., some days going over the half-century mark.

Yep, alive—The esteemed sheetwriter, Jimmie Hornett, has returned from overseas, where he was commissioned and made many friends while coaching shows for the boys of the A. E. F. He was visited by several of the fraternity while located at Sea Breeze (Rochester), N. Y. Jimmy is now stepping about in his "no-henry" with the leaf.

Doc Sutton's No. 1 Medicine Show, now in its thirty-fifth year, is playing lots in Winipeg, Can., with the following people: Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sherry, The Hall Brothra and a six-piece jazz band. Hear the reader at Winnipeg is going up to $35, also that there is a business tax, income tax and one hundred and fifty a year—how about it, Doctor Sutton?

If you see it in The Billboard, tell them so.

Dr. Heber Becker and Dr. Workman worked Union City, Ind., July 12, to fair business. Workman left for his home in Chicago and Becker departed for home in Kansas City, where he will remain for a week or two, then purchase a long ducat for North Carolina where he has a proposition for the opening of a big med. show, consisting of twenty people, to remain out until Christmas.

Billy Layton, with the Vurpillat Show, writes that there are so many med. shows and carnival organizations now tramping thru Pennsylvania it is difficult to keep out of each other's way. However good results are being realized and the company remains almost intact as it has for the past two or three seasons. The show was at Taylor, Pa., for the last half of the week of July 7.

Eddie Ridgley and the Misans left the New England States about the first of July and took in the night at Toledo, where they met H. J. Thariton with jar wrenches. Eddie says Thariton sure has some young chap and enough to make any father proud. He says he has found out that rig cleaner and cement go very well together. The Ridgleys are now working somewhere in Illinois.

Doc Harry Neal, of Ca-Ne fame, opened in Ashland, Ky., on June 30 with an all-colored company and is meeting with great success. Harry opines that the boys have missed it by not playing Ashland and his entire bunch send best regards to all knights of the road. The roster includes Dick Green, Harry Mack, Eddie Lee, "Silas" Brown, T. G. Smith, the "rubber man," in a novelty act; and Julius Maston, comedian.

Doc O. E. Sutherland ("Medicine Snake") passed thru Cincinnati recently, a in dandy auto outfit, while on his way from Florida to the Northwest. Doc has his covered car framed so that by dropping the sides and end he produces his platform. He is using three people while working en route, but expects to open a big medicine show a little later at Rutland, Va. Coincides with the other fellows that the Southeast was good for med. last winter.

Frank H. Daniels—The book, Readers, on account of the continual changing of conditions at present, is not being sent out. Another edition will be published as soon as the situation changes. In many places the reader is being lowered, in others raised and in a number of instances a town is open to one line, but closed to another, or others. In all, no definite information may be furnished for as much as a week or two in advance—and this is almost general.

A. B. Mitchell, formerly of the carnival game, now collecting "pinety-eight" with maps as premiums thru the South, received the following from an old darky at Cuthbert, Ga., after explaining his proposition: "Well, boss, I suah would like to 'prelate you all, but I doan feel financially conspicuous to pay de intertution ta'day." Possibly the old Mammy had just finished a baking of sweettater enlard and had a goodly supply of grits at home, A. B.—and needed a paper and map.

Where Indian medicine has been known for thirty odd years past, has also been known Doc McKay, who has pitched from coast to coast. During the last four years Doc has conducted motion picture houses on Long Island, but the call of the high pitch and the big money in sight have induced him to get out his slum pots and get busy. Doc recently closed a four-week stand at Freeport, L. I., his next spot being Trenton, N. J. Hatch and Hatch, Doland E. Brown, Jimmie Ward, Joe Hodge and Fred Mitchell, under the stage direction of the latter, will attract the crowds to her Doc's lecture on "How To Keep Well."

Leslie E. Kell's Medicine Show, with a forty-foot round top and two twenty-foot middies, is playing thru Missouri to standing room only business when weather permits. Leslie writes that they opened up Ozark and Galena, which had been closed, and did nicely at each with an invitation to return at any time. He also states that crops are being harvested and they are looking forward to big business this fall. Kell will have two platform shows opening this month, one in Missouri and the other in Southern Illinois. He would like to hear from Dr. W. M. Hightower, Billy Reed and Ed Stevens. Address to Manes, Mo. (to forward).

Sidney A. Shipman and his brother, Lieut. T. Shipman, of humanitarian fame, completed a short circuit out of Washington, D. C., working Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Erie, Pa., then to Toledo for the Willard-Dempsey bout. Miles then went back to the "big city," while Syd. made one of his usual cleanings at Detroit, after which he also returned to New York. Syd. would like to know what is new and wishes friends to know his address in care of The Billboard, New York. He and Ben I. Maling are on their way to Canada, where they will entertain the natives with their melody. These old heads now have the slogan: "No more twenty-five-cent touches, only 'halves,' as there are plenty of them in sight." Incidentally Syd. and Ben play the ukulele for their own pleasure—and have quite a repertoire. They will be found doing business at the Toronto Fair.

Dr. Fred Gassaway writes that he is out with the big show again, working platform at night. The roster includes The Musical Brunmans, The De Lanays (Harry and Mary), Chas. Connelson, Master Jack Gassaway and Dr. Fred. The show is staying two weeks in a town, and despite much rain is doing very well. He met Dr. McRae at McKinney, Tex., recently, organizing a company. Gassaway's No. 2 company was at Trinity two weeks ago and doing nicely. This show consists of Dr. Ed Frink, The Musical Marshalls and Fred's father, the original Dr. J. H. Gassaway. F. G. is of the opinion that

PIPES

Texas will be good this fall, altho the crops are somewhat late. At present the Camp Meetings are in full swing and it keeps a fellow dodging to keep clear of them. For the current week the show is playing Allen, Tex. "Here's hoping for banner business for everybody," says Fred.

"Scotty" Shay has covered some territory since we last heard from him, having worked in Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, and Southern California, and found things fine all along the route. He is back in Frisco, where he states the boys, of whom there are many, all seem to be getting their share of filthy lucre, adding that the Coast is not dead by any means—that's the talk, oldtimer. Scotty made the Roundups at Salina and Livermore, Cal., with big success. Says Willard was strong with the cowboys, therefore he made quite a bunch of side-money on his favorite, Dempsey. He will stick around Frisco and make a few fairs, picnics, etc. B. S. also opines that since the saloons have now changed to soft drink emporiums, the common sight of ladies realizing how it feels to enter and put a foot on the brass rail is hard to get accustomed to—right, fellow, 'tis surely an age of progression.

Quite a little gathering of the fraternity—and pipeshooters—in Rock Island, Ill., week of July 7. Dr. Chas. Thinner of mulligan stew fame, was there in all his fatness; The Ladds, with soldier-picknamed the "Popcorn Twins"; Doc and Mrs. Weyman, with a couple of autos—notice "couple"? Doc has one car to work from and another for pleasure riding—and neither of them "henries". Some Indian wardrobe is also flashed when Doc and the Misses get up in front of the push. Master Charica Wayman has joined his father and mother on the road until the schools at Indianapolis again open. Dr. Hoyle joined the party from Wisconsin and was looking prosperous. The Ladds left for Dubuque, Iowa; Thurmer for Southern Illinois and Hayle, who has taken out the state reader for Iowa, departed thither and was to open his company at Davenport, July 21.

Doc, W. G. Jackson, of 130 South Union street, Shawnee, Ok., writes that he and Doc Brown recently made a round of the oil fields of Northern Oklahoma and found some of the towns on the hum for pitch business. The oil towns in the center of the State are good, with readers between $2 and $10 per day for small articles. The wheat in the northern part of the State looks good and cotton, which is "late," in the southern part can not yet be judged. Says he has not met many pitchmen this summer. However he ran into Dr. Laird and family at Pauls Valley and they were getting ready to take a trip to St. Louis by auto. Says that Dr. Laird and family have made many friends in Pauls Valley and he has been made one of the leading members of the local Commercial Club. "Daddy" would like to hear from Jimmie Simpson, F. E. Anderson, Lew Dodd and others and sends best to all the boys.

Democracy and co-operation with committees in local festivities often greatly aids the pitchman—and the game—as evidenced by the following from a Sardinia (Ohio) newspaper: "No small part of the success of the (Fourth of July) celebration was the free acts contributed by the Ideal Comedy Company (B. Bartone's Medicine Show), who had been showing to crowded houses here for the past two weeks. Prof. Bartone, in an aerial contortion act; Mrs. Bartone, as Sal Skinner; Jack Branigan, comedian, and The Gibsons in a singing and talking sketch, kept the large grand stand packed, and compared favorably with any acts ever seen on the historic old platform. These good people have made many friends during their short stay in Sardinia, and the generous manner in which they assisted in the celebration program will long be remembered by our people. The large tent of the company was blown down during a terrific rain and wind-storm and considerably torn while here."

Abe Edwards, working low pitchmen with razor paste—now-and-then changing to trousers buttons—kicks in for the good of the boys, that he was in Rome, N. Y., recently and found all the shops closed down, 3,000 men out of work, and Utica was not much better. At Binghamton the shops were fairly good and the best he has made in some time. While in the latter place he ran into that veteran medicine man, Dr. Russell, at the Lewis House, who entertained with pipes on the late Big Foot Wallace, Fred Owens, Harry Morris, Harry Chapman, Punch Baker, Red Wing and others of thirty years ago when he worked with George Knobs, never boasting himself—always the other fellow. Edwards is of the opinion that Russell is the best single handed worker he has met in his several years experience. Says he saw him do $65 on one pitch with tablets recently and could not estimate his whole day's receipts. Dr. Russell used to be an oil worker of prominence, but we hear he dropped the line when he found that too many were selling two and three bottles for the price of one.

Ray Adams, for the past four seasons black-face singing and dancing comedian with Dr. W. P. Vurpillat's Medicine Show, and Miss Marion Bonvall, nonprofessional of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., were recently joined in the holy bonds of matrimony at Wilkes-Barre. The bride is but 18 years of age, while Ray—well, he never will be over "25," in addition to a brand new fifty dollar william Dr. Vurpillat presented the newlyweds with the refreshment privilege on the show gratis. The appreciative doctor also gave a sumptuous wedding dinner at the Sterling Hotel in honor of the occasion, which was attended by the entire company, including Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Billy Layton, Mildred Layton, May Carley, Del Breiman, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonvall, and other friends from the city. Vurpillat's all-American band of fourteen pieces furnished the music for the big feast, as well as the dancing, which lasted until the wee' sma' hours, when all departed, wishing the bride and groom years of happiness.

Dr. de Alva Sutherland, of the East India Medicine Co., loosens up and comes in with the following: "Will have several companies on the road this winter. We have been working all the time and business has been all that could be desired. Dr. Kreis and Dr. Brace have temporarily left us, but will be back this fall. Both these gentlemen had good seasons and we regret their absence. We had the Sparks Circus as opposition at Collingwood, Bessie Leland took the entire company to see the parade and Jim Leland—almost—bought a drink, while Billy Collins took a sleep. But we had a great day and Charlie Sparks has some show, and the finest bunch it has been our pleasure to meet. Good luck to them. To all pitchmen, trouper and anyone in the business, will say that our office is at 342 Bathurst street, Toronto, and all coming to the Canadian National Exhibition make this your headquarters. Have your mail sent here and we will look after it. May Rhina, the god of pitchmen, preserve you. We will have the "Big Ithlnacaboo next year, somewhere."

Dr. Leslie Williams extends regrets in the recent death of Basil (Carley) Hensler, adding that he was a fine chap, called on them in Oklahoma City and worked with them a few weeks some time ago. Leslie tells us he has given up the tent proposition for the present and was remaining in Wichita for the big Tractor Show, July 14-19, then go to Kansas City, and may all take a short vacation on account of the extreme heat. He adds a few notes of the brethren: Babe and Bob Ward, and Joe Edwards are fishing on White River, having suspended business until August 1. Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Smith are also taking a rest in Houston and Southern Texas until the first of August. Dot and Dinah Ward are reported busy in Southern Texas—hear the Missus has been ill. A letter from Jack and Effie Goodman stated that they were doing well at Independence, Mo. Dr. Williams and his company are busy selling Salsnic, manufactured in Wichita—and himself a stockholder. Leisure hours find the company fishing, bathing and otherwise enjoying themselves. All went to Hagenbeck-Wallace Show and had a good time—drinking red lemonade'n everything.

for the track. The race was a thriller from beginning to end. Walter Smith finished second, Eddie Moyer third, William Kendall fourth, Paul Manger fifth and Jerry Kelsner sixth.

PASTIME RINK PROSPERING

The Pastime Roller Rink, Elroy, Wis., owned by Lewis Payne, is getting the biggest play it has ever had. Baby Margaret Chapman played her seventh engagement at the above rink recently and drew big crowds. C. A. Cox, floor manager, was called home to Springfield, Ill., recently because of the serious illness of his mother. The management is giving the patrons novelties and masquerades for the next four weeks.

We are indebted to Julian T. Fitzgerald for several new items this week. Mr. Fitzgerald, who is president of the Western Skating Association, is interested in every phase of the game and always a consistent booster for the best interests of the game.

H. J. Koehler, Newark, N. J., purchased 1,000 pairs of roller skates from the Chicago Roller Skate Co. for the Palace Rink. Ed. Olcott, formerly connected with the Palace Rink, 46th and Lexington avenue, New York City, has charge of the skate room for Mr. Koehler. Looks like they were going to do a good business. The skates purchased were Ober rollers.

Light pleasure resort on the heights overlooking the Hudson is crowded with patrons.

The management as well as the concessioners at Lakeside Electric Park, Ruthen, Ia., are experiencing some very good business this year. There is a great demand for a skating rink there, and the owners intend to have one in the park by next year.

Hiverview Park at the Gorge, Akron, O., according to word from Lloyd Jeffries, is enjoying large business. Picnics are a daily event. The park is being improved from week to week and becoming one of Akron's most popular amusement resorts.

Among the events scheduled for Chester Park, Cincinnati, in the next two months are: Pure food show, August 5-17; poultry show of the Queen City Poultry and Pet Stock Association, August 20-25; and annual carnival and water pageant August 31-September 6.

In a recent issue it was stated Ethel Nothe Johnson substituted for Gertrude Gailand, with Vlade's Band at the Zoological Gardens, Cincinnati. Such was not the case, Miss Johnson being especially engaged for the Cincinnati engagement, she being a favorite with Cincinnati audiences.

The picnic season is now at its height at Kenwood Park, Pittsburg, and there are one or more picnics held on the grounds every day. Manager A. S. McSwigan is well pleased with the patronage so far this year and expects the season to be a successful one from every standpoint.

There was a complete change in attractions at the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens July 18. Thaviu's Band, with grand opera singers and a ballet of beautiful girls, occupy the band shell this week, and there has been a complete change in the ice skating show. The new skaters include Steele and Winslow and Ellen and Orrin Markhus.

The new amusement park in Columbia, S. C., was opened to the public July 12. It is known as Victory Park. Some of the features are the large open air theater, dancing pavilion and a large concrete swimming pool. There will also be many other attractions and the park is to be open the whole year thru.

Palm Garden Park, Pittsburg, Pa., held one of the most elaborate Fourth of July celebrations this year that the city has ever seen.

A Visit to Paris, a new act featuring Dollie Wilson was added to the Midsummer Revue at the Silhouette Garden at Electric Park, Kansas City, last week. The park is enjoying enormous patronage.

Miss Adgie, of Adgie and Her Lions, had a pleasant visit with Lloyd Jeffries in Akron, O., for a couple of days during the early part of last week. "The little queen of lions sure looks good," says Jeffries, "and her animals are, as always, in fine shape. Without a doubt she has the best animal act in the country today."

Jeffries booked her for two weeks at Meyera Lake Park, Canton, O., beginning July 17.

Faultless TOY BALLOONS Get Our Rebate and NOVELTIES - Extra Money plan

IF YOU'RE NOT PULLING DOWN BIG MONEY set a letter or postal card in the mail today and ask us to send you full particulars about our new, special money-making rebate plan on Toy Balloons and Novelties. Get in touch and deal with a factory that turns out "live," catchy, quick-selling, up-to-the-minute Toy Balloons, Squawkers, Tomo-Back Balls, and other novelties in Rubber Goods. Kiddies go wild over our Balloons because they're big, strong and come in a big variety of colors, sizes and shapes. Balloons are printed or plain, with or without "Faultless" Patented Closing Valve. The Squawkers almost talk. What is your margin of profit? Say, you might think that you're doing all right now, but after you see our prices and read about our rebate plan, you'll order in a hurry. And when you see the quality of our goods and find out how easy it is to sell them at higher prices than you're getting now for material that is costing YOU more—why, you'll be one of our many steady, year-to-year customers. Drop us a line today.

THE FAULTLESS RUBBER COMPANY, 730 Rubber Street, ASHLAND, OHIO.

A NEW FIELD OF PUBLICITY

"STICK ON FACE" Window and Door Emblems

OR AUTOMOBILE WINDSHIELDS

Your ad up to stay where it can be seen on the inside of windows or doors—in colors, any shape or size—adhesive on face—anybody can apply to inside of glass—lasts indefinitely—economical in cost—much cheaper than dealcomania or other transparent signs—especially effective in advertising advance dates of FAIRS, Carnivals, Shows, etc. Write us what you want to advertise and we will submit a design free.

HERSCHMAN & CARDY, 169 West Monroe St., Chicago.

AN AUTOMATIC FISHPOND WILL PAY FOR ITSELF

In one good day, like Fourth of July or any big day, if it is installed in a good location. It will take in from $300.00 to $1,200.00 a week. It does not get out of order or give trouble.

AUTOMATIC FISHPOND CO.

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC DOES NOT APPRECIATE ITS OWN PRODUCTS

The serious effort being made in behalf of American singers and American composers, when they have marketable wares to offer, is certainly not being appreciated by our public. The past season there have been some interesting debuts in both the Metropolitan and Chicago organizations. But there is always a certain amount of cant to be reckoned with. Mr. Gatti-Casazza has done more for native talent than any of his predecessors, recognizing only too acutely the artistic standards to be supported, yet ever extending generous hospitality and acclaim to the American whose talents are sufficient to entitle him to a foothold—after that it remains with the artist himself to retain the affections of the public. Charles Hackett and Reinold Werrenrath were notable examples this season of talent mellowed with experience, awaiting the opportunity, and of Mr. Gatti-Casazza's fine eclecticism and generous spirit of encouragement. But it must be a triple alliance, as it were, of the singers' preparedness, the directors' recognition and the support of the public. A lamentable side to the situation is the traditional idiolatry of the American audience, not yet sure of its own bearings, but sensuously alert to any artistic production with a foreign stamp. Campanini has said the American audiences decry a native opera that has not received European approbation. As the great world war seems to have been the outcome of a seismic disturbance that had its first rumblings in the realm of futuristic art, we may hope the great evolution will express itself in a saner phase thruout the world of music. The war is over. America is the only port of successful activity. Let the American public nationalize its music, its creators, its interpreters. The operatic directors are doing their share. The public with its enthusiasm and patriotic loyalty must do theirs.—THE CRITIC.

WAR ORPHANS OF FRANCE DYING OF MALNUTRITION AND SHOCK

The children of France have not yet emerged from the shadow of the war. With peace assured and a happier future opening before them, it becomes increasingly evident that the child life of France has suffered a shock from which it is difficult to rally, while the birth rate has dropped to 5 to each 1,000 population.

The Fatherless Children of France, an American organization co-operating with a similar one in Paris, of which Marshal Joffre is the head, reports that of the children receiving American aid to the extent of 10 cents a day under its plan of securing American godmothers for the little French war waifs its records show an average death rate of 700 children per month since the armistice. The help of the American godmothers came too late to save these undernourished, nerve-shocked little ones.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, of Chicago, vice-chairman of the Fatherless Children of France, has been appointed chairman of a campaign to secure American aid for the 60,000 little war orphans whose names were on the lists of the organization as "unadopted" before the signing of the armistice. Ten cents will care for a child for an entire day, $3.00 for a month, while for $36.50 a year the donor may select a child from the lists at the organization's headquarters and be placed in correspondence with it. To adopt a child or make a donation write for information to Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Room 634, 410 S. Michigan avenue, Chicago.

ELLISON-WHITE ACTIVITIES

By T. A. BURKE

Ellison-White—seven years old. Has seven Chautauqua Circuits—Conducting 33 Chautauquas daily. Pays $200,000 annually for transportation. Occupies entire top floor Broadway Building, Portland. Needs additional office room right now. Covers the western half of the United States. Also Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Plans seriously on big Alaskan Circuit (where—pardon the repartee—one might expect a cold shoulder). Operates big Musical Bureau that leads 'em all. Bringing Sousa's Band, San Carlos Opera Co., Theodore Karle—Also Cecil Fanning, Tetraxini and many others—On Western tours this winter. Exclusively manages the great pianist, Godowsky, thruout North-west. Has a big, happy, loyal Chautauqua and Lyceum family, Consisting of 450 of the best people in the world.

Book Reviews in Relation to the Proposed Conference on Democracy and World Reconstruction

1.—DEMOCRACY IN THE MAKING—GEORGE W. COLEMAN

Publisher: Little, Brown & Company, Boston. $1.75 Net

Those of our membership who attended the last session of the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Association will recall with pleasure that after each lecture in the chautauqua program there was an interesting round-table discussion, in which, perhaps, one-half of the audience took part. These discussions lasted from thirty minutes to an hour. Unless all signs fail this is the sort of thing that must ultimately become general in lyceum and chautauqua courses if interest in the lecture and lecturer is to continue and become more and more the solid substance of the lyceum business. A very good account of how this has been carried on elsewhere for many years is found in a volume, "Democracy in the Making," edited by George W. Coleman, now a capable Government assistant in Washington. This book gives a vivid account of what has occurred at the Ford Hall Open Forum Movement in Boston. The book covers a period of seven years in the history of this famous institution. Notable people have appeared on the Ford Hall platform, such as Norman Hapgood, Walter Rauschenbusch, Dr. E. A. Steiner, Stephen S. Wise, Charles Zueblin, Stanton Colt and others. During the period above mentioned about one hundred and seventy-five topics have been discussed. After each discussion, as found in the book, follows the series of questions and answers. To illustrate: On December 7, 1913, Norman Hapgood discussed "The Modern Drama as a Social Force," after which thirty-seven questions were asked and answered. Here is a book with which every one of our membership should become familiar.

YANKEE ROBINSON CIRCUS
 Missouri Valley, Ia., had one big day when the Yankee Robinson Circus showed there, being the first circus to visit that town in fifteen years. Capacity business was the result at both performances, and the show pleased the large audiences.

The performance consisted of some excellent animal acts, intermingled with circus features.

Fewee, the producing clown, and his associates were very clever and received many laughs. The Ray Thompson high school horses were a big feature. The stock carried by this show is second to none, and received much favorable comment during the parade, which in itself made a splendid dash on the streets. The side show compares very favorably with those of the larger circuses and was well attended.

Mr. Buchanan has assembled a remarkable and classy organization for its size and everything around the show is kept up in splendid shape. All those connected with the show speak in the highest terms of the treatment they receive at the hand of the management.

Many of the showfolks spent Sunday in Omaha, visiting the many places of amusement. The writer had a pleasant visit with G. D. Steele, legal adjuster, and James Moore, press agent, as well as others on the show, and was royally treated.

The Yankee Robinson Circus travels on twenty-four cars and the equipment is in splendid shape. Should it visit Missouri Valley again it will no doubt have turnaways, as it left a very good impression with the town folks.—H. J. ROOT.

A CIRCUS ANTHOLOGY
 No. 8.—The Billposter.

By SAM J. BANKS
 I am the circus billposter.
 When I am at my labor
 I am a paste-besmattered fellow,
 But when my day's work is done
 I dress up and look tolerably presentable.

At work, I either go about town
 Or invade the rural district,
 Taking, in wagon or automobile,
 A barrel of paste, a bundle of "paper,"
 Two long-handled brushes
 And a water pail.

I am a barbinger of joy—
 For I cover the billboards,
 The fences, the sheds, the barns—
 The rocks even—
 With variegated posters—
 Posters depicting elephants, and camels,
 And lions, and tigers,
 And zebras, and giraffes,
 And monkeys, and orang-outangs,
 And hippotami,
 And men and women trapeze artists,
 And bareback riders,
 And tumblers,
 And clowns,
 And tents,
 And gold and red parade wagons.

If you think my work is easy
 Follow me for a week.
 I arise with the sun,
 Get an early breakfast on the "bill" car,
 Start out at 6 or 6:30 o'clock.
 In a democrat wagon,
 Or in a Ford car,
 From a livery or from a garage,
 I travel.

Of course I have a local driver
 Who knows the country roundabout.
 From the time I leave the advance car
 Until I return to it,
 In the late afternoon or early evening,
 I cover many miles—
 Twenty-five, or thirty,
 Or thirty-five, or forty—
 Sometimes, if by auto,
 Sixty or more.

No matter what the weather,
 I must put up my paper,
 Some days I encounter high winds,
 Some days heavy rain,
 But I must put up the circus bills,
 And I must put them up to stay.
 I work hard and fast,
 But I have my periods of rest and enjoyment.
 Between "dawns" I view nature
 In Her many moods and vagaries.
 I see Her in all sorts of garbs and phases.
 Then, too, I meet folks—
 Plain, honest, country folks.
 Sometimes they offer me
 A cold drink of buttermilk:
 Sometimes they invite me to dinner;
 Invariably they ask me
 All sorts of questions—
 Such, for instance, as,
 "What you doin', paper hangin'?"
 Or
 "I 'spose you get used to trav'lin' around?"
 But always they are hospitable,
 Always they are human—
 The very "smit of the earth."

A VISIT TO RINGLING-B. & B.

There is a dog act in the middle ring, for several seasons with the Ringling Show, that is class and pep all the way thru. The writer didn't have anything less than a hundred-dollar bill and Tom Burk wouldn't give him a program. Pardon!

Buck Baker's Ford is worth seeing, mechanically as well as laughably. We would like to know just how that final entry is worked, when the driver answers to the two bells ahead signal. If Herman Joseph ever leaves the big top during the performance we didn't notice it. Pat Valdo and Mrs. Pat have a nice act, but where Pat still shines is with the latest edition of the fire gag. That is right, where old Jerry Clayton was missed. Remember how he used to say: "Oh, I never got burned a bit." There is no one else just like him. Pat has a good gag in his break-away bustle. Somebody also has a new and funny idea in the climax of the clown band's entry. Just get a glimpse of Jack Hedder and George Zammett. You can't see all of George in a glimpse.

That teeth act is the prettiest thing of its kind in the world. The variety and taste of the wardrobe used by the various acts are very good. Tiny Cline gets an announcement and deserves it. The show is beautiful and wonderful. Cy Compton is still as faithful a worker as ever, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Malwood look nicer every day. New Jersey is not a nice place to live in the winter time.

I'm sorry I didn't get to see the Hart Brothers and Tony DeKoe and Strawberry Red, and they do say that Ollie Webb feeds like a dandy hotel. Tommy Stone is not well, and his brother, Jack, has taken his car for a couple of weeks while he rests.

BRITISH LABOR AND THE WAR

Reconstructors for a New World

(A book that every manager and actor in America should read. The Billboard recommends it highly.)

The British labor movement went thru in four years of war what would ordinarily have required twenty years. The spokesmen and programs of British labor do not voice class hatred. It shares with the Government and with enlightened employers in creating constitutionalism in industry, a new spirit and a new machinery. British labor is developing something different from the oldtime trade unionism (with its concentration on wages and hours) and the oldtime class-conscious Socialism—broader than the one, freer than the other, typically British in its inconsistencies and in its downright competence.

What baffled some American visitors in British labor is what baffles the elderly in the life of Europe today; the variety, the wealth of creative impulse, the hearty dissent from custom and tradition, the zest for challenging the very origins of belief, and for shaking the foundations of venerable institutions.

It is an experimental attitude toward life. The spirit of its quest is youth, buoyant and impudent. And elan is being recaptured, lost for one hundred years of the factory system. From the ranks of the returned soldiers and the mobilized shops new leaders will spring up and they will be young.

British labor can not be charted off into tidy little thought forms. It is a living, growing and moving thing. Its vitality spills over into many activities. To the observer it seems as unwieldy and topheavy and split up as the British Commonwealth of which it is an ever growing part. But under crisis it reveals under the strain of war. A community of spirit holds British labor together. Back of its machinery of action there is a profound belief. It is a belief in the worth of the individual. And this belief leads to the desire for founding a society where the common man will be at home.

GREAT PATTERSON SHOWS WILL HAVE LONG SEASON

Plays Fourteen Weeks of Fairs Through Middle West and Southern States, Starting at Harrisburg, Ill., July 28—Business Fair Up to Date

The Great Patterson Shows began their season at Paola, Kan., in April, and since the opening they haven't had one week but that it didn't rain, in many spots the rain causing the loss of the greater part of the week. But, in spite of this, the shows have had a fair season so far.

The show this year has been the recipient of many favorable press notices both for its size and the caliber of its attractions. The midway is made up of fifteen paid attractions, with three rides. The animal show is the feature attraction, but it by no means is the only feature. The motordrome, under the management of Bobby Jewel, has set a pace that it is hard to follow. Mr. Jewel has a coterie of riders that are all champions, and it is no unusual sight to see the same faces returning each night to see the dare-devil riders. Cliff Wilson has cleaned up in his unique way of presenting a monkey hippodrome, often getting top money on the midway. Gillman's Hinson is another pleasing attraction, and has a performance that is novel and never fails to please.

July 4 was spent in Winona, Minn., on the streets. It rained all day on the Fourth, but in spite of it the shows went near the $5,000 mark. It would have been the banner day of the Patterson career had the day been clear. The show has a nice line of fairs booked (fourteen weeks) in Indiana, Illinois, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas, and all indications point to a long season; in fact, the "boss"

GOLDEN'S ACCOMPLISHMENT

Chicago, July 19.—It has oft been said that no one single general agent could take care of the booking of more than one show at once and the rule has more than once been proven by the disastrous results which have climaxed the attempts of one man to handle two shows and keep them moving in good territory and under local auspices for every contract.

If there is any credit due to the author of such an accomplishment it should surely go to M. B. Golden, more often known as "Duke," general contractor for the World at Home Shows and the Polack Bros.' 20 Big Shows, which have been booked absolutely solid from April last to December next.

Both shows are playing widely separated territory and there are only two vacant weeks to fill, these being sandwich weeks between two fairs at the fall end of the season.

Duke Golden, astute, dapper, debonaire and democratic, has thrown care to the winds, and with his universally popular wife is taking life easy in the Canadian wilds, where he is breathing the breath of the pine forests and fishing for mountain trout between times. A well-earned vacation we'll say.

SALEM, OHIO, OPEN

Salem, O., July 19.—After being closed to carnivals for almost ten years this city of 10,000 population, located midway between Pittsburg and Cleveland on the main line of the Pennsylvania, will again permit carnival companies to exhibit within its gates. The Greater Sheesley Shows have the honor of being first in opening a week's engagement Monday, July 14. City officials of the past four administrations have been opposed to this nature of outdoor amusement, but the death of the late Mayor, Charles Webster, resulted in restrictions being lowered.

KLINE GETS MANASQUAN AGAIN

For the third season in succession Jack Kline has been awarded the contract to furnish all the attractions at the Firemen's Celebration at Manasquan, N. J., for the week of July 21 to 26 inclusive.

After a few special celebration dates in Jersey, the Golden Ribbon Shows will play Ossining, New Rochelle, Tarrytown and Stamford.

RODECKER IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 17.—Thad Rodecker, general agent and traffic manager for Tom W. Allen's Shows, showing this week in Bloomington, Ill., was in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Rodecker said that the Allen Shows are doing a splendid business in Bloomington, and that the show has not had a losing week this season. The organization will go to Tuscola, Ill., next week.

says turkey will be eaten on the lot. When this article appears in print the show will be in Pana, Ill., preparing for its first fair at Harrisburg, Ill., July 28-August 2.—ARTHUR DAVIS.

COLBY INJURED IN FALL

Seattle, Wash., July 18.—William Colby, acrobat doing slide for life with the Great Alamo Shows here for this and next week, was severely injured yesterday afternoon when he fell forty feet, landing atop another employee, George Williams, thus probably saving his life. Both were taken to the City Hospital. Williams was badly bruised and shaken up, and Colby was severely cut and bruised and possibly internally injured. The accident occurred when Colby's teeth slipped from the strap fastened to the wire down which he slides.

SHIMMIE MINNIE DOLL

New York, July 19.—The Bankograph Company of New York City has introduced to the fair and carnival field probably the most unique doll of the season. It has caused a profound sensation wherever demonstrated owing to its remarkable mechanical arrangement. This doll is known as the Shimmie Minnie, obviously named after a popular dance. New Yorkers have gone wild over it, and it may be seen in many shop windows of the greater city. Concessionaires, quick to see an attractive novelty, have readily taken up this novelty doll. Their advertisement will be found elsewhere in The Billboard.

LOUISE CLIFFORD ILL

Louise E. Clifford is very ill in a New York City hospital, where she was taken after being stricken in New Britain, Conn., while on the Victoria Shows. She wishes to thank the trouper of the Victoria caravan for the kindness shown her, and would like to hear from all her friends. In particular Babe Meyers, Hazel Johnson, Slim Barry and Mable Kenny, at 403 W. 205th street, Apartment 3, New York City.

CONKLIN AND FLYNN PART

Conklin-Flynn Shows Now Known as Clark & Conklin Shows

The partnership of Jim Conklin and J. Francis Flynn, who have been operating the Conklin-Flynn Shows, has been dissolved, and the caravan in the future will be known as the Clark & Conklin Shows, which title Mr. Conklin has used heretofore. Mr. Flynn, however, will continue with Mr. Conklin, furnishing the three rides for the C. & C. Shows.

Mrs. Conklin, wife of "Colonel Jim," has been seriously ill for eight weeks, but is now able to be on the midway.

Mrs. Dick Dykeman left the show at Poca-hontas, Va., for her home at Portland, Ore., to regain her health.

J. C. Patterson has been at Roanoke for the past two days contracting for the railroad moves for the show.

BELATED MARRIAGE NOTE

Thru "Doc" Turner, the veteran pit showman, The Billboard has just learned of the marriage of Moxie Hanley to Mayme Turner at Kansas City, Mo., May 20 last. "Moxie Hanley stalled for a long time," writes "Doc," "but he finally got booked. Yes, he is married, and the lucky girl that got him is my daughter, Mayme. They were married May 20 in Kansas City, Mo., where they are going to make their home. They both say that they are off the road for good. Everybody remembers Moxie. He was with Gaskill's, Levitt's, Mundy's and Buffalo Bill's shows. In fact, he was a very warm friend of Buffalo Bill. He tramped with Van Amberg's Show, and every one around Jerry Mugivan will remember him. Well, he quit the racket about four years ago and settled down to business in K. C. He says that it was sure tough at first, and every one said that it can't be done. But he's still there, and he has a swell business built up. You all know he's a "mug faker" (a photographer). And Mayme Turner, you all know her; she's been in the carnival game with me ever since there was one. You remember when old Jim Sturges used to stomp around when he was laying out the lot or locating the shows—that was when Joney Jones had a big snake and a feris wheel, Well, that's a long time ago. They both have been married before."

SARGENT FRAMING SHOW

Chicago, July 19.—There is a little germ in the sawdust that bites and few of its victims ever fully recover from the effects. Fred P. Sargent, long known with the big circuses, is one of them. Some years ago he retired from the show business and since that time has been living in California.

Mr. Sargent came to Chicago the other day and announced that he had weakened, that he will put out one of the finest society horse shows in the United States with the Campbell United Shows. Incidentally, Mr. Sargent is having one of the most ornate fronts built that show ingenuity can devise, together with a new top made by the United States Tent & Awning Company.

The Campbell organization has a long list of fairs in the mid-west and south, after which the shows will play the coast resorts of California.

Mr. Sargent is sparing no money in making his part of the show a feature of rare excellence.

OHIO CITY TO CELEBRATE

East Liverpool, O., July 19.—East Liverpool, known as the pottery center of America, boasting of thirty-seven potteries and a population of 25,000 persons, will pay homage to some 400 returned soldiers, sailors and marines Labor Day, when the entire city will turn out to welcome its sons of the world's war.

The committee in charge of the celebration announces the city will be decorated from one end to the other in national colors. A carnival will be engaged for a week and all attractions for the day will be free to the man in uniform. A parade, one of the largest ever arranged here, will feature the jollification. Funds for the event will be appropriated from the War Chest, according to announcement by the committee.

MOSS BROS.' SHOWS

On account of the postponement of the celebration at Joseph, Mo., The Moss Bros.' Shows will begin their fair a week earlier than originally planned, following a week's engagement at Trenton, Mo. Manager T. O. Moss owns and operates all shows and rides, therefore, in the future he will be subjected to no disappointments and can make good every clause in the contract.

Dyke Hillard came on the midway at Cameron, Mo., on the morning of July 10 smiling, as the missus had just returned from a visit to her home folks. The girl made a big change in the little lady. A number of the folks went over the Plattsburg July 9 to see Ruth Law and her company. The show was fine and the attendance was very good. Sam Miller was carried away with it. There was some "jazz storm" Wednesday night. It blew the piano out of the plant top and never scratched or tore the slide wall. Have Shorty Schenton's affidavit for this statement.—GEORGE SLATER

COL. FERARI SHOWS A BIG FLASH for Little Money

Will Make Five Stands Before Beginning Fair Dates—Business Great in Northern New York

After six weeks in the northern part of New York State to great business the Col. Ferari Shows will exhibit at five stands in the New England States before inaugurating their fair dates, which start Labor Day at Hartford, Conn.

The business enjoyed by this company thru New York has been wonderful, opposition at no point except one place. Watertown, Massena and Malone, N. Y., were exceptionally good. North Adams, Mass., will be played the week of July 21. This city has sure had its share of carnivals this season, but from all previous experiences it does not seem to have any material effect on the business of this company, for when you have got the goods you can sell them. There will be three New England stands, however, that have not been visited this season by any other carnival, altho several shows have tried to break into them ahead. With one or two exceptions, there has been no change in the makeup of the shows or concessions since the opening.

Watertown, N. Y., was the banner week of the season, under the auspices of the Sisters' Hospital and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital, headed by Mrs. Dr. Fawdry. The management of the affair for the Ladies' Auxiliary was in the hands of Len DeCant and Rubie Carpenter, two of Watertown's leading business men and capitalists, men who are known in the show business as real friends of show people. Massena, N. Y., also proved a bonanza for this show, under the auspices of the American Aluminum Co. The show was booked there by the corporation not from a financial point of view, but for the purpose of supplying amusement for its 9,000 employees, who are working day and night. The contract was an unusual one and possibly the first of its kind the carnival ever made, the company buying the show outright for the week. Had it not been for two rainy nights, the week would have been the biggest week for the Ferari Shows in a number of years. Malone, N. Y., was the fourth of July date, under the auspices of the Elks and the Alice Hyde Charitable Hospital. Fourth of July and Saturday being the big days. The shows had good attendance. The Sells-Floto Shows played day and date with the Ferari caravan here and visiting was the order of the day. Whitehall, N. Y., was one of the surprises of the season. Altho a town of only about 9,000 it turned out a spending crowd that would make a much larger town blush with shame. Week of July 14 at Glens Falls, N. Y., opened big Monday night.—M. S.

GOLDEN RIBBON SHOWS

The Golden Ribbon Shows arrived in Freehold, N. J., from Elizabeth in good time and opened to good business Monday night. Several new faces and attractions were added to the outfit here, and Manager Jack Kline has contracted with Dolly Barnes to place her Illusion and Jungle Show with the outfit.

After considering conditions in the South, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, Mr. Kline has decided to route the show thru New York State. The office at 1431 Broadway, New York, will be open all summer for the convenience of outdoor showmen who go to New York on business. Regardless of rumors, the Golden Ribbon Shows are moving every week, and are getting bigger and better every day.—DUNN.

IT'S PACINI

The most skilled printer sometimes loses the connection between his brain and his nimble fingers, in which case something usually happens that brings more or less anguish. The Billboard has a loyal patron in Chicago named R. Pacini, who carries a large and fine assortment of dolls, dealing with carnival men and concessionaires. In the issue of July 12 of The Billboard his name was spelled Pacini, not a bad sounding name at that, but incorrect.

S. W. BRUNDAGE SHOWS

Establish Record for Receipts at Kewanee, Ill.

Galesburg, Ill., July 17.—The week of July 7 will go down in the history of the S. W. Brundage Shows as one of the biggest and most profitable, as well as one of the most pleasant weeks since Seth W. toured Kansas and Oklahoma with a small caravan in praise of schoolers. The spring of 1918 at Tulsa, Ok., the show had a real busy week, and if the reader is within speaking distance of any trouper who is with it at that time let him verify this by asking said trouper. Kewanee, with an oil boom or speculators in her borders to throw their jack to the four winds, turned out the crowds and the business to equal the week at Tulsa.

Located on the Lyle lots, two blocks from the "hoop district" of the town, famous for her bellies, the shows were able to get a splendid set up and present a very neat and inviting appearance. The management was complimented time and time again during the engagement as to the general neatness of the many attractions. Chief of Police John C. Ashley took special care to provide comfort and safety not for the patrons alone, but for the carnival members as well. Extra police were placed on the ground each night and all was done to make the engagement of the Brundage Shows a success in every way. He complimented Mr. Brundage on his excellent shows and the conduct of all connected with the troupe.

Capt. Ament was still counting pennies when the show reached Galesburg Sunday afternoon. Some slot machine patrons in Kewanee. "Bob" Taylor, direct from France, if you please, landed on the midway Thursday when the "shops" were being all that it was possible to do. He immediately stepped to it and was quickly ushered into the concession game once more. Bob came back as a sergeant. Goldy Benson and wife deserve much credit for gathering the merry makers on the midway. Every day they covered the country thronly with their auto, the Mrs. being at the keys of the car.

The Daily Courier was at its best each evening, the front page carrying many lines about the show. All hands got together and tried to finish a new Silodrome in time to open at Kewanee late in the week, but they were not successful. Billy Bryant and wife are on the show to do the riding in the new attraction. J. J. Todd did all that a good agent could do to help things along. "Toddy" those were some banners you secured. Joe Goshert and wife (Joe, by the way, signed up with Genevieve Pendergrast of Cedar Rapids, Ia., for better or worse, several weeks ago, but the writer was not officially tipped off until a few days ago) were up early and late trying to keep ahead of their work, but the mob and the business would get them each night. William Tecumseh Ware, calliope artist, filled the air with strains of jingling, jazzy tunes each evening.

No auspices at Kewanee, a lot and reader being paid.—JONES JONES.

HOMECOMING AT NEW CASTLE

New Castle, Pa., July 19.—The Elks, combined with other local civic and fraternal associations, are making elaborate preparations for a big homecoming celebration to be held in this city this fall.

AUGUSTA (ME.) CELEBRATION

Augusta, Me., July 19.—Celebration of Statehood will be held here soon. Twenty-five thousand dollars will be expended by the committee in charge on pageants, amusements and industrial features.

MIDLAND, PA., WELL PLAYED

Midland, Pa., July 19.—This town, the thriving steel metropolis of Western Pennsylvania, located just 30 miles from Pittsburgh, is the mecca for carnivals. Four already have made the stand this season, and according to officials, three others are scheduled for later in the season.

CARNIVAL CARAVANS

BY ALI BABA

The Fourth is over, now what's the spot for Labor Day?

According to C. W. Bodine, an agent, a big carnival could clean up in Pittsfield, Ill., his home town.

A reader writes Ali as follows: "We are still carrying about five or six knockers—we have sold our bull."

The O'Brien Exposition Shows had one of the largest weeks of the season at Keene, N. H., Fourth of July week.

Norman Taylor, of the athletic show with the California Shows, is sporting a new car—and it's his first season.

Mrs. Harry R. Polack and son, Master Samuel, are spending a few weeks with the 20 Big on its Canadian tour.

Mrs. Danzell Jackson joined the H. W. Campbell Caravan in Michigan City, Ind., with her Arkansas kids concession and is doing nicely.

"Dad" Straley says he met the founder of near-beer in Columbus, Ohio—a mighty fine fellow, but a blame poor judge of distance.

Geo. Slater, after two years away from the business because of an accident, is again secretary to Manager Moss, of Moss Bros.' Show.

Charles A. Williamson, who has a soft drink emporium on the Wallick & Jackson Shows, ran into Cincy on a business trip while playing Harrison, O.

Madam Curtis will work the educated Rocky Mountain goat act for the Pearson's Feature Attractions this season, making her third engagement with Captain Pearson.

Even airplanes are jealous of flying Jinnies, one of 'em trying its best to demolish Johnny Jones' carousel at Edmonton—and they had a deviluva time getting it to turn loose.

Who will be the first energetic manager to book, or own, a passenger-carrying airplane for the fair season? Looks good as publicity, surely prestige, and, as a whole, financially.

Jerry Baker, concessioner with Campbell's United: Did you ever get a party of the proper faith to trim the tail of the dog you purchased at Vincennes, Indiana? What's that?

Harley Foster has had the misfortune to become totally blind, the cause of which seems to be a puzzle to the medical fraternity. Mr. Foster is announcer on the front of the animal show and Mrs. Foster is a concessioner with the H. W. Campbell caravan. Both are well known and have many friends in the carnival business.

The Meyers Brothers, of Brockton, Mass., recently had the opportunity to work their home town and was bid good-by and good luck. One week was sufficient for Sam Anderson, 'tla said.

See that the car porters keep the train clean. Have that paint work washed frequently. Local officials often visit a show train. Send them away with a good opinion of your organization. It pays.

If recent wearers of "No Beer, No Work" buttons lived up to their slogans there would be many jobs now open—also most of the antagonists should be down to at least "near" work by this time.

"Uncle John" Holland, auditor with the World at Home Shows, is a real oldtimer in the show business, and his yarns of the good old days on the coast would make good dope for an interesting story.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl ("Shadow") Baker are now on the Harry K. Main Shows and send regards to members of the Famous Broadway. They would also like to hear from Billy Waggoner and wife and Buford Turley.

In several communications previous to the Willard-Dempsey settlement, Doc Hall was all enthusiasm regarding the former retaining his honors, adding that he thought so well of it that—well, let Doc furnish the results.

Jimmie Randolph, son of his dad, J. W., is back on the Campbell Shows; in fact, the whole Randolph family, including Jimmie, Arthur and the veteran press agent himself, are now feeding from the Campbell crib.

Wonder what the bunch in New York are doing now that the Times Square Cafe has ceased to produce the joyous highball? Life must be dark and drab around that famous old Forty-third street corner these days—what?

With Sidney Wire joining the press department of the World at Home Shows, some interesting stories are likely to appear in the local dailies, as well as circus atmosphere permeate the midway and office wagon gossip—he's full of it.

Peggy Mason, last season with the Broadway Belles and now with Dr. Frank La Mar's Underground Chinatown with the World at Home Shows, has signed to go with one of Hurlig & Seamon's Columbia Circuit attractions (tla coming season.

Luke Rawls, formerly of the Metropolitan Shows, is spending the summer at Bessmer,

If you see it in The Billboard, tell them so.

Mr. Luke writes he recently paid a visit to Billy Everett, last season secretary to C. E. Harfield, and now manager of the Bijou in Birmingham.

Advertise special matinees for ladies and the kiddies and see that the band is on the job. Have all the rides going and all of your clean and desirable shows, ball games and legitimate concessions. It will make a big difference on the season's receipts.

Jack LeBeau and wife, dome riders, are having the time of their young lives during their summer engagement at the Old Spanish Fort, New Orleans. Doing three shows, fishing, bathing both of 'em sunbathed—are included in the daily routine.

W. L. ("Slim") Griffin, concessioner, who the fore part of the season deserted the carnival game for a trip along the sawdust trail with Gentry Bros., has returned to his first love and is now with the Virginia Amusement Co., playing West Virginia.

Do many marriages denote successful seasons? If so the number chronicled in this week's Caravans would predict 1919 ending up a ding-buster. Whitsamatter, Ed. Satter, the Jones Exposition about held the record for Cupid's activities last season?

Lucile Anderson, the popular diving venus, is combining the duties of stenographer with those of aquatic star with the World at Home Shows. Lucile is an expert stenographer and typist and you will find her at her desk in the office car any old morning after 8:30.

Capt. Jack Lorenzo, Hon. trainer with the Keystone Exposition Shows, received lacerations about the arms and shoulders when attacked by one of the beasts recently, according to news from Meriden, Conn. He has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties.

Hear that Harry Griffin, of the California Shows, has added another new suit to his already extensive wardrobe, consisting of a goatskin of the two-piece variety, purchased at a bi-yearly sale recently and one that is guaranteed not to crack at the knee.

Leslie Stevenson wishes his friends to know that he joined Wortham's Greatest with his new show, K-K-L, the Girl from Mexico. It comprises a thirty-foot snake in a big pit and with a walk-in frameup about the size of his oh, No. 2 sideshow with the Sells-Floto Circus.

Walter A. White and Billie Owens are doing some mighty good work ahead of the World at Home Shows and the billing is well taken care of whenever these two hustlers are on the job. Irving J. Polack sure believes in publicity, and he doesn't let the expense worry him a fraction.

P. H. Cule, manager of Baby Emma, that big bunch of jolly femininity, closed recently with the Moss Bros.' caravan and is now playing still thru town with three shows and four concessions. Pete says he has so far had a successful season and is looking forward to big business this fall.

Irving J. Polack was in Lima on Thursday, in Detroit Friday and in Montreal Sunday and Monday. Tuesday saw him in New York City and on Wednesday night he was seen speeding out of Baltimore in his big touring car on his way to Louisville, Indianapolis and South Bend. Some stepper, that boy.

Ottawa, Can., proved the banner week so far this season for Polack Bros.' 20 Big Shows. Incidentally, J. Wilkinson Crowther, press agent, had matters publicly about to his liking and was not slow in taking advantage of the situation, judging by the amount of space and display the 20 Big received there.

James O. ("Jimmie") Ellis is the general agent of the Campbell United Shows and has been since May 1, and the route booked up until the end of October, with the exception of two Indiana fairs in September, has been booked by Ellis. So says J. W. Randolph, press agent for the Campbell caravan.

J. E. (Dutch) Hoover, one of the best Katzenjumper Kastle and Crazy House comics that ever combined, formerly with H. W. Winstow, Jimmie Murphy and others, passed thru Cincinnati last week on their way from Chattanooga to join the Metropolitan Shows at Ashland, Ky.

While the Greater Alamo band was serenading newspapers at Portland, Oregon, the boys were showered with roses from windows. They also received many nice notices on the quality of their organization, of which Director Mack is most proud. The majority of the boys are wearing overseas stripes.

Joe Goshert, of Girard, Kan., and Genevieve Prendergast, of Iowa City, Ia., were married at Oklaheola, Iowa, May 22. Mr. Goshert has been manager of concessions on the S. W. Brundage Shows for the past eight years, while the former Miss Prendergast spent several weeks with the shows last season. Both are very well liked by all who know them. Treasurer A. L. Crouch joins with all members of the Brundage Shows and Billyboy in wishing them much success and happiness on their matrimonial voyage.

Al Manning, with Benny Krause for three seasons and Benson Shows for two, was married on June 23 to Miss Beatrice Squires, of Philadelphia, Pa. The newlyweds will not go on the road this season, instead living at 354 North Eleventh street, Philadelphia, to which address they would like to hear from friends.

Charlie A. Foley has been having the time of his life with the California Exposition Shows, before going out ahead of Harry Hastings' Kewpie Dolls on the American Circuit. Hear Harry opines there are more one-arm hammer throwers at Quincy, Mass., than any other place in New England. Let us in on it, Chas. A.

Rose ("Birdie") Ernest, promising artist and pupil of Prof. F. G. Graf, the tattooed man, has returned to Coney Island after a several weeks' pleasant visit to her home in Columbus, O. Miss Ernest now has a splendid new variety of designs. She would appreciate hearing from all her old friends, care of The Billboard, New York.

After a very pleasant engagement with the Cook's Victory Shows, The Diving Kings have opened their park season, their first date being at Beaver Falls, Pa., for the Fourth of July, then to Junction Park, New Brighton, where they were held over for the second week. The Kings are under the direction of John C. Jackel, Inc., of New York City.

William Tanner, manager of Mother, a brand new idea in wagon pit exhibitions, joined the Wortham Greatest in Calumet, Mich. Also, Capt. La Dore has engaged Ray Boyd, a clever young illusionist, for the Delhi attraction. Understand so many claiming top money on the Fourth of July caused Mr. Boyd to say the Captain was in the first class, anyway.

Harry Polson, general superintendent Campbell Shows, is really a versatile man and will fit in anywhere. In addition to his duties as g. s. he is also trainmaster, manager of the wild animal show, marshal of the parade, master mechanic, rides manager, sells tickets and doubles in band. Manager Campbell would likely loan him out, when not otherwise engaged, to mow a neighbor's lawn or feed the chickens.

Percy Martin, late general agent for the Krause Greater Shows, whose retirement from show business to accept a position as field representative for the L. L. Ciesney Corporation, operating a chain of wholesale grocery stores, was announced in an article last week, advises that beginning July 15, his headquarters will for the present be at the Cleburne Hotel, Helena, Ark., and any showfolks happening in that vicinity will be welcome visitors.

Of course, it is known to all Wortham Bedouins, but know all ye other friends of the contracting parties by these presents that Miss (that was) Ethel La Mar, the famous high diver and trick swimmer with Harry Calvert's Stella and her Diving Girls on Wortham's Greatest, and Fred Bates, the Exposition's popular trainmaster, were married quite several weeks ago, and may their future be ever happy and prosperous.

E. Z. Wilson turned his hen house into a cobbler's shop for a few minutes while the Greater Alamo was playing Tacoma, Wash. On Saturday a crowd of striking telephone girls swooped down on the midway and one of them lost the heel off her shoe—E. Z. to the rescue. He found the heel and with the aid of a few tools nailed it back in position, and the girl went on her way rejoicing. Then up bobbed Happy Wells, who could not stand for anything like this from his opposition, and conducted the fair ones thru Oh, Boy, which immediately began doing a rushing business.

HEAVY WIND STORM

Strikes Johnny J. Jones Expo.

Many Tents Damaged in Blow-down at Saskatoon Fair—Massive Fronts Saved by Quick Work

Saskatoon, Sask., Can., July 19.—The Johnny J. Jones' Exposition suffered a blowdown here Thursday when a terrific windstorm, following what was recorded as the hottest day ever experienced in Saskatoon, struck the midway. Many of the tents were leveled to the ground, but nobody was injured. All of the massive fronts withstood the storm, which speaks well for Mr. Jones' efficient staff and working crew. The typewriter of Ed R. Salter, the publicity representative of the exposition, was a total loss.

Mr. Jones, having a full equipment of emergency tents, immediately replaced the ones damaged in the blowdown, and the show went on Thursday night uninterrupted due to his foresight.

The windstorm, much less severe, continued until Friday noon, then came rain. The receipts up to the time of the blowdown had exceeded by many thousand dollars all previous Saskatoon midway receipts. It will be remembered Mr. Jones played the date last year.

With all this heavy drawback Mr. Jones will beat his wonderful gross business of last year. Had weather conditions been favorable all gross receipts for one week's midway business in Western Canada would have been shattered. Lieut. Sousa's Band, Ed Carruthers' free acts and Alex Sloan's auto races all proved big hits at the fair.

"This year will go down in history as the greatest exhibition fair ever held in Saskatoon," says C. D. Fisher, manager of the Saskatoon Industrial Exhibition.

COLIN CAMPBELL

Colin L. "Doc" Campbell, well-known carnival showman, is out of the carnival game at present, and is connected with a Detroit amusement park for the season. The "Doc" was one of the conspicuous figures at the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo, where he handled the official program.

Sold direct to traveling concessions at special low prices.

McLaren's Cones are just the thing for outdoor stands, as they remain crisp and sweet and do not absorb moisture readily.

Substantially packed in good, strong, corrugated boxes, 1,000 to the case.

Through our many warehouse connections, we can deliver quickly anywhere.

Write for samples and prices, stating quantity desired.

FAIR DATES

Started by Wortham Greatest

Plays North Dakota State Fair for Third Year After Record Breaking Week at Duluth

Grand Forks, N. D., July 15.—After a week of record-breaking business at Duluth the Wortham Greatest Shows pulled out early for the 300-mile run, in two sections, for the great North Dakota State Fair at Grand Forks, which is the biggest annual citizens' and farmers' festival in this territory, and this is the third year the Wortham organization is supplying the playground amusement exhibitions and attractions.

This is the opening of the Wortham Greatest fair dates, and Fred Bates, the expert train-master, had the thirty cars sidetracked at a handy spot, and quickly unloaded, and this morning all is in complete readiness on what is likely the handsomest fair grounds in this northern country, and the multitude is here and more coming to compete for the thousands of dollars in cash prizes and premiums for all kinds of exhibits; also to enjoy the grand stand program, twice daily, and auto polo and innumerable feature attractions and the extensive and elaborate Wortham display.

Harry Sanger had advance matters in charge here, which is a guarantee of excellent, faithful work. It is so cool and pleasant up in this cheerful latitude that all the Wortham Bedouins have termed it "the nation's summer ice box." It is really an imposition to rub it in, but, to have it all historically correct, will candidly state that at Calumet and Duluth overcoats were welcome some evenings.

Travel is enormous, trains being crowded with tourists from the Southern States. The big steamship lines from Detroit and Chicago to Duluth have all berths engaged for six weeks ahead and all the tourists are unoppressed with abundant kale for enjoyment. — PUNCH WHEELER.

POLACK BROS.' 20 BIG SHOWS

The first week of the Army and Navy Veterans' Celebration at Montreal opened with flying colors, the Polack Brothers' 20 Big Shows supplying the amusement features, and attracting thousands to the grounds. All shows and riding devices enjoyed exceptionally good business during the first part of the week, but rain interfered with the events on Thursday and Friday.

Canada's greatest newspaper, The Star, and the largest French publication, La Presse, opened their columns to the shows in which they herald same as being the largest and best attractions that ever played the big city.

Samuel McCracken who is in Montreal promoting the big doings which are to take place in the city next month, was a visitor to the shows July 11. George Westerman of the Brown and Dyer Shows paid Manager Boyd a visit July 10. Mrs. Harry H. Polack and her son, Samuel, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Polack. They will remain during the Canadian tour. Secretary Percy Morency in his home town has been kept busy during the week in escorting the home folks around the midway. Tom Golden has rejoined the shows and will assist with the advance work while in Canada. Hustling Berney Smuckler is still promoting big doings and has "pulled" an exceptionally big one in Montreal. Frank G. Ashwood of Ogdensburg, N. Y., is now in charge of the advance advertising department of the shows. J. WILKINSON CROWTHER.

SUPERIOR SHOWS

The 4th of July week found the Superior Shows in Toledo, Ohio, on the Armory Park lot in the heart of the city. Credit is due Mr. Wolf, the manager, for getting such a spot with the big light that was pulled off there. It was so hot in the afternoon that there was no business, but everybody made up for it at night, when the lot was crowded with people. Mr. Wolf took his official staff to see the big fight, including Happy Holden, assistant manager; Mrs. Happy Holden, secretary-treasurer; J. W. McKinstry, chief electrician; Frank Sullivan, master of transportation and general announcer; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Solomon and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Harris. All got back in time for the night's play, which started about 5:30, and every show and concession on the midway did a capacity business. The play continued Saturday and Sunday and then the show moved to the circus lot at Lagrange and Central avenue for a week's engagement, with business way above expectations. On Wednesday night at about 8:30, a storm came up and caused considerable damage to many of the tops and fronts. Mr. Wolf immediately got busy with carpenters and painters, and wired the Beverly Co., of Louisville, Ky., for new tents to replace those destroyed. — S. F. HARRIS.

JAMES M. BENSON SHOWS

The James M. Benson Shows have been playing to big crowds thru Pennsylvania and New Jersey, according to word from Eddie Fair, Newton, N. J., in particular proved especially big. Manager J. M. Benson has added an Ell wheel to his rides.

RUBIN & CHERRY SHOWS

Clearfield, Pa., resulted in the banner spot of the season for the Rubin & Cherry Shows since coming north of the Ohio River. The shows played under the auspices of Fire Company No. 1, with J. D. Connelly looking after things for the committee. Phillipsburg, Pa., followed.

Jack Kling, with his I.X.L. Ranch Wild West Show, has added several Indians to his already large aggregation of riders, ropers and sharpshooters, and it is by far the best show he has gotten together for several years. Gean Nadrau has the show beautiful, the Hawaiian Theater, and is carrying a company of twelve people. It is probably the highest priced show on the road, outside of the opera houses, where Gean will take it during the winter season. Zeke Shumway's Motor-drome, John Ruhl's Flea Circus, Billy Arnt's Dixieland Troubadors, The Double Baby, Hinds' Charlie with his reptiles and the Devil Child, Joyland and the Nagata Brothers, Sam and Jessie with their Whip, toboggan, Carousel and big Ell wheel, have all been getting big play. Joyland, by the way, is now the property of the writer.

After a pleasant trip to New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities, Manager Rubin Gruberg is looking after the show with his customary carefulness. Pete Thompson has charge of the train now, and when the call goes up to move at a certain time, it's ready to go. Mrs. Gruberg and little daughter have been spending a delightful vacation at Bemus Point, N. Y., on Lake Chautauqua.—FRANK S. REED.

N. Y. EXHIBITORS ANSWER BLACK

Strongly Deny Representative Character of St. Louis Meeting--Their Slogan: "Protect Your Investments and Retain Ownership of Your Theaters"

The New York State League of Motion Picture Exhibitors has made a strong rejoinder to the statement recently issued by Alfred S. Black, the exhibitor who was elected president by the St. Louis meeting of exhibitors. The Billboard, which printed Mr. Black's statement in full, deems it fair to give equal publicity to the rejoinder. The text is as follows:

TO THE EXHIBITORS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Motion Picture Exhibitors of the State of New York deems it proper to make a final comment on the statement of Mr. Alfred S. Black, President of the Motion Picture Exhibitors of America, Incorporated. We say "final" advisedly. There is no time left for discussion. We are getting assurances of support for a real National Exhibitors Organization from every part of the United States, particularly from States that were supposed to have been represented at St. Louis. This work is taking up all of our time.

The State Organization of New York never "bolted" the convention at St. Louis. They could not "bolt" a convention whose jurisdiction they have never acknowledged. The men who spoke there on behalf of the New York State Organization attended in an advisory capacity, their only business being to submit a plan for the building up of a thoroughly representative National body. It should not be forgotten that New York presented no candidate for any office and that not one of its members was interested in any plan to sell films, State rights or otherwise, screens, trade papers, influence or any other commodity or merchandise whatsoever to the exhibitors of the country.

We have asked the leading spirits of the Motion Picture Exhibitors of America, Incorporated, for some evidence supporting their claim that they represent the exhibitors of the United States. No such evidence has ever been produced and none will be.

The convention at St. Louis was largely a re-assembling of the few gentlemen who met at the Hotel Astor in New York in April. It is not pretended that between April and July any of these gentlemen, or any of their friends, made the slightest effort to organize the exhibitors in any part of the United States. It is a fair inference to say that they have no mandate and no credentials from the great exhibiting body of the country.

Our reasons for favoring the congressional unit as the basis of representation in any National Assembly have been fully stated. The fact remains under the plan of representation proposed at the St. Louis meeting, New York will be called upon to furnish 15 per cent of the membership and 15 per cent of the taxes in return for 1-48 share in representation. We call Mr. Black's attention to the fact that the House of Representatives and not the Senate is the legislative branch in which all measures of taxation must originate. Conceding for the sake of argument, that the St. Louis meeting was organized "along the lines of the United States Senate" it would be possible for a handful of small States to load the burdens of taxation on their more populous sister states. This, however, is not the most fatal objection to the St. Louis meeting. It should be borne in mind that under the constitution adopted by the St. Louis meeting the president has the right to designate any person he chooses with the consent of the executive committee as the representative of such States as in the judgment of the said president may be found unorganized. Only a phantom organization can be imagined under such conditions, but not a real flesh and blood organization giving every exhibitor the right to be heard in the choosing of members and in the election of officials. It is the old story of a shadow organization, controlled by a few men for their own personal benefit, always barren and always inactive, the sometimes not unprofitable to the promoters.

Mr. Black says that "every exhibitor in the United States will hear within a few days direct from the chairman of this committee (Law and Taxation Committee), Mr. L. F. Blumenthal, of Jersey City, N. J. While we are glad to see Mr. Blumenthal emerge from his usual place of concealment and step into the public view, we can not say that his appearance inspires us with any degree of confidence.

The exhibitors of the United States have heretofore frequently heard from this gentleman, but never to their advantage. The exhibitors of the country not long ago were asked to sup-

NO CAMOUFLAGED ADVERTISING IN THE BILLBOARD

Readers of The Billboard are assured that no "puffs" or "slush" designed to promote the sale of pictures regardless of their merits will ever appear in the motion picture columns. Only such matter as has a definable value to the reader will be printed. In other words the editorial and news columns of The Billboard are chemically free from all kinds of Camouflaged Publicity or Advertising.

BRITISH EXHIBITORS ARE MAS-TERS OF THEIR SCREEN

Resent Attempt To Use Screen for Prohibition Propaganda--Protest Against "Block Booking"

The British stern against American-made film has arisen with new fury. As a lot of interesting things are developed in the further organized resistance of the British exhibitor against what he believes to be unfair competition from this side of the water and as the usual muzzle is clamped fast on all the trade papers The Billboard will give the news with its usual fairness and fullness.

These British exhibitors do not like the program contract with all it implies.

A protest meeting was called on July 15 at the Holborn Empire, London, by the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association of Great Britain and Ireland.

Major Rees, M. P., told the audience that Bonar Law had assured him that the Government was fully alive to the dangers of permitting any but British control of such a great means of popular education as the movies.

The trouble has arisen thru an American concern, the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, having started a British branch to produce films for the British market on this side of the water. Its policy is enterprising, and strong condemnation of certain features of it was expressed by speakers. What "riled" the British exhibitors is an evil to which his more patient American brother has submitted for many years with only a semi-occasional "kick," semi-occasional and ineffectual. Here is what Thomas R. C. Buchanan, vice-president of the Scottish branch, said:

"I object to the infamous system of block booking by which exhibitors must contract to take 104 pictures a year."

Mr. Buchanan evidently was talking to a lot of rough and untamed exhibitors like himself, for the report of the meeting says that his remarks were heartily applauded by his fellow-exhibitors.

The meeting also showed that nobody in Great Britain is allowed to pledge the screen to any particular unless he is speaking with full authority from the men who own the screen, i. e., the exhibitors themselves.

The activities of a widely known prohibition agitator, referred to in the press as Pussfoot Johnson, angered the belligerent Mr. Buchanan. He referred to the plan of Pussfoot Johnson to enlist the picture houses in his prohibition campaign, and warned him that the movies were a two-edged weapon.

"They can be used against Pussfoot and his plans," he exclaimed. "If British wrongs are to be righted, let's right them by British means. If he thinks he can use the cinemas he will find they are not yet American owned."

Evidently the British exhibitor is the master of his screen and quite jealous of it too.

Thruout the meeting the speakers asked the audience not to misunderstand their frequent allusions to America. They were not anti-American, but merely opposing a particular attack on British industry which happened to be American. As Major Rees put it:

"You can be good friends with your mother-in-law, but you don't want her all over the house all the time."

J. A. Seddon, a well-known labor man, said:

THE EDITOR'S SAY

ON THE DOINGS OF THE DAY

THE READER FIRST, LAST AND ALWAYS

For twelve years I have defined and practiced motion picture journalism as "an independent and beneficent force." I was like a voice in the wilderness. Trade journalism was nothing more and nothing less than a net in which to catch the advertising fish. The day will surely come when the great producing interests will say not only what shall and what shall not go into the trade papers, but what trade paper shall be allowed to live and what trade paper shall be cast into the outer darkness. Such are the wages of journalistic servility. In the meantime The Billboard glories in its independence and reaffirms its belief that the "reader is the foundation of the publisher's happiness and prosperity."

POOR STARS MAKE POOR PROGRAMS

Attendance at theaters here in New York has been uniformly bad and a little below of the business of last year. You can not explain this by weather conditions alone. The weather conditions of last year were, if anything, less favorable than this year. Some percentage in the loss of patronage must be set down to the poor quality of features and the would-be stars. We have barred Lila Lee and Vivian Martin from Broadway, but we still have Irene Castle and "such like." The public has no more detestation for paste diamonds than for paste stars. How can an exhibitor build up a fine program around a poor feature with a star the public doesn't care for? The best of programs suffer shipwreck when it is loaded down with such a cargo.

ADVERTISING WILL ENHANCE VALUES, BUT CAN NOT CREATE THEM

Which is it to be: "Better Pictures" or "The Same Old Pictures Better Advertised?" A poor picture well advertised is a boomerang. The manager of one of the biggest houses in the country said to me but a little while ago: "When we have to take a picture that we know is going to fall down we all pray for rain and storm on Sunday when the picture has its first public showing. If our prayers are not heard and we have a big house on Sunday and a poor picture it hurts the attendance for the rest of the week." Some of the most prominent advertising experts in this business seem to overlook the cardinal principle of all advertising, i. e., it only pays to advertise when you have something worth while advertising. Probably $20,000 was spent advertising the Rothapfel Unit Program, and now, of course, they all wish they hadn't.

EXHIBITORS SICK OF "PUBLICITY AIDS" AND "BUNK SERVICE"

Exhibitors are busy people and few have the time or the inclination to write letters to the press. We have received a number of communications recently protesting against "publicity aids" and "bunk service." One man, the owner of a successful theater in one of the big towns in the Middle West, asks whether the company thinks that it knows the ex-

HELPING THE FILM SHIPPERS

Federal legislation is under way, according to reports received by the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, to effect a saving in time and money for film shippers by empowering Postoffice authorities to return immediately to the sender all films not claimed at their destination.

The two bills effecting this improvement in Postal regulations were introduced in the house respectively by Congressman Halvor Steenerson, Republican, from the ninth Minnesota District, and Congressman Edward Volght, Republican from the Second Wisconsin District.

Congressman Steenerson's bill, designated as H. R. 6951, will authorize the return to the sender or the forwarding of undeliverable second, third and fourth class mail matter. Congressman Volght's bill, H. R. 6324, authorizes the Postmaster General to make rules and regulations for the forwarding and return of mail matter of the second, third and fourth classes.

Substantially, the effect of the two bills, if enacted into law, will be to empower the Postmaster General to assume that the sender of second, third and fourth class undelivered

THE MICROBE

Metro picture, featuring Viola Dana Reviewed by HELEN RICKER.

A clean, leisurely, tho unoriginal, story of the news-girl who regenerates her wealthy young benefactor, with clear-eyed Viola Dana at her best. Kenneth Harlan and Arthur Maude assisting.

THE STORY IN SKELETON FORM

The Microbe, Mike for short, engages in a Chinktown newsy fight, and seeks refuge from the police under the coat-tails of DeWitt Spence, a novelist, who is sinking in the depths thru dissipation. He drives her home and has her put to bed, not discovering until the next morning that she is a girl. His two friends, a genial cartoonist, and Bereton, an editor, of pessimistic frame of mind, receive the Microbe each in his own way. A year passes, and then Bereton takes it upon himself to save Spence from what he believes to be an unwise affection for the little waif. He convinces Mike that she is doing harm to Spence's career, and she agrees to go away, after destroying Spence's faith in her. Thru mysterious letters, whose writer is unknown to him, Spence regains his interest in life and his work, and eventually of course discovers that Mike is the woman behind his inspiration.

CRITICAL X-RAY

Viola Dana is always being picked up by somebody with money who makes a lady of her and then, doubtful reward! marries her. This time it is better done than usually, with pleasing interior lighting effects and a sterling cast. Viola Dana is the main thing in the film, of course but that's certainly nothing against it as entertainment. There is a superabundance of subtleties. The action is never swift, and there's little doubt as to just how the final closeup will look, tho it is given a mirthful frill at the last minute.

THE WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

Viola Dana has bobbed her hair, and it is said she now regrets it. She needn't. It gives the rogish Mike added piquancy, and, besides, Viola's bobbed hair. The Microbe amuses, but it does not thrill.

Gerald goes for help. To the aid of the screaming Isabel comes a slouch-hat on a cow-pony who explains that Oscar, the bear, is merely out for candy. Last names are overlooked in the informality of their meeting and parting. Some time later, when old Carter has taken a rather queer contract on the unknown knight's (Burt Radcliffe is his name) mine, Radcliffe comes East to his own Eastern-bred fiancé. But Carter's customary business coup ruins Burt, and the girl hysterically refuses to have anything more to do with him. Alone in his big house with a rainstorm raging outside Burt contemplates avenging himself in the Western way, when his door bell rings. Acting as his own butler he lets in a blast of wind, and borne upon it a girl in evening dress, who lays her wet cloak and scarf upon his arm and trips ahead of him into the living-room. Incredulously he follows, and at the same time that she discovers that she is in the wrong house they both discover that they have met before. When he finally learns her name, he volunteers to phone her father for her, and the message that he sends to old Carter is: "You took my mine, I have your daughter." They get dinner together and wash the diabea, while Daddy Carter is commandeering the city police and detective force, and after many twists and backsets Burt and Isabel lock daddy and Gerald in Burt's living-room and slope. But dad gets 'em yet. He gives 'em the doggoned mine.

THE CRITICAL X-RAY

The action has a litch or two before it really gets under way, but then the plot breezes along the wings of the Kennedy personality, without which the picture would be worth considerably of the monotony and tries her fascinations upon Denton, with no result except to cause a break between him and her husband who misunderstand Denton's part in the affair. In an isolated cabin in the woods lives Bill Larkin, moonshiner, and his terrorized, lovely girl wife. Dorgan joins forces with Larkin to break Denton, but Mary overhears the plot to blow up the mill and in return for a kindness Denton once did her gives the warning to his young brother. Sending the message to Denton at the mill, the boy confronts the gang in Bill's cabin, and is shot down at Mary's feet. Denton swears vengeance, but Dorgan's mutilated body found in the wreckage of the mill is supposed to be Larkin. Denton takes Mary away with him, giving her the love and kindness that her first husband had robbed her of. A year later a wounded man staggers into their cabin, and Mary recognizes him as Larkin, whom Denton has never yet seen, but she is afraid to reveal his identity to the man she loves. In Denton's absence Larkin disappears with the helpless Mary, but after following the trail to Mexico Denton regains his wife and child and kills Larkin in a fair fight.

THE CRITICAL X-RAY

It's a big story with a big interest, inclined to move slowly in its immensity. Lewis Stone has one of those lean, lovable, man's man faces that lends itself well to this Bill Hart style of drama. Wistful Jane Novak is mighty sweet and appealing as the tragic little Mary, down-trodden, helpless, heart-breaking. Charlotte Burton plays the butterfly wife with her usual dash, and the scenes where the two women are contrasted—Mary cowering from her husband's less. The incident of the drying slippers on the fender has never been more laughably done, and cute Madge Kennedy romps thru the situations at her usual speed. John Bowers plays well, and Herbert Standing as old dad pulls in a good laugh at the finish. He got his at last, but it took his own daughter to do it. The rain effects are carried out by a master hand.

THE WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

It's funny how these fluttering fingers of Madge Kennedy curl around your heart. While not her best yet, this film is above all refreshing and mildly interesting. A girl with a smile and eyes like Madge Kennedy is supposed not to need a real plot, but only a vehicle. This is admittedly it.

THE STORY IN SKELETON FORM

Sylvia and Paul have been sweethearts since childhood. When Paul is a senior at Yale he asks for Sylvia's hand and is told by her father that he may be accepted if he will stay in Darbyville. Paul meets Muriel Evers, a married woman, and only needs a whispered word from a classmate to decide him in going to New York. Sylvia's father dies and she is thrown on her own resources. She joins a theatrical stock company and becomes the saving angel for a talented man whose curse is drink. Paul in the meantime marries Muriel Evers and to all appearances is successful.

After years of hard work Sylvia comes to Broadway. Henry Leamington, the reclaimed actor, asks her to marry him, but she refuses.

At the opening of her season in New York Paul comes to her and again tells of his love, but she says that the theater is not of his world and he suggests that they need not marry. She again gives him up and turns to her art, but makes the man who has helped her happy by becoming his wife.

CRITICAL X-RAY

There is nothing out of the ordinary in the story. J. Barney Sherry plays with intelligence, as does Miss Leslie as Muriel Evers. Miss Leslie screens beautifully. The love scenes are vividly portrayed and should appeal to those who like romance. Miss Kathryn Adams was perhaps a bit outdone in beauty, but not in acting. Frank Mayo was a charming as ever.

THE STORY IN SKELETON FORM

Carmina dances and serves food and drink in her uncle's inn. "Giovanni of the Black Heart" arrives from Italy to avenge himself on the husband of the woman who jilted his brother. Carmina rebukes him for seeking vendetta, and Luigi decides to teach her better. A quarrel ensues, which results in the police being called and the affair getting into the paper. Philip Remington, millionaire, is censured for allowing such a disorderly place to operate on his property.

His son, David, offers to look after the matter and meets Carmina. He is interested in her and causes much comment both at his home and at the inn. Luigi accepts Giovanni's money and pledges Carmina to marry him. Carmina runs away and is picked up by David on the road, and carried to his home, where she is the means of preventing Giovanni from carrying out the vendetta.

CRITICAL X-RAY

The story lacks action and the actors animation. The parts seem overplayed and the picture is as a whole tiresome. Surely something better will have to be shown to hold the interest of the theater patron. Perhaps if the organ grinder had had the good fortune to own a monkey on a string it might have brought a smile to the cheer of the onlooker.

THE STORY IN SKELETON FORM

In the Paris of a hundred years ago we find Joseph Lesurques, a refined, lovable gentleman, celebrating the betrothal of his only daughter to Andre, son of the courier, who carries the mail between Paris and Lyons. At the same time Lesurques' double, Dubosc, a rascal of the Paris slums, is planning an attack on the Lyons mail with his gang of scoundrels. In the fight with the highwaymen Andre's father is killed, and circumstantial evidence points to the beloved Lesurques, whose own father, having met Dubosc on the scene of the crime, believes Lesurques guilty. Despite the efforts of his friends Lesurques is condemned to die on the guillotine with three of the gang. Dubosc's mistreated wife, Janet, who shares his secrets and knows of his resemblance to the innocent man, reaches the scene of execution in time to tell her story and save Lesurques.

THE CRITICAL X-RAY

Aside from the erect figure and tragic eyes of Henry Irving's son there is little to recommend the picture, which is blotchily done. The rather too stately movement of the first three reels gives way to melodramatically sustained suspense, carried to cheap excess in the last 600 feet. There is also a lamentable lack of pulchritude in the supporting cast. The work of Harry Welchman, as Andre, is an exception, however. Slim, flashing, sincere, he holds the attention with almost Irvingesque grace and surety.

THE WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

The scenes of the guillotine are trying in the extreme. A needless attention to detail mars scenes that should have been sketchily treated if shown at all. The nightmarish make-up of the crew of villains, and the unimpaired photography remind one of the days when the motion picture industry was, as interviewed bright lights say, still in its infancy.

but two points in its favor. First, the local atmosphere which is very true to nature and second the excellent character acting of Noah Beery, as the girl's father. Vivian Martin is not a star. The most kindly and indulgent criticism cannot get over this fact. If she has any latent talents they certainly remained latent in this picture. There is a painful lack of personal magnetism and utter absence of even some indications of histrionic skill. Efforts to force her upon the public as a star are costly to the exhibitors. If any further evidence were needed of the part ownership of the Paramount people in the Radio property the booking of Vivian Martin removes this. All the ridiculous experience of this worn melodrama, such as suppressed letters, overheard conversation and shots that do not kill but wound, are conspicuous in this cheap concoction.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Eager for Industry's Co-Operation—Want Stars and Others To Participate in Police Field Day Programs

(BY OREIGHTON HALE.)

Commissioner Wallis and the committee in charge of the arrangement of the program for the Police Field Day, which is to be held at the Sheepshead Speedway at New York City on Saturday, July 26, have seen fit to honor me with the assignment to enlist the co-operation of everyone connected with the motion picture industry towards participating in these events. Frankly, I must say that the Police Department would have done much better to have appointed the head of one of the companies or some alert publicity director, who would be more fitted to see an undertaking of this sort thru successfully. Perhaps the Police Department was influenced by the fact that I actively participated in the Field Days last year, or perhaps because I happened to have planned some of the numbers in the program this year. At any rate I'll start the ball a-rolling and leave it to the industry to appoint some one better fitted than I am to accept the title, which I shall gladly relinquish, and I have Commissioner Wallis' permission to do so.

This appeal is not made solely for the purpose of selling tickets, as a matter of fact the sale of tickets at this date is of minor importance. The general public has responded nobly in that direction. The big idea is to interest the heads of the various companies and their publicity directors to enlist the services of their stars and others connected with the companies whose talent would not only afford the thousands of spectators additional entertainment, but also to add to the prestige of these individuals whose names are linked with these important events.

I am by no means overlooking the exhibitor. The picture industry is show business. Included in our local exhibitor organization are several hundred showmen. The Police Department looks to them to demonstrate, on their behalf, their ability as showmen to put over a real stunt that would add to the program.

I need hardly go into detail as to the advisability of leading the co-operation of the industry to the New York police. Suffice to say that every branch of the industry, producing, distributing and exhibiting, has on innumerable occasions called on the police for assistance and but rarely has this assistance been denied. On the contrary, in almost every instance, we have found them willing and ready to serve. I am sure that you who reads this, if you are an exhibitor, have been the recipient of many a favor from the police that meant dollars to the box office. If you are a director then you too will recall that a certain exterior effect, that meant much to your production, could only be had with the aid and cheerful co-operation of the police. And, above all, if your salary is charged to the department of advertising and publicity, then I'll venture to say, in fact boldly state, that at some time in the not quite forgotten past you have become obligated, and maybe you are still grateful to the police department for having deviated slightly from its regular routine to accommodate you.

The big idea is for us to take advantage of this opportunity to reciprocate. Let's reciprocate and make it easy for the police department to continue its pleasant relations with the film industry. Its up to us to furnish some of the entertainment that will be offered the thousands that will congregate at the Speedway on Saturday, July 26th. Our participation will not be a task—it will be entertaining and a pleasant diversion for the individuals who take part in the program. Altho the program of the different events that will be staged will include many features and interesting novelties, realize that the participants are all members of the police force and that a representation of film stars, etc., will not add color to the program as a whole, but will distinctly stand out and reflect favorably to each and every individual participant and to the entire industry. You press agents and advertising men of course, appreciate this.

In all sincerity, just at the present moment, I'd much rather be a press agent and be able to think up some of those famous stunts and ooze forth some of those ideas that are bringing the dollars into the box office—and the home offices, to be sure, as well—than flicker across the film before you, emoting my darndest by kicking the villain in the shins or passionately embracing June Caprice. If I were a press agent then I could perhaps tell you just how you could frame your respective contributions to the program. However, with much temerity, I shall make some suggestions, mind you merely suggestions, for I am certain that you can do much better if you make up your mind to it.

Suppose you convince some one or two of your female stars from each company who are in the East and available the 26th that it would be an excellent stunt if they would dress in some unique garb and participate in a "Picture Players' Pageant." If you can arrange that end of it I'll furnish the police department horses—the finest steeds of the finest. Another suggestion is to have some of your male stars participate in a "Movie Auto Race." If necessary I'll even furnish the autos. Still another suggestion for comedy producing companies is to "shoot" some scene in which the comedy "cop" would figure. I might even persuade real policemen to play the parts. At the moment what might prove to be a good bit of "business" suggests itself, and that is to photograph the traffic cop hailing the joy-riders and commanding them to stop—they disregard him and fall to even slow down—he steps directly in their path and braces himself. Altho the car is moving very slowly, on the screen it would appear to be racing. The cop succeeds in stopping the car by sheer strength and with a mighty shove sends it speeding backward, altho in reality the car had stopped of its own mechanism and is backing away.

Altho the above are merely suggestions you can readily grasp the idea. The possibilities are really big and that your brains are much more fertile than mine, along these lines, there is no doubt—so put them to work and let me hear from you. This opportunity is open to anyone who has a suggestion that is of value. Communications by telephone will reach me at Spring 3100, or by letter care Commissioner Wallis, Police Headquarters, New York City.

NO FEDERATION OF F. I. L. M. CLUBS AS YET

The committee recently appointed to consider ways and means for organizing the F. I. L. M. Clubs and branch managers' associations into a national body as an integral part of the Distributors' Division of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry held its first meeting on July 11. President William A. Brady was present at the meeting, which was presided over by Lewis Inzerarity, secretary of the Pathe Exchange, Inc., as chairman. Every member of the committee, which comprises the following, was present in addition to Chairman Inzerarity: William A. Brady, Al Lichtman, Famous Players-Lasky Corp.; L. S. Levin, Fox Film Corp.; Wm. Wright, Vitagraph, Inc.; Felix Felst, Goldwyn Pictures Corp.; Charles C. Pettibone, Exhibitors' Mutual Distributing Corp.; Frederick H. Elliott, secretary.

After carefully considering the situation and receiving reports from many of the F. I. L. M. Clubs throught the country it was decided to defer action on the nationalizing of the F. I. L. M. Clubs until after the annual meeting of the National Association, which is to be held in Rochester on August 5 and 6. At that time Chairman Inzerarity will submit a report with recommendations of this committee, showing the great need for the organization of the F. I. L. M. Clubs and so as to co-ordinate their work with the various committees of the National Association. The report will also contain suggestions as to the best ways and means to carry the same into effect.

Jack Eaton, who has just been appointed managing director of the Strand Theater, New York, succeeding Joseph L. Munkett, who has affiliated himself with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, is one of Broadway's youngest theatrical managers.

Mr. Eaton, who hails from Philadelphia, entered the film industry as a publicity man and was for a long time on the staff of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. He rapidly rose to the position of director, and is responsible for the production of the James Montgomery Flagg Comedies. He resigned his position as director with the Town and Country Films in order to take up his new duties at the Strand.

Messrs. Jule and Jay J. Allen announce the appointment of R. E. Pritchard, for the past two years director of the Exhibitor Service Bureau of The Motion Picture News, as director of advertising and publicity for their extensive interests in Canada. Mr. Pritchard will organize this new department, which has been necessitated by the rapid growth of the Allied interests and which will conduct all of the exploitation from central offices in Toronto. While the appointment is effective immediately Mr. Pritchard will not assume the full duties of the new position until August 1.

Mr. Pritchard has had long experience in both the editorial and advertising ends of newspapers and first became prominent in motion pictures when several years ago as a member of the staff of The New Orleans Item he established the first eight-page, full newspaper size section devoted entirely to motion pictures ever printed regularly by a newspaper. Before that he was on the staff of The New York Evening Journal, returning to this city to establish the Exhibitor Service Bureau, which he has conducted continuously since.

NEW RULING ON FILM SHIPMENT

There has been considerable confusion reported among motion picture distributors as to exact interpretation of Interstate Commerce Commission regulations governing shipment of films. The subject is cleared up in an important phase by a letter from W. S. Topping, of the Bureau of Explosives, in which he describes a recent amendment to the regulations.

P. H. Stilson, Chairman of the Transportation Committee of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, states that the ruling marks a distinct step forward in the campaign his committee has been making to get a definite and authentic decision on the subject of film shipment.

The letter sent to Mr. Stilson is as follows:
"New York City, July 11, 1919.

"Mr. P. H. Stilson,
Chairman, Transportation Committee,
National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, Times Building,
New York City.

Dear Sir:
"I am in receipt of advice from the Interstate Commerce Commission to the effect that the note to paragraph 43 (a) of the Interstate Commerce Commission Regulations covering the transportation of other dangerous articles than explosives by express, has been amended so as to change the effective date after which only specification packages will be permitted for the shipment of motion picture films from July 1, 1919.

"The effect of this ruling is to require that shipping containers purchased prior to May 15, 1918, may be used for the shipment of motion picture films until October 1, 1919, provided they are securely closed and in good condition; and provided further that if fitted with telescopic covers, the covers fit tightly against the shoulder of the box body. Leather or web straps, if used, must be in good condition and tightly fastened. String or rope must not be used.

"My attention has recently been called to the fact that some dealers in motion picture supplies have sold or offered for sale to motion picture exhibitors or exchanges, film cases constructed in accordance with the old regulations and which do not, and could not be made to comply with I. C. C. Shipping Container Specification No. 32. It seems extraordinary that in view of the wide publicity that has been given to the revised regulations, any reputable concern would either offer for sale or purchase supplies of motion picture containers that do not meet the requirements of the specifications, and it will be our duty to prohibit the use in transportation of any such containers which were purchased subsequent to May 15, 1918. In view of the co-operation that the Bureau of Explosives has always extended to the motion picture industry as a whole, such action on the part of any representative of the industry

REMOVAL OF CENSORS TO STATE CAPITAL

Harrisburg, Pa., July 19.—The main offices of the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors may not be removed from Philadelphia to Harrisburg after all. This was the opinion of several inspectors of the Board expressed in this city this week.

Governor Sproul has not yet signed the bill, which provided for the removal of the offices from Philadelphia to Harrisburg in line with his policy of centralization of State offices in this city.

The secret of the whole delay, it seems, is the difficulty of securing satisfactory headquarters in Harrisburg. Plans for the addition of buildings of all kinds are being made in the capital city, but there appears to be doubt as to the possibility of securing location for the State Board. Film exchanges had been bitter opponents to the proposition of the removal of the location of the main offices.

PHILIPP ENGAGES MARQUIS

Adolf Philipp, of the Adolf Philipp Film Corporation, has engaged Joseph P. Marquis, the talented juvenile, for several of his productions. Joseph P. Marquis started his screen career with the Universal with whom he was under contract for two years prior to going to France as a soldier in the famous "Fighting Sixty-Ninth."

While appearing as a cinema Thespian Marquis at first played small parts, and just before joining the colors portrayed leading roles in a number of important productions.

The youthful actor was wounded and gassed while in action overseas. He fought in the battle of Chateau Thierry, and participated in the activities in the Champagne and Lorraine sectors.

Upon his return to America Marquis again became identified with the Universal and played the leading role in A Matter of Taste, scenes for which were taken in Richmond, Va.

Marquis had several years' experience in stock in New York and other cities. Besides being a good actor he is quite an athlete, being fond of horseback riding, swimming and automobiling.

AT THE STRAND

Thru the Wrong Door, a photodramatization of Jesse Lynch Williams' popular novel, in which Madge Kennedy is seen in the stellar role, is the principal screen feature at the Strand Theater, New York. The story revolves about a girl, who in due time, meets the hero of her heart and the inevitable happens. Trapped in the house of a strange man, where she had come thru the mistake of her chauffeur, Isabel Carter (Madge Kennedy) takes the situation lightly and enjoys the adventure of dining tete tete with her host. Lightheartedly she dresses her host in apron and chef's cap and together they tackle the heaped pile of dishes in the kitchen. Many amusing and thrilling situations ensue. Thru the Wrong Door is designated as a romantic comedy drama with a surprise every second. It was directed by Clarence G. Badger. The notable cast includes John Bowers, Herbert Standring, Robert Krotman, Kate Lester and Betty Schade.

Among Those Present is the title of the latest Mack Sennet Comedy, in which the following are seen: Ford Sterling, Myrtle Lind, Bert Roach and Phyllis Haver. The picture was directed by Earle Kenton and Roy Gray. Other pictures to be seen are a new Onting Chester scenic entitled A Haitian Night's Tale. A slow motion picture How Some Animals Behave, showing diving sea lions, flying cranes and boxing kangaroos in action; Topics of the Day and the Strand Topical Review, edited by Manager Plunkett and containing the latest American and European news pictures of interest.

port the gentleman's publishing venture "The Exhibitors' Trade Review," they subscribed for and supported the publication. In consideration of this support the title of 5,000 shares of the common stock of the "Exhibitors' Trade Review" (1-3) was vested in the then existing national organization. The profits from this stock were supposed to go to the financing of the national organization. Less than twelve months thereafter, the Publisher-Exhibitor induced the national organization, or rather its representatives, assembled at Boston to return the stock to him without condition and without consideration. To illustrate the general "exhibitor" character of that "historic" Boston convention to which New York sent thirty delegates out of the seventy-three present, it may be mentioned that an organ salesman from the West was permitted and encouraged to cast votes of several States whose delegates were conspicuous by their absence at the election of officers.

Before the taxation under which we are now laboring was imposed, the Motion Picture Exhibitors League of the State of New York gathered data and prepared a brief which was submitted to the Finance Committee of the United States Senate, placing before that body the hardships under which the exhibitors were suffering. At that time all the trade papers opened their columns to this plea. The one exception was Mr. Blumenthal's publication which refused to print the brief. All thru the campaign for Sunday opening we encountered Mr. Blumenthal's scarcely veiled hostility to the organization which he could not control.

We now desire to appeal most earnestly to all exhibitors of the country to unite not only for the repeal of the film rental tax, BUT FOR THE GREATER PURPOSE OF PROTECTING OUR INVESTMENTS AND RETAINING THE OWNERSHIP OF OUR THEATERS. THERE IS GOOD REASON FOR THE FEELING OF UNREST SO APPARENT IN EXHIBITING CIRCLES. We address this plea for speedy union and strong organization to exhibitors whose sole interest lies in their theaters and who have no conflicting interests. The 100 per cent exhibitors we know, are honestly and vitally interested in having an organization on a fair basis of representation. They will get together with a leadership of their own choosing and they have the power of protecting themselves and resisting all aggression, whether from without or from within.

ED A. EVANS' GREATER SHOWS

Have One of Best Weeks of Season at Springfield, Ill.

Alton, Ill., July 17.—The engagement of the Ed. A. Evans Greater Shows at Springfield, Ill., under the auspices of the Woodmen, proved very big and the concessions had one of their best weeks of the season. This week the shows are located in the ball park, under baseball auspices, and indications point to another big one.

The company had quite a few visitors last week at Springfield, among them being Edward Shipp, of the Shipp & Feftus Circus; Harry Payne, public announcer with the Ringling Show; Earl Enos, who was general agent for Mr. Evans last season. Mr. Enos was much in evidence on the lot each evening, as Springfield is his home. He is looking fine and says "no more trouping until after the ball season."

Late arrivals on the show are Frank Kelly with his one ring circus and E. C. Reynolds with his watch-ops.

Next week, East St. Louis, Ill., under the Army and Navy Club, located at 5th and Mission ave., which is the heart of the city. The county is joining the city to make this one of the biggest events ever held in honor of returned soldiers and sailors. Too much credit can not be given General Agent Al. Fisher for securing this date. Letters from Special Agent F. G. Walker state it will be one of the biggest this season, and he very seldom misses it.—F. H. W.

WORLD AT HOME SHOWS

If this was a story for some daily newspaper it would tell about the wonderful business the shows have been doing in this land of cigar factories, but as it is for The Billboard the writer will come clean and tell facts without borkum.

Business, like the weather, has been rotten at Lima, O., at least up until Wednesday when this was written. There was a fair opening Monday evening, but a heavy storm scared 'em away Tuesday and the lot was practically deserted.

There have been at least six shows here ahead of the World at Home Shows, and some of them managed to leave a somewhat unenviable record but, in spite of the fact, the local papers have been liberal to a degree and the show has had no lack of newspaper publicity, while Walter A. White made an excellent job of the billing, getting a showing second only to the Barnum & Bailey Shows which are billed to show here July 26. Irving J. Polack dropped in Monday and took a look around and with a word of congratulation to Manager J. C. Simpson and the members of the executive staff he hopped on a rattler and beat it in the direction of New York City where he will place orders for a new big riding device which he plans to send to the Philippines. Lucile Anderson, stenographer and private secretary to Mr. Polack, was kept busy while the "governor" was around and it is whispered that he left her with something like two hundred letters to write.

South Bend, next week, under strong auspices and right downtown. They say that the World at Home represents the first carnival to play the town for the past four years. Quien sabe? Adios.—SYDNEY WIRE.

RINGLING-BARNUM & BAILEY

To Play Nine-Day Engagement at Grant Park, Chicago

Chicago, July 16.—Final arrangements were completed here today by Charles L. Hutchinson, vice president of the South Park Commission and treasurer of the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Fund, and Alderman Joseph P. Kostner, chairman of the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Fund, and representatives of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, whereby the big show will spread its white wings over Grant Park and open its doors twice daily for nine days. The big event will start Saturday, August 9, for a afternoon performance. There will be two performances each day during the engagement, which will close Sunday night, August 17. The Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Fund will receive a liberal share of the proceeds. There is much general interest in this event, even the patrons are already beginning to lineup and discuss this as the news flew rapidly over the city that this event had been assured.

JOHN MILES' FUND

The Billboard acknowledges receipt of $1 from Lou A. Green, Chief Time Inspector of the War Department Office of the Constructing Quartermaster Tank School, Hialeah, N. C., to be applied to the fund started for John Miles, for the purpose of obtaining counsel for him. This makes $11, figuring the $10 donated by 'The Billboard'.

Mr. Miles, as previously stated in these columns, is serving sentence in the State Prison at Richmond, Va., on a charge of robbery. He claims he has not had a fair trial, and appeals to his brother and sister troupers for aid.

If the showfolk would get together and start subscriptions the money required for hiring an attorney to defend him could be raised in a short while.

Let's get together—and quickly. Send donations to The Billboard, Cincinnati, O., and same will be acknowledged.

WEST LEADS EAST

In Interest in the Flying Game—Planes Flying Over Cities in West Common Occurrence

New York, July 19.—While there are enough of all types at the Army Stations at Hazelhurst and Roosevelt Fields, near Mineola, to equip a good portion of Uncle Sam's forces, it is doubtful if the civilian flyers and passenger carriers are as numerous in the East as in the West. Down on Long Island, Lieut. Lynn Lockwood has established a good passenger business at the Hotel Nassau flying field, Long Beach; Lieut. Morse Leavitt and others are at Central Park, L. I., and D. C. DeHort and G. G. Burwig have a field just out of Queens, L. I. On the Menck Road between Jamaica and Gordon City, the Brewell Engineering Corporation of Glendale, L. I., have started in the passenger carrying game with a Curtiss J N-4, housed in the new Foster and Stewart Company's portable hangars.

All of this, remember, is in a section available only by auto. It is a rare thing to see planes flying over the city or near suburbs, while in the West it is a common sight. One of the representatives of the Curtiss Company recently returned from Chicago, and in a conversation with Messrs. Ballard and Lehman, of the sales department of the Curtiss offices at 52 Vanderbilt avenue, he told of having seen eighteen (18) planes parked in one field in Chicago. All of them were owned by individuals who flew either for pleasure or profit. This remark caused Geo. L. Macfarlane, who was present, to say that the sales of Foster & Stewart hangars in the last two weeks had been divided 25 per cent in Long Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts, and 75 per cent west of the Mississippi, chiefly in Iowa, Nebraska and North Dakota. So it can be seen that there are a lot of "dy guys" outside the metropolitan district.

A number of the active flyers throughout the country keep in touch with each other thru that center of the live wires of the air, the Flying Club of America, which of late has shown more "go to it" spirit than the older organization, the Aero Club of America, which sometimes disrespectfully, is alluded to by the youngsters as "the rocking chair feet of aviation." The majority of these young men are either in the service of the army or navy, or just discharged therefrom, and they grabbed from under the nose of the older club the honor of first officially entertaining Commander Read and the other officers of the "Nancys."

NEGOTIATING WITH DAVIES

Watertown, N. Y., July 19.—The Jefferson County Fair Commission will probably secure Lieut. Stuart Davis for exhibition flights at the fair grounds this year. All the negotiations for Lieut. Davis' appearance have not been concluded but Secretary Ernest S. Gillette of the fair society is certain that they will be completed satisfactorily.

The younger generation of flyers hear the gossip of the day and know that passenger carrying business is established at these points: Buckeye Lake, Ohio, A. R. McConnell, pilot; Sterling, Kansas, R. L. Trimble, R. M. A., pilot; Enderlin, N. D., Ed. Axberg, pilot; Reno, Nevada, V. C. Organ, pilot; Booneville, Mo., Booneville Aero Corporation; Grand Island, Neb., direction of Lloyd L. Thompson; Norristown, Pa., Pan American Aircraft Co.; Swampscott, Mass., North Shore Aerial Transportation Company.

LIEUT. LOCKLEAR

Signed Up for West Michigan State Fair

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 20.—President Dodson and Secretary Lilly of the West Michigan State Fair today closed a contract with Wm. H. Pickens for the appearance of Lieut. Locklear and his associate fliers in his plane changing feat, opening Sept. 15. Locklear will receive what the West Michigan Fair officials claim is the largest amount ever paid an act at any fair in the State of Michigan. The contract stipulated that Locklear is to play no other fair in Michigan this season. In addition to his regular act Locklear will use as a foil a 200-foot dirigible, in an exhibition of what an airplane can do in battle against the gas supported craft.

In order to get to Memphis for his engagement at the Tri-State Fair, which opens on Sept. 20, Locklear and his aviators will fly from Grand Rapids across Lake Michigan in order to make train connections on the closing day at Grand Rapids.

Locklear is in Los Angeles busily engaged in the making of his six-reel Universal thriller. One scene will show 200 airplanes above North Island, San Diego.

SPERRY FLYING CORPORATION

Goes Into Exhibition Field—Will Furnish Flying Fleets for Fairs, Carnivals and Public Gatherings —To Specialize in Commercial Flying

Cutting into the exhibition business in the air as a merchant fleet, with special programs designed to interest the big publics of fairs, carnivals and celebration public gatherings generally, the Sperry Flying Corporation seizes for itself the honors for aircraft's pioneers in this particular enterprise in aviation.

Capitalized at a sum that anticipates a concern of international opulence, equipped with building and construction plants capable of supplying the needs of the growing fields of air travel, and personaeled in its flying staffs with names that spell the safest and at the same time the most picturesque elements of air flying, the Sperry Corporation had just initiated a transcontinental mapping of the country, aerially, and is now prepared at a moment's notice to serve the public commercially as carriers of merchandise or passengers for any short or long distances, as well as to give exhibitions of a spectacular character, with parachute adjuncts, at fairs, carnivals and the show field generally. Headed by Lieut. Lawrence Sperry, a flier of international reputation, recently back from service abroad, the flying staff of the Sperry Flying Aerial Circus Fleet is composed of Frost, Walton, Hill, Frost, Heinrich, and others with the well known Regelman at the head of the general corps of mechanics.

A special department of the corporation that will appeal to everyone, the lay public as well as professionals, is the passenger aerial sight seeing equipment of planes and fliers, with Safety Always the slogan influencing the pilots and the equipment of the machines, all of which will be accessorized with the Sperry safety parachute life-saving devices for the use of passengers and pilots, and all the precautionary inventions of the Sperry Plane safety provisions, minimizing the possibility of accident to the last degree.

The spectacular or exhibition programs will be of the kind that attract and hold crowds. An air battle in the clouds or in the ether of high altitudes, all the known spins, loops and aeratic maneuvers used in the air fighting abroad, and special individual feats of daring, including the transfer while in the air of aviators from one plane to the other while the machines are flying, will be parts of this special fair and carnival diversement attraction.

Passengers at the grounds will be offered opportunity for air flights of long or short duration with stunt flying if they chose to so adventure. Special emphasis is made by the corporation upon its ability to handle any kind of commercial assignments in any part of the world.

RUTH LAW CONTRACTED

Chicago, July 19.—Ruth Law, the daring aviatrix, will be the feature attraction at the Toledo (Ohio) Fair, August 19-22. Miss Law wrote that thru her last ad in The Billboard, Charles W. Harvey, of Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, contracted with her for four days at the Dodge County Fair, of which he is secretary.

THRILLING AIR RACE

Atlantic City, July 18.—A thrilling race in airplanes took place along the beach front here last week, when two planes, one carrying Mme. Olga Petrova and the other with Jules E. Aronson, manager of the Globe Theater, as a passenger, covered a distance of fifty miles in eighteen and one-fourth minutes, the plane carrying Mr. Aronson winning by one hundred yards and capturing the cash prize of $1,000 in gold, offered by Jules Mastbaum, president of the Stanley Company.

On the descent Mr. Aronson was treated to a loop and nose dive, but the intrepid manager was cool and self possessed thru the quick turns of the machine and appeared to enjoy the thrillers given him. Mme. Petrova spoke enthusiastically of her experience and said she

New Curtiss Oriole, with 150 H.P. motor, the latest product of the Curtiss plant.

Harry Fetterer, who has been sales manager for the Western Managers Vaudeville Association, has resigned his position to become associated with the Nelson Aeroplane manufacturers in a like capacity.

Ruth Law received a great ovation and was highly complimented by the press on the spectacular exhibition she presented during the peace jubilee celebration on the Waples Valley fair grounds at Central City, Ia., July 4. Miss Law made two flights during the afternoon.

Following her flight as a passenger at Atlantic City recently, Mme. Olga Petrova spoke enthusiastically of her experience. "Everything looks so queer," she said. "A bird's-eye view with little squares made me think I was in a Bilibutan world. But it is lovely, and I believe there is a great future in the air as a means of transportation."

Up to and including July 16, there were seventeen entries and $10,000 in cash prizes and trophies assured for the airplane flights between Toronto and New York during the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. So far these were all entries from the United States, the twelve or more entries expected from Canada before the exposition opens.

A balloon race for the championship of the United States has been announced to start from St. Louis, October 1. The race is to be conducted by the Missouri Aeronautical Society under rules of the International Aeronautical Federation. Prizes $500, $300 and $200 will be awarded, according to present plans.

A prize of $50,000 has been offered by the Daily Express, according to an Associated Press dispatch from London for an air flight establishing commercial communication between South Africa and India, the contest open to the world, with the exception of the late enemy nations. A useful cargo of one ton or more must be carried on both outward and homeward trips, reliability and airworthiness of the planes in general being prominent factors in the awarding.

TRENTON FAIR ALWAYS WANT THE NEWEST AND BEST SEND CONTRACT FOR LOCKLEAR WEEK SEPT TWENTY NINTH TO OCT THIRD

M R MARGERUM GENL MANAGER

The accompanying reproduction of Colonel Margerum's telegram reflects a substantial compliment from this splendid gentleman—the dean of America's big league of fair executives. Colonel Margerum has had happy experiences in selecting the BIGGEST Aviation Attractions for Trenton—the greatest of Eastern Fairs. His first was Roy Knabenshue and his wonder dirigible, followed by the incomparable Beechey, the courageous Walsh, the daring Niles and wonderful little Art Smith. What, then, is more fitting for 1920 than the selection of the ultimate in sky thrillers—LOCKLEAR? Locklear is now at Universal City, Cal., producing for Carl Laemmle a six-reel thriller. Returning East August 2. Abas, the fakest! LOCKLEAR IS STILL THE ONLY PERSON IN THE WORLD WHO EVER CHANGED PLANES IN MIDAIR. Address

WM. H. PICKENS, Stratford Hotel, Chicago.

GROSSES $40,000 AT SASKATOON
Jones Eclipses Last Year's Record at Fair by About $14,000

Saskatoon, Sask., Can., July 20.—The greatest fair in the history of Saskatoon closed last night. The gross of the Johnny J. Jones' Exposition was approximately $40,000, beating last year's record of midway receipts by about $14,000. And this in spite of a blowdown Thursday and the loss of Friday evening when it rained. "With bad odds of weather," says Ed K. Satter, the press agent of Jones' Exposition, "the fair was the most wonderful success I ever witnessed anywhere."

DAVIS' NEW LINE
Chicago, July 20.—E. M. Davis, of the E. M. Davis Products Company, dealer in toilet articles, games, packages, etc., says that his new line, handled in a new manner by the finest for results in his business history. Mr. Davis is advertising his line liberally in The Billboard. Formerly he sold his product thru agents. For the past year he has been putting his goods out on carnivals with concession men. He says this has been a most satisfactory method. Particularly has Mr. Davis' line found favor with women patrons.

CORRECTION
Chicago, July 20.—In the advertisement of the Safety Electric, 357 South Dearborn street, in the July 19 issue of The Billboard, omission was made of the number of carton lamps of one item. This firm has 5,000 40P, 110-130 volts regular at 9 cents for the clear and 11 cents for the colored, besides the numerous others, for sale, as advertised in said issue.

RICE & DORMAN SHOWS
Cancel Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls, Texas—Railroad Embargo on Texas Oil Centers
Owing to a thirty days' railroad embargo on all oil centers in Texas, the Rice & Dorman Shows were forced to cancel Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls at the last minute. They will play Chickasha, Ok., week of July 21, instead of Burk Burnett, and Ardmore, Ok., for a big Oil Boom Celebration, week of July 28 instead of Wichita Falls.
Shows contemplating playing that part of the country would do well to look into conditions.

CANDY DEALER MOVES
Chicago, July 20.—J. J. Howard, the candy dealer, has moved to his new location at 617 South Dearborn street. The move being necessitated by the growing demands of his business. Mr. Howard will occupy the three floors of his new location for display rooms and offices. He announces that his service to candy concessionaires will be greatly improved.

"KWEENIE."
Athletic Bathing Girl.
Queen of 'Em All.

"SALUTE."
He "DID HIS BIT!"
He's Now a HIT

"SMILES."
A Sweet Little Soubrette.
A Captivating Coquette.

Made of UNBREAKABLE WOOD FIBRE COMPOSITION and HIGH-CLASS merchandise. Not that cheap plaster kind. Every Doll guaranteed against breakage. KWEENIE is the stellar performer wherever shown and going big. SMILES and SALUTE are holding their own. A comparison of our Dolls with similar ones will convince you of their superiority in attractiveness, workmanship and quality. Still they are sold much cheaper, which is an inducement in itself.

KWEENIE is sold with or without genuine rubber bathing caps or with wigs, in assorted colors.

SALUTE sold undressed or with soldier or sailor costume.

SMILES dressed in twenty different styles, with or without wigs.
