OBSERVATIONS OF THE STROLLER

STORIES & ANECDOTES

Buell Gabbert, of the Yankee Robinson Shows, is responsible for the following:

A few weeks ago, owing to heavy rains, the Yankee Robinson Shows passed up a stand, as the lot was soft, and, therefore, only stopped to feed, so we pulled into our next day's stand about five o'clock in the afternoon.

While standing among the crowd of 'towners' on the depot platform, while the cook house was going up over on the lot, which was only a short way from the station, up rushes the town marshal, who evidently had been asleep, he was so out of breath. Had a star on that would miniaturize any tin wash boiler, and the helmet and "billy club" that are used on the Chicago and city police forces.

It seemed that they had not expected the show to arrive until the early morning following, for, as he addressed two town representatives, he spoke something like this, as he caught his breath from the run he had to the station, where the show was unloading:

"Hell's fire, the Milwaukee railway ain't a' doing right. They never telegraphed ahead that this durned circus shebang was a'comin' ahead o' time, and I was goin' to swear Bill Jones in as a special officer, and he's gone out to Zeke Cummings' to look at a yearling heifer, and here the big contraption is in, but, by gosh, we'll keep order, so men (addressing four rubens) stay close, I may need you to-night."

Anyway, the peaceful little town was unmolested that night, the show did capacity, and Chief Ruben Bill had his photo taken by the clown kodak.

Eugene Walter, the young playwright, discussed in his Ansonia apartment the failure of Paids in Full in London.

"The London critics," said Mr. Walter, "praised my drama without a dissenting voice. From Mr. Walkley, of the Times, down, they deluged me with praise. But the public would not come to the Aldwych Theatre. The public was undaunted as the African sentinel.

"A French sentinel in Algeria, you know," Mr. Walter explained, "had for Colonel a very tall, lanky, round-shouldered man.

"This round-shouldered Colonel one night was making a quiet inspection. Passing the sentinel, he found, to his rage and indignation, that he was not challenged. So he returned to the man and roared:

"You didn't challenge me!"

"N-no, sir," faltered the sentinel, saluting.

"Well, why didn't you?" the Colonel demanded.

"Excuse me, sir," said the sentinel, "but I thought—I beg your pardon, sir—I thought you was a camel!"

Oscar Hammerstein has all applicants for his opera companies examined by a throat specialist. Not till he is assured of an applicant's good throat machinery does he devote any time in hearing him or her sing.

"It is a good idea, is it not?" said Mr. Hammerstein the other day. "In the past I lost many a valuable half-hour listening to worthless singing—singing so bad, in fact—well, one afternoon my pianist turned to a tenor applicant and shouted angrily:

"I've tried you with the black keys, I've tried you with the white keys, and I've tried you with the black and white mixed. I think you must be singing between the ticks!"

Edward De Groote, of the vaudeville team of De Groote and Langtry, now working the Gus Sun time, tells a very amusing incident that occurred while the team was working in a small town in Tennessee, where the term

"vaudeville" is not very generally understood. In this particular case, it was the enterprising manager of the "opry house" who concluded that his town-folk would appreciate a little "vaudeville" between the regular "one-night-standers," so he accordingly wrote the agency to send him a team, which happened to be the one above mentioned.

As can be readily surmised, this was the town's first introduction to "vaudeville," and when the aforementioned manager advertised on his handbills that on Monday night next he would present "polite vaudeville" at his house, a good-sized crowd was on hand to see what was coming off.

The act which De Groote and Langtry presented was down on the program under the caption "Sadie's Sweetheart," which, though greatly appreciated, was not clearly understood, for, when the manager asked one of his patrons (as the latter was passing out) how he liked the show, he was struck dumb by this reply:

"Well, ther show is all right, what ther is of it, but you ought to give ther peepul all that you advertise. You said on your bills that thar would be a feller called 'Polite Vaudeville' in ther show, and that thar one-act thing called 'Sadie's Sweetheart' was all ther was to it, not namin' ther movin' pictures."

Mme. Emma Eames is a foe to vivisection, and recently she praised the unselfish devotion of certain rich New York women anti-vivisectionists.

"Really," she said, "the work these women do, the suffering in the shape of snubs and insults that they undergo, remind me very forebly of my dentist's first patient.

"My dentist's first patient, the young man has often told me, was an elderly farmer. The farmer wanted four teeth pulled. They were very firmly rooted.

"After the dentist, his cuffs turned back, his lips compressed, his feet braced against the chair, had tugged valnly at the teeth for some time, he paused, wiped his moist brow, and said:

"'Whew! You've certainly got, sir, the firmest teeth I ever saw.'"

"Well, take your time, young man, I'm in no hurry," said the farmer, encouragingly. "It's splendid practice, and it'll teach you we must all work for our livin'."

At rare intervals even the wise ones fall. Reyam, he with the predilection toward journalism, was the victim. A pillar of a suburban church at Glendale, by some trick of sorcery, separated the high-brow literateur from the equivalent of a box of Pollocks in exchange for a tleket entitling him to a chance in a raffle of a horse and buggy. Reyam, moved by the appeal that found its argument in the cause of religion, bought a ticket, the number of which became known to his associates. Of course, Reyam's number drew a blank. Put his friends saw the opportunity. Facsimile letterheads and envelopes, purporting to come from the parish office, were hastily printed, and in well-chosen words, such as an ecclesiastic would use, was a letter that his was the successful number, with the request to call at the parsonage at 3:30 p. m., which parsonage happened to be fifteen miles from his home. Upon receipt of the notice of his good fortune (?) plans were communicated to his friends, which contemplated the sale of the horse and buggy, the proceeds to be devoted to a trip to Seattle. It was suggested that the nice thing to do was to offer the church a voluntary contribution of ten dollars. Reyam departed on his happy pilgrimage, presented his letter and the "voluntary contribution"—then came the denouement.

The frigidity that pervades certain establishments makes oscillating fans superfluous.

This little incident happened 'way back in the days of '74, when the Wilson Circus was one of the largest traveling organizations, and so, before the three-ringed circus was known. Mr. Charles Clasby, an old-timer in the profession, and the popular door-keeper of the Shubert Theatre in Kansas City, Missouri, tells it in his own imitable way:

"We had just left Frisco, and, traveling South through California, it became necessary to change one of the show's hands and replace him with a Greaser. When we made Vallejo, over in the Bay a three-masted schooner was plainly visible. That day the Greaser had probably had 'a drop too much,' for, when he saw this three-masted schooner, he exclaimed:

"There's no use for us to show this place. Why, look at our opposition. A three-poled circus already on the ground, and we, the Wilson Show, 'the largest circus traveling,' a measly, two-ringed affair."

"Hubert Henry Davies, the playwright, who has spent much time in London, tells of an amusing interview between the owner of a publication in the British capital, whereof George Bernard Shaw had been the dramatic critic, and Max Beerbohm, on the occasion of the latter's assumption of the duties laid down by G. B. S.

The owner advised Max of the salary that had been paid George Bernard, observing at the same time:

"Being comparatively inexperienced, you, Mr. Beerbohm, can not, of course, expect so much."

"Oh, yes, I shall!" hastily interposed Max. "Indeed, I shall expect more! Shaw knows the drama so thoroughly that it is an easy matter for him to write of it, whereas I, knowing nothing whatever about it, shall find it dreadfully hard work!"

Clyde Fitch, entertaining a supper party in his beautifully decorated New York house, criticized with telling scorn a drama that he had recently seen.

"The leading incident was so impossible," said he, "that I was reminded of one of those nonsense dialogues. You know how they run?

"A young man, for instance, says to a friend:

"For all her coldness and austerity, I have kissed Ethel Prymm."

"Ready?" doubts the other.

"Yes, really."

"But how on earth did you inflame that icy heart?"

"I didn't inflame her icy heart. That would have been impossible. I simply disguised myself as the Barney stone."

THE MEDDLERS OPENS AT CLEVELAND, OHIO

PLAY BY LAURA HALL GREAT SUCCESS

Play Treats of Family Interference with the Plans of a Self-reliant, Young Woman Who Repudiates the Conventionalities—Denouement Well Worked Out—News from Various Sources.

COLONIAL THEATRE, Cleveland, O.—The Meddlers, a three-act play, by Laura Hall.

THE CAST:

Donna Desmond	Laura Nelson Hall
Mrs. Martha Desmond	Florence Smythe
Mr. Prentiss	Leslie Kenyon
Dick Weston	Charles Waldron
Mrs. Hilton	Margaret Sayers
Maude Hilton	Leslie Bligham
Marie	Maude Fletcher

The new play which Laura Hall produced, for the first time on any stage, at the Colonial Theatre, Cleveland, O., July 5, is receiving an unusual amount of favorable comment. Miss Hall is author of the play, and is in the stellar role of the company, which so successfully interpreted the same.

The Meddlers, for that is the name so appropriately given the play, deals with a problem which has disrupted many a family circle and seeks to emphasize the natural right of the individual to attend to one's own affairs without family or other interference. Donna Desmond has a mind of her own, and, without brooking the meddlesomeness of her people, determines on a career of art. She has won laurels in the old world, but her people are determined that she shall forsake the career she has mapped out for herself and come home to fill the void in a mother's heart, and household that the death of her sister has caused. In the effort her mother is aided and abetted by some meddlesome friends. The appeal fails. She has a devoted friend and lover in Dick Weston, and after her final resolution retires to her mountain home for study and work.

To this mountain resort come some of the same meddling friends, and the lover, Dick, who declares his devotion and is an accepted suitor. At about the same time it is discovered that there is a baby in the house, and indignantly denying that there had been a secret marriage, she orders the luscinating visitor, Mrs. Hilton, out of the house. The scandal mongers proceed to get in their work and the family are about to cast her off. Subsequent developments show that the child is in reality the offspring of the lover, Dick, and the dead sister, whom Donna is trying to shield. Donna defies all conventions and declares that in spite of the facts, she will marry Dick. Thus all ends in happiness. Into the play, which is one of the best examples of modern problem exposition, is injected a wonderful amount of virile and painstaking emotional work. The problem it deals with is a vital one, and the successful production of the play indicates that Miss Hall has a vehicle of great promise, which will be heard of in the near future as a top-line success. Several New York managers witnessed the opening and Miss Hall will have the honor of appearing in the play on Broadway the coming season.

ST. LOUIS, MO.

Week of July 4 opened with all new stars at all summer parks, and with capacity attendance on Sunday. The threatening weather of July 5 had its effect on the attendance, but all managers report business better than in previous years. Over 100,000 people left the city for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and excursion trains carried their capacity to suburban resorts. Neither parks nor city had special features for the day, except the evening of new stars at the theatres, and the Fourth was quietly celebrated with no considerable fatalities.

Nat C. Goodwin began a five weeks' run at the head of the Delmar Dramatic Stock Co., in his old success, A Gilded Fool, and it was splendidly put on. Miss Francis Ring gave him exceptional support. The excellent company which Manager D. E. Russell has provided makes the productions here greater than we often see in these plays, and a successful run should materialize. When We Were Twenty-One is next week's play. At the Musical Theatre Manager Don S. Elshel offers a favorite in De Wolf Hopper, who comes for two weeks, and opened Sunday in Wang, giving an extraordinary performance before a full house. Mr. Hopper, as has been the custom here in St. Louis at his every visit, had to recite Casey at the Bat. The company were up to the requirements of the opera, and a splendid performance in every detail was given. El Capitán is next.

Wilton Lackaye opened his stay at Suburban Garden Sunday, in The Hit, and with him came Francis Neilson, to lend him support in the character of Laura Boardman. The excellent supporting stock company gave a splendid performance. James Gordon Bennett, who played opposite to Mr. Lackaye, was immensely clever. Mr. Lackaye was forced to make a curtain speech after the second act, so great was his reception.

West End Heights, this week, went to high class vaudeville, beginning Sunday, and played to a big house. The Extravaganza, while put on in an extravagant and perfect manner, did not draw the business that the expenditure required and it is hoped that vaudeville will be better, financially. The bill this week includes Rice and Cady, Franklin Hillman, Harold, The Plymouth Traveling Dancers, Jessie Russell & Co., Knoch and Francis, and moving pictures.

Forest Park Highlands opened with a big attendance Sunday, and all concessions did a big business. The Police Benefit which closed a two weeks' run last week did a business of $20,000, and the park will this year exceed its last year's profits. The vaudeville bill, this week, includes DeGarr Sisters, Three Bohemians, Schaar Wheeler Trio, Flanigan and Ed wards, Willie Weston and Pictures, Cavallo's Band is playing in the Garden, with special features, and Miss Ella Scheffer, soloist.

Maulon's Park, this week, opened big with their vaudeville bill, including Wilson Bros., Billy Barry, Jr., Alice Wayne, Esmeralda, Marcell and Lenett, and motion pictures. Business is good and concessions are doing nicely.

OF THE SPEDDEN AND PAIGE STOCK CO.

SAM SPEDDEN (Leading Man.)

CLAIRE PAIGE (Leading Woman.)

Lemp's Park, this week, has Sig. Reinhold's Lady Minstrels for their third week's run, and are satisfying completely. This is their last week and the success has been complete.

Sig. Francesco Creator will begin a tour of Chicago playing dates that have guarantees, and will play under the management of Dan S. Foshell, of St. Louis.

Leo McManus has another team that will be brought before the footlights in the near future and are expected to make the same success as did his Verdi Quartette, which scored so great at Highlands, two weeks ago.

Lemp's Park, next week, will put on a musical extravaganza with 35 people in the chorus. It is to be called The Isle of Smiles and will be an entirely new thing in South St. Louis. It is expected that they will be able to continue indefinitely, with change of program weekly.

The St. Louis Convention Bureau, which has been at work endeavoring to bring every convention and meeting of any size to St. Louis, reports that their share of conventions for the fall season will be greater than ever and, with the Centennial of St. Louis to be celebrated in early October, there ought to be some business in sight for the theatres.

Willie Weston, the imitator, at Forest Park Highlands this week, is making a pronounced hit with his clever dialect. He is great. Lone Hill's Wild West, now playing at Al Fresco Park, Peoria, Ill., closed on the 16th and opened in Milwaukee, Wis., July 12. They report good business.

Gertrude Hutchison, one of the prima donnas of the West End Heights Stock Company, which was discontinued at end of last week, left for Chicago, to spend a vacation at one of the Northern resorts, and will then sail for Paris, France, to complete her vocal studies. She was originally a St. Louis girl and was a pronounced hit of the West End Heights Stock Company.

H. S. (Duck) Mistle left St. Louis for Chicago, this week, to join the Buffalo Bill Show, having only returned recently from England and Ireland.

Capt. G. W. Bennett, of Venice, Ill., is making ready for a road tour in his Handicuff act, which is greatly different from all others. He styles himself Yarklaun, the Metal Magician. His office of Chief of Police of Venice, has brought him in contact with many of the hand-cuff acts and his is a complete novelty. He is to play fairly early this fall, as a free act.

J. H. Boyer left to join his show in Arkansas, this week, where he will superintend the putting on of Jesse James, under canvas. His Ten Nights has made him big money, and, after a trial of Jesse James he will put out two shows. His new 80 foot one will carry Jesse James.

Jessie Russell and Company, recently returned to St. Louis from a long season on the Morrison time in Florida and the South, opened again as a feature act at West End Heights, this week, in her spectacular electrical Grotto Dance.

The Landale Amusement Co., organized in St. Louis, are rehearsing for a road tour with a burlesque extravaganza to be known as the Casino Girls. Edward Lowery is chief comedian, and will carry a chorus of 30 girls. The specialties consist of The Russell Sisters, singing and dancing, White Family, acrobats; Blanchard and Foster, talking comedians, and Holly Brennan.

HAMPTON CLUB

Attends Performance at Worcester, Mass.

Principals and Beauty Chorus Guests of the Club and Had Delightful Evening.

Members of the Hampton Club, Worcester, Mass., had a stag party Wednesday evening, July 6, and attended the performance of Jack and the Beanstalk at the Lincoln Park Theatre, given by Gorman's Musical Comedy Company. The club rooms are situated on Main street, Worcester, and all members assembled at the rooms and boarded a special car for Lincoln Park. The club colors, gold and blue, were prominent, and were worn by members of the comedy company by special request. After the performance, the launch, Venus, was chartered and an hour's sail on the lake was given the fair sex of the company. After the trip, a lunch was served by Chas. Longley, at the club rooms. Clarence Lovel acted as toast master, while Chas. Buckley, president of the club, extended a cordial welcome to the guests. Those present were Chas. Buckley, Elmer Colton, B. R. Llewellyn, Anthony McGrath, Fred Chomes, Stanley Tucker, Harry Graham, Harold Hunt, Chas. Monroe, Geo. Harbord, Stanley Winchenbach, Chas. Brown, Albert Messer, Albert Cox, P. Benard Gibbons, James Giddons, Paul Smith, Phillip Little, Franklin B. Downing, treasurer of the Franklin Square Theatre; Clarence Lovel, treasurer of the Worcester Theatre, and Leslie D. Llewellyn, Billboard representative.

The big beauty chorus of the musical comedy company, and the following principals were guests of the club: Miss Eva Marr, Miss Louise Kelley, Miss Mabel Goulding, Miss Nellie Hill, Miss Emily Saunders, Miss Edna Gagnon, Miss Mary Stevens, Miss May Henry, Miss Gladys Bourne, Miss Gladys McNally, Miss Bertie Hastings, Miss Clara Welder, Miss Louise Ayler, Miss Adelaide Harland, Miss Annette Hall, and Miss Edna Dorman.

ARRESTS FOR SUNDAY OPENINGS, AT MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

The county authorities, on Sunday, July 4, arrested the proprietors and actors of the three summer theatres now operating in Muskogee, Okla., the Yale, moving picture show, whose proprietor is L. W. Trophy; the Lyric, an air-dome theatre playing vaudeville, whose proprietor is Fred Scherndel; and the Olympic, an air-dome playing repertoire stock, whose proprietor is C. H. Wheaton.

This is the first time that any of the theatres in Muskogee have played on Sunday, and the arrests were made in order to test the State law prohibiting Sunday performances. The maximum fine is $100 for each conviction, and each of the defendants gave bond in the sum of $10 for their appearance in court.

There is a determined and united effort on the part of all the local managers to operate their houses on Sunday, and popular sentiment seems to be in their favor. Each of the houses have named showmen to good audiences on Sunday, and this in the face of possible arrest, of which the public were notified through the press for several days in advance. The outcome of the arrests are awaited with interest.

MINNELLI BROTHERS' AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISES.

Mr. V. C. Minnelli, of the Minnelli Amusement Enterprises, was a Billboard caller last week. The Minnelli Brothers have been long established as a repertoire theatrical attraction, playing during the open season under canvas, and producing some of the very best popular plays and incidental vaudeville. The success of this enterprise has been marvelous, having toured principally through the best Ohio towns season after season, and returning each succeeding summer to greet the audiences of former years. It is greatly to their credit that in no instance throughout the many years they have been in business have they missed a payroll. The present company with this attraction numbers 25 people, and the season thus far has been one of continuous success and enthusiastic reception. The company is featuring Miss Mina Genell, as leading lady.

MONTREAL, CANADA.

The attendance at Dominion Park is up to the standard. A good vaudeville bill is offered at the Park House, Jas. Jeffries will be the big attraction at the close of the week.

Manager Larose has provided a sterling bill for Solmer Park, this week, Miss Anna Frey having been retained from last week. The usual good attendance prevails.

The Casino has its usual good bill of vaudeville and pictures. The price ranges as high as 20c in this house, still it keeps on playing to capacity houses.

That the Lord's Day Alliance is helpless, as the Sunday observance day has been framed, is admitted by themselves. A fine, the maximum of $100 will not be a barrier to the pleasure men opening. Another net will have to be passed, which can not be done before the legislature meets.

The Princess Theatre has passed into the hands of Entertainments, Ltd., Mr. Canthra Malesk, Mr. Stephens Hoas and Mr. R. Smith, all of Toronto, with Mr. S. Solman as manager. The Shermans were to have retained the theatre, but it was well known that Canadians would control it. The first Shermans attraction to appear at the Princess will be Sept. 6.

ser, coon shouter. The two burlesques are The Two Pickers, and A Night in Goldfield. Max Walker, formerly treasurer of the Gayety Theatre, will manage the tour.

H. K. Wilson, while in town this week, stated that Jackson, Mo., will conduct a monster carnival Aug. 25-28, and that expense will not be taken into consideration. He is looking for the best. WILL J. FARLEY.

PERFORMER ROBBED.

While playing the Aldome, Gulfport, Miss., last week, Charles Devoaux, of The Mystrales Devoaux, was robbed of $175 and some valuable wearing apparel, which was taken from the dressing room while the act was on.

Intending to deposit the money in a safe deposit box the next day, Mr. Devoaux secreted the large sum in the bottom of his trunk, and after locking it, felt no fears for its safety during his appearance on the stage. Evidently some miscreant witnessed the careful hiding of the money, and awaiting his opportunity, forced the lock with a jimmy and ransacked the trunk, not only taking the money but a number of expensive costumes which had just been purchased.

The theft was immediately reported to the police, but thus far no clue has been obtained. A touch of humor was added to the theft by the diligent thief also carrying away two white rabbits used in the act.

J. G. GORDON

ROCK ISLAND (ILL.) EXPOSITION.

Activities have commenced looking to the second annual exposition of the Rock Island, Ill., Exposition Company, to be held at Exposition Park the week of August 9-14.

Room 211 in the Peoples National Bank Building has been engaged as Exposition headquarters and there the publicity committee met June 18 to inaugurate the campaign of boosting for the great event which promises to be fully up to the standard of last year in all respects, and greater in many.

The bookings so far made insure an exceptionally fine list of free and general attractions, in addition to the Kline Railway Shows, which will be the main concession.

The Navassar Ladies' Band, considered the card of the season for big expositions all over the country, will be the top liner in addition to the following free acts have been contracted for: The Dahmar Schiller Troupe of European Acrobats; The Simple Simon Trio of Comedians; Sullin's Trained Bull; The Norins, high divers; and Bottomly Troupe of Aerialists.

There will be pyrotechnic displays on an elaborate scale, several evenings during the week.

TROUSDALE BROS.' ENTERPRISES.

The Trousdale Brothers, the well known West-ern managers, are this season sending out two road companies playing that successful comedy, The Man On the Box.

One company of The Man On the Box will go direct to the coast, playing all the big city time, and will be headed by Ford B. Trousdale. The No. 2 company will play the central States. Both productions will be complete in every detail and every effort will be made to make it one of the most complete shows that ever crossed the white of New York.

ST. ELMO.

The Page Stock Co.'s Production.

At Richmond, Va., the Page Stock Company, last week produced Millard Holcomb's adaptation of St. Elmo, the Augusta J. Evans novel. It went with satisfactory vigor, and met with instant favor.

Stair & Harvin will this season put out the play with a company headed by Vaughan Glaser, to tour the Northern States.

Jake Mills and Page will tour the South with a company, in which the principals will be Frank Sylvester and Miss Carroll McComas.

Mr. Holcomb's adaptation seems to have been unusually happy in construction, and it seems destined that success shall follow.

PIANO PLAYERS STRIKE.

The piano players, members of the Wash-ington Local of the Musicians' Union, at Wash-ington, Pa., have declared a strike on the Washington theatres on the refusal of the managers that city to sign the new scale adopted by the union on July 4.

The new scale was an increase of two dollars per week over the old scale and was to take effect immediately on its adoption by the union.

The managers were notified of the proposed increase until the first performance on Monday, when they were notified. The managers had a hurried meeting and refused to sign the scale. The players walked out and non-union players were substituted.

Manager Lol Solman, of the Royal Alexandra Theatre, is at the head of an amusement company which has recently acquired the Princess Theatre in Montreal, for the past two seasons a spoke of the Eastern burlesque wheel.

Manager Solman had a first list of big free attractions during the week, which drew big crowds. Specially, the fearless high diver, thrilled the crowds with his daring dive of 100 feet into a small tank.

Others were Wilson Sisters, spiral artists, and Campbell and Fletcher, hard-jumpers. Rose Wentworth, equestrienne queen, was such a success at Scarborough Beach, last week that she was held over for this week.

Others in the Hippodrome were Allee De Garmo, gymnastic novelty, and Harry Seaback, bag puncher. Big free act was Zeno, Jordan and Zeno.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST

The above picture was handed to us along with a nice little press story which is sufficiently well written to be reproduced verbatim and which is founded at least on facts which are of interest to the old timers in the game who read this paper.

While the archaeologists connected with the advertising department of the Grand Opera House, Chicago, were engaged some days ago in uncovering posting locations in the lower part of Wisconsin, they ran across a quaint, queer reminder of the show business of years ago.

They set to work on a rain-dampened fence that had been covered again and again through the years with the fading promises of the Barnum Show, the old Bentlow Pathfinders, countless U. S. companies, and occasional light opera troupe of the old Wilbur or Bennett brand, etc., the encrusted "paper" began to peel off in disintegrated sheets, and back against the original yellow-pine fence hung an upright one-sheet of a man who had been a pioneer in the business—Ed. Thurnaer. It was evident from the announcement that Ed. had happened along near Racine, decided that one of the then formative villages would give him an audience, and hung out his printing containing an announcement familiar to the theatre-goers of the '40s and '50s—"Noisy Ed. Thurnaer: Town Hall Tonight, Hear Him Holler!"

The historic interest of the old poster meant nothing to the pair of youngsters engaged hilling "A Gentleman from Mississippi" and they would have been covered over this relic of a day long past had not Jim Wingfield, whose memory runs back to the first show that ever pitched its tents in Cook County, happened along in his automobile.

He at once realized the value of the old one-sheet, which was, however, too nearly gone to bear removal, so he sent to the city for a photographer, and had a copy made of the fence, a print from which is here reproduced. Only the older generation of theatre-goers can remember and that dimly—"Detestable Ed" as he lovingly was called. It is recorded of him that he once wagered his nights receipts from a show he was giving in an old hall on Desplaines Street, that he could be heard over the roar of an awful storm that raged that night on Lake Michigan, and that he won.

He was a sort of forerunner of Bert Morphy, the "man who sings to beat the band," but is said to have possessed a voice of far greater range and power. Ed. Thurnaer, a very old man now, still keeps in touch with the theatrical business by telephone from his home in Pelham, near New York City.

Night after night, when the weather is fine he has sat up late, he will call up Charley McCull, Frank Clausman, John S. Hale or one of his old time chums, and in his piping tones ask: "Well, what's the house tonight?" Aged as he is, he still loves to think that he is a manager, and the boys, a kind hearted lot, who love the old man because he has gone to Pelham to live, always reply: "One-thirty-seven, Ed!" They do not dare tell him more for Ed would not believe, owing to his own experience, that more boys' good house! Well it shows that the agent did his work well. Good-night.

Even though the picture has't a convincing Wisconsin atmosphere and despite the fact that it's clearness and background savor of the studio, it is an excellent likeness of Fred Donogue, manager for "A Gentleman from Mississippi" and general press representative for Brady and Grismer, and the story is of professional and sentimental interest and makes good reading.

PREDICTS BITTER FIGHT.

Col. John Hopkins, prominent vaudeville manager and promoter, was a visitor in Louisville, last week. He is one of the oldest of the old timers in the show business, his personal reminiscences going back to the days when such a popular branch of theatricals as vaudeville was in its infancy.

Col. Hopkins said: "I look for bitter competition in the dramatic field, and am not altogether sorry that the houses owned by the Hopkins Amusement Company and managed by myself, have been disposed of."

TRAGICAL COINCIDENCE IN LIFE AND OPERA

GIACOMO PUCCINI ACTOR IN REAL LIFE

That Corresponds to the Sad Story He Told in Madam Butterfly. Wife's Jealousy Said to Have Been Responsible for Suicide of Serving Maid—Notes of Interest to the Amusement World.

The curtain fell July 7 on a real life tragedy in the career of Giacomo Puccini, the opera composer, that was quite as pathetic as the stage story of Cho-Cho San, the little Japanese heroine of Puccini's masterpiece "Madame Butterfly."

Signora Flvira Danturi Puccini, the composer's wife, was sentenced in Court this morning to lean girl, who forgave his life with Cho-Cho San. They returned to Japan for a honeymoon and the bride offered to bring up as her own the baby of the Oriental girl. Cho-Cho San, until then believing absolutely that her husband would come back to her, cast herself upon the sword of her father.

That was the tale of Cho-Cho San. Now the affair of Doria Manfredi. Her father, a peasant upon the estate of Puccini, died and left her in want and homeless. The composer took her into his own villa as a serving maid. She matured into a wonderfully alluring young woman. Some years passed uneventfully. Then Signora Puccini, herself of peasant origin and intensely jealous of her famous husband, became suspicious of Doria. One day she made the open accusation that the girl's interest in Puccini was greater than that of a servant for a master.

"Signora, always he has been to me like my father that is gone—no more," replied Doria. "Don't lie to me!" said the composer's wife. She struck the maid a blow in the face and walked away.

Within an hour the body of Doria was found upon the villa grounds from poisoning. Puccini, when he heard of his protegee's death had a bitter quarrel with his wife and separated from her at once. When the authorities heard of the girl's death, he told them what he knew. Dramatic justice, surely. And—what a chance for an opera!

MILES FRIED AND MORT WOLF.

(See first page.)

Miles Fried, manager of Sans Souci Park of Chicago and successor to L. A. Wolf who this year is in executive charge of Chicago's White City. Mr. Fried has for a number of years been connected with those in charge of Sans Souci and this year his satisfactory services of the past were recognized and rewarded with the raise in position which now puts him at the head of that fashionable amusement resort.

Mort Wolf, who is at present assistant to the manager of Sans Souci Park, Chicago, and who for the past five years has served in that capacity. Mr. Wolf also has complete charge of the big skating rink there during the winter and by his untiring efforts and strict attention business has made it one of the finest and best known rinks in the country.

At times there have been as many as 80 men in training at once at the Sans Souci rink and it may well be said that Mort Wolf has turned out more roller racers than any one man in the country; also he is the originator of the One Hour Team race which has proven so popular. At the time L. A. Wolf and Mort, his brother, took charge of Sans Souci Park they were considered the two youngest amusement managers in this country.

KLINE SHOWS START TOUR OF STATE FAIRS.

Business with the Herbert A. Kline Shows up to this time has been only fair, but with a number of state fairs to be played at early dates, it is anticipated that business will then rise above the high water mark.

The shows will be somewhat enlarged a little later in the season, but at the present time the outfit is composed of the Little Russian Prince, Bachman's Famous Glass Blowers, Elma, the fat girl; The Bontoo Igorrote Village, Human Roulette Wheel, Schlitze, the Aztec Girl; Dick-ey's Circle D Wild West, Gill's Circling Wave Swing, Hart's Spanish-American War and Concert Band Show, John T. Backman's (formerly Col. P. J. Mundy's) Trained Wild Animal Show, Detgarlan and Company, Beautiful Orient, Minnie, the Show Beautiful and Alice the Wonder.

The company plays the Winnipeg Exhibition, Winnipeg, Man., July 7 to 17, and the North Dakota State Fair at Grand Forks, July 19-24.

GOLLMAR BROS.' EMPLOYEES INITIATED.

While Gollmar Brothers' Shows exhibited at Bemidji, Minn., July 1, four members of the elms were initiated into the local lodge of Elks. They were all duly proposed and elected by the Barraboo, Wis., lodge, but as the show does not appear in Barraboo again this season, the Bemidji, Minn., lodge was selected to do the work.

A delegation was waiting with cabs after the evening performance, and a hurry-up ride was made to the lodge rooms, where the following people were duly initiated: Gerry Vanderbilt, Thos. Holmes, Al Mastiz and Geo. Wormold. The following Elks from Gollmar Brothers' Shows witnessed the initiation: Bobt. Altman, F. E. Trevon, Doc Chapman, Frank Webb, Geo. Mossleb, Harry Wirtz, Walt Gollmar, T. J. Forde and A. E. Parsons.

THE WEEK IN NEW YORK

Monkeys are Headliners in a Couple of Theatres. Dazie a Big Success---Blinn Acted for Mother. Announcements from Klaw & Erlanger---Wendell Turns Professional---Other Notes from Gotham.

SHOULD any one doubt New York's taste for amusement a hurried glance over the current week's bills and a cursory retrospection will put a question on the theory that we don't know what we want when we want it. Prize fighters, baseball players, Salome wig gles, educated snakes, and now comes the man mauling monkey and all stars.

At two theatres chimpanzees are heading a bill composed of talented artists. For weeks past the local press has carried columns of truthful press agent inaccuracies extolling the mismerits of these jungle thespians. And an arduous public will swallow itself in complete satisfaction at anything any one wants to put on the vaudeville stage.

DAZIE IN PANTOMIME.

A pantomimic production, entitled L'Amour de l'Artiste, was given by Mlle. Dazie, the American dancer, and a company of ten, at Keith & Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre. The playlet in two scenes, without words, is intensely dramatic, and Mlle. Dazie's portrayal of the principal character, Nana Mignon, the flower girl, captivated the audience. She had to respond to a dozen curtain calls, and received several bunches of flowers from her admirers over the footlights.

The pantomime is given under the personal directions of the author, Giuseppe Molasso, and Frederic Chapon wrote the music for it. The playlet tells the story of the love of a flower girl of the Paris Latin quarter for a famous artist.

During a scene in the artist's studio, where the artist declares his love for Nana, another woman enters and stabs the girl. The artist, in his turn strangles the woman. The tragedy is told entirely in pantomime, but with such fidelity that the audience has no trouble in following the complete thread of the story. Mlle. Dazie also introduced several dances which she performs with consummate grace.

ACTED FOR HIS MOTHER

On the first performance of Salvation Nell by Mrs. Fliske and the Manhattan Company at San Francisco the mother of Holbrook Blinn—herself formerly an actress of note—for the first time saw him in an important role on the stage.

This episode furnished a bit of pathos as telling as the play. Seated in the stage box to the right was a pale, wan woman, prone on her couch, watching with eager eyes every move of the players on the other side of the footlights. The watcher was wrapped in coverlets and surrounded by friends. She was Mrs. Neill Holbrook Blinn. Theatregoers of other days knew her as one of the prominent teachers of elocution and dramatic art in San Francisco.

At the end of the second act, where a powerful scene has been enacted between Mrs. Fliske and Mr. Blinn, a single bunch of carnations was tossed on the stage from that box. This was the only token the mother gave. If gleaming eyes and a happy smile from her may be excepted, the carnations were sent to Mrs. Fliske, who gave one of the blooms to her leading man as the curtain arose and descended to the tune of mighty applause. Mrs. Blinn had a right to feel proud of her son.

Mrs. Blinn's stage career was notable. She was the first dramatic instructor of David Belasco, and her professional activities were with actors of the first class.

ENGAGE BALLET MASTER.

Senor Alexander, who has been ballet master at the Empire Theatre, London, for the Empire Theatre, London, for the last fifteen years, has been engaged by Klaw & Erlanger to arrange the ballets for the new play which is being written for Mlle. Genee by Harry B. Smith, and which will be produced at the New Amsterdam Theatre early in November.

K. & E. BOOK EMPIRE.

The Empire Theatre, Providence, R. I., has been leased by the Empire Circuit to the J. B. Sparrow Theatrical and Amusement Company, and beginning September 1 it will be booked by Klaw and Erlanger with the attractions playing the syndicate theatres. The syndicate attractions have not been booked recently in Providence, and the acquisition of the Empire gives Klaw & Erlanger a complete New England circuit.

SATIRE ON SHAKE-UP.

A satire on the recent police shake-up has been introduced into The Follies of 1909 at the Jardin de Paris. Lillian Lorraine and Arthur Deagan also sing a new song entitled, I Love My Wife, So On Your Way.

A DEPARTURE IN NEW YORK SUMMER THEATRICALS.

Klaw and Erlanger have made another innovation in the theatrical business which has proven an enormous success—namely, the production of dramatic offerings on a roof garden. Bronly and Gelsmer's A Gentleman From Mississippi in the Aerial Gardens, which crowns the lofty parapet of the New Amsterdam Theatre, has been received just as cordially as it ever was on an indoor stage.

The success of the departure is revolutionary. It has been held most vigorously that only a show with music and lots of girls could appeal to the summer theatregoers. New York, however, has grown in such favor as a summer resort that the increase in visitors will keep open any house that is cool and comfortable. The stranger within the gates, it has been proven, is keen to see a dramatic success with a strong New York cast; something he or she can talk about when he or she gets back home. It gives one the opportunity to make that irritating, unanswerable remark, "Yes, I saw the show when we were in New York with Tom Wise and Douglas Fairbanks in the cast. It was an entirely new production, too."

It was A. L. Erlanger's idea to make this wide departure from set custom and habit. He waited until time and tide were right and then launched a venture which will lead to an entirely new departure in the summer theatrical offerings of New York City. Light breezy comedies will surely hereafter vie with musical productions for the entertainment of summer theatregoers.

The Aerial Gardens has a stage as completely equipped as any theatre in the city. The house

MADELINE CLARK.

Under the management of Al. H. Woods.

Itself is complete. With the lights of New York twinkling on every side of the cool and sparkling auditorium, the voices of the players carrying easily to all parts of the theatre and not a word is lost. Best of all, the spectators are comfortable and the breezes that blow over Manhattan at the height of the Gardens fan and enliven actors alike, so that no one need sit in a stuffy hall and swelteringly watch the players' collars and acting go limp under the strain of the heat.

A slight change in the department of the usual audience is to be observed. Klaw and Erlanger have installed a band of troubadours behind a clump of shrubbery. A concert opens at eight o'clock and lasts until the rise of the curtain. Between the acts the spectators seat over the lofty promenade, which are as a tractive as the Aerial Gardens. Listen to the music or sip cooling drinks. Smoking is permitted in all parts of the house.

The play is a humorous picture of Washington life, told in a pleasant satirical vein. It is cleverly acted, as the company has been together for a full season. Thomas A. Wise is delightful in the role of the Senator and Douglas Fairbanks makes a very manly reporter secretary.

K. & E. NOTES.

May de Souza, of Chicago, who has risen from the ranks of the chorus to be a favorite of the theatregoers of London and Paris, has been engaged by Klaw and Erlanger for the leading role in a new musical comedy which Victor Herbert and Harry B. Smith will write for her.

Harry Blaney will play the part of Flip next season in the Klaw and Erlanger production of Little Nemo. Josephine Cawthorn and Harry Kelly return to the rolls of Dr. Phil and the Dancing Missionary respectively.

Julian Rose will play a part in Klaw and Erlanger's new musical comedy by John J. McNally and Jerome Schwartz, in which McIntyre and Heath will be starred the coming season. The production will be opened at the Euclid Avenue Opera House in Cleveland in August. This is the first time that A. L. Erlanger has opened a show in his native city.

Rickel and Watson, Lee Harrison and Barney Bernard will be members of the big company with which Klaw and Erlanger will surround Mlle. Genee when she enters on her career of a star under the management of this firm. The book will be by Harry B. Smith and the music by Maurice Levl. Mlle. Genee returns to America in August.

Rehearsals for the McIntyre and Heath show begin July 15.

Martin Arluccio is searching Europe and America for an elephant for his new play, The Circus Man. He needs one that will work alone and is not so large that its bulk will dwarf the scenery or Artuoke himself.

Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm promises to be one of the sweetest and simplest plays of the season. Its atmosphere is highly Josephine.

Klaw and Erlanger's New Amsterdam Theatre will open with The Love Cure August 30. The firm opened the Liberty Theatre August 8 with The Florist Shop. Colan and Harris' Miss Grels open the New York Theatre August 16.

Klaw and Erlanger and Joseph Weber will jointly manage Weber's Theatre in New York next season.

WENDELL A PROFESSIONAL.

Jacob Wendell well known in New York solely as an amateur actor, will appear next season as a professional with the dramatic company at the New Theatre. He is a Harvard graduate and a brother of Everet Jansen Wendell, also an amateur.

Both are members of the Amateur Comedy Club and have frequently appeared at its performances. Mr. Wendell is a member of the University Club and several years ago married Miss Marion Fenball of Baltimore. Just what part he is to have in the New Theatre company has not yet been announced.

MISS STOWE'S DEBUT.

Miss Hilda Stowe, a granddaughter of Harriet Beecher Stowe, the author of Uncle Tom's Cabin, will make her debut on the professional stage with William Faversham and his company, in Herod, next October. Miss Stowe has had considerable experience as an amateur. When a little girl, residing at Fredburg, Germany, she appeared as Hansel, in Hansel and Gretel; and a little later, when in Switzerland, she appeared in scenes from several plays in an amateur performance. When a student at Burdham School at North Hampton, Mass., she appeared as Linnelock Gode in The Merchant of Venice, and as Pink in A Midsummer Night's Dream.

HOLIDAY MATINEES ATTENDED.

Most of the theatres still open gave special fourth of July matinees. Enough people stood in town to fill them, and the evening performances were also well attended. The Motor Girl at the Lyric, was the only one of the Shubert shows that didn't give an extra after noon performance. Frank Hennessy, the manager deciding that the players should have the holiday to themselves.

After the evening performances some of the principals of Hayvna and The Midnight Sons made an automobile trip to Blanche Ring's new summer home at Larchmont. An unusually large holiday crowd attended the performance of The Follies of 1909 at the Jardin de Paris. Marion Whitney, one of the principals of the cast, caused some excitement after the evening performance by setting off a large amount of fireworks. She explained that she had spent her entire week's salary for firecrackers and Roman candles.

The Shuberts announce that there will be no more mid-week matinees of Hayvna at the Casino, or of The Midnight Sons at the Broadway.

STRANDED TROUPE RETURNS.

Two weeks in South America were enough to convince the Broadway Comedy Company that Home Sweet Home meant 29th street some more. A few of the company got back on July 5th just in time for the fireworks, but if credence is to be given the reports, they have had some considerable pyrotechnic display for some time. It all started quietly enough. The ghost when he walks makes but little noise and when he don't walk makes still less—and it was the deafening roar of spectre feet that didn't patter which made the actors heartbeats for that dear old bunk—Broadway. And there you are. Some of the troupe prevailed upon the steamer Vend's owners to cart them back and that's why some are here. H. L. Jackson and wife, Julia Atkinson are among those who can tell you or any one else a whole book full about trouping in S. A. It's all very interesting to listen to. So listen.

"At first we had success," Jackson said. "We had been engaged to go to South America by R. H. Morgan, the executive in a syndicate headed by Signor de Rossi, the impresario. It was to Morgan that we lay our troubles. We left New York in May thirty-five strong. We were delighted with our prospects for we had contracts to play in the syndicate's string of houses.

"We opened in Rio Janeiro in The Merry Widow. We met with success and things went finely during our two weeks' stay there. The Rossi paid us our salaries and everything was on the square. From Rio we moved on to Buenos Aires and opened in the Avenida Theatre. Then the trouble began. We drew good houses. On the first pay day it was a very small check that walked. We got 10 pesos, about $4.00 each, and a promise. None of us had been saving and it was hard work getting enough to live on.

"Then we learned that the Vend's was in port and ready to sail at the end of our second week. We had return tickets, but on going to the steamer found that about $5.00 had not been paid on them. We appealed to the steamship people and they agreed after some hesitation to take us and look to the syndicate for pay. Morgan pleaded with us not to sail, and assured us that there was money to pay us. Our answer was either make good or we would prepare to sail. He did not pay and so we prepared to sail. Some one tried to attach our belongings, but we landed our belongings on mule carts and started to the steamer.

"At the pier some consulars attempted to hold us up, but Miss Foltz jumped on the wagon and drove on. The consulars followed let us go. Well, we are back again and mighty glad to see dear old Broadway again.

The company included Miss Virgie Foltz who played here in Henry W. Savage's Merry Widow company. August Barrett, musical director for Savage's Billy Wolfe, the comedian and others known in musical comedy.

MAY BE SENSATION.

When William Faversham puts on Stephen Phillips' Herod in New York next October it is more than likely that there will be an upheaval of historic lore. The result will be that we will learn a lot of things that we have forgotten. Several important incidents of history are sure to crop up and be threshed out anew. For instance, it is generally conceded that Herod the Great was not a Jew. Those who hold that he was Israelite, base their belief on the words of Josephus who said that Herod was "of the stock of the Jews who first came from Babylon." This theory is no longer accepted by Justin Philbrick that he was "of the hated Philistine race." Herod was not chosen for the Jews, but appointed by Anthony and the Roman Senate. Then again you hear people say that it could not have been Herod who ordered the massacre of the infants of Bethlehem, for the very good reason that he died 4 B. C. It may seem, while Herod did die 4 B. C. it was during his reign that our Lord was born. This, at first sight, appears an absurdity, but is in point of fact the sober truth. The Christian era is commonly held to correspond to the now accepted as the commencement of the new birth of Christ; but this is not accurate, since that event took place four years before the era now accepted as the commencement of the new epoch in reckoning time. So it is that Christ was four years old when the Christian era began, and lived when Herod was King of Judaea.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF MIRIAM NEE BITT.

Miriam Nesdill, who will be seen this coming season playing Beth Elliott in one of the musicals presenting James Forbes' Comedy, The Traveling Salesman, is the daughter of George Lawrence Skancke and Alice C. Skancke. She was born in Chicago, Ill., in 1882, and educated in the public schools of Chicago. St. Mary's Convent, Notre Dame, Ind., and Mary Sharpe's College, Winchester, Tenn., made her first appearance on the stage in 1895 as Monica in The Tree of Knowledge; then played the part of Althea in At The White Horse Tavern, at Wallack's Theatre, 1897; in the summer of the same year played London leading lady with the Bond Street Company, Albany, N. Y., during 1900; appeared with the late Joseph Haworth in Robert of Sicily; next appeared with Miss Ada Behan in Sweet Nell of Old Inury, 1901, and during the summer months

The VAUDEVILLE PROFESSION

NEW YORK VAUDEVILLE NOTES.

The week's offerings:

Hammerstein's Victoria—Gertrude Hoffman opens her annual engagement at this house, presenting an elaborate revival of A Vision of Salome with Mendelssohn's Spring Song, with an augmented orchestra of thirty pieces under the direction of Max Hoffman. Anette Kellerman remains and others on the bill are The Seldoms Living Marble, Bredal and Arthur, A Night in a Monkey Music Hall, The Quartette, Martineti and Sylvester, Three Musical Johnsons, The Daleys, Ryan and White.

Hammerstein's Victoria—Bendini and Arthur, the grotesque comedians, are the newcomers this week at this house in a new act in which they intermingle a clever burlesque on Seldom's Living Marble poses, Martineti and Sylvester present a clever eccentric acrobatic act. The others on the bill are holdovers including Kellerman, whose popularity does not appear to wane; Princess Hajah, whose Cleopatra Dance is always assured of several encores; The Daleys, presenting an interesting comedy and trick roller skating act; Mand Hooez's monkey actors in A Night at a Monkey Music Hall; The Seldoms Living Marble, The Quartette, Ryan and White, wooden shoe dancers and the Three Musical Johnsons.

Fifth Avenue Theatre—Adelaide Herrman, the Queen of Magic, widow of the original Herrman the Great, heads the bill at this house with an elaborate offering of magic and illusions. Others are Augusta Goss, Melville and Higgins, Barnes and Crawford, Al Leech and his Three Hoozies, Hathaway's Monkeys, W. H. Gallaway and the Wit, Bains and Turrance.

Fifth Avenue Theatre—Mlle. Dazie has triumphed in another field. This dainty little woman who as La Domino Rouge, hiding beauty and other natural charms, proved her grace and abilities as a dancer, took a second hold on the public when, as Mlle. Dazie, the dancer, she displayed these charms by working unmasked, has now scored a third distinct success in New York. In the dramatic pantomime, L'Amour de L'Artiste she is now presenting, she is surrounded by a company of old experienced pantomimists and though this is her first appearance in this field of entertainment there is no doubt at any time that Dazie is the feature. This fact is not forced upon you by any action of hers for Dazie is not a "spot light" star. In fact, her company has full sway and every opportunity to make their individual hits without hindrance from her. She actually lives the part of the young innocent flower girl she plays and her portrayal is more than entertainment, it is a treat. The vehicle itself tells a pretty and an interesting story with a tragic climax to provide the entire range of pantomimic art. Her company is an exceptionally good one that all experienced in this line of work, a fact that makes the excellent work of Dazie, in this, her first effort, stand out more prominently. The company includes Anna Krauser, Lillian Lovett, Edward Crawford, Frank Holcher, Mlle. M. Corio, Fred A. Burke, Lena Porter, George Olney and Master M. Molasso. It is in two scenes, special scenery, and was staged by Sign. G. Molasso. Daniel Dore is musical director, on the bill with Dazie, Ed Wynn, his celebrated Panama hat and his new partner, Al Lee, took second honors. Emma Franca and her Arabs presented a diversified and amusing entertainment of acrobatics, singing and dancing, being her first in New York. Her absence during a European absence of a year. Charles Moutrol provides an interesting and clever offering of trick juggling with a capable black face assistant to furnish comedy. Howard and Lawrence are presenting a hodge podge of disjointed nonsense, which, aside from the setting and the first few lines of dialogue loses an excuse. It might have to be billed as a "comedy sketch." The Stage Manager, John J. McCluskey, operatic tenor, is singing Ted Snyder's "The Star, The Rose and The Dream," and Gus Edward's "My Cousin Farnio." Var. Cleve, Denton and Pete is an act thrown around a partly trained mule. Though the mule is "the act," his education has been neglected in certain important essentials. Jones and Mayo completed the bill with impersonations of prominent comedians, so the program stated.

American Music Hall—Consul, the "Almost Man," is in his second week, with Rosario Guerrero in her pantomime and also Daphne Pollard, Australia's favorite comedienne. Others on the bill are Ada Overton Walker and a company of Abyssinian girls, featuring the Kara Kara dance; Gilla and Temperon contortionists; Minna K. Hurst, Roland the Great, the Handoff King, McCondon and Huntington, character songs; Sa-Hera, in an unusual exhibition of thought transfer; Fred Rieghall, Australian comedian; Gilbert and Karen, Hebrew comedians and Haulon and Clifton, gymnasts.

American Music Hall—Consul the Great, the educated chimpanzee brought to this country by William Morris, has scored more than a success. His reception was a veritable riot. The preliminary announcements of the abilities of this trained animal were no exaggeration and he practically does everything but talk. (This statement is made in the form of an apology to the Morris press bureau in view of our opinion of their advance dopes). Consul eats, drinks, lights and smokes a cigarette, tips a waiter, divests himself of a complete modern attire from shoes to silk hat, including even the garters; goes to bed and upon arising performs his toilet with wash basin, soap, towel, hair brush and powder. Again dressed he provides a roller skating exhibition, concluding with a novel bicycle riding offering in which he cycles upon a sea-saw, down a flight of stairs and through a maze of bottles without disturbing one. In fact, it is in this bicycle exhibition that he displays the greatest intelligence, as absolutely unattended he hits up scorching speed, steering from all obstacles. Consul really presents a better trick cyclist act than a good many of the regular acts that are offered under this billing. Rosario Guerrero, assisted by L. Pagliaro, presents a pantomime, "The Rose and the Dagger," to provide an introduction for her dancing. More dancing and less pantomime would improve the act. The pantomime is supposed to depict poetry and love, which, judging by the facial expressions of the participants, must be painful. Daphne Pollard, a vest pocket blonde, billed as Australia's favorite character comedienne, presented a clever offering of three songs and an original dance, with an additional song and dance made necessary by her encores. Tudor Cameron and Bonnie Gaylord offer Cameron's old but ever popular act depicting stage life. On and Off. The Sisters de Faye have a novel and pretty musical act using a Remick melody in their hands playing. Minna K. Hurst is singing with slides, Charles K. Harris' "Case Me Today and Theodore Morse's Mollie Lee. Morton Sharpe with an excellent bevy of dancing belles; Octave Callotte with a novelty swinging wire act; Roland Travers, illusionist and magician; Frank Meisel, violin virtuoso; Billy K. Wells, Hebrew orator and the Limy Kilm Club, company of twenty in its second week, completed the bill.

What is to become of the vaudeville performer? On top of the increasing popularity of trained monkeys and "almost man" chimpanzees, comes the announcement that the versatile vaudeville producer, Joseph Hart is going in strong for dogs. Not satisfied with football dogs, his canine company that present a realistic game of football upon the stage, Mr. Hart will produce a dog melodrama, with Charles H. Yale as an accessory. A one act melodrama will soon be put into rehearsal by Mr. Hart in which Charles H. Yale's famous Land-seer dogs will play important parts. These intelligent animals will be remembered by melodrama patrons in "The Way of the Transgressor" and "The Messenger Boy" where the dogs would rescue the hero bound to the railroad track, save the heroine from a watery grave, steal "the papers" from the villain's pocket and do a lot of other things supposed to be only within the province of human beings. These dogs have been declared by many to be the most intelligent representatives of the canine kingdom, despite the fact that one species of bull pup has the word "Boston" attached to its name. While the melodrama which the dogs will appear in will also have speaking parts for real actors, the canines will have work to do that Mr. Hart declares will have to be seen to be believed. The piece itself will be a high class "thriller," of some thirty minutes duration, with comedy and romance intermingled. The dogs will be on the job almost constantly to foil the villain and aid and abet the hero and heroine in their pursuit of happiness. These dogs received their training from William T. Stevens. He will also prepare them for the new production.

Cora Beach Turner presented her new sketch "Love via Wireless" at the Majestic Theatre here for a New York showing after playing out of town for awhile. Miss Turner, who is a winsome and clever little actress, is aided by her supporting company with the possible exception of the old maid. The act itself contains many excellent points, but needs a new producer. With the act properly produced Miss Turner, who is exceptionally good herself, has a vehicle that could hold its own with any act of its class. The act is founded on Robert W. Chambers' story "Syllabus" and is the work of Miss Turner and Joseph A. Golden. The dialogue and situations are excellent but it appears to have been staged by an Indian whose thoughts run to whoops and war dances as the ideas of humor possessed by the comedians result in a succession of ridiculous hops and dances around the stage to the accompaniment of heart rending crotchets and yowls that are entirely out of place.

Keith and Proctor's 5th Street Theatre at 3rd Avenue and 5th Street, in a run-in, will discontinue pictures, and return to vaudeville next season in opposition to the William Morrison Plaza Music Hall. The 125th Street house will also return to vaudeville, giving Keith and Proctor three houses, with the Fifth Avenue, playing vaudeville. The Union Square, 23rd Street and Harlem Opera House retain pictures.

William Lykens, the booking agent, is quietly but energetically and successfully compiling a list of headliners to handle. He is now booking Mrs. Annis, Amy Butler, Fred J. Hamill and his "American Beauties," Adams and Abden, Dunn and Glazier among others and announces that he will soon offer Virginia Harrod, Nellie Bergen and Adele Ritchie.

The Empire theatres in Hoboken and Paterson, known as the Braggemann houses, will not book through the United offices next season. Mr. Braggemann having signed a contract with Felber, Shea and Contant, the Bijou Circuit. The houses will continue as two-day and eight acts with a total salary list of from $1,400 to $1,600 will be played.

War is the title of the first tabloid melodrama to be offered vaudeville by Al Sutherland. The company consists of twenty-six people, six being principals or important parts and the entire action is presented in one scene. "A Close Shave" is the title of a comedy sketch he will offer, the scene being laid in a female barber shop.

Lyons and Parks have returned to this country, the salary question on the other side being responsible, for the boys made a decided hit. It is said one English manager when he heard of the salary asked, said, they are clever boys but too young to handle so much money.

Eva Tanguay has forsaken vaudeville, temporarily at least, and has been compelled to cancel all her European booking owing to her acceptance of a most alluring contract from F. Ziegfeld and her appearance in the "Follies of 1909."

American Roof Garden will open July 25 positively. The various postponements have been caused by the inability of the workmen to complete work. The renovation of the old roof garden will cost $75,000.

G. E. McCune is the press representative for the Keith and Proctor interests. He took hold of his new duties last week and has already displayed the energy and ability for which he has long been noted.

Fred Watson and the Morrissy Sisters as an act are no more. Fred Watson now has an original monologue and his wife, Polly Morrissy, is offering a single singing and dancing act.

Ethel Dunaholm, formerly with the Miss Innocence is now doing the Apache dance with Joe Smith, succeeding Louise Alexander in the act formerly billed as Alexander and Smith.

The Long Acre Circuit has died. L. S. Sinden and "Young" Hennessy disagreeing. The former, however, is still booking small time with his office in the Long Acre Building.

Phil Hunt is booking the Howard and Bowdoin Square Theatres in Boston, also theaters in New London, Conn., and Brockton, Pittsfield and North Adams, Mass.

Joe Wood will organize about thirty road shows to play small time next season. Shows will consist of seven acts with salaries ranging from $100 to $25.

Maze King has called off her dancing act in vaudeville and has become a feature of the Lew Field's production, The Midnight Sons at the Broadway Theatre.

The Quartet has been signed by William Hammerstein for his Victoria Roof Garden for the entire summer season.

Al Sutherland has completed arrangements that enable him to book acts in England and Europe.

VAUDEVILLE.

Bob Romolt finished eighteen weeks on the Sun time at Charleston, W. Va., and opened at Ashland, Ky., with Hanley's Great Southern Vaudeville Company, to produce acts. The company carries two cars, 70 feet top, 50 foot middle piece, and 10 piece band, and will play all large Southern cities. The opening date is July 19.

Mlle. Alma, the Colonial Girl, and L. A. Howard, lightning crayon artist, have formed a partnership, and are under the management of Curt Wolfe, of Charlotte, N. C. Mr. Howard has issued a challenge to meet any cartoonist in his line for the championship of the United States.

Record-breaking business was done at Newva Park, Penn. Ill., week of July 4. The vaudeville bill for that week was composed of Wilkerson and Sully, Wolf and Kadella, Lew Knutznager, Becker and Mack, Harlow and Nicholson and Frank Hall.

Gilman and Satchell, Myrtle Victorine, Zolar Sisters and Paul Brown were entertained on board the yacht Elmore, by Managers Bandy Brothers, of the Airborne, Savannah, Ga., last week. A delightful time was had by the members of the party.

W. K. Rey has joined the team of Mack and Mack (Lawrence and Nellie) and the trio is now playing a summer engagement at the Sea Side Theatre, Corpus Christi, Texas. The act is known as Mack, Roy and Mack.

Geo. A. Foster, the flexible equilibrist, expects to have his new act completed by August 1.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE

NEW YORK MUSIC NOTES.

Manhattan Beach as a summer resort has recorded a surprising revival in popular interest, for which music is given all the credit and that for reason of the engagement of the British Guards' Band, under the direction of Carlo E. Carleton. This band has won successes in the West, and was engaged for Manhattan Beach for two weeks, but this engagement has already been extended for two weeks, with a strong possibility of it being made to extend throughout the season. Carleton, the director, already enjoys an international reputation as a band director and musician, and while he has specialized on English music, he does not credit this fact so much to the music as to his belief that the Hawks' band arrangements are the best, and these, naturally, are of English music, though they are successfully handled in this country by Joseph W. Stern and Company. He does not confine himself solely to these English arrangements, however, but so far, has presented Anna, Glow, Worm, S. R. Henry's Horn Dance and a cornet solo arrangement of If I Had a Thousand Lives to Live.

That the Russians have a very great fondness for American songs is most forcibly demonstrated by the reception of our song hits at the American Theatre in Menchen, where the audience, though more than two-thirds Russian, join most heartily in the choruses, singing them in their native language to the accompaniment of much thumping on the floor and a rhythmic movement of the body. The songs are printed in the program in Russian, the melody being preserved, and none of the original tunefulness is lost. In a recent program from the American Theatre, the song that is featured is the great New York Hippodrome success, Moon Dear, by Manuel Klein. We have no record that the Russians are singing such American successes as I Love My Wife, Make a Noise Like a Hoop and Roll Away, Redhead, My Wife's Gone to the Country, My Cousin Caruso, Gee, I Wish I Had a Girl or I Love My Husband, Hut Oh, You Henry.

Helf and Hager offer "A Bushel Of Kisses," by Andrew Sterling Lewis, F. Mair and Matt Cones, also Wedding Bells, lyrics to Robert F. Rhodes, and music by J. Fred Helf, one of the best numbers ever issued by this house. The chorus lyric is as follows:

Wedding bells, wedding bells,
Our hearts will be singing
One sweet song all day long
How I love to hear them ringing, ringing, ringing, ringing.
Wedding bells, wedding bells,
Each chime gladness tells.
Soon we'll hear the jingle, jingle, jingle, jingle of the wedding bells.

Jerome and Schwartz have a new one published by Remick, that gives healthy promise. It is entitled Honey on Our Honeycomb, and has this chorus:

Honeycomb with me, my honey,
My own sweet honey, my sugar honey,
Love just makes you feel so funny,
Life seems so cheery to you, my dearie,
Something in your eyes of blue, dear,
Tells me true, dear, just what to do, dear,
Love is always sunny. Think of all the honey,
Honey, on our Honeycomb.

Shapiro has a number by Edgar Seldeen and Melville Gideon that is already beginning to climb the ladder of popularity. In As the Years Roll On, To Gideon's excellent melody Seldeen has furnished one of his best lyrics, the chorus of which is

As the years roll on, as they come and go,
You are more to me than you'll ever know,
In this world's vast space,
None can take your place,
And I'll love and love and love you
As the years roll on.

"Sweetheart's A Pretty Name When It's Y-O-I" is the title of another hit Ted Snyder is publishing. The music is by Al Taganick, with words by Edgar Leslie, and the chorus

Sweetheart's a pretty name, when it's Y-O-I;
It may not look as well in print as others do,
But your fingers told me so, I never knew
Sweetheart's a pretty name, when it's Y-O-I.

Moss Gumble, professional manager for Jerome H. Remick and Company, though this introduction should not be necessary, as everyone knows who Moss is, has returned from Europe, and is pushing the new songs introduced since July 1, in order to swell the paragraph record royalties for their company.

CHICAGO MUSIC NOTES.

Some of Chicago's papers recently carried with an article, headed "Poet Gets Three Months in Jail" and the like; and then went on to tell how George E. Bernhammer, who came to the Country, was given three months in the Bridewell. Well, the result of this is that Frank Clark, manager of the Chicago office of Ted Snyder, is about the busiest man in the business. To run out of copies some times a day is not an unusual occurrence at this music house.

Madeline Journe, the girl who once sang with Teddy Bears while singing the Silky Song with Howland and Clifford's A Mysterious SARA B. EGAN.

Miss Sara B. Egan, the popular lady member of the staff of the Will Roskiter music house in Chicago, and who is well and favorably known as the composer of "Turkish Trophies," "Flower-Land Reveries" and the Bonita Waltz which made such a "hit" in White, Women and Song. Miss Egan is one of the busiest persons on the Chicago music row and her friends are numbered only by her acquaintances.

Burglar company, is now in vogue, but minus the bears; she still has her voice, and is using it to some effect singing I'd Like to be a Soldier Boy in Blue, Will Roskiter's newest march ballad.

Back from the coast comes the Garden City Trio, bubbling over with enthusiasm over their success and generous treatment while there. Sarah, Won't You Let Me Serenade You? was the one big Roskiter scream with them. Gee, There's Class to a Girl Like You will be added to their repertoire at once.

Rinaldo, the famous violinist, who was recently at the American Music Hall, playing his own composition, Rinaldo's Rag, received ovations after ovations, but finally refused to appear, although ten minutes of applause followed. Ted Snyder is the publisher of this piece.

James Sumner, of the Roskiter staff, is slated over the success at the American Music Hall of his latest find, The American Singing Four. They are next to the closing act on the bill and were forced to respond to several encores on their rendition of Harry Back, and Drifting.

Bob White, of the Modern Music Co., is very optimistic over the success of Why Does Everyone Love Love? Kiss Me Dear, Play Ball, See You Tonight at Riverview, Come In, Sit Right Down and Make Yourself at Home and Come and Tease the Moon with Me.

Jerome Rodin, who terms himself the boy Caruso, is featuring Lonesome, published by F. A. Mills. Mr. Rodin says that his voice is baritone, but that at the finish of the song he takes a high C that creates a sensation in every cage in the monkey house.

Eleanor Sherman and Annette Anderson, of the Harris firm, spent the Fourth at Delavan Lake, and come back with the report that I'll Get You Yet, Little Girl, and I Wonder Who Is Kissing Her Now are the two most popular numbers up there.

The Three Mitchells looked over That's Plenty the other day in the Roskiter office, and fairly went up in the air over it; the cooling is all that stopped them. They will also sing That Dreamy Rag and Oh, Miss Malinda.

Eugene Juronde was a Roskiter caller recently, and selected Just for a Day and Gee, There's Class to a Girl Like You as her feature numbers. She will shortly be seen and heard on Pennsylvania time.

The Plunkett Sisters have tried out Harry Back, and report success with it. They have in rehearsal a new Roskiter song, entitled Take Me Back to Kildland, which looks good as an encore gatherer also.

Billy Thompson is very enthusiastic over the success attained by Remick's new hits, especially Pony Boy, Let's Have Another Drink, If I Had a World to Give You, Love, Love, and Can't You See?

The Orpheus Comedy Four, returning from fifteen weeks of Pantages' Western tour, have substituted Kerry Mills' newest song hit, Lonesome, over a circuit of parks booked by Pantages.

Mabel Hite and Mike Donlin, who are coming from the Coast, are featuring Ted Snyder's Beautiful Eyes.

The management of the Chicago office of the Thompson Music Co. is temporarily in the hands of Ralph A. Foote, Mr. Otis Colburn and Harry R. Amacher being on their vacation.

Matthews and Ashley are meeting with great success in the far West at Spokane, singing My Wife Has Gone to the Country, Hurrah, Hurrah, published by Ted Snyder.

The force at Ted Snyder's music parlors now consists of Frank Clark, Geo. W. Whiting, Irvin Berlin, Bob Roberts, James Kozak, Ralph Drew and James Collins.

Charles E. Hay is still holding forth at the Bismarck Garden with Ballmann's Band, featuring Remick's songs, and reports that Pony Boy is the biggest encore winner.

Fred Lawrence and Co. recently featured with big success at the Majestic, Lexington, Ky., Lone and Lovings Doves, both from F. A. Mills.

Miss Louise Dresser, the headliner at the Majestic last week, sang McKenna's new song, Lady Love, published by Jerome H. Remick & Co.

The Still City Quartet, who are now traveling through the North, are featuring F. A. Mills' Lonesome and Don't Be and Old Maid Mollie.

After While, by Charles K. Harris, is one of the most beautiful ballads he has written, and is meeting with success wherever heard.

Scuse Me To-day, 'Mid the Blue Grass of Kentucky, and After While, from the Chas. K. Harris shop, look like three big hits.

Al. White, Harry Kranzman and Earl Taylor are at the White City, featuring My Wife is Gone to the Country, Hurrah, Hurrah.

Amongst other songs from the Gotham-Attuck Music Co., which are scoring big are Red, Red Rose, Kinkle and Yankee Land.

Sweet Star of Love, by Leslie and Mellaceo, published by Chas. K. Harris, is destined to be a big number with this house.

F. A. Mills' new kid song, Please, Papa, Buy Me an Airship, which is just out, seems to be destined for big things.

Elsie Fay, of Elsie Fay, Miller and Weston, at Forest Park Highlands, St. Louis, is featuring F. A. Mills' Lonesome.

Miss Devere, who is singing with Conway's Band, at Riverview Exposition, is featuring Remick's hits.

Mr. Samuels, manager of Shapiro's parlors, is singing Gloaming with the different hands about the city.

The American Quartet is featuring Play Ball and Because of You, from the Modern Music Co.

AN OLD WORLD EXPOSITION.

This is a short story of an Old World Exposition and the remarkable man that made it. Returning to his native land after an absence of years, Nany Salih, Oriental Commissioner for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, manager of the Streets of Cairo, and also the Spanish Theatre, on the Pay Streak, gained the distinction of fostering and producing the first fair ever held in the eventful history of Asiatic Turkey.

Salih was the head man in the Oriental Exhibits Section of the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, and when he returned to his native land he selected the city of his birth, Shaver, in Syria, as the site of the Turkish Fair, which attracted the attention of the whole world.

It was called the Babelonian Exposition, and so successful was it that every year since it has been repeated, each time on a larger and more picturesque scale, until now it has come to be a Governmental institution, and, at the close of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, Mr. Salih will go there to take permanent charge of it.

It was such an exposition as the Occident never has seen and never can see. Persia sent her rugs, India her ivories and precious stones, Egypt a collection of antiques never before seen outside the royal museum, Greece her art works, and Turkey and Northern Africa sent their many wonders.

There was no "Pay Streak," says Mr. Salih, except that from the American standard, the whole exposition would have been a "Pay Streak" for queer peoples of the Levant, in their queer dresses and with their queer costumes were everywhere, and it was the Occident who was the freak. When Mr. Salih was collecting his people for the Oriental concessions at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition he went to his old home first, and thence throughout Turkey, Greece, Morocco and India, taking in Ceylon and Borneo en route. As a result there are fifteen distinct races represented on the Streets of Cairo alone.

How They Celebrated The Fourth and Fifth of July in Minneapolis and Kansas City.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The weather man certainly favored Philadelphia and vicinity with ideal weather for Independence Day, and the result was that the three days' holiday gave everyone a chance to enjoy themselves, and secured one constant stream of coin into the coffers of the amusement men, both indoors and outdoors. Sunday, July 4, was cool and pleasant, the right kind of weather to make a trip to a park enjoyable. The Mayor had positively refused permission for anyone to show their patriotism by the shooting off of crackers, etc., and as the people had no other way to enjoy themselves they piled on to the cars and went to the parks. Although in the neighborhood of eighty thousand people had gone to Atlantic City, N. J., on Saturday and Sunday, it left big crowds here, who just ate up the amusements in the parks. Willow Grove, Woodside, White City and Washington Parks were all crowded Sunday, and every connoisseur stated that business was nearly double that of last year. Monday, July 5, which was the actual day of celebration, was also a delightful day, and the parks had big crowds all day. The weather made the day going pleasant, and the four theatres now open all had big houses. At Keith's Theatre the attractions for July 5 and week were The Fiddlers Orchestra in an hour's concert before the regular performance, and they made a big hit. Leo Donnelly, The Dagwell Sisters, Edwin Holt and Co., Ralph Herz, Cronch and Welch, and The Dankmar-Chillier Troupe all made good on the vaudeville end. The matinee and night performances on the 5th of July were both big and the business has been very good since.

At the Chestnut Street Theatre the bill provided by the Orpheum Players was candida, and it pleased the crowds which attended on the 5th of July. As an addition to the performances on that day, William Ingersoll, the leading man of the company, read the Declaration of Independence at both the afternoon and evening performance, and this with special musical exercises made a very interesting patriotic observance, which was much enjoyed by the crowds who attended. Week of July 12, the Orpheum Players will give a performance of Zangwill's Nurse Marjorie. Lyman H. Howe's wonderful moving pictures had two good holiday houses at the Garrick Theatre, and business has been good since. The Gayety Theatre had a burlesque company that drew a lot of money on the biggest holiday of the year, and business has kept up since.

California Frank's Wild West Show opened at the Hippodrome to a big house July 5, and at night the place was jammed. Among the social attractions with this combination are Mamie Francis and her diving horses; Mile, Summerville, with her dancing horses; Columbus; Princess Wrennah, the crack shot, and a host of vaudeville features. The attraction has merit and its two weeks' engagement at this place will result in big business. The Grand Grand Opera House, Forepaugh's Park, L'Amore and Palace Theatres are all offering excellent bills of vaudeville and a lot of moving pictures, and are doing a big business. Most of these houses will keep open all summer. Oscar Hammerstein has made a preliminary announcement of his opera season at the Philadelphia Opera House. On Monday and Wednesday nights, opera come will be the bills, with an entire new company especially engaged for that style of work. All the light operas will be sung by a corps of artists whom he has engaged in Europe. There will also be many new works produced here for the first time. One of these will be a new opera by Victor Herbert, entitled Natoma, which is scheduled for production in January. There will be no subscriptions accepted for the opera company nights, and the prices will range from $1 to $2.50. This will make the new venture compete strongly with the regular theatres. Grand opera will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, and at the Saturday matinee, as heretofore. The subscriptions for next season in this city already far exceeds that of last season. It is stated that the excess is now over $50,000, and that before the opening of the house all the boxes will be subscribed for. Giuseppe Starnani will again be the leading conductor in this city. Mr. Hammerstein has stated that he is more than pleased with the success of last season in this city and will make the coming season the greatest in the history of theatricals. The many improvements being made at the new house are now nearly completed, and the house will be in readiness to open early in August. George Mac Wells, formerly with the Harp and Min Shows, who went to England with the Cumming Wild West, has thrived since he struck that country. He has been managing the American Roller Skating Rink in Glasgow, Scotland, but is now in Paris, France, where he is arranging for the opening of a big rink in September. From there he will go to Brussels and Antwerp, to look over the field. The rinks are a big fad on the other side, and as the corporation controlling them have all young, hustling, wide-awake showmen from the United States in charge of them, they can get the business. Mr. Wells feels homesick at times, especially when he gets the "tent news" in The Billboard, but as fate is treating him kindly he will more than likely remain there for the next few years.

The Hippodrome which opened at the old Athletic baseball grounds as a straight vaudeville theatre with circus acts predominating, has been a big success and now the rest of the grounds have been fitted up with various concessions and all are doing well. California Frank's Wild West, which is playing a two weeks' engagement at this place, is drawing big crowds.

Theodore Harrison, a baritone singer, who was a pupil of Frederick Peakes when in this country, has met with great success in grand opera in Italy. He made his debut in Fedora, and the Italian critics were unanimous in their praise of his voice. He studied music in his native city, and secured his present engagement after a few weeks' stay in Italy.

The grand jury in its report for June, made a strong protest against the posting of indecent or suggestive posters, and also against the sale of immoral post cards. They suggested that new laws be passed in reference to these matters and that the punishment of offenders be made severe. The proposed legislation is heartily endorsed by the theatrical managers of this city, and the management of the Philadelphia Billposting Company, as they have both been trying to abate this nuisance for years.

William Goldburg, the affable treasurer of the Casino Theatre, is spending his vacation at Atlantic City, N. J., with just enough work on his hands as cashier of the Hotel Dunlop to keep him from getting into mischief. He has been re-engaged at the Casino Theatre, and will report for duty in August.

One of our most popular theatrical men, Fred Nathan, has been quite ill for the past two months, but is now rapidly convalescing at Young's Hotel, Atlantic City. At the present rapid rate of recovery he will be able to resume his duties at the Broad Street Theatre at the opening, in September.

Frank Strand, assistant treasurer of the Forrest Theatre, is making a record for himself as assistant manager of Luna Park, Washington, D. C., and the out-door life is making him feel like a youngster of seventeen. The patriotic celebration of Independence Day at the Chestnut Street Theatre was one of the most interesting theatrical events of the year. William Ingersoll, leading man of The Orpheum Players, read the Declaration of Independence at both the matinee and evening performances, and other patriotic exercises stirred two large audiences.

The work of erecting new theatres for moving pictures and vaudeville still goes on. A new one is now being constructed in the extreme southern section of the city, which will cost $10,000.

William Lorella is happy over the date he has set for the opening of The Devil's Auction. This will be his twenty-seventh season with this attraction, and he predicts that the many novelties to be introduced this year will make it the most successful season in his history.

Samuel F. Nixon, of the firm of Nixon & Zimmerman, has proven that agriculturists do not know everything about growing vegetables. His cottage at Atlantic City, N. J., is so close to the ocean that you can throw a stone out to the danger line of the tides, and, in fact, a few years ago the ground on which the house stands was a part of the ocean bed. As Mr. Nixon spends the entire summer at this resort, he made up his mind he would try his hand at raising vegetables. He had five car loads of rich soil transported from Philadelphia and covered the soil. By fertilization and culture he has succeeded in getting one of the most productive vegetable patches that you can see in a day's travel. All sorts of fresh vegetables can be picked in this garden and it is a source of wonderment to all visitors who see this bit of country with a few feet of the white capped waves. Mr. Nixon is very proud of this garden, and states that next year he will have crop enough to keep him supplied winter and summer.

Notwithstanding the fact that the managers of the Atlantic City Baseball Club had been forced $200 for giving an exhibition of baseball on Sunday, a few weeks ago, they tried an other game July 1 and drew a big crowd. On the 5th of July the players plead guilty to a breach of city Sunday laws, and were fined $1 each. This prevents prosecution under any other charge. The people of Atlantic City are up in arms against the exhibition and the amusement men of that resort fear that the episode will result in the closing of all places on Sunday.

California Frank's Wild West played its first engagement in this city July 5. Sixteen Sioux Indians arrived from the Rosebud Reservation that morning to join the show. When they arrived at the depot they became howled and were surrounded by a howling mob of holiday excursionists. They became frightened and a posse of police were sent to their rescue. All of the Indians were then loaded in police-trail wagons and were taken direct to the Hippodrome, under direction of the police.

A delegation of the members of Camden, N. J. Lodge of Elks, with their wives, joined the Newark Lodge of Elks in this city, July 6, and started for Los Angeles, Cal., to attend the annual reunion. On their return trip they will attach themselves to the Philadelphia delegation, and make a tour of the Northwest and the Seattle Exposition.

James Riley Wheelock, manager of Wheelock's Indian Band, is very indignant over the treatment given to two of the scholars of the Carlisle Indian School in this state. Mr. Wheelock is a graduate of the Institute, and since he organized his band, has been adding recruits to it from the school. For this summer's tour he engaged two of the pupils and after they had signed the contract, Wheelock claims that the management of the school informed him that they could not leave the school and punished them for their signing of the contract by imprisoning them in a dungeon for two weeks with a diet of bread and water. Wheelock claims that the discipline at the school is very lax and that the men in charge are merely political office holders who know nothing of Indian traits, and that there is a scheme on foot to break up the school, and he has lodged a complaint against the managers of the school with the Interior Department. Wheelock is a full blooded Indian, and was leader of the school band while he was a pupil there. The management of the school answer his charges by stating that the taking away of the pupils to play in a band is but a part of the policy of the government in their studies, and prevents them from receiving the education that the U. S. Government desires to give them.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Dick Ferris, who is one of the largest stock holders in the Mount Noble Oil Co., left for July 17, July 5, to attend a meeting which will outline the policy of the company in the strike at present existing on their lands. After his work is over in Utah, he will continue on ward to Los Angeles to present the silver buying cup which he has offered to the winner of the Santa Monica Auto Race.

A double shift of workmen, night and day, are busy on the new Electric Theatre. The building will cost over fifty thousand dollars. It will be of brick and reinforced concrete, absolutely fireproof, no wood being used in the main work and exit doors will be copper covered. Contracts have already been awarded for the opera seats and the scenery and the theatre will be opened September 5.

Edith Von Luke, wife of Pete Raymond, of the Ferris Stock Company, will play the leading role of Princess Yvette, in the N. I. Grand Stark Company which opens its season in Pittsburg, August 15 and plays exclusively the largest eastern cities. Miss Von Luke leaves for New York July 15 to begin rehearsals.

The Miles Theatre reopens Monday afternoon, August 2, with popular priced vaudeville. There will be four shows a day, and the theatre will be run as it was when it originally opened last season. It is probable that "Ike" Speers will again be manager.

The oldest theatre in the city is the Unique which is battling against summer heat with its masonry wall and ceiling fans. A strong bill this week, is headed by the La Maze Brothers, a trio of French romantic comedians and the Woods Ralton Trio come in for second honors, with an excellent musical act. Attendance has been very good at this theatre.

LaCigale Ferris, who has been spending a few months with her grandmother at Mt. Carmel, Ill. has arrived here, where she will spend the summer with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ferris have already been planned in her honor.

Work is being pushed upon the new Crystal Theatre. It will open early in August as one of the largest and most beautiful motion picture theatres in the city, and will be under the management of H. J. Laffey.

The Ellen Opera House, which has been operating frantically motion pictures, and illustrated songs during the summer, has closed the same and will remain dark until the opening of the regular fall and winter season beginning the first part of September.

The largest and finest display of fireworks ever seen in an amusement park outside of Coney Island was offered at the Big Twin City Wonderland Park Monday evening, July 5. A record breaking crowd was in attendance. The most door movement bill for the week includes Spenser's Bears, and the Great Keller. In a son national building wire act. Cool breezes and many shade trees are being planted in large numbers of Ferris Park and during the intense heat a number of people were permitted to remain in this park for the night, the management providing dress of iron necks free. The set of door vaudeville includes Jack and Jill, Sally Hankins, Grace Penny in illustrated songs, and the motion pictures. The electric fountain is also on display and the regular attractions are well patronized. July 5 a concert of fireworks was given. Manager S. H. Kahn, of this park, was overcome by the heat last week, but recovered and was able to continue his duties the same evening.

Saxtons and Sons, Inc. is the headline act at the Novelty Theatre, this week. The bill also includes Harry DeVille and James Barry in illustrated songs, besides a series of beautiful motion pictures. Amateurs nights are still given, and on at the Novelty Theatre.

Platters are a daily occurrence at Rig Island Park and the numerous facilities offered render it especially adapted to the same. Ice, drink, hot water and free kitchens with cooking appliances are among the advantages offered parkgoers, besides the beautiful grounds and shady walks. The regular attractions are drawing well and Lamplight Ladies Symphony Orchestra is rendering the concerts in the Music Casino. The car ride and Ferry Crossing to Rig Island are other enjoyable features and the Park is enjoying a most prosperous season.

Florence Stone (Mrs. Dick Ferris) has played four hundred parts since first going upon the boards. Next summer she intends to rest, spending the time at her home in Los Angeles. Miss Stone considers the Station plays worthy the palm of true dramatic worth, although she has played all sorts and styles of roles, comedy, tragedy, society and melodrama.

The Motion picture theatres continue to keep up well despite the summer weather. The Isis Theatre has secured Mr. Dagan operate the largest variety of series of illustrated songs. RODERIC STE. LIEPHE.

KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City is to have a fair in the early days of October. The first week in October has been observed for twenty years, here, as P. O. P. week, meaning Priests Of Pallas week, and there is at that time a carnival of general good time. It is a real Southern Mardi Gras, in October. There are parades, balls, ball masques, special events during the entire week and all the theatres open with the best attractions of the town. Beginning October 4, it will last through the week and will be held at Electric Park. The season at Electric closes September 12 and this gives the attractions and managers nearly a month's time in which to prepare for the fair. It will be given under the auspices of the Missouri Valley Fair Association, of which Mr. M. G. Helm, the owner and president of Electric Park, is treasurer. It is planned to have a real old fashioned country fair with fine arts and women's handwork in addition to the fern and fruit products of the Middle West. About 15,000 premium books will be issued this month and $7,000 in premiums offered. Electric Park is making all preparations for the 10th August "dodging" to commence at the park August 8, and last twenty-eight days. This is to be a magnificent pyrotechnic display. Mr. Edmund W. Sedberg, the capable stage manager of the Orpheum Theatre, is in full charge and has been working on the great event since the park opened in May. There is to be a grand ball with more than a hundred girls and a spectacle the Mesdames earthquake. This is to be given from first beyond the lake in the park and ought to prove one of the best things the park has put forth this season. There will be a change of program in the fireworks every week or semi weekly and that will insure variety and large crowds. Electric Park on the Fourth of July, 1908, broke the park attendance record when more than 12,000 people passed through the gates. This year that magnificent record was completely smashed when it was estimated that 15,000 or more people celebrated the 4th at Electric Park.

Electric Park has put upon the bulletin and sign boards about town the slogan "I love my home, but I love you Electric Park."

Marcu Vessella and his band made good with the wonderful variety and symphonies program rendered. This is the first time Kansas City has heard this band and popular approval has been gained. The management inaugurated this season the policy of a new band every two weeks, and this is drawing the people out Electric way.

Forest Park celebrated both July Fourth and Fifth, and more people passed within the gates those two days than ever was thought possible. The park's record of thirty thousand, earlier in the season, didn't stand a minute. Forest Park many attractions and amusements. The Swimming Pool and Boating facilities are crowded by eager admirers of both "sports."

Ringling Bros' Shows come to town July 19. This starts the circus season, here, and turn away business is expected.

The New Gaiety Theatre, which the Columbia Amusement Company is erecting is now under cover and only the interior work remains before the early September opening. This theatre has made a record for rapidity of construction. Tom Hildeman, manager of the Majestic, is still in Kansas City looking after that house and the interests of the new theatre. Mr. Hodgman is to be manager of the Gaiety.

WILLIAM W. SHELLLEY

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

The report circulated that the Valencia Theatre would close immediately after the Mrs. Fiske season is without foundation, as the house continued open, and this week Arthur Cunningham, in Arrabaia Pogue, is the bill. Another thing, Paul McAllister has signed a contract, extending his engagement as leading man, and next week he appears in What Happened to Jones.

Miss Fabri Meuller, a one-time famous singer, who has been a resident here for many years, was stricken with apoplexy this week, while riding in a street car. She was taken to the German hospital, and small hope is entertained for her recovery. Miss Fabri Meuller is nearly 80 years of age, and she was one of the first great Wagnerian singers to gain world renown. She studied most of her roles under the personal direction of the famous composer. She came to San Francisco after a contract to sing at the Royal Opera House in Berlin had expired. During her residence here she was at the head of a musical conservatory and many of her pupils attained renown.

The Columbia Theatre, the new Santa Rosa house, was opened last week. Richard Jose and his Company, in Jane, was the opening attraction, and a packed house greeted the players. Manager Cronin is to be congratulated on arranging such a comfortable theatre, and all first-class attractions counting this way will find this an excellent one-night stand if they have the goods.

At the Van Ness Theatre this week Miss Marie Doro, in The Morals of Marcus, closed the second and last week and was voted a big success. She will always find a welcome awaiting her here. Next season comes The Merry Widow, and it seems that everybody is waiting for this much-advertised play. Big advance sales prevail for its three-weeks' stay.

The Blue Mouse rounded out its most successful three-weeks' engagement at American Theatre, and played to the limit right up to the last performance. Next week Three Weeks will be the bill. The management advertise it "in a Red Hot Cover" and "No tickets sold to children," all of which tends to make the public very inquisitive and stimulates the advance sale.

Florence Roberts' season at the Alcazar continues to do an excellent business. This week she appeared in The Country Girl. Next week she will produce Sapho.

The Italian opera season at the Princess Theatre continues successfully and is doing a much better business than was anticipated.

Elber's Theatre, in spite of all rumors, that the manager intended changing to vaudeville, continues with musical comedy to a satisfactory business.

This week Off to Mexico, and the addition of Maud Rockwell as a special attraction, served to keep up a very good attendance all through the week.

Laddie Pitt, the English lad, is the big hit at the Orpheum this week. He is a real English comedian, and a real grotesque dancer, and received tumultuous applause at every appearance. The Eight Madcaps, seen here on several former occasions, have lost the novelty of their act, although all the girls work hard. The Collets are all good singers and were much appreciated. Olive Young and three Brothers have an unusual and clever act, consisting of hoop rolling and an exhibition of the manipulation of the diablo and boum-rangs. James Thornton, Camille Trio, Clark and Bergman and The Futurity Winner were the hold overs.

At the National Theatre we had Makarenko Troupe of Russians, dancers, singers and instrumentalists, for a headliner, and they made good. They have an excellent lot of costly and elaborate. Clara Thropp is back again after a year's absence, and is as popular as ever in her grotesque and monologic. Faust Brothers, also back again, are as funny as ever in their grotesque and musical act. The Farleys, bicycle experts; three Farleys and Belmont, Thompson and Thompson, are all new acts here, and are all making hits. Mann and Franks, old-time favorites, and Lee Murphy were also on the bill.

Bomber, the trained horse, was the headliner at Pantages' Empire Theatre this week. Rich and Brothers, comedy gymnasts; Borden, Zeno and Hayden Brothers, in Bits of Vaudeville; Robert B. Hartman in a playlet called The Story of the Rose; The Great Le Roy, character artist and moving pictures complete the bill.

Miss Yvonne Haddon, Madge Weston and Young Martynave, Siebert Lindley Co., and others are at the Wikwam this week.

IN OAKLAND.

The Merry Widow is at the Macdonough Theatre this week, playing to immense business. It is all that has been said about it, and is worthy of the immense success it has attained. July 5, 6 and 7, Marie Doro held the boards.

The First Horn, that touching Chinese drama, produced by David Barriek, is the double bill at Bishop's Ye Liberty Theatre. Bishop has adopted 25 and 50 cents as his popular summer prices, and big business is the result. The Heart of Maryland is the next week's offering.

Faust, with Leander Stephens as Mephisto, is at the Broadway Theatre this week. Pals comes next, followed by Strongheart.

Adelade and her four Dancing Girls, Elizabeth Murray, Wilson, Lyon and Myers, Sisters Gaseh, Cheridali Simpson Novelty Dancing Four, Bellator and Forum, and A Night at the Circus are at the Orpheum this week.

Mabel McKinley, Cooke and Robert, Francesco Redding and Co., Ward Brothers, Breton and Downing, are at the Hill this week.

At Idora Park big attractions continue to come, and the management continues to play to immense attendance. Everything is new this week, which includes Erlanger's Band, Bert Morphy and XIT Wild West Show; a great bill.

The State Fair at Sacramento today completed a $5,000 premium list to be awarded at the auxiliary fair to be held at Idora Park, Oakland, immediately after the State Fair is over. President of the Board stated that he believes this to be the beginning of a circuit of fairs that will eventually be held in this state, just as in other states, and will be a big advertisement for California.

Harmen Bosted, director of Navassar's Ladies' Band, met with an accident causing the loss of one ear. Bosted was speeding along Walnut street in an automobile and came in contact with a wire that was stretched tightly across the street. The wire could not be seen in the darkness, and caught him right on the ear, which was severed from his head. It is claimed that the contrivance was placed there by some mischievous boys.

RI'BE COHEN.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Jupiter Plutus put a kink in the summer amusement business at the Hoosier Capital during the past week. In fact, a kink which amounted to a substantial dent. Even the Fourth of July crowds which came in on the Interurban lines and steam roads, were disappointed by the weather, and the atmospheric conditions on the 4th made the holiday amusement seekers look for old man Noah and his boat.

Two of the local parks are fighting for supremacy in attracting lovers of aquatic sports; Riverside Bathing Beach and Broad Ripple Bathing Beach. The former has fourteen acres of water in an artificial pond, obtaining its water from a canal and changing it by overflow into White River. Broad Ripple Bathing Beach gets its water from flowing wells and has a cement bottom. Both beaches, which mean much in an inland city, are liberally patronized.

Wonderland Park, the downtown playground of the Hoosier Capital, has won success with tabloid musical comedies and farce with interpolated musical numbers, produced by the Nelson Musical Comedy Co. in the new Aldrome. Some of the best shows of the season, so far, have been "A Racing Romance," "A Night in Bohemia," "Fatty Felix," "The Rajah of Rhong," "Two Much Smith" and "Three of a Kind," the last being this week's attraction. In Wonderland's German Village, B. D. Gilliland's Black Hussar Band is holding forth. A four passenger captive balloon is a new attraction being planned for Wonderland visitors. In the immediate future.

Ten-cent vaudeville and motion pictures continue at English's. In addition to talking pictures and illustrated songs at the Grand, comedy afterpieces and other specialties have been introduced. Norton & Lawrence, in "The Strand and Minstrel," made good.

The Park, now dark, will open July 31, with Max Bloom, in "The Sunny Side of Broadway."

PITTSBURG, PA.

The Fourth of July celebrations, which were the biggest and best ever witnessed in Pittsburgh, passed off almost free from accidents, and with only one casualty. Considering the vast throngs of people and the numerous places where public exhibitions were held, the great gala celebration of the Fourth was unique, inasmuch as there were neither deaths or serious accidents. The crowds were record breakers.

The fireworks display surpassed in magnificence any ever presented to a Pittsburgh public. The new million dollar baseball park, with its enormous seating capacity, was the nucleus of an oblong thousands to witness the grand display given in the ball grounds as well as in Schenley Park. The feature of the day was the unfurling of the largest flag in the world, stretched from the top of the 15-story Frick Building across to the Court House and in connection was witnessed a most remarkable feat, one not done on the program, yet eclipsing anything ever attempted by even the most reckless dare-devil. The breaking of the rope which was to draw the flag across the wire cable, prompted Mr. Michael Munroe (a structural iron worker) to volunteer to crawl across the cable and attach a new rope. To the gasping thousands below, while suspended over 200 feet in the air, he appeared no larger than a fly.

In attendance at the various parks, Schenley led the list as usual, while every park was liberally patronized. Kenwood and Luna making a close bid for second honors and it is a pleasure to report increased attendance at the various amusement parks within the past week.

The vaudeville bill offered at Luna is of exceptional merit and the Will West at Kenwood is also a feature attraction while the Alcazar at Southern is meeting with favor, and Westview is still leading so far as pleasures are concerned.

Stock at the Grand is still playing to satisfactory business and this week is presented The Men on the Box. Mr. Ralph Stewart has just joined the company as leading man, and George E. Riddell appears in character parts.

Valencia Theatre, San Francisco, Will Not Close Season---One Time Famous Singer Dies---All Branches of Theatricals Still Doing Well in the Golden Gate City.

The vaudeville houses all report elegant business, and Manager Abe Cohen, of The Liberty, says that the past month's attendance shows a decided improvement. Business at this popular house is larger at present than at any period since the opening.

Lyman Howe's pictures, at the Nixon, are still attracting. This week Mr. Howe will present for the first time anywhere, Where Roosevelt is Hunting in Africa, and other subjects, making the exhibition last two and one-half hours.

The tangle which had its many twists and turns in the sale of the Higon property, has finally come to a close. Messrs. Stair and Havlin have come to a close. Messrs. Scherberts securing the mortgage held by Mrs. Laura Bieger Bennett. The agreement held by Mr. Harry Davis will continue in force and the only effect caused by the sale of this property will fall on the patrons of melodrama. However, there is no doubt that a location for this class of amusement will be secured before the opening of the theatrical season. Indications now are that the class of attractions heretofore appearing at the Alvin will hereafter be presented at the Higon and those which have heretofore appeared at the Duquesne will play the Alvin. This will leave the Duquesne theatre to be put to other use.

LOUIS L. KAUFMAN.

The bill at the Star week of 28, included The Five Juggling Jordans, Alta Yolo, The Telegraph, Four, Frank and Black and Gruet and Gruet.

Manager John W. Donahue, on his last trip East, put Matt Keefe, the minstrel singer, under a special contract for four weeks during the Exposition, opening at the Star June 28. Keefe electrified a large crowd with his yodling.

To assist in entertaining the many thousand Elks returning from the convention at Los Angeles, Seattle Lodge will put on a hippodrome performance, July 27-28, in the stadium at the Exposition grounds.

Over seven hundred thousand attendance at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition for the month of June certainly means success.

LEM A. SHORTHIDGE.

BOSTON, MASS.

A complimentary benefit was given Miss Charlotte Hunt at the Bowdoin Square Theatre, July 28. A special dramatic bill was arranged, consisting of a spectacular production of Salome, and acts from several plays.

The first stock production of Willie Collier's famous comedy, Caught in the Rain, to be given in this city, was at the Orpheum during the week of July 5. The piece was produced in a very clever manner. The leading masculine role was taken by Howell Hansel, and playing opposite him was Miss Edna Irms, who has become a great favorite with Bostonians. The rest of the cast was in the hands of the regular company, consisting of Mary Saunders, James Seely, Rose Morrison, Walter Walker, William Haddon, Beverly West, Wryley Birch and James Devine. The comedy was staged under the direction of Joseph N. Walsh, who has been doing excellent work for the company in productions so far.

Flowerets, operatic singing and music were the extra attractions at Paragon Park on the Fourth of July. Concerts were given by the Russian Grenadier Band, with Mills, Olga Nerodoff as soloist, also by the All-American Band, with Johnny Maguire as soloist. Master Maguire has a new song, entitled, A Paragon Park, written by himself for this season. Several copies of the music were given to the first five hundred buying admission tickets.

The extreme hot weather closed the doors of nearly all the theatres in Boston, July 3, the Park, Tremont and Castle Square closed for the rest of the summer.

The World's Shoe and Leather Fair opened July 1, and the public is being given a great treat in the opportunity to watch the making of shoes in a model factory, from the hide to the wearer.

FRED J. BENTIN.

BALTIMORE.

Baltimore's parks experienced one of the greatest weeks in their history during the past seven days. The Fourth of July celebration saw immense throngs at all of the local pleasure resorts. Electric Park was particularly crowded, and Manager Williams stated that the largest assembly in the history of the park's establishment on that day. The fireworks display was most elaborate and undoubtedly the most ambitious ever seen in this city.

Gwynn Oak and Ray Shore, the two amusement resorts controlled by the United Railways, also came in for a week of general prosperity. River View was also crowded every afternoon and night. The smaller parks are doing their usual good business.

The Vectors and the Holiday Street theatres continue to draw good houses, despite the warm weather, and the respective managers are surely gathering in easy money while the other houses remain closed.

There is much regret expressed here over the fact that General Manager Max Rosen, of the United Amusement Company, has withdrawn from that organization. He was acting manager of Electric Park last summer, and certainly played a most important part in establishing it as the leading amusement resort in this city.

Notices of Closing Going Up Rapidly in the Theatres—Holland Park Skating Rink Company Launched.

THE end of the season has practically arrived and notices of the terminations of plays are beginning to go up fast in the theatres. No more productions of any note will now be seen here before the autumn and the lucky managers are those whose plays are strong enough to carry them through the summer. And in this respect it is curious to note that in several cases those plays which, when produced a few months ago, were regarded as certain to last for at least a twelvemonth were the first to come off, while several that the newspaper critics damned with faint praise are still running merrily before large audiences. Taken all round the summer season has not been a great one. For one thing a run of bad dismal weather seems to have affected audiences, and for another, the plays produced have seldom been of outstanding merit. Here and there we have had a busy week, as was the case a fortnight ago, and then once again, as during the week that has just gone, business has once more dropped. Of course, those actually engaged in the profession are fairly busy at the moment. An unusually large number of plays are going out on tour at the end of July or the middle of August and rehearsing for these is now proceeding vigorously. But for the next month London theatres will not take much money and I dare say quite a number of them will be glad to close their doors for the summer vacation. Taking the last three months together we find things left pretty much as they started. No one has dropped much money and no one—with the possible exception of Tree and Robert Courtineidge—who struck a mine in "The Arcadians" has made much. Everyone is hoping for the continuance of the boom which has set in on the Stock Exchange, and if it does, things ought to be bright in the autumn.

The chief item of news this week has been the issue of the new company called the Holland Park Skating Rink Company whose directors are Messrs. C. P. Crawford and F. A. Wilkins, the promoters of Roller Skating in England. The extraordinary success which these gentlemen achieved at Olympia last season was so fully described by me at the time that it is scarcely necessary to say anything about it now. Mr. Crawford has been in London during the past week along with Mr. G. M. Wells, the manager of the Glasgow rink, and during this time he has put the finishing touches to his program for the coming winter. The prospectus of the new company, which was issued today shows that the company has leased a piece of land in Holland Park Avenue, London W., for a period of ten years from the Countess of Hchester at a rent of £1,550 per annum. Upon this land a roller skating rink of the highest class will be erected with a skating surface of 33,500 square feet, and the skates and equipment will be the best which the great experience of the directors can provide. The building will be of an ornamental character, and suitable for almost any purpose for which a large covered space is required, and it is anticipated that many profitable uses can be found for it during that part of the year when the roller rink is closed. It is proposed to open the rink during the coming autumn. The position of the Holland Park Rink will be almost unique. Traffic from many parts of London converges at Shepherd's Bush and the rink will be within a stone's throw of the station. On the one side is the aristocratic district of Kensington and on the other the populous middle-class suburb of Shepherd's Bush. The skates used will be those of the Samuel Winslow Company. The capital is £35,000 and should the takings be on anything like the same scale as those at Olympia last season it looks as though the share holders will see a very favorable return for their money.

The most interesting theatrical happening of the last few days has been the appearance of M. Gultry in "L'Assommoir" at the Adelphi.

MLLE. GREUZE.

A typical beauty of the Paris dramatic world.

It is hardly necessary to give the details because poor Charles Warner immortalized it in English and the home of Nana is pretty well known to all. As played by Gultry it assumes more than ever the appearance of a series of melodramatic pictures rather than a play culminating in the great scene where Coupenon, after a terrific attack of delirium tremens, falls at last headlong to the ground. The company now playing the piece is absolutely first rate. Gultry himself is perhaps the greatest all round actor of the moment in France. Possessing tremendous personal magnetism he dominates the stage the whole time he is on it. As played by him the death scene becomes almost too hideous in its brutal realism for words. And yet at the same time there was no shouting, no striving after effect. Every detail was worked out and the whole picture was one of the finest ever seen on the English stage. Naturally this piece has been the biggest success of the series but the season as a whole has been well supported and ought to encourage Gultry to pay more frequent visits to London.

Everyone connected in any way with the stage in this country has seen more than delightedly the names of Herbert Tree and Arthur Pinero included in the Honors List issued on the occasion of King Edward's birthday. Sir Herbert Tree, as we must in future call him, stands easily first as the foremost exponent of the drama in England and has done more than any other man to bring the standard of play producing up to its present level in this country. Sir Arthur Pinero is of course, the foremost English dramatist of the day and everyone feels that no more graceful act could have been performed by King Edward than by his official recognition of the heads of the profession in this way. As might be expected when Tree appeared in his part of Malvolio at the Shakespeare festival he met with such a reception as it is given to few men to be the object of. He is the fourth actor who has now received the honor of knighthood. Sir Henry Irving came first to be quickly followed by Sir Swire Bancroft and then by Sir Charles Wyndham.

The great attraction at the Coliseum this week has been the appearance of Bancroft and Alisses Hatli two of Abdul Hamid's favorite dancers. Although young in years they are old in their experience of Oriental dancing and a delightful trio waltz in which they are assisted by a young Turk is likely to become the talk of the town. Another point of interest about them is that the valuable rings, ornaments, satins and embroideries which they wear are all gifts from the ex-Sultan. Their dancing at the Coliseum. It may be added, differs in some respects from that given before the Turkish potentate. It is said that in their original form the dances would hardly have been favorably received by an English audience.

Speaking of dancing, Maud Allan will shortly start in an American tour for which she has been engaged by Daniel Mayer and Dr. E. John Stone during which she will dance five times a week and receive £200 for each performance.

Paris Week By Week

Paris Bureau The Billboard, 121 Rue Montmartre.

Clyde Fitch to Spend Several Weeks in the French Capital, Rumored That He Will Make a Study of Paris Conditions for the Purpose of Writing a Play--The Gay City Seems to be the Center of Attraction for Playwrights These Days.

I UNDERSTAND that Clyde Fitch is bound for Paris and that he will stay several weeks in this city. Also that he has in mind a play to be based upon Parisian life. I hope it's true. Mr. Fitch could turn out a play of this kind. I'm quite sure, which would be a Jim Dandy.

The late Richard Mansfield in the romance of Paris had one of his biggest successes--as the Baron Chevalier--and "La Dame aux Camellias" has been swept over time and time again. "Sapho" furnishes a fairly good likeness of "La Ville Lumiere" but it seems to me that there are other phases of Parisian life which could be touched upon with splendid effect. And for the kind of play of which I speak, I don't know of anyone who could do better than Mr. Fitch. Therefore, I say I hope it's true that he will write the play rumor says he is planning.

Speaking of the coming of Mr. Fitch reminds me, Paris seems to be the center of attraction from a playwright's viewpoint, for the city is literally packed with them all the time. In some instances there are the most pitiful cases--for all the playwrights who come to Paris are not Clyde Fitch's by any manner of means. There are countless dozens here who have not had a success in their life and probably never will have. I'm not speaking of native Parisians now, for there are in every city of any size in the world, the unsuccessful playwrights. But as a rule these stay at home until they at least have some measure of success, and if they never have any, they never get away from the family pot in which there is usually a little something to eat, at any rate.

I have in mind the case of a widow, a Pole-naise, who has been in Paris several months now studying French. She had dabbled in amateur theatricals at home during the life of her husband and had some measure of success--among her friends and where her play was produced for charity and ticket buyers bought in the same spirit. But she got it into her head that she had a play suited to the needs of a certain Parisian actress known to every theatergoer on both sides of the Atlantic, so when her husband died, and she felt the need of a little money, she decided to spend some of the small sum she already had, and descend upon Paris to make her fortune. She saw the actress, who received her graciously. The actress did not have the heart to discourage the widow, who decided to remain in the city and perfect her French so she could make her own translations. The play, which I read, is hopeless. This town is full of such people.

THE DANCERS STRIKE.

Paris, the city of strikes, seems headed into another. This time it is to be a strike of the dancers of the National Opera.

For some time the chorus women and dancers at the opera have been very much dissatisfied. They feel that they are not paid sufficiently. Now there is a certain Monsieur Pataud here, the secretary of the Electrical Workers, who has had a certain amount of success in coups of questionable legality, and he is endeavoring with all his might to get the girls to walk out on strike. Once Pataud, just to show his power and that the men had any grievance whatever, had the workmen walk out of the gas and electrical plants of Paris and for one night left the city in darkness as black as a tomb. It came so suddenly that people didn't even have candles. His next stunt was to cut off the lights of a big hotel on a night where a huge official banquet was in full blast. Then he meddled in with the Postmen's strike, causing much trouble. His latest date was to form a union among the stable lads at the race tracks about Paris and on the Sunday of the biggest steeplechase of the year, called a strike, caused a riot, almost burned up the buildings at the track and played the dickens generally.

So the strike among the dancers may become a reality at any time, the time being when some gala performance has begun, the curtain rung up and the audience gathered. It's to be hoped, however, that the young women will have too much common sense to follow the lead of such a man as Pataud. American trades unions would not tolerate for a second even a member like him, let alone such a one for a leader. Nor would American dancers and chorus ladies listen for a second to advice from him.

MISS FULLER'S CONTRACT.

Miss Lole Fuller has just signed a five-year contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York, which calls for the appearance of herself and her dancing class at the opera there, just as contracts previously signed with Henry Russell for the Boston Opera and with the operas of other cities, demand. In addition to this Miss Fuller has signed another contract with Herr Andreas Dippel to engage a ballet for the Metropolitan Company, this contract being entirely separate from the other. The class of Miss Fuller will do dances of her own making while the ballet will dance in others.

The company which the famous dancer will take to America will number about fifty young women. These have been under the tutelage of Miss Fuller for several months. At the Boston Opera where she will do her dances, assisted by her pupils, there will be a special lighting arrangement designed by herself and installed under her personal supervision. This was possible on account of the fact that the Boston Opera building is new. With the Metropolitan Company Miss Fuller will have a special lighting arrangement of a different kind, but which carries with it all her improvements for obtaining color effects.

Miss Fuller and her class, together with a symphony orchestra, will tour the States and Canada, the tour to begin in early September. She remains in Paris until the first of July when she leaves for America. She will have been in Paris less than a month.

MOULIN ROUGE REOPENS.

On Saturday night, June 26, the Moulin Rouge reopened for its summer run. It has as a fan favorite a revue of Lucien Boyer and Henri Batolle. The scenery and costumes are said to be the prettiest this musical hall has had in some time and the interpretation of the various parts will be in the hands of some of the best Parisian stars.

MLLE. REGNIER LOOSES.

Mlle. Henriette Regnier, the famous dancer, has just lost a suit for damages. Leo Staats, ballet-master at the Opera, was the defendant. It was stated that in 1904 while dancing in "William Tell," she leaped and plummeted and that Staats who was to receive her, did not do so properly. The result was that since the accident which occurred by reason of the carelessness, she has not been able to dance. The court dismissed the suit saying though Staats may have been careless the dancer waited three years to say so.

NEW STUNTS OLYMPIA.

"Paris Singeries," at the Olympia, is much changed. The vaudeville features are nearly all new. Miss Ethel Lewy, however, is still a favorite and undoubtedly will be applauded all summer. The house is a favorite with Americans in Paris.

ENCORE PETER PAN.

In Paris the other day, Charles Frohman declared himself so pleased with the reception given "Peter Pan" in Paris, that he would bring the company back for another engagement next year. This in spite of the fact that the entire company will also play in Vienna.

BALZAC PERFORMANCE.

At Loula More Hall the other night the committee of the Maison de la Culture gave a performance, artists from the opera, the Comedie Francaise and the other theatres took part. The fund is for the purpose of purchasing and fitting up as a sort of "Balzac Museum," the former home of this famous author, near Paris.

BUYS "QUO VADIS."

Signor Gatti Cazzara, director of the Metropolitan Opera New York has bought the North American rights for "Quo Vadis," the opera written by Leon Nougues and presented for the first time at Nice during the past season. It will be produced also at the Theatre Lyrique, this city next November by Jean-Felix Henk, lessez Henri Cain Jean Nougues opera will not only be seen in New York, but in Boston, Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia and other large American cities.

Berlin

Max Reinhardt's Dramatic Festival Proves Unqualified Success—Ambitious Enterprise Receives Approval.

THE innumerable admirers of Max Reinhardt, the most energetic German impresario of the day and the founder of Herliu's recognized best, if one of the youngest playhouses, the Deutsches Theatre, are delighted with the success he has so far achieved with his "Festspiele"--dramatic festival performance--in Munich. Reinhardt has been busy for many months with the preliminary work for this most ambitious enterprise, a sort of dramatic counter attraction to the Wagner Festspiele of Bayreuth. Of course, the financial risk has been shouldered, so it is said, by an organization which has for its purpose the bringing of tourists to the beautiful city on the Isar, but Reinhardt had to busy himself for the best part of the winter, without neglecting his fine Berlin performances, with the plans for new sets of scenery for all those summer performances in Munich, the creation of new and original costumes and a thousand other things. Meanwhile Munich beat the great drum and flooded the civilized world with advance information having especially in view the thousands of American and English travelers, who during the summer months never fail to visit the Bavarian Capital.

Those who know Reinhardt were more than surprised when he accepted the invitation to furnish Munich with those heavy summer attractions. Surprised, because he is one of those theatrical men, who cannot get enough technical elaboration on a stage, his scenic settings in his Berlin theatre are a wonder for thoroughness and mechanical ingenuity, while Munich offered him for this engagement the so-called "Kuenstler Theatre," a playhouse erected upon the grounds of last year's exposition and for the purposes of that exposition. It is a building of extraordinary architectural beauties, small, extremely tasteful in its exterior, but simply itself on the inside. Very well meaning authors, architects, painters and sculptors, not every one of them an exponent of the new school in art which has simplicity and reform as its ideal thought to give Munich with this theatre the model to be patterned after in the future, and so it came to pass, that Reinhardt saw himself forced to curb his energy and imagination and content himself with creating almost primitive stage settings. The result was as had to be expected. The adherents of the new, the reformed stage, those who seek everything in the spoken word and nothing in the surroundings, were forced to recognize that the performances were somewhat of a disappointment, if not for themselves, but to the great mass of visitors and the foremost dramatic critics, who attended the opening performances did not hide the fact, that an artistic enterprise of such magnitude should not have been conducted upon the basis of the reform theatre. When everything today tends toward the fuller development, mechanical perfection, it seems, should go hand in hand with the intellectual. The modern problem is not the total exclusion of the mechanical and technical from the stage. It is rather the development of the mechanical side to a degree of the highest possible perfection.

This primitive little stage was for Max Reinhardt's genius a veritable cage and prison. He could not spread his wings and the artistic result suffered under such conditions.

The series of performances brought on the opening night Hamlet with Moises in the title role. It could plainly be seen, even by the less experienced theatergoer, that something was missing that the actors were somehow or other in strange surroundings. The reason is very simple. Because of lack of space and again as a matter of principle there had been in some scenes none at all, in others very little furniture placed on the stage. And if you want to make an interesting experiment, than just put an actor or actress upon an empty stage.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

NEW FILM SERVICE.

Moving picture exhibitors who are always looking for pictures of quality will welcome the advent of the Exclusive Film Company, 225 Dearborn St., Chicago, which has been recently organized for the purpose of furnishing service of the exclusive variety. The guiding spirit of the company, Mr. A. H. McMillan, who is known as one of the most progressive men in the business, is in Europe now buying films that have never been shown on this side of the water. His long experience and knowledge of what the exhibitor wants and of what subjects have been shown here assure a selection which cannot fail to please the most exacting.

Backed, as the Exclusive is, by men of large means, reputation and high standing in the business circles of Chicago, there is no reason why this exchange should not get the very highest class of business. Mr. McMillan states that he is so equipped that he can positively eliminate all subjects handled by others and assign the exhibitor exclusive subjects. It is the plan of the Exclusive Company to serve but one of the best houses in a town or vicinity and give an absolutely exclusive service, in that every film it supplies each customer will never have been shown in his town or vicinity before. There is no intention of bringing over subjects that have been sent over by any other importer.

The first shipment is now on the way and by the end of the month the Exclusive will be in a position to give its customers a service that they can get from no other concern. After things get down to a working basis, it is intended to import two shipments a month of about 200,000 feet each. Which means 400 new subjects a month—an enormous number to select from and cut of which every one should get something that will please.

CHICAGO FILM NOTES.

Hereafter, the C. J. Hite Film Co., will be known as the H & H Film Service Co. The capital stock of the old firm has been increased, and Mr. Hutchins, formerly manager of the Theatre Film Service, has bought an interest in the new firm, which becomes a close corporation with Mr. Hite and Mr. Hutchins as the two principal stockholders. It is intended that an entire new system of accounts and records shall be installed. Orders for film have been increased and a vigorous campaign for high class business will mark the entry of this firm into the Chicago field. The quarters of the old firm have been retained.

The Six Day Army maneuvers of the U. S. War Department which were held at Toledo, Ohio, have been recorded on films taken by the Phoenix Film Co. of Chicago. The Phoenix Co. anticipate that these pictures will be even better than the Italian Cavalry reel which recently had such a vogue, and will be especially interesting because of the war-balloons tests, which it is hoped will show clearly on the picture.

B. R. Craycraft, representing the Crescent Amusement Co. of New York, stopped off in Chicago for a few days and is renewing old friendships. Mr. Craycraft is on his way to Mexico, in the interests of his firm. He will visit St. Paul, Portland, Houston, El Paso, New Orleans and Mexico before returning to New York.

Phil Lewis, of the Chicago Film Exchange, left last week for New York City, via Toledo, where he stopped for a while to see the taking

THE SPELLMAN SHOWS FOR 1909.

Mr. Frank Spellman has just returned from a flying trip taken for the purpose of looking over several big attractions engaged for his ensuing season. He expresses himself as being highly pleased with the different features, and believes that his stellar attractions will create a decided furor wherever they are presented. His slogan for this year is "Every Show a Big Show, Every Feature a Strong Feature," and the slogan will be carried out to the letter. Mr. Spellman, appreciating the fact that the better the attraction, the stronger its drawing power, has put together a line of entertainments that he anticipates will draw the same people to more than one visit.

The list of his great free exhibitions and tented amusements will be published in the columns of this paper at a later date. The other shows are of the highest grade. Mr. Spellman has spent a large amount of money this season in perfecting some new ideas relative to his fronts, which will be a revelation to those who have followed old ideas in building structures of this character. They are said by all visitors, to be the most beautiful in design and embellishment ever erected upon fair-ground piazzas. Harry Hardy, the American Blondin, has been re-engaged as one of the free attractions, and the Sielman Bears will also be a feature, retained from last season. The route booked is, beyond question, the best any organization has ever traversed. The places to be visited are designated on another page of this issue.

of moving pictures of the U. S. Army maneuvers by the Phoenix Film Co.

Mr. J. M. Hayes, of the United States Film Exchange, made a short business trip, last week, through Indiana, where he visited the various exhibitors who are handling their films.

The headquarters of the Globe Film Exchange were damaged a bit recently by a bomb explosion, in the vicinity. Mr. Baker says that the loss was about two hundred dollars.

J. R. Clinton, manager of the Unique Film & Construction Co., has something up his sleeve that will make a noise among the exhibitors of moving pictures, very soon.

F. M. Tracy, Secretary and Treasurer of the Exclusive Film Co., will be in Atlantic City during the Film Service Association meeting.

Frank Cohn is now with the Standard Film Exchange, as solicitor. Mr. Cohn was formerly with the Globe Film Exchange.

The Globe Film Service has opened a branch office in Louisville, Ky., with John Zimmerman in charge.

Mr. Collyer has charge of the branch at Ft. Worth, Texas, which was recently opened by the Royal Film Service.

MOVING PICTURE NOTES.

Mrs. Edna Erskine, who for more than a year has been pianist at the Bonton Theatre, Albany, Mo., is taking a three weeks' vacation in Colorado. During her absence Miss Joan Patton is taking her place. B. Thomas Monson continues to please with his rendition of the illustrated songs. He expects to start in a short time for Los Angeles, where he will take up the study of voice and Dramatic Art, preparatory to entering musical comedy. Mrs. C. V. Larmer remains in the box office and Harry Martin still plays trap drums.

Sioux Falls, S. D., enjoyed the opening of a third moving picture house, the Olympia, under the management of C. D. Adams, who is an experienced moving picture man, having been connected with the Standard Film Exchange for some time past. The new Olympia is a thoroughly up-to-date moving picture theatre, and is built especially for the purpose. Herman LaFleur, of Minneapolis, has been engaged as vocalist.

All the airdomes on the Airdome Amusement Company's Circuit, comprising eight towns in Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, report good business. Business was not very good for the first few weeks, but the airdomes are now gaining favor with the public and business is on the increase.

J. F. Bickerstaff is filling the Alvin Theatre at Washington, Pa., to capacity every night with illustrated songs and moving pictures. The Royal and Bijou moving picture houses are also drawing well.

Vandeville has been discontinued at the Huntington Opera House, Huntington, Pa., and moving pictures are now being used exclusively.

The Globe Theatre, Elgin, Ill., has passed into the hands of James Sullivan. The Globe was Elgin's first moving picture theatre.

The Taylor Stock Company closed a successful engagement of two weeks at the Washington, Pa., Airdome, July 10.

Broomland, the oldest moving picture house in Louisville, has closed its doors. Lack of business is the cause given.

The Crystal Theatre, Nashville, Ind., threw open its doors to the public July 5. J. E. Harrison is manager.

Southern Theatre Managers Assn Convenes.

The third meeting and the second annual convention of the Southern Theatre Managers' Association convened at noon Monday, July 12, at the Piedmont Hotel, Atlanta, Ga. The roll-call showed sixty members present.

The main issue of the convention seems to be between the Shubert and Klaw and Erlanger factions, both of whom have representatives at the session.

The old officers of the Association will probably be re-elected.

The purchasers of Kahn's Theatrical Circuit will remain with the Interstate Amusement Company.

CINCINNATI, O.

Unusually attractive offerings are being made by the managers of the several local amusement parks. Thavin and his galaxy of talented musicians began their second week at the Zoological Gardens and the musical comedy The Girl Entamed, will delight patrons of the atrium at the Lagoon another week. These two ventures are high class in every respect, and of great diversity.

The vaudeville which began at Coney July 11 contains some very meritorious acts. Prof Van Horn begins to the Queen City an act that is entirely new to patrons of vaudeville. By the use of liquid air, he makes snow and ice balls, welds steel bars, and accomplishes many other seemingly impossible feats. His act created much favorable comment and no doubt he could continue to draw patronage for the up-to-date resort for many more weeks, but Mr. Professor has other engagements, he must all. Casad, Deyvere and Walters, who recently completed extensive European engagements, are the feature act at Coney this week. The musical act is truly marvellous. Palermo Brothers, exponents of polite comedy, won deserved applause. Another comedy act on the bill is the company headed by Harry E. Pierce. Their act was roundly applauded. The Three Binaldos round out a free offering that is first class. Amusement Manager Engelbreth is to be complimented on the excellent judgment he uses in looking attractions, for far this season only acts that play the first-class circuits have held engagements at Coney.

The crowds that visit the Queen City Bathing Beach, continue to gain numerical strength as the weather becomes warmer. Last week the attendance was materially better than any of the season, and the management claim that business shows a good increase over the corresponding week of last season.

Gordon Park announced last week that hereafter admission to the park would be free. This had the effect of drawing larger crowds, and as a consequence an increase in receipts became immediately apparent. Dancing and a vaudeville show are the principal features at this park.

The comic opera Said Pasha, the current offering of the Chester Park Opera Company, serves two purposes. The first is to entertain its patrons with a production that has delighted hundreds of opera goers, and the second and equally important, is the introduction of Miss Phrynette Tilden to Cincinnati as Edward McInire, erstwhile publicity man of Chester Park, who assumed a comedy role in The Masque, last week's offering, has a part in the cast.

The Musical LaMoules enjoyed a successful engagement at Coney Island last week. Their two children are spending their vacation with them. The little girl is attending a convent at Madison, Ind., and the young man will enter a university in the autumn.

The Edward Hutchinson Musical Comedy Co., playing at the Lagoon, opened its second week's run of The Girl Entamed July 11. This delightful musical comedy can be classed as one of the most charming on the summer stage. The environment of the play centers about the girl from the wild and woolly West, and the musical numbers and specialties are new and novel.

Miss Ruby Lundy, who has been appearing in the stellar role, again brought herself to the fore with her new musical number, Swing Me Just a Little Bit Higher. The swings, with their brilliant illuminations, carry the girls in them above the heads of many of the audience. The Hypnotic Waltz was the feature of the show, being presented by Earl Flynn, its originator, and Jacline Rossmore, the same duo who have set real such excellent work in the Indian Love Song, that is being continued this week. This new dance is of the Merry Widow type. The first performance of this Hypnotic Waltz created a sensation and great favor. Happy Golden presented a good comedy skit in another new specialty, and the Marque Brothers likewise won favor with their instrumental offering.

The free act of The Six Flying Banwards in the open continued in its past popularity at the Lagoon. Manager Weaver announces that this free performance will be held over this week, being presented twice daily. Their act is full of daring and fearlessness.

REYAM.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Worthington, Ind., July 5th, '09.

Editor Billboard,

Dear Sir: Would you please rectify a notice that has appeared in nearly all the Western papers (dailies) saying that I was in bad health and in a sanitarium in Ohio.

Was never in better health and have not missed a performance in two seasons. Don't know how the story started.

Thanking you in advance,
I am yours respectfully,

G. C. GUY.

ROSE WENTWORTH ENGAGED BY SPELLMAN.

Miss Rose Wentworth, the celebrated arena star, has signed a twenty weeks' contract with Frank P. Spellman for his big State Fair Organization. The following clipping is from the Toronto Globe of July 3rd:

Miss Rose Wentworth, who rode before 5,000 people in the Hippodrome at Scarborough Beach on Hamilton Bay, has become a great favorite with Beach patrons and the management of the Toronto Park Company has decided to retain her for another week. Miss Wentworth will head the bill in the Hippodrome every afternoon and evening next week.

Miss Wentworth will be one of the main features with the Spellman Shows.

New Films Reviewed

An Exhaustless Supply of Splendid Films Bidding for Popular Favor—A cursory glance at the list shows marked foresight and activity of manufacturers in selection of subjects and working out of the plots—Other film news of interest.

SELIG

THE PEASANT PRINCE.—This is a very pretty story of Southern France in the days of chivalry. The story of love, intrigue and final happiness of those who were entitled to it.

ESSANAY

WHICH IS WHICH.—"Which is Which" is a comedy original in theme, and portrays the adventures of a bogus lord and an American sweetheart.

Colonel Price's daughter is engaged to a young American, when she meets a man impersonating Lord Dimbury, she immediately thinks she wants a title, breaks her engagement with her American sweetheart and accepts the attention of the bogus lord.

The American sweetheart makes up his mind to break the engagement. Impersonating the lord, he goes to the girl's house, and disgusts her with his actions. He is thrown out, but does not know that word has been received at the police station to arrest the bogus lord, and the policemen arrive on the spot just in time to see him come out of the home. They, of course, think he is the lord, and immediately take him to the police station. Explanation follows; he leaves the policemen to where the real bogus lord is; then goes to his sweetheart's home as a paldu American, and reconciliation follows.

THE NEW COP.—An undersized man, gifted with much ignorance, but who has a pull with a local politician, secures a position as a policeman. He is given a book of rules and told to enforce the law on his beat, and his efforts in trying to arrest innocent people are extremely ludicrous. A man is trying to get into his own home, and the "new cop" thinking he is a burglar, pounces upon him. A man carrying a bundle of laundry is intercepted. A painter going up a ladder is pulled down. The "new cop" goes on doing ridiculous things until he meets a bull dog on the sidewalk. This proves the Waterloo. The policeman tells the lady the dog must be muzzled. She becomes very indignant at his intrusion and lets the dog loose. The cop immediately beats it. The dog follows. The cop, with the dog hanging on to him, runs into the police station, asking aid from the sergeant. The sergeant takes the star from him and forcibly ejects them all from the place.

LUBIN

A NUGGET OF GOLD.—At the bar in a Western saloon stands Harry, a young miner, conversing with others, when Range, a rough looking fellow, enters, slightly intoxicated. He asks the boys to have a drink; Harry refuses. This enrages Range. "You are going up to old man Harde's tonight," he says, "to see his girl, and you don't want her to smell the stuff on you. She will smell it all right," and he throws the contents of a wine glass over Harry's shirt. Harry quickly knocks him down.

It is evening. Gerlie at her home. When Harry enters he is made welcome by Gerlie and her father. Harry proposes and is accepted.

A little baby brings sunshine to the happy home of Harry and Gerlie. He kisses her goodbye and leaves, while the young wife fastens the door by putting the wooden bar across the door through iron bands.

Harry finds a large nugget of gold. With joy he shouts loudly. Other miners come among them Range. All look at the nugget and congratulate Harry, who rushes home to tell his wife of his good luck.

Range is trying to get Harry out of the way. He hires two gossipers with whom he promises to share the claim if they will do what he wants. They readily consent.

Harry is just showing his wife the big nugget of gold. They dance around with joy. Harry goes to the bar, pulls out a bag half full of gold dust and nuggets, deposits the nugget just found with the others and replaces the bag in its hiding place. He has not seen the face of the greaser outside of the window who watched every one of his movements and rushes to Range and his accomplice, telling them of the secret hiding place of Harry's gold. Range tells the greaser to deliver the following note to Harry:

"Harry Boy—Come over to the ranch house at once. I want to see you on very important business. Harry BAR."

Harry tells Gerlie he must go at once. They embrace and kiss, and he leaves, while Gerlie is giving the greaser a drink of water. The greaser steals the door bar, which he brings to his waiting accomplice. Range goes to ward the house, telling the gossipers to watch for Harry. Harry being looked valiantly for the bar, and seeing Range approach, puts her arm into the door rings. Range rises to open the door, but Gerlie holds it fast. Range enters through the window and overpowers Gerlie.

He takes the bag of nuggets, then picks up the senseless form of Gerlie and starts for the door. He is just putting Gerlie on one of the three horses which the gossipers bring, when she points down the road. Somebody is coming. Range drops Gerlie, the three mount their horses and quickly take away. Just then Harry, Hardy and cowboys ride up, find Gerlie and carry her into the cabin. They revive her and she tells the story.

The miners are quickly alarmed. Cowboys and miners start in pursuit. In the meantime Range and the two gossipers divide the spoils. He was to keep the large nugget for himself. A fight ensues. Range shoots one of the gossipers in the arm, while the other one knocks the gun from his hand with a knife. Just then Harry and his party surround Range and the gossipers. They are overpowered, a rope is tied around their necks and they are led away to the next tree.

Gerlie is seated in a chair, her handaged arm in a sling. Harry, the cowboys and miners return. Harry embraces Gerlie, shows her the bag of nuggets. There is general rejoicing.

HIRING A GIRL.—Mrs. Newlywed goes to the employment office to hire a girl. There are more than fifty applicants waiting for a position. As soon as Mrs. Newlywed makes her appearance she is besieged by the crowd. Frightened, she runs away, followed by the anxious women. She appeals to the police for protection, but the police are helpless against such a burlesque of femininity.

After many incidents and accidents Bridget finds the exhausted Mrs. Newlywed and brings her home. There she reigns now as queen of the kitchen.

URBAN-ECLIPSE

(George Kleine.)

CONCHITA, THE SPANISH BELLE.—A celebrated espada (bull fighter) has a brother married to the beautiful Conchita. The young woman falls in love with the torador, who, however, will not accept her attentions seriously or in any manner wrong his brother. The untrue wife calls at the home of the torador and the latter induces her to return to her home, but at that moment the brother appears and believes his brother to be the lover of his wife. The innocent man declares under oath before the Virgin, that he has not wronged his brother, but Conchita makes a false oath and thus incites the brother. A duel is to be fought between the two brothers and when the woman sees that she can never hope for the love of her idol, she confesses her guilt.

THE WIZARD'S WALKING STICK.—A presentation of comic, magic and mystery of the first order. Beautifully tinted. This series is of intense interest throughout.

GAUMONT

(George Kleine.)

IN THE HANDS OF THE ENEMY.—A touching incident of the Franco-Prussian war. It is produced with all the realism of the original event. The photographic quality is unexcelled and the acting natural.

In a little village in France, in 1870, the arrival of a detachment of Prussians is announced. Consternation fills the hearts of the timid folk, but a gamekeeper secretes himself in ambush from where he kills one of the advance guards. Fearing an attack, the other members of the guard retreat and soon the regular troops are on the ground. It develops that no general attack was contemplated, but a search for the person responsible for the soldier's death is unsuccessful. They take with them as hostage the son of the gamekeeper. When, upon his return, the father learns the news he is sorely perplexed, and he induces the neighbors to turn him over as the guilty man with the explanation that he is insane.

The truth of the claim is doubted and a test is made. He is placed before an execution platform to be shot, but endures the test without a flinch. The son is now placed in the father's position and at the crucial moment the strain upon the father is so great that he gives way, whereupon he is immediately executed.

THE LOST TIE.—Ordinarily it is the collar button that gets lost, but in this instance a gentleman becomes so frustrated about a pretty servant that he leaves with his tie dangling from its support at the back of his neck and later upsets the entire room in his efforts to locate it. His wife finally comes to his aid and serenely is restored.

EDISON

THE EGYPTIAN MYSTERY.—A lady is given a pendant that has been found in an ancient Egyptian tomb. It is said that anything its wearer's hands rest upon will disappear. The lady soon finds, to her horror, that this is true and she advises her cook and when the leeman embraces her in an ecstasy of gratitude the cook vanishes in his arms. Astonished, for he knows nothing whatever about the mysterious quality of the pendant he is wearing, the leeman starts back, and other objects disappear upon which he chances to place his hands. Finally the wall of the house vanishes and the leeman runs to his wagon which crumbles to nothing under his touch.

This is too much for the brain of the leeman, and as soon as he can, for the moment, recovers himself he hurries away, only to find the mysterious horror still with him wherever he goes. A baby carriage disappears under his touch, and the amazed nurse finds her charge sprawling on the sidewalk, a street car he attempts to board turns to thin air and car and passengers fall to the street, a park bench dematerializes and a pair of lovers sitting on it go with a crash to the ground.

He can't understand it all himself and it is little wonder, therefore, with such a chain of strange events weighing on his mind, that when he finally sees his image in a mirror he is shocked beyond measure. He reels toward it.

ST. PAUL.

The Grand gave its last performance last Wednesday night, displaying moving pictures and illustrated songs. Because of the hot weather, Manager Hays thought it best to close for the balance of the summer. Following the example of numerous theatres throughout the country, the Grand began April 25 with a special spring and summer season of light entertainment, including illustrated songs and moving pictures. The Grand will reopen to begin its twentieth regular season Sunday, Aug. 23. The opening bill will be in old Kentucky, the play that had its first production on any stage at the Grand, August 4, 1892, with a cast that included both Louis James and Julia Arthur. Annually, since then, or almost annually, the clever racy drama has returned to St. Paul at the Grand, more popular if anything during recent seasons than when it was first presented.

The Gem continues to please many audiences with educational moving pictures. Miss Adelaide Merriman, who has been singing illustrated songs at the Grand, has been secured by Manager Gilowsky.

The Lyric and Crystal theatre receive good patronage with moving pictures and illustrated songs.

A special feature at the Wonderland Amusement Park is its displays of the works, including elaborate set pieces. The display has been one of the best seen in the Twin Cities. Manager Camp has been very successful in getting the big acts. The Spassary Bears have been held over as an outdoor act will be the Great Ketter, on the bounding wire. In the air dome the vaudeville program has a good bill this week. Ver Vady, ventriloquist; Wilson and Wilson, comedy singers; Bobby Robinson sings illustrated songs, and moving pictures are run. Hot weather has made a notable increase in patronage, especially the Old Mill and the Chutes and Scenic Railway.

A contract had been signed with James J. Jeffries to appear at the park week beginning July 19. Jeffries will appear each afternoon and evening on a platform in the center of the grounds.

Wildwood Amusement Park has proven a great drawing card. Manager Barnette aims to have the best. Batting during the hot weather has been a very strong attraction.

The Neil Stock Company, playing at the Metropolitan for this week offer "The House of a Thousand Candles." This is the first production during the current season of a real book play; that is, of a play made from a book already popular. This one includes four matinees. James Neill will take the role as Bates, the butler of Genarous House, and Miss Edythe Chapman will take a rest for the first time during the summer season. The leading feminine role will be taken by Miss Ethel Van Waldron, taking the part of Marlon Devereaux. The Man On the Box, given by the James Neill Company last summer at the Grand will be offered at the Metropolitan next week. Mr. Neill has been very successful with this play in stock. Following "The Man on the Box" will appear David Belasco's "The Warrens of Virginia," which has been but lately released for the use of stock companies, and has never been heretofore acted by any company on a St. Paul stage.

The Majestic for their headliner this week have Van Alken's performing bears. In addition to performing various tricks, the bears put on gloves and engage in boxing bouts. Teed and Lazelle, comedy German sketch artists, in a playlet, Polmoskops, inside down; Barry Scanlan sings very clever Irish melodies; Lindstrom and Anderson do phenomenal balancing and hand turns; Miss Mazza Martelle, the girl with the silver voice, sings and dances in various characters, also makes complete changes in costumes rapidly; Horace McKwan sings new songs by Victor Kramer, continuing with the usual Cameograph.

H. P. WINTERHALTER.

H. N. GOULD INJURED.

H. N. Gould, of the firm of Ruhling and Gould, which has a photograph gallery at Waldamer Park near Erie, Pa., had the misfortune, while riding a bicycle from Erie to the park, to lose control of the wheel, which threw him against a telephone pole. Gould suffered serious injuries and is now confined to the Hamot Hospital, Erie.

SAN FRANCISCO'S NEW CHUTES.

The New Chutes comprising a solid block of concessions and more than a hundred open air amusements will be opened to the public Wednesday, July 14, with a big French celebration in commemoration of the fall of the Bastille. From that date it will be operated afternoon and night summer and winter with weekly change of acts and music and the frequent introduction of new thrillers.

Scores of workmen are busy night and day adding the finishing touches to San Francisco's new amusement resort and it promises to be the finest resort of its kind in the West. The enterprise represents an investment of almost one million dollars and will be conducted at a weekly running expense of over $7,000. The major portion of this amount will be expended in free acts. With the booking of the opening attractions not yet completed the management announces the engagement of the "Banda Rossa" led by Siriguano which will give operatic concerts from the handsome music stand, Desperado, in a leap for life; Demon, in his ride through flames, and Florence Spray, aquatic artist and fish diver. The band will play three-hour concerts afternoon and evening and the sensation lists gave four performances daily.

The Chutes will furnish every style of amusement from theatre to plug-ugly. The theatre will seat twelve hundred people and will rival the best show houses in the city in appointments and neatest. Landisale & Joseph, architects for several Western theatres, including the new San Francisco Orpheum, are the designers of the building. It will be patterned somewhat after the old Alhambra theatre in Salt Lake but modern and class A in every detail. The stage will be given over to vaudeville.

The concessions will number the latest amusement devices. Irving C. Aekerman, president of the Chutes Realty Company, recently visited the East's biggest park resorts and the purchase of such thrillers as the Human Roulette, Double Wheel, Devil's Slide, the Spassary Human Leap, dry, Bicycle Merry-go-round and many other equally exciting devices has been the result of his tour. The Chutes, which, in the old days when the amusement grounds were on the edge of Golden Gate Park, gave the enterprise its name, will be longer and swifter than ever before. New style boats have been installed for the ride and the lake skirted by hundreds of potted plants and palms will be one of the prettiest spots on the grounds.

PLAYHOUSE NOTES.

Fred W. Jenks, manager of the Elgin Opera House, Elgin, Ill., has disposed of his interests in the Star Theatre, Temple Theatre and moving picture show at the Elgin Opera House to his former partners, Messrs. Prickett and Thelen. The Temple has been closed temporarily until Aug. 15.

Mr. Maurice W. Jencks, the efficient manager of the New Theatre, Sioux Falls, S. D., and the Grand Theatre, Sioux City, and several other theatres in South Dakota and Iowa recently returned from an extended trip in the East, and reports some good bookings for all of his theatres.

The Majestic Theatre, Sioux Falls, S. D., under the management of W. H. Bance, is doing an unparalleled business, and since he has resorted to changing his vaudeville acts twice a week the popular play house is turning them away at every performance.

On Wednesday evening, July 7, the Racine Theatre, at Racine, Wis., which inaugurated vaudeville some six weeks ago, closed its doors with the announcement that the house would undergo extensive alterations before opening the fall season.

The Arcade vaudeville house, at Washington, Pa., owned by John Reed and managed by James Matthews, is doing very little business this summer. The theatre will probably close for the summer.

The Casino, at Washington, Pa., managed by A. D. Blair, will close its doors next week. The management expects to clean the place up and make some repairs for an early fall opening.

W. D. C. Germaine has purchased the lease of Steinberg's Grand Opera House, Lansing, Mich. He assumes charge August 1.

The new opera house at Concord, N. C., has been leased by S. A. Schloss, of Wilmington, N. C.

The Star Theatre, Neb., under the management of Farlow and Miller, was opened with a stock company June 3.

Pert Kuhn has purchased the Orpheum Theatre, Colfax, Wash., and is putting on vaudeville.

COSMOPOLITAN SHOW NOTES.

The Great Cosmopolitan Show played Jasonville, Ind., week of July 6. Business was good. Several new concessions and musicians joined at Jasonville.

Harry Clark, lot superintendent, who has been ill in the cars for the past eight weeks, was sent to a hospital in Terre Haute, Ind. His wife is with him. Mr. Clark's trouble does not seem to be very serious, but he has been sick for a long time. Mail sent in care of the show will reach him. Mr. Clark would be pleased to hear from friends.

Mrs. Riley Wagner, of the Alps Show, has returned from a visit to her home in Indianapolis. Her infant niece returned with her for a short visit.

Thos. Quiney, high diver, made a run up to Indianapolis last week, and visited his family. It was his first visit in three years.

The painters have been busy around the shows for the past few weeks. Nearly all the fronts have been retouched and wagons repainted. The Perils Wheel has been beautified and a handsome brand new panel front made for the Alps Show.

A callow was received from headquarters last week and it helped bring the people down to the depot on Sunday when the show reached the town. Frank Myers, gap rider who is an excellent piano player, is bringing the music out of the pipes.

Everyone around the show was sorry to hear last week of the death in a Cincinnati hospital, of Mr. Jack Shields. Until a few weeks ago, Mr. Shields was with the Lamette Show.

The shows play Robinson, Ill., this week, and good business is expected.

PARK NEWS

AT CONEY ISLAND.

Four coats and foulards both were popular on the 4th.

Have you met Mr. Scott—the Yo-Yo man? He will explain.

Wally Becker's desk is locked.

"Doc" Livingston says he keeps mighty busy. He swears the Dutch Man is practicing at Slim Watson's place—oh your press agent.

And may be it wasn't a happy Monday—but Sunday, oh oh oh.

Jack Bonavita is back at Hootcock's. Though not entirely well Bonavita persists in his attempt at subjugating "Hootcock."

Tom Tallon is the receiver of many congratulatory letters for his heroism in rescuing Hootcock a few weeks ago.

Hootcock's press agent is busy—several of the papers ran stories about his lion (Note euphony.)

And speaking of the Iron Steamboats. It was a magnificent display of careful management—the manner in which the holiday crowds were handled. This company apparently has the execution question reduced to a science.

James Orr is celebrating his 10th year with the L. A. Thompson Seaside Railway Co. at Coney Island. Mr. Orr is a showman of wide experience, having been with Cummis's Wild West Shows—the Iroer Spectacle, at one time with the police news and during 1887 and 1888 timekeeper at the Hippodrome.

Clive F. Galbraith is now lecturing at the Instructor Show, Inland.

J. H. Stale of Danbury, Conn., manager of the Turkish Farm, was a Coney visitor this week.

Dan Ryan, Geo. Meers and Miss Dulka Meers are producing a very clever travesty act with the free circus at Dreamland, impersonating three Spindlers, two rivals in love with the same girl, fighting a duel and finishing up with the Seneca riding away, disgusted with both.

Johnson's fight pictures lasted four days on the Howery.

"Bogie Jack," now located at the Brighton Beach shooting gallery, reports good business. He has not decided whether to sign with A. H. Woods or not.

James Bonford and Lionel Adams were entertained at Dreamland on the 4th by Ith Mercier.

Harry Aland is at the Dreamland Tower.

Business at Luna is keeping up at record pace. The bounding Bell Buoy at Luna continues as a money getter.

Slim Watson, at Luna, is getting stout. Slim has undertaken a water treatment. Says it's great to fall overboard when the moon shines.

And Turner, Slim's neighbor, is always anxious to have his name in The Billboard.

M. J. McGowan will launch Gemella, a mind reader formerly with The Fays.

Through the courtesy of Senator Reynolds New York daily newspapers and The Billboard have been given a press room headquarters. The room set aside for the newspaper men is located near the West Gate. Every convenience has been provided—telephones, typewriters and stationery. In every sense the room has taken on the appearance of a press club. Here all the daily papers will be kept on file along with The Billboard. Wells Hawks, the general, will always be found nearby—the worthy part of the new arrangement is the fact that nothing of the press element figures in Senator Reynolds' consideration of the press.

Captain Louis Soreho continues to roll the shekels in.

Omar Sami has been getting good money all summer and deserves it.

The Elgamorale, one of the funniest and best riding devils ever contrived, has proved a very able sensation at Dreamland. It is no idle prediction to say that this ride will be in every park in the country next season.

Ernie Young, of Chicago, was a Coney visitor this week.

There is some class to the press matter Manhattan Beach and hotel are getting this season good readable stuff and the kind that carries right. In fact, Walter Kingsley is quiet and tight's recommendation enough.

The Magic Mirror of Venus has them at guessing at Coney.

For a good laugh, leave sorrow at home and watch the fat ones in bathing.

Michigan Bill is doing splendid business on the Howery.

The Double Whirl on the Howery gives full value.

Milton Lee is doing duty at Lehman's Cafe.

Dave Pevser is stage manager of the Volks.

GREATER DREAMLAND.

The Fourth of July's combination of these days' holiday brought to Greater Dreamland its record crowd. From early morning until late at night the big park was thronged to its utmost and every one of its concessionary shows lined to capacity.

Every H. R. T. express, which runs directly to the gate of Dreamland brought throngs, while boats from Newark, Hudson and the Iron Steamboats from New York, landing at the park's pier, carried all they could hold. They were great days for Coney Island and greater days for Greater Dreamland.

Manager Grampasta is giving to those who pass the gates of the park the biggest lot of free shows ever given on the island. The circus, comprising the best performers obtainable is made up of fifteen acts and runs continuously from those in the afternoon until eleven at night. The ring is over the lagoon and the performance may be witnessed from seats under cool and shaded arbor, which entirely surrounds it. In addition to the circus features, well known specialists render solos with the band while there are also singers with the orchestra in the big new ballroom which, by the way, has proven one of the most popular places at Coney Island. All of the thirty new shows within the enclosure have proven to be novelties and are doing a big business. A new feature just introduced is a series of tete-a-tete seats, surrounded by lattice work, which have been called "Daddy's Circle," designed as sort of a revolving lover's lane for moonlight nights and for couples who want to be alone. Creation continues its record business, while the Hootcock Show is as popular as ever. Dreamland's beach is crowded with bathers and its ocean promenade is always in demand. New circus features and new comedy by the clowns are added every week, and fireworks are being displayed every night at eleven o'clock.

GOVERNOR VISITS LUNA.

Luna Park's new fun-making device, The Bomber, which has just opened, has caught the crowds with a will. Each afternoon and evening throngs of people have enjoyed it, and the shouts and peals of laughter that emanate from it have thoroughly attested to its popularity.

Just how to describe the new slide is difficult to determine. It is unlike any other device of its kind, being made of canvas instead of wood. This cloth, with the aid of a number of wheels that rapidly revolve, provides the "bounce." It is one of the parks many new free amusements.

The steady, heavy summer exodus to Luna has settled in and it is sufficient to say that visitors have found everything that could be desired in the way of recreation—and more. Since the Park has taken on an aspect of Good Old Summer-time, in full bloom, the crowds have gone, not only from Greater New York but from all the surrounding country as well. Visitors from as far as New Orleans and Denver have been noted and parties from every city in New Jersey and Connecticut and Philadelphia, have been frequent. Governor Gilchrist, of Florida, with a party of friends, was among those who enjoyed the attractions. Commander Adam Brown, who sighted the first gun and fired the first shot on the Ironclad Monitor during the famous Civil War battle of Chesapeake Bay, was another.

Commander Brown was detailed at Newport News in charge of the heavy artillery there. When the Monitor was put in commission he was transferred to it and because of the part he played in the famous sea battle he was practically "invented" by the Monitor and Merrimack show in Luna. He was so impressed with the exactness of the reproduction that he determined to be sure that all his friends witnessed it. He is a member of Phil Kearney Post, No. 7 G. A. R., and he announced that he intended to take the entire Post down to the Park in the near future.

So great has been the attendance at the Park that the facilities for handling the crowds have had to be necessarily increased several times within the past month. Twelve new wicker boats were put on the Witching Waves last week. Each day there has been a surging, happy, ever-changing mass of people at the popular resort.

BATTLE IN THE CLOUDS.

Signs of coming prosperity are shown in the unprecedentedly large audience which attended Pain's Battle in the Clouds at Brighton Beach on the Fourth. Thousands were turned away for the capacity of the amphitheatre had been taxed to its limit long before the time of the performance to begin. The coming week will be replete with startling novelties; there will be flights of balloons and aeroplanes every evening, and there is some talk of night aerial races for amateurs.

MANHATTAN BEACH HOTEL.

Lieut. Carl R. Carlton and his British Guards Band remain the magnetic musical attraction at the Manhattan Beach Hotel. Manager Amer has bought The Fighting Bandsmen's contracts for July to retain him and his veterans at the Beach but musical societies in several cities are threatening lawsuits if the British Guards' Band does not play for them as scheduled.

Lieut. Carlton's portrait is to be added to the hotel gallery, which includes Patrick Sarsfield, Gilmore, John Philip Sousa and Victor Herbert. Lieut. Carlton is composing a waltz for the band whose playing he warmly praises. The beautiful new music shell on the lawn is well under way. Every afternoon and evening the hotel verandas and lawns are packed with music lovers listening to the stirring program.

"Pat" Gilmore's famous artillery and avnll choruses are to be revived at Manhattan Beach as a result of hundreds of requests made to Manager Amer, of the Manhattan Beach Hotel. Gilmore's battery of field guns is being cleaned and polished, and Lieut. Carlton and his British Guards' Band are delighted at the prospect of artillery accompaniment. All the musicians are war veterans, and Sergt. Lay only, who will fire the guns, wears fine decorations of valor and long service. Lieut. Carlton has owned one cannon King Edward, another President Taft, and a third Fwda Tombo. Heavy charges will be used, and the whole coast will hear the musical bombardment.

PALISADE PARK.

At Palisades Amusement Park, "high up in the woods," in New Jersey, opposite upper New York, the new arrangement by which the William Morris booking offices supply the attractions for the open air theatre has proven successful. For the coming week for this particular feature of the park, the headline will be Amelia Mantel, who comes from the Grand Opera House in Milan and who will on this occasion make her first appearance by American. Another big act on the bill is the Boreal's "Famous" company of colored singers and dancers, who are unique in their particular line. BBA Wells, the Hebrew orator who has just published his work's engagement at the American Music Hall, is also one of the stars to be seen at Palisades Amusement Park this week, and another feature will be the Picard Troupe of equilibrist and acrobats.

The free outdoor act will be furnished by The Sensational Ballets, European gymnasts, who perform an aerial stunt which can best be described as thrilling. The Strobel airship is retained as one of the star attractions. Other attractions include Blake's Hippodrome, Willard's Temple of Music, Millicent's Hobbies Theatre, the Monarch moving picture show and Mitchell's Snake Show. Besides these there are merry-go-rounds, roller coasters and a splendid dancing pavilion. Every Wednesday night an excellent display of fireworks is given.

NORTH BEACH.

Gala Park, North Beach, L. I., opened for the season Sunday, June 13, under the management of W. S. Wright. All of the attractions are doing nicely. Mr. Wright is now in his twelfth season at this resort. He has surrounded himself with an affable and competent staff taken from the theatrical ranks. Sam Abrams is assistant manager. Free acts are: High Wire Act, and House, the bridge jumper.

J. Sullivan, Harry Hamburg and Percy Travis are selling past-boards at the entrances.

Byron Roth is again telling the crowds the wonders of Happyland.

Billy Harrison, last season at the Plaza Music Hall, is in front of House, the "humbug fish" show.

By the way, Handsome Harry is on the main gate. And he is some handsome, too.

Who always has the sailors looking as spick and span as sailors look on inspection day on Uncle Sam's battleships.

LAKEVIEW PARK, PATERSON, N. J.

Owing to financial troubles, Lakeview Park, Paterson, N. J., has closed its gates.

The principal disturber of the even running of the park was the electric lighting company.

NEW MANAGER FOR ALTRO PARK.

Altro Park, Albany, N. Y., has changed management. Max Rosen handed in his resignation the last week in June and John J. Carlin has been appointed to succeed him. The Trail, by which name Steeplechase Island's solid quarter mile of attractive amusements is known, is the highly unique of Bridgeport's merry, who entered from the city by crossing Long Island Sound bridge, crowd its numerous concessions, or congregate in the Grove to see, hear and applaud the startling outdoor attractions which Capt. PARK NOTES.

Wheeling Park, at Wheeling, W. Va., did the largest business in its history July 3 and 4. This being the first year of a free gate accounted in part for the increased attendance. The vaudeville bill given in the Casino building opening for a week on the 4th was as follows: Pupura & Co. in feats of magic and illusions; Marshall and Montgomery, monologists; Hamilton and Howlett, musical comedians; De Vera, singing and talking sketch; Muller, Gum and Muller, hoop jugglers; Ernest Bros., on the horizontal bars. This was the best bill offered this season although all have been of the highest class. The fireworks display on the evening of the 5th was the largest and finest ever given at this resort, it being a yearly offering.

July 5 was a big day in the history of Electric Park, Ft. Smith's (Ark.) beautiful suburban pleasure resort. The roller coaster, scenic railway, Hale's Tour of the World, Merry-go-round and all other concessions did an immense business. The Tolson Stock Co. opened on the 4th to a big house but on the 5th the vast Auditorium was filled to overflowing long before the rise of the curtain, at both the afternoon and evening performances. Jessie Burnell's Ladies' Orchestra is an added attraction with the Tolson Stock Co. and is making a big hit. Mr. R. J. Mack is the manager of the company.

At Bayonne Park, Bayonne, N. J., Manager O'Neill has inaugurated a new system. He is giving tickets to the various attractions in the park with all admission tickets purchased by children. The attendance is steadily going up as the summer advances, due to the good weather conditions. At the Park Theatre, vaudeville has given way to the Leslie Opera Company, which will play stock at this house for the summer, headed by Miss Belle Ward. Week of 5 this company played The Mikado to big houses.

James E. Henry, lessee and manager of Shellbark Park, Wilmington, Del., offered for the week of July 5, the greatest and most interesting attractions ever offered in that city. The star attraction was Prof. Jewell in balloon ascensions and parachute drops. Excellent vaudeville including such entertainers as The Healers, Red Cole, with his banjo and dog; The Perellos, White Yo Gln, magicians; F. D. Hewes, Henry and Young, comedy sketch artists; and the pictures. The park band gave two concerts and delighted thousands of pleasure seekers.

W. C. Hunt has retired from the management of Woodland Park Theatre, Asiland, Pa., and M. J. O'Hara, of Shenandoah, Pa., has taken his place. The new manager has been managing the O'Hara Theatre, at Shenandoah for the past several years. Mr. Hunt left for Wildwood, N. J., where he will open a moving picture house.

Work will begin within the next few weeks on a new car line in Concord, N. C., and as soon as it is completed it is proposed by the owners of a beautiful site located on the line, to erect a new amusement park. This will mean much to a city of 15,000 inhabitants which has no park.

Performers seem to be coming in for more than their share of abuses at the hands of unscrupulous managers these days, whether it is because of a general slump in business and the desire of such managers to avail themselves of the opportunities that always exist for profiting at performers' loss, it is impossible to say; but the fact remains that the vaudeville profession, or at least that portion of it which plays the smaller towns, is registering a stronger protest against irregularities in the methods of theatre managers than ever before. The following letter is an example:

Editor Billboard:

Robinson, Ill., July 9, 1909.

Dear Sir and Friend—Would like to call your attention to the way performers are treated in one of the towns we have played recently, and have you print the same. I will give you the facts and you can arrange them to suit yourself:

First, if you do not stop at manager's house, he is sore at you and picks at you from start to finish, especially on singing and talking acts, where he can cut out your jokes, or make you change the songs if he can't play them. The manager plays the piano, and is rotten, and he queers you. He used to be a chorus man.

Baggage costs him ten cents per trunk, and he charges twenty-five cents, making about five dollars a week for himself. If you use picture slides in your act and he is sore, he breaks three or four on the closing night—not before. The transfer company tells us of the trunk charges, saying they had suspected for a long time that the performers were getting beat. We have his word on that—the baggageman, I mean—on the split. If you have excess, you go by train, as he has the baggageman at the depot fixed so there is no excess, and all the others go by street car, sixty miles and three changes. The last one, you change to the train, a slight saving. Where you change from street car to train, he has a contract with the transfer company to transfer your baggage at 12½ cents per trunk.

The transfer company took all our trunks to the depot and we had them all checked and in the hands of the railroad company, when the transfer company demanded 25 cents per trunk, saying that the manager of the theatre had not paid them the last month's baggage bill and that we would have to pay it. We refused and Miss Lillian Carson sat down on her trunk, and the transfer man called his "nigger" and they both pulled and knocked Miss Carson off the trunk, taking the trunk off with them. We notified the chief of police, and, as usual, these slow, town chiefs held back so long that he could not get the trunk for us in time to get it on the train, so we came on without it. All the performers sticking together that Miss Carson should be allowed to sing a couple of songs or there would be no show at this end of the week. However, the assistant manager here did all in his power to make things pleasant for us all, and the show went on as arranged. The trunk will no doubt arrive to-day.

Kindly print this as strong as you can, as a warning to all recognized performers.

Thanking you, we remain, with best wishes, yours,
KENWOOD AND KENWOOD,
MISS LILLIAN CARSON,
THE KINS-ERS.

(White Rat) SCOTT LESLIE AND HIS GIRLS,
BILLIE DE VERE,
IOLA'S DOGS AND MONK.

Still, the performer is not always the one who has a grievance to complain of. He is oftentimes the culprit, while the manager of the theatre, or the event for which he has been booked is made to suffer through the performer's failure to fulfill his part of the contract, either wholly or in part. The following letter shows an instance of this:

Titusville, Pa., July 8, 1909.

The Billboard Publishing Co.,

Gentlemen—On July 5, Titusville gave a grand Fourth of July Celebration. Everything occurred as planned with the exception of its great feature, which was a balloon ascension, accompanied by a thrilling parachute drop.

Of course, the aeronaut failed to materialize. His advertising literature proclaims him to be "The Aerial Wonder of the Age," and "The World's Greatest Aeronaut," but fails to enumerate his proven characteristics.

On June 3, he wrote, requesting an opportunity to quote terms for two balloon ascensions, which letter was replied to, asking for figures, which were received, in a communication dated June 6, and accepted at once. He replied June 14 that everything was O. K., and stated that he had forwarded contracts.

Falling to receive contracts, we wrote, advising him of the fact, and not receiving a reply, forwarded a telegram, asking whether he intended to fulfill his engagement. Still no reply.

As the time grew short, he was called at another "stand," over the long-distance telephone. He declared that he went to a telegraph office to telegraph reply to telegram, but found it closed, also that he had forwarded contracts, which probably had become lost in the mails, also that he would forward new contracts, but by no means to worry, as he would surely be on hand Sunday in ample time to carry out his contract.

The professor failed to appear, and Titusville went without balloon ascensions, and the committee took its censure.

In conclusion, would request that you publish this as an open letter, thereby warning interested parties and exposing this "Aerial Wonder."

Thanking you, we remain,

Yours, for a "Square Deal,"

THEODORE EBA,
DR. CHARLES E. SINNING,
HARRY TEEGE,
N. C. SCHOPPERT,

General Committee.

Sifting the question of abuses down to its logical ingredients, we find that both the business and the artistic factors are at fault. There are abuses in all lines of endeavor. If there were not there would be no need for laws nor other institutions of justice and equity. But it is these regulations, these instruments for prevention and for penalty, that, though they have been enacted and made for purposes that admit of no questioning, are not always enforced, even when they are far-reaching enough in their provisions.

The manager is sometimes right and the actor or performer is sometimes right, just as each is, at other times, wrong.

The elimination of the most flagrant abuses to which each side is a party, is, then, a most desirable, as well as a most difficult undertaking.

It is to enterprises such as this that The Billboard is always anxious and willing to lend its influence. Some years ago we were instrumental, we believe, in adjusting the differences between the managers of the Pacific Slope and the performers who had played or were contemplating engagements in that territory.

We believe that an open discussion of irregularities through these columns will inevitably result in universal benefit to the amusement profession, through the weeding out process, and we invite all who have grievances to write us regarding them, so that we may exercise our best judgment with regard to the adjusting of them.

Of course, all contributions of this nature will be subject to editorial censorship, and individuals against whom protest for irregularities is filed will not be identified, but by treating the subject in a general way, we believe we will be able to effect the desired result without injury to any one's interests when such interests are fairly and legitimately conducted.

The new copyright law went into effect July 1. It will afford much stronger protection to vaudeville performers, lecturers and entertainers than did the old law, being simple, direct and unequivocal in its rulings.

Adequate penalties are provided for any offenders against the owners of the copyright. Infringers of the copyright of any lecture, address, etc., can be mulcted fifty dollars for each infringing delivery. Pirates who steal plays can be made to pay one hundred dollars for the first unauthorized production and fifty dollars for each subsequent performance. Musical compositions performed without authority from the owner of the copyright will cost ten dollars for each infringing performance.

The copyright certificate will be accepted by any circuit court of the United States, the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and all other United States courts as evidence to secure injunction against any offending party and for the collection of penalties provided. The suits can be brought in any district in which the defendant or his agent is an inhabitant, or in which he may be found. Any injunctions issued will be operative in all parts of the United States.

In addition to the above penalties, the new law states that any person who wilfully and for profit shall infringe any copyright secured by this act, or who shall knowingly and wilfully aid or abet such infringement, they can be convicted of a misdemeanor and punished by an imprisonment of not more than one year or by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars. This clause will effectually end the play-plate larceny who have been copying plays and selling same to small repertoire companies.

The new law also gives ample protection to the composers of music and prevents the reproduction of any music on mechanical instruments without the payment of a royalty.

The duration of the copyright is the same as under the old laws, and the copyright can be transferred or assigned or left by will.

It is one of the best laws passed at the last session of Congress, and will be of vast service to the theatrical profession. In the vaudeville end, many a performer who has been compelled to stand idly by and see his best work used by other performers, will now be able to protect the product of his brains or a specialty or a sketch that he may have purchased. It will stimulate the profession in the securing of new material, and many authors who have been kept from furnishing material for theatrical use will now be able to get safe protection and will devote their time to this class of work.

All material copyrighted under the old laws will be given the same protection as before, but that law is so dense that the smartest lawyer can not tell a client how to proceed when suit was brought. With this clear, broad copyright law the day of the pirate is past.

The Register of Copyrights, Washington, D. C., will mail copies of the law on receipt of request and new blank forms of application were ready on July 1.

TENT SHOWS

Reports from the Big Shows Indicate that Conditions are Good and Business is Excellent—Rain and Floods in a Small Section of the Middle West have Worked Some Damage, But Generally Prospects are Most Encouraging for a Prosperous Finish.

NOTES FROM THE GREATER NORRIS & ROWE CIRCUS.

By THOS. J. MYERS.

The eighteenth week of the present season's tour of the Greater Norris & Rowe's Circus was fittingly ushered in Sunday, July 4, at Augusta, Wis., with a holiday dinner that will linger long in the memory of those who participated. I have had some twenty-nine seasons' experience in the show business, but in all that time I can not recall a more prettily nor tastefully decorated dining tent; a more cheerfully and contentedly company; a menu more satisfactorily served, and an orchestra accompaniment that reflected credit upon leader Bronson and his talented company of players. Not a jarring or discordant note marred the occasion, and it was simply good cheer all around. The dining tent was gaily festooned with bunting. H. S. Rowe's picture was prominently displayed, garlanded with laurel; the tables were decorated with ferns, carnations and roses in lavish profusion, and an elaborate menu was served to every person in the dining tent. An innovation that is fully appreciated this season is the fact that our dining tent has no canvas walls separating the employees from the staff and performers. That this is appreciated is evidenced by the good conduct of the men of the different departments while at the table. When the men are treated as possible human beings it is surprising to note the latent talent it brings forth. Arthur Davis, superintendent of the cook house, deserves the greatest possible credit for the happy result he achieved with his first holiday dinner. He has an excellent assistant in the veteran H. H. Muldoon, better known as Muldoon, or "Mull," for short.

C. Z. Bronson and the choicest spirits of his band made up an orchestra that rendered such gems fitting the occasion as The Star Spangled Banner, Hall to the Chief, and a medley of national airs.

Table No. 1 contained Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rowe, Harry Moore, Ralph Hayward, R. H. Dockrill and wife, Walter Shannon, C. Z. Bronson and wife, J. T. Myers and wife.

Table No. 2 contained George Holland and Rose Dockrill, The Melnotte-LaNoie Trio and The Baker Troupe.

At Table No. 3 were seated Ben Lauler, The Reno-Roger Troupe, The Albion Troupe, Frank Smith and Sam Nelson.

At Table No. 4 were Ed. Nathan, The Prince Lucca Russian Cossacks, Merritt Below, F. J. Griffin, Roy Miller.

At Table No. 5 were found The Musical Smiths, Montana Jack and Marlana, William Shearer, Bessie Hart and Ethel McCluskey.

At Table No. 6 were the members of the side show band, with their leader, Alonza Turner, at the head, and consisting of Mrs. Turner, John Yarnie, George Williams, Porry Gault, Harry Brock, Ethel Dabney and Lulu Walker and South Sea Island Joe and Bono.

At Table No. 7 were the members of the big band, headed by the veteran W. P. English, and consisting of Theo. Strout, Elmer Yale, A. Damon, Vie. Graham, W. H. McLean, Jacob Pons, P. Ford, C. C. Ford, Wm. Hoek, W. F. Whitehester, Fletcher Magee, Geo. Kohler and A. Wallmark.

The following heads of departments presided over their respective crews: Chris. Zells, menagerie; Barney Kinkaid, big canvas; T. Dowell, side show canvas; J. Burgess, lights; Frank Deutch, stable; Joe Bush, properties; W. J. Long, train; Andy Mason had charge of the table containing the members of the blacksmithing, harness, wardrobe and watchmen, and assistant losses of all departments.

The Mesdames Myers and Bronson assisted their artistic efforts were demonstrated with the tasteful effects produced.

Harry Ferguson, twenty-four hour agent, and his wife, did not fail to be present. Standing tickets were drunk to our absent members, the advance crews, headed by that mighty good representative, W. J. Ferguson, general agent; Geo. Hyman, contracting agent; Harry V. Graham, of the No. 1, and Geo. S. Roidy, of No. 3 car and their good boys.

Welcome visitor guests were Mr. Geo. Gould, of the Fulton News Company, of St. Paul; Mr. Isham, manager of Lake Harriet, Minneapolis, and newspaper representatives from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Eau Claire and Ellipton Falls.

Frank McMahon joined the past week, bringing a crew of billposters from St. Louis. They will be distributed among the advance cars and opposition billboards.

This is as good a time as any to comment upon the fact that the cook house of the Norris & Rowe Show, from the very inception of the present season, under the direction of Arthur Davis, simply could not be excelled by any other tented organization. Not a complaint has so far been registered by a member of the show, and it would be an ungracious side man indeed who could find cause for complaint of the daily service. The major part of the employees that left winter quarters, March 11, are still with us, and that's about as good proof as any.

FROM THE UBIQUITOUS PEREGRINATOR.

Denver, Col., July 3, 1909.
Dear Sisco: Since the issue of my last misadventure I have been hanging around without striking anything of startling interest. However, I managed to stop off at Kokomo, Ind., to talk resident showman with Charles Hays, of the Dispatch, and Eddie Sander (W. E. Tarkington's brother-in-law), of the Tribune, then on and toward other fields.

While speaking of "Tarkington's town," as I call Kokomo, I may as well state that in a short time the best beverage the natives may expect is that produced from a sun-dried sponge. She, the pride of Indiana, is soon to become drier than a harvest hand in June. Around Ringling Brothers' Advertising Car No. 1, the principal topic of conversation lingers on the coming lithographer-Hillsteker baseball game, Charles Knox, whom the boys have dubbed "Captain Kid," is looking after the paste manipulators, while the other nine is in charge of that old base gambler, George W. Goodhart. Both fountain-heads are working hard to whip their teams into Tiffany form.

It is going to be a great contest, Sisco. Just imagine Hiss-Short, who sings of Dan Castello (himself, covering first base, and that miniature composition of flesh, Charles A. White, wrestling the pig's skin to the mit. Then for a healthy scream is Louis Kusel, the official program space vender, who has been assigned to hover anywhere between the second and third bags. You may not grasp the live portion of this "Louis" dope until informed that he is of Latin blood and possesses a nasal organ that protrudes to an extent that prompts the wearing of a football snarl.

Louis is in the four base game, fingers, nose and all. He can muffle more balls; impede more liners with his back and display a greater number of bruised fingers than a full-fledged Hans Wagner.

And then for a just drift, we'll mention Jerry Dell. As every one in the business knows, Jerry can not wedge into a Gossard corset. In construction he resembles the Seattle Exposition, and to think of such a mountain of meat clashing in the tossing box with the avoirdupois of "fish rod" White, frames the picture with one of the greatest rib ticklers imaginable.

Well, the contest is almost at a head. The date of conflict resting until a suitable location can be found. By location, I mean a part of the West where acreage will permit of wallowing the sphere into the distant horizon. I intend to report the event fully, and if I am not laboring on that side of the fence called misadventure, I think it will be the best laugh provoker of the season.

At Kansas City, Mo., I brushed shoulders with Frank J. O'Donnell, who was until recently in the circus game. He is now wearing a resident manager's badge at Fairmont Park, and talking like an ice cream soda at a female festival. I rounded out an evening with him at the park and managed to do everything from the clutches to the street cars. Frank and Tom Hodgman, of the Majestic Theatre, are living in one of those well tapestried swell affairs, where running water and all the trimmings are to be found. It's a cozy layout, with northern exposure, and hints of everything that goes with a life of luxury.

Hodgman looks like a Gibson creation and is as happy as any Melville Raymond during his palmy days. Tom is willing the heated term looking after his moving picture affliction, which, I am happy to say, is getting cigar money. I mention cigar money simply because Tom has no other bag handle.

The Colorado atmosphere is the most soothing thing I have enjoyed in many weeks. To hop from Nebraska and her stifling heat to a country where the journey to dreamland calls for blankets is not unlike dallying with fire and ice.

We spent the Fourth in Denver, having made up a day for that purpose. Some of the boys indulged in sight-seeing, others trimmed the fishing tackle, while a few of the more patriotic members helped the drummers along. Me? Oh, I joined the rube's convention.

Your slim friend,
DOUGLAS DIOBALL.

News From Campbell Bros.' Shows.

Monday, June 21, at Regina, Sask., Canada, was a repeater over last year, only it rained this time. Nice crowds to excellent satisfaction. A. D. McHose's company is playing two days under canvas here, and old acquaintances were renewed and new ones were made.

Tuesday, June 22, at Davidson, the same province, one show to light house. The front-door people stood around taking tickets in their overcoats, today, and the tinkers built fires in the dressing room.

Wednesday, June 23, at Saskatoon, Sask., the Campbell Brothers showed them what they had this year, and everybody said it was better than ever. The wind was quite stiff here in the morning, and a center pole broke, which necessitated cutting out the Lamy Brothers' aerial act. They missed something, too.

Thursday, June 24, at Prince Albert, Sask., we experienced the same discouraging weather.

SCOUT WRITES FROM THE 101.

We played to capacity business at both performances at New London, Conn., July 2. The Harvard-Yale boat race was pulled off here the day preceding our arrival and many of the college men and their friends waited to see the show.

July 3, saw us in New Haven, Conn., where we showed to a large crowd in the afternoon and a turn-away at night. The parade was a long one here but we made it on time and the crowds followed it to the grounds to see the outdoor attractions. Neal Hart, John Frantz, Joe Haskell, Guy Weadick, Johnnie Mullins and "Block Boy" Miller were taken as honorary members of the Yale Club while here and were shown a good time by the college boys. Joe Haskell received a Yale flag encased in a neat black leather case as a souvenir, and the other boys were each presented with a Yale wine glass with the name of the Yale Club inscribed on it.

Sunday morning, July 4, brought us into Bridgeport, Conn., the home of the Barnum & Bailey Show and Buffalo Bill's winter quarters. Many old-time circus men visited us here to renew old acquaintances with Mr. Geo. Arlington, our general manager, formerly of the Barnum and Bailey show, also Mr. Henry "Spades" Welch, our popular boss hostler, who has worked with all the Bridgeport aggregations. He and several of our boys were royally entertained by the "Tigers," of which order Mr. Welch is a member.

Monday, July 5, Bridgeport saw a real wild west frontier parade and the way the crowds that thronged the streets cheered it, was ample testimony as to their appreciation of the real thing. We stood them up at the afternoon performance and turned them away at night. We cannot be with them in the winter, but will see them each in the "good old summer time."

Tuesday, July 6, we showed at Ansonia, Conn., to a big house in the afternoon and picked 'em at night. Wednesday, July 7, Waterbury, Conn., good afternoon crowd and capacity at night. We put on a wild steer act here today. T. Chikauhan, the new steer that just arrived on the car load from Mexico, was used for the first time in any arena in America, he coming direct from the bull ring in Mexico City.

Mr. John Ray made three different jumps from the back of his horse to that of the steer before he threw him, which he did after a fierce tussle. There has been some good steer throwing done with the show this season, but from the act of "Chikauhan" yesterday, we are going to have some real wild stunts in that line from now on.

Estevan Clemente, the Mexican, made a pretty jump for his steer, but his horse was just a trifle too slow and it proved Clemente's undoing. However, his work on steers in the average, is first class.

Vester Page, the lightweight champion steer thrower, made a trick catch on "Lou," the red steer, at the night performance. As the steer and horse raced neck and neck around the arena, Vester made his leap and caught the horns all right, but his speed was so great that he went clear over the beast, but pluckily held on. As the steer dragged him across the arena he managed to get what he calls the "ponca" hold on him, and finally tumbled him.

Bill Clanchett, our regular steer thrower, is at present laid up with an injured shoulder, so he is being held up with the black steer during the evening performance at Bridgeport, when the steer fell on him.

Dan Dix, our fussy comedian, is still putting on his trick and fancy riding act with Virgil, the mule. He is breaking in a new cart act that promises to be great. If his whiskers grow all right, K. Dan says it is him for vaudeville this winter.

W. Werleman left in New Haven to go to New York to arrange some contracts for his variety act for the coming winter.

Johnnie Frantz left for San Antonio, Texas, before leaving he took his cowboy friends out for a tour of Waterbury in an auto, and a supper down town. We were all sorry to see Johnnie go, but know that he will be welcomed as of old, upon his return to San Antonio, the pride of Texas, as Johnnie calls it. Before going he made a little speech to the boys and coming as it did from an old-time cowboy, it sure sounded good. The Mexicans applauded his song in Spanish to the echo. We were sure glad to have him with us and sorry to see him go.

Vern Tantlinger is once more doing his horseback shooting and making some remarkable shots.

Seven years ago in Huntington, W. Va., the Winchester Amusement Company presented Edith Tantlinger, our crack marksman, with two fine shotguns. While in New Haven she sent the same two guns, which she has used constantly ever since, up to the factory to be brightened up and cleaned, and after placing them in excellent condition, the Winchester people returned them to her together with two of the newest pattern of the Winchester guns, as a token of appreciation as to Mrs. Tantlinger's proficiency with the weapons.

Winchester Bennett, of the Arms Company, saw the afternoon show and pronounced it to be the best wild west show he had ever witnessed. Our bunch of Mexicans are making records as steer riders and ropers.

The Indians are preparing for their annual Sun dance. It will probably be held about July 18 when we Sunday in Yorkers, N. Y.

Pete Stanton is doing a live business over in the K's show, but says to wait until the show gets to Lockport, N. Y.

Sammy Carr-t and Chet Byers, the two boys with the ropes, have a new double one, called the ocean wave, that is one of the prettiest tricks ever done in the rope spinning game. Sammy spins his eighty foot rope into a circle and then rides around the arena as a closing stunt. It is always a knockout.

It is now rumored that one Fitzpatrick will soon follow in Edly Robert's footsteps. (Edly's show is our handling legal adjuster and still makes good cigars. He promises to give Vester Page one some time.)

The stock is in fine condition and we are very fortunate as to sickness. There has been no one seriously hurt or no sickness to speak of at all of late.

Guy Weadick, Sam Garrett and Chet Byers visited Carlisle's Wild West Show at Fallsdale Park, New York City, and reported that old Broadway was some street. Chet says the subway makes him dizzy to ride on.

Both the Boss Maude Jameson, Florence LaDue, Dolly Mullins, Edyth Christman, Mary Fitzpatrick, Marie Morrison and Marie Killingerare the cowgirls who ride the quadrille or square dance on horseback, and the fast and furious way they put it on is sure dancing some.

Rocky Mountain Hank Walker met an old stagecoach driver in Torrington, Conn., who used to drive coach with him over the old Deadwood Trail thirty years ago. They had quite a time exchanging tales of the West as it was in the early days.

The weather is fine and business is great. The lot in Torrington was a very bad one, very rocky and rough. However, we gave them a snappy show and our efforts were rewarded by liberal applause from two packed houses.

YANKEE ROBINSON NOTES.

Edmore, N. D., July 1, fine business done here at one dollar admission to the big show, and the natives thought it was the best ever. It has been a long time since any tent show has appeared here.

Bartino, with his Aerial Dogs, a novelty, is creating a big impression with the folks all along the line. One show was given here as we had a run of 120 miles. Jesuino Julian, our big clown, was weighed in the dressing room and was declared an American from now on.

Cando, 2nd, rain is still with us and the lots are very soft in this part of the country. Business here was good considering the weather we had.

Holla, 3rd. This village held their celebration here on this date and such a crowd was never seen in a town of its size. At the p. m. performance we were unable to accommodate but half the crowd and the other half remained for the second show. The Governor of N. D. gave an address at 11 o'clock in the morning at the fair grounds and attended our show in the afternoon. We had ideal weather here, and between the Governor, the show, ball game, and horse races the folks had an enjoyable time of it.

Del Fuego, the Human Salamander, and the only man with the show that works but 10 minutes out of twenty-four hours, met with a slight accident while doing his act. The lead was too hot for him and the consequences are that he has a sore mouth.

Loeds, N. D., July 4th and 5th. On the 4th the show celebrated in its entirety. The cook house was all decorated with flags and bunting and the food we had could not be beaten in the best hotels in the country. The horse tent was also decorated in the finest style and the elements were with us all day. Old Sol was very generous in casting his rays through the thin clouds and there was just enough breeze to put life in all things on Mother Earth.

H. L. Kelly and his leg team defeated the performers nine with a score of 11 to 8, and as they played in an enclosure, a small fee was charged to be used in purchasing fireworks for the evening's entertainment which took place at the cars about 10 o'clock, and it was a grand display, $25 being realized for the occasion.

The members of the side show presented Mr. Kelly, our steward, with a solid gold fountain pen.

Business here was big, as the "burg" celebrated on the 5th.

Westhope, 6th. Capacity business was done here at $1 admission, and our little show was well appreciated.

Some of the big show acts are Richards Sisters, Iron Jaw, Linda Jeal Julian equestrienne, W. F. Waller, and Crooks Bros, equestrians; Bishop Bros. and Garrett and Gilbert, acrobats; Fred Lessers, contortionist; Bartino's Aerial Dogs; Kishizuma, Japanese Troupe; Geo. and Athena O'Love, tight wire artists; Linda Eldridge, flying trapeze; Chas. Bray, hand balancing; The Nicholians, casting act; He Onto, who dives from the dome of the canvas to a narrow incline and flying a distance of 25 feet through space, makes the natives sit up and take notice.

Among the clowns are Gagner, Del Fuego, Paul Gay, Big Jesuino Julian, Al Hishop, Buck Gilbert, Shorty Goggs and Kinker.

Towner, 7th. Things looked very fine here all morning, and we narrowly escaped a cyclone which was accompanied with a heavy rain that lasted most all afternoon, but we did a big afternoon business. Up to date we have escaped many rains, arriving just before a after the wet spell.

One show was given here. Yours truly, GEO. W. D'ODD.

BUCKSKIN BEN'S WILD WEST SHOWS.

Buckskin Ben's Wild West Shows close at White City Park, Toledo, O., with his week's engagement, and go to Indianapolis, playing a circuit of four parks under the management of the Indiana Union Traction Company, starting at Broad Hippie Park.

The show is meeting with big success every place this season since the new idea of booking it as a free attraction is in vogue.

Ben opens his season in the South by playing the big State fair at Richmond, Va. Nearly all of his Northern dates for falls will be played in Michigan this year.

CIRCUS GOSSIP.

Lone Bill, of Lone Bill's Wild West and Indian Congress, now playing at Al Fresco Park, Peoria, Ill., is enlarging his outfit. He recently added a number of cowboys and cowgirls. New additions which have been added to the show are Mexican Joe and White Wings, Rockless Barney, who was lately married, was thrown from a vicious broncho. It was thought at the time that he was seriously injured but such was not the case, as he has fully recovered.

Prof. Quaglio and his cowboy band, fourteen in number, are introducing a new patriotic war piece that is exceedingly clever. The hull ans, men, women and children, ten in number, gave a grand burlesque on Sunday, July 11. C. F. Rhodes, manager, is busy organizing his force to go South for the fall and winter.

Advertising Car No. 1 of the Frank A. Robbins Shows have just come down off the Bangor and Aroostook R. R. where they have been for the past four weeks. They arrived in Lewiston, Me., the night before the Fourth of July, and combined business with pleasure on the fifth, by billing Lewiston, Me. in the morning and making an afternoon run to Portland, their last stand in the State. They arrived in Portland in time for supper, at 8 1/2. Sands, car manager, secured permission from the depot superintendent to set off some fireworks, and a most enjoyable time was had by both the crew and the natives.

Ringling Bros.' circus exhibited at Erie, Pa., July 3, to 28,000 people. People were obliged to sit in the grass as far out as the rings at both performances. Several of the musicians with the show are Erie boys. After the evening performance, the A. F. M. of Erie, Pa., gave a banquet in honor of the Ringling band in their rooms on State street. The band did not leave Erie until late Sunday night for New Brighton, Pa., where the circus showed on Monday, July 5.

Herewith is the roster of Car No. 1, of the Buffalo Bill Pawnee Bill Combined Shows: Lester W. Murray, car manager; Walter K. Hill, press agent; Fred Munter, boss billposter, with the following assistants, Maurice Gough, Chas. McLean, Chas. W. Clumb, Jack McVauz, Wm. Ivory and Geo. Farvor; Richard Armstrong, steward; Frank Harvey and Harry Paulsh, boss lithographers; Clarence Abell, programmer; Hiram Coates, paste maker, and Fred Butler, porter.

The many friends of Col. William Freed will be glad to learn that his circus is more than making good through the Indiana country. Mr. Freed obtained a good education in the circus field while in charge of the advertising car for the Forepaugh Shows, and throughout the East he is very popular. Mr. Freed is a valued member of the Forster Social Club at Harrisburg, Pa., where interesting sessions are held when he is in the city.

Hy Nichols, formerly manager of Indiana affairs for the Buffalo Bill show and the 101 Ranch, is receiving congratulations from his friends for his heroism in rescuing a young lady from the waters of Brighton Beach, N. Y., when she became caught in an undertow. Had not Nichols gone to the aid of the young lady at the risk of his own life, she would have drowned.

Glenn and Keller Zimmerman, of Taylorville, Ill., organized a circus at that place on July 1. They have a small wagon show and are exhibiting in towns of 800 to 1,500 population through central Illinois. As a free attraction they have a trick dog, Hunter, who climbs a fifty foot ladder and dives into a net.

The Seis-Floto Show played to capacity business at the evening performance at Boise, Idaho, June 30. The afternoon show did not draw quite so large a crowd on account of the excessive heat. The people of the Capital City enjoyed the performance and expressed their appreciation by continuous applause.

Max Hugo, the well known circus clown, is now premier fun maker with the C. L. Welsh Shows. Mr. Hugo has some excellent business ideas in store for the coming theatrical season, and at the close of the present tented season will put them into effect.

Jas. Welch and Company, en route with the Buffalo Bill Pawnee Bill Combined Shows, will present their new act next season, entitled "McSweeney, the Boss," by Fred Bonman. There will be four people in the cast. They are booked solid till 1910.

The candy butchers and ticket sellers of the Buffalo Bill Pawnee Bill Combined Shows, recently played an exciting game of baseball, which was won by the ticket sellers by a score of 18 to 11. A return game will be played in the near future.

Maude Burlinak and her high school horse "Dynamo," after playing one week with Mackay's circus at Detroit, Mich., which came to a sudden close July 5, has joined the 101 Ranch Wild West at Hartford, Conn., for the balance of the season.

The western part of Pennsylvania has proven excellent country for Ed M. Henry Welsh and his exceptionally styled "Key-stone State's Own Shows." For it is the only circus of any prominence that has embarked in business in Pennsylvania.

J. H. Knight jumped from the Cherokee 101 Wild West Shows at Louisville, Ky., last Monday and joined Buckskin Ben's Famous Wild West Shows at Toledo. Knight is an all around cowpuncher and bucking horse rider.

Floyd Trover left the J. H. Poyer Shows at Newport, Ark., to spend the Fourth of July at his home, Beaver Falls, Pa. After a couple of weeks' vacation he expects to rejoin the show in the "Ozarks."

W. R. Miller, the saxophone and trombone player who has been playing in the band at Walden Park Erie, Pa., this season, has joined Ringling Bros.' band at Kokomo, Ind., July 12.

James M. Beach, boss lithographer on Advertising Car No. 2, of Sun Bros' Shows for the past three seasons, has been appointed special agent, successor to C. H. Andrews, resigned.

Al Sweet, musical director of Ringling Bros.' circus, spent Sunday, July 5, in Erie, Pa. Mr. Sweet was the guest of Fred C. Fleider, an old schoolmate of the prominent musician.

E. E. Staats, of Staats Brothers' shows, states that L. W. Hoffman, of Bridgeport, Conn., who was general manager of that show, is no longer connected with the Staats Shows.

E. W. Weaver, manager of the St. Louis Amusement Company, has engaged Chas. Dalton as his general agent and contractor for the balance of the season.

M. L. Clark and Son have transferred their eight car railroad show to wagons and are touring the States of Kansas and Missouri for business.

C. F. Taylor has closed with the Yankee Robinson circus at Dubuque, Minn., after being with the saw dirt weeks. He was boss billposter.

Ringling Bros.' Circus enjoyed capacity business at New Brighton, Pa., July 5, and at Akron, O., on the 7th.

Ben Goodwin, singing, dancing and monologue comedian is en route with the Barnum and Bailey Show.

E. F. VERNON MANAGING RINK.

E. F. Vernon has accepted the management of the Lake Side Pavilion and Rink, at Conneaut Lake, Pa. The rink is situated on the shores of the lake, opposite the famous Exposition grounds, with an unobstructed view of the entire lake. The size of the floor is 140x80 feet. The season opened May 31 and up to this time, business has been good. Mr. Vernon is playing a few local attractions, and on June 18-19 he appeared in one of his own exhibitions, making a hit. A mask carnival was given July 8, and the week of July 16 Miss Adelaide E. D'Vorak was one of the attractions. The Elitzy Sisters have been booked for the week of August 9, and Miss Bertha Doud Mack the week of August 23. On August 19 a Marathon race will be run. The purses will be divided as follows: 50 per cent to winner; 25 per cent to second; 15 per cent to third, and 10 per cent to fourth. Those wishing to enter the Marathon should write Mr. Vernon, sending photograph.

RACES AT KANSAS CITY.

On the 12th of July a big six-day roller racing event commenced in Kansas City. These races were held at the Hippodrome Roller Rink at Electric Park, which is conducted by C. F. Mensing, and lasted through the 17th day of July. Some of the fastest speed skaters in the skating world were entered and aroused considerable interest among the roller skaters in Kansas City. The fad has not diminished, it seems in the City on the Kaw, and this race was held as more of an inducement to Kansas City to skate in the warm weather. There were some of the entries: John Turner, Louis Bradbury, John Murlack, George Noscher, Eddie Rogard, etc. If possible, the management of the rink at the park would like to hear from Midge Sherman, the Kansas City speed skater. Mr. Sherman is requested to answer through The Billboard.

J. T. FITZGERALD'S LETTER.

CHICAGO ROLLER SKATERS VISIT SOUTH HAVEN, MICH.

A party of twenty roller skaters all members of the Western Skating Association headed by the Secretary of the Association and Wm. Robinson, champion amateur of America, journeyed to South Haven, Mich., to spend the 4th of July holidays, and visited the skating rink for their regular Sunday session. Several of the boys who have been out of the racing game for a few weeks, were ready for a race as soon as the skates were adjusted to their shoes, the boys were really well entertained by the local boys who engaged into some good sprints after the regular skating session.

Vincennes, Ind., July 7th, 1909.
Mr. Julian T. Fitzgerald,
Secretary Western Skating Ass'n.,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir: I noticed in last week's Billboard that you are arranging to form a circuit to hold racing in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin.

I think it is a great plan, both for skater and rink manager. I would like you to write and let me know more about this matter, as my father who owns the rink here has taken a great interest in roller skating. I also see that you have a new button for your association. Please send me one and write full particulars. Yours truly,

C. C. GOSNELL, JR.,
Ass't Manager,

HENNESSY IS WINNER AT FOREST PARK ROLLER RACE.

The final of the one mile series of roller races held at the Forest Park rink Wednesday night, July 7th, was won by Frank Hennessy of Forest Park Rink, in the fast time of 3:08. George Schwartz was second, with Ed. Williams third. At the start of the contest it looked as though it was to be a long race, neither man willing to set the pace, but on the second lap Schwartz jumped to the front and the others started in pursuit. Leo Grabrenner took a bad fall and threw Hennessy off his stride, which made it seem difficult for Frank to overtake Schwartz, who had gained considerable. Hennessy then gave one of the greatest sprints of his career, catching Schwartz on the last turn, and crossed the tape a few inches ahead of the sixteen-year-old wonder.

TYRRELL WINNER OF THE O'LEARY LOVING CUP.—RACE WITNESSED BY ONE OF THE LARGEST CROWDS EVER PRESENT AT THIS RINK.—SKATERS AND NEWSPAPER MEN ENTERTAINED AT A BANQUET AFTER THE RACE.

The grand final of the city championship one-mile roller race held at Luna Park Rink Thursday night, July 8th, was won by Amateur Champion Fred Tyrrell, of Forest Park Rink, after one of the greatest contests held in Chicago this season. The race, which has been going on for several weeks, has attracted great attention and four preliminaries were run in order to sift the skaters down to the real speed champions. The following skaters had qualified in the preceding semi-finals, which entitled them to compete in the grand final: Fred Tyrrell, amateur champion, Forest Park Rink; Howarth Beaumont, Goldsboro Rink; Edward Hiltwein, Rollaway Rink; Milton Caswell, Sans Sonek Rink; Walter Beatty, Alfred Miles, John Hickey, Luna Park Rink; and Carl Carlson. John McCoy was substituted for Carlson on account of Carlson being unable to start. The race was exciting and at fever heat from the first heat until the final, and the following lined up for the first heat: Fred Tyrrell, Howarth Beaumont, John McCoy, Edward Hiltwein, and at the crack of the gun Tyrrell jumped in the lead and held his position to the end, winning over Beaumont in the fast time of 2:56. The second heat had as starters, Milton Caswell, Alfred Miles, Walter Beatty, John Hickey, and was won by Milton Caswell, Walter Beatty second after a very pretty and close race in the goal time of 2:58. After a rest of twenty minutes the racers were called out for the final grind, and then the excitement raged high, there being several friends of Jim O'Leary, who always like to get down a little bet just for the excitement of the thing, began to make a pool on the race and if the fact is known several nice bets were registered. The final had as its starters four of the fastest skaters in the West, and considerable time elapsed in getting the men off the mark, as each one had his eye on the beautiful silver cup which was standing on a table at the tape. Starter Curtis finally got the men off the mark with Tyrrell away in the lead and who put up one of the grandest exhibitions of fast skating in his career, setting the pace the entire distance and winning by about twenty yards over Beaumont who finished second, putting up a fine race and who must be given much credit for the good race he ran. The time for the final was caught by three stop-watches at 2:52, but the track has not been officially surveyed and is probably a little short. But even so, it was a fast race. The following prominent men acted as officials: Allen I. Blanchard, referee; Lawrence J. Coffey, W. O'Leary, N. N. Scott, J. T. Fitzgerald, judges. Immediately after the race Mr. O'Leary took the officials and skaters for a trip through his park and after visiting everything on the grounds, returned to where the well known "Fish Murray" had prepared a seven-course sea food dinner, which will be remembered for some time to come. The opening speech was delivered by our own Larry Coffey followed by Blanchard, James O'Leary and others. That the banquet was a success is saying but little as nothing was left undone to make this event one long to be remembered and if we had a few more men like Jim O'Leary at the head of our numerous rinks throughout the country the game would be a live one for many years to come. It is the intention of the management of Luna Park to run other events of this kind during the season and whatever they run will be run right.

INTERNATIONAL SKATING UNION OF AMERICA.

There will be a meeting of the International Skating Union at the Murray Hill Hotel, New York, on July 24th, 1909, at 6 p. m. A delegation of the Western Skating Association, composed of Honorary Allen I. Blanchard and Secretary Julian T. Fitzgerald, and possibly one or two others will represent the West. The meeting will be held for the reorganization of the skating associations of the United States, in an effort to unite all the associations into one main body and run the same as the Amateur Athletic Union of America. Canada, representing the Canadian Ass'n. Western Skating Ass'n, representing the West and the Eastern Skating Ass'n representing the East will be represented by delegates, and one of the largest meetings of this kind ever held in America is looked for at the Murray Hill gathering.

Seattle, Wash., July 7, '09.
Mr. Allen I. Blanchard,
Honorary Pres. W. S. A., Chicago.

I am pleased to hear that you have succeeded in getting an artificial ice rink in Chicago. It should be the greatest skating town in the world, and will be a great place to hold the championships which I figure on winning next winter. I would like very much to make Chicago my headquarters as it is most centrally located. I may interest some parties in starting a rink here in Seattle, and would like to get a little information from you in regards to the cost of putting in a plant. Would like to hear from you as soon as possible.

Truly yours,
NORVAL BAPTIE,
Professional Ice Champion.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 6, 1909.
Allen I. Blanchard, Esq.,
Chicago, Ill.

It is needless for me to say that I am more than delighted to hear of your contemplated artificial ice rink in Chicago. It seems so near to home, and I feel confident it will be an assured success financially to your promoters. By the way, I hope you will make a bid for the figure skating contest to be held at your rink in Chicago. I have received letters from both Canada and New York requesting me to compete in this coming winter, but I would much prefer coming to Chicago, and it would create an interest in skating among the Chicago people if the contests were to be held in your city. Mr. Reeves said he would enter as a contestant if the contest were held in your city. I feel very enthusiastic over the prospective rink in Chicago, I am fitting up my own artificial ice rink for use this coming fall. Give my regards to Mr. Fitzgerald, and success to your rink. I remain,

Yours sincerely,
H. A. WHYTOK

PARK NOTES.

The work of laying the tracks of the Pittsburg railway company's lines to the Washington, Pa., park will begin soon. Much trouble occurred in getting the right of way as the lines must either cross or go under the B. & O. Company's tracks. The work will be pushed at once and direct connection will be made to the Washington Park from Washington, Pittsburg, Charlelot and a century of towns in Western Pennsylvania.

Business at the Electric Park, Waterloo, Ia., continues big. In the vaudeville theatre, week of July 4, were seen Treat's Performing Seals, Arthur Kierns, German comedian; Alice Van, character dances; and Jack Roche with songs and stories; while the outside free act was given by George and Georgia, acrobats. A special display of Paul's Fireworks was given July 4. All concessions are doing well.

Dreamland Park, Decatur, Ill., did good business July 4, but the 5th was a great disappointment owing to the downpour of rain all day. The wrestling match in the evening was the only attraction which drew well. The other parks in Decatur were disappointed as well, as they all had made great preparations for the 5th.

All records for attendance at Millbrook Park, Portsmouth, O., were broken July 4. Arthur Bertzelot's Stock Company in The Butterflies, was greeted by large audiences. The attendance at the skating and dancing pavilion was the largest on record.

Dr. J. E. Fitzgerald's Mamie and Scenic Show are doing well at Dreamland Park, Decatur, Ill. Miss Ollie Fitzgerald's stairway rolling globe act was the free attraction July 4 and 5. All concessions and shows at the park are doing nicely.

The vaudeville attractions at Highland Park, Quincy, Ill., week of July 4, were The Zerobas, The Ishikawa Jap Troupe of Acrobats, moving pictures and songs. Band concerts were also given.

The concessions at Pinehurst Park, Worcester, Mass., report excellent business. The Biscuit theatre has been open three weeks, and is showing high class vaudeville. Patronage at the theatre is excellent.

At Vallamont Park, Williamsport, Pa., week of July 4, the following vaudeville bill was given: Nelson and Leighton, J. Potter Smith, Boutin and Tillson, and Lieut. Robt. E. Eldridge.

The vaudeville bill for Paxtang Park, Harrisburg, Pa., for week of July 12, included Border and Chapman, Avade and Othello, Elizabeth Mayo, Webster and Carlton, and the Leanders.

The vaudeville season at Dorney Park, Allentown, Pa., has been opened, and the new policy is meeting with favor. E. A. Culbertson is manager of Dorney Park this season.

Miss Hutchinson, of the Orpheum Theatre, Balse, Idaho, has been engaged to sing with the Columbia Band, at Pierce Park, Balse.

The concessions at White City Park, Worcester, Mass., are doing fair business. Many new concessions are to be opened this week.

LAKESIDE PARK, DENVER.

Denver is now claiming to have the largest and most modern outdoor amusement resort between Chicago and the Pacific Coast in the New Lakeside Park. It's half million dollar "White City" which opened to the public with the inauguration of the summer season, Decoration Day.

Lakeside Park, including its 37 acre lake, has an area of 92 acres and is situated in Jefferson county, just across the line from the city and county of Denver. It is just twenty minutes' ride from the business center of Denver.

At the head of the Lakeside Realty & Amusement Company are Adolph J. Zak, Peter J. Friedrichs, John A. Kofo, Golfred Schirmer, and Frank Burt. Mr. Burt is general manager of the park.

Chief among Lakeside Park's fifty big attractions is the $100,000 Casino building. Surmounting the lofty Casino tower that rises above the main park entrance is the same 18,000 candle-power searchlight that was used at the St. Louis World's Fair.

Van Doren's Band concerts are rendered free every afternoon on a delectable. Balloon ascensions and other thrilling open air acts are used as weekly and semi-weekly features.

The resort is exceptionally well supplied with riding devices, the offerings of this kind embracing a scenic railway with over a mile of track and tunnel, shoot the chutes, a real Coney Island, roller, a gorgeous merry-go-round, a Ferris wheel, a double whirl, a celtic wave and a miniature railroad that runs the entire circumference of the lake and is the longest 22-in. gauge in the world.

Other producers of mirth and merriment in the White City are a ballroom, a summer roller rink, a novel rustic bathhouse and complete lake equipment, and enormous natatorium, a devil's palace, a third degree, an airship, a haunted swing, a pony and burro track, free picnic grounds and swings and a host of other concession shows, all permanently housed in attractive buildings.

It Costs Less

to start a Laughing Mirror Show than any other attraction of equal earning capacity—providing you buy a set of our Improved Metal Laughing Mirrors. The mirrors are made of a highly polished nickel composition. They look like the fine plate glass mirrors and they answer practically the same purpose at far less cost. This is the best amusement proposition today, either for a park or for traveling. Anyone can be successful, as it is easy to install and easy to operate. All you need is a set of mirrors and a place in which to run the show. Most any kind of a building will do, or, you can use a tent. Running expenses consist of light, ticket seller and ticket taker. The show is always ready for business and can be profitably operated even at times when there are not enough people in sight to make it worth while opening other attractions. Write today for full particulars.

FAIRS AND CARNIVALS

Agricultural and Industrial Prosperity Contributes to the Brilliant Prospects for the Midsummer and Early Autumn Fair Season. The Carnival Organizations That are Out This Season Report Excellent Business.

GREAT PARKER SHOWS.

By Elmer Walters.
It is not generally known that Mr. C. W. Parker is fast winding up his affairs at Ahilene, Kansas, with a view of building a new home for his factory at Leavenworth, in the same State.
The rapid growth of the Parker factories has made transportation an important factor and Leavenworth is considered by Mr. Parker as an ideal spot from which to operate.
The number one Parker Shows is prospering in these days of sunshine and it certainly bids fair to be a most prosperous season.
Harry Metz Johnson at Leavenworth with his great Amuse show, including Randon, the armless and legless wonder from the West Indies, and Serpentina, the bodiless girl. Mr. Metz' frame-up appeals to visitors and the air of prosperity is always in evidence under his top.
Geo. L. Brown and several of the old mads closed with the show at Leavenworth to open up another Old Mad's Convention at Kansas City. Mr. Chapman of the Home Show Print, Atchison, was a caller and reports good prospects for his plant.
Maurice Cunningham and the writer renewed old acquaintances at Leavenworth. Maurice is a good scout and deserves the success he is enjoying in that city.
The State of Iowa looks pretty good to the Parker Shows this season when Ottumwa, Iowa, is included. The baseball association under whose auspices we played in that city proved themselves a congenial set of co-workers and the public found time to visit us without seeking trading stamps in return.
"Rusty" Owen, an Ottumwa product, an all round good fellow and ball player of note, returned from the California League while we played there.
He was like a small boy just out of school when on the carnival grounds and he broke up several baby rick manager's, knocking down the baby's for so much per, until Artie, the dodger, was reached, he failed to put them over the plate to Artie and was benched for wildness. The Courier boys of that city, both in the business as well as the editorial department, proved to be a congenial set of gentlemen and several press parties resulted. James Patterson, of the Patterson carnival, was a caller in this city, and expressed admiration for the showing we made. The Patterson show being only twenty five miles distant, Mr. Kennedy, our generalissimo, returned the visit, and was entertained by Mr. Patterson. The writer found many friends in Ottumwa, of years standing, including J. Frank Lowry, an old circus agent. Frank now deals in opera house and airdome pass-out checks, and incidentally makes new screens in the summertime to keep the flies from molesting his tenants, and he has many of them. Joseph Provdski, an old dramatic advance agent, is also located at Ottumwa. Joe is traveling a beat for the city; he pulls the box and talks to the screen, but he failed to make a record for himself during our stay, which speaks well for our crowd. A report that it rained on us while tearing down at Ottumwa is erroneous. We escaped a drenching there and was permitted to make our long haul with only pleasant recollections of a great town.

NED HATHAWAY DEAD.

Ned Hathaway, one of the oldest and best known balloon men in the country, and said to be the first man to ride a trapeze attached to a balloon, passed away at the Home of Incurables in Chicago, June 20.

FAIR CELEBRATES SEMI-CENTEN- NIAL.

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Fillmore County Agricultural Society will be celebrated with this year's fair, which will be held at Preston, Minn., August 31-Sept. 3. The management is making elaborate preparations for this season's event, and claims that it will be one of the biggest of county fairs ever held. As has been the custom for the past

THE BLUE GRASS FAIR.

It is to the interest of five concession men to get busy with the big Blue Grass Fair, which comes off at Lexington, Ky., the week of August 9-14. This is one of the very best fairs in the entire country and concession men always make money here. Privileges are now advertised for sale.

Among the features of the fair are a Thousand Dollar Saddle Stake which is attracting national attention, a Thousand Dollar race for two-year-old trotters, a thoroughbred show which alone carries premiums worth over $10,000 and at which will be seen the great stallion Rock Sand, imported by Mr. August Belmont at a cost of $150,000; splendid trotting and running races daily, more than thirty thousand dollars in premiums, a magnificent program of shows and free acts, Kopp's Band, and a hundred other things too numerous to mention.

The Blue Grass Fair really opens Sunday, when a band concert will be given. On Monday there will be an unexcelled program of automobile races and from then on it continues six days and nights. A band concert and a big program of free acts every night serve to attract large crowds to the grounds. Secretary Tomett Shouse, who should be addressed at Lexington, Ky., will give prompt and courteous attention to all inquiries. He states that only a few of the concessions have thus far been sold. A great opportunity awaits all who go to Lexington.

four years, a street carnival will be held in connection with the fair, the attractions being furnished by the Great Patterson Shows. Frank Wash is secretary.

CARNIVAL NOTES.

The Goodell Shows, this week at Sheffield, Ill., are drawing well. The outfit has been enlarged so as to require five cars to transport the paraphernalia. The attractions with the show are: Oodell's Theaterium, Ragle Alley, Gay Coons from Alabama, Temple of Mirth, Big Show Goliath, Monster Snake, Wallace's Penny Arcade, Electric Theatre, Senon, the Educated Horse, Nay's Merry-go-round, Dunbar's Goat Show, Heber's Ferris Wheel, Dare Devil Otto in leap the gap; Robinson's Billboard Band, and sixteen concessions. The executive staff is as follows: C. M. Goodell, manager; J. H. Roberts, general agent; Teddy Reed, chief announcer; Will Young, bilposter; Bruce Fuller, master mechanle; H. G. Robinson, band master; Fred S. Reed, chief electrician; Frank O. Muchridge, free attractions, and M. V. Wallace, press representative. Little Virginia Goodell is the show's mascot.

Juvenal and Ramney's Combined Shows are in the 15th week of the season, playing through Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. Business is reported good. The company consists of the following shows: Roman Stadium, Electric Theatre, Hixland, Mistris, Major, the big snake; Biffel's Animal Show, Power's Ruby Glass Stand, Mme. Palmer, palmist, Power's Crystal Slipper Stand, High Striker, novelties, high diver, etc., also band of eight pieces and two free attractions.

The Bay City, Mich., Home Coming had week of July 4th was the biggest and most successful celebration ever held in the city. The city was packed with visitors throughout the week. Many thousands of dollars was spent for decorations, bands and fireworks. The only free attraction engaged was Lionel Legare's Mammoth Spiral Tower Act.

Westcott's United Shows played Oswatimie, Mo., June 28-July 3, under the auspices of the fire department, closing the week with a big celebration. Jumping from there to Paola, Kan., they filled a second celebration July 5, under the auspices of the Merchants, closing the week at Hardin, Mo.

Mrs. Jack C. LeRoy, professionally known as Audrey E. Rich, late leading soprano with Mr's New Husband Co., is just recovering from an operation for appendicitis at her home at Oak Hill, Ill. Her husband, Jack LeRoy, is en route with the rest Robinson Show.

The Nebraska City Driving Park Association, at Nebraska City, Neb., will hold a three days meet August 31-Sept. 2. The meet will be held at the Association's new grounds. F. L. Jackson is secretary.

Stanley J. Roberts, late of J. Frank Hatch Shows, has taken charge of Curran and McCue Shows, which will hereafter be known as the Ford City Amusement Company.

One of Kilpatrick's portable Human Roulette Wheels joined the Parker Carnival Company, at Bloomington, Ill., July 3, for the son.

Elizabeth Wilson joined the Lachman Greater Shows at Horton, Kan., July 7. Her mother and two brothers are with this company.

Rialdo, club juggler, hand balancer and novelty acrobat, is in his fifty-fourth week with Juvenal's Stadium Shows.

CELEBRATION A SUCCESS.

The celebration given at Mayfield, Ky., by the West Kentucky Fair Association, July 1-3, was the most successful in its history. Secretary H. C. Albritton deserves credit for handling the event so well. The races were good and attendance large. The annual fair will take place four days in September, and prospects were never better for a big meet.

CALIFORNIA FRANK'S WILD WEST

California Frank has organized a wild west show which is one of the best that has ever been put together. California Frank is from Tulare county, California, where he spent several years as a compuncher and broncho buster. He was also deputy sheriff and deputy marshal in that country for six years. Later he went into the show business and served time with all the large wild west shows in the United States. He has no doubt profited by the experience and should succeed with his new enterprise.

The show opened at the Hippodrome, Philadelphia, Pa., July 5, and played to capacity business.

The roster includes California Frank (C. F. Harley) owner and general manager; G. D. Feurst, superintendent; Wayne Bousley, chief

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

THE Frank P. Spellman Shows SEASON 1909

PLAYING AMERICA'S GREATEST STATE FAIRS AND EXPOSITIONS

All Week and Two-Week Stands, Presenting all that is Meritorious in the Amusement Field.

NEW SHOWS-- NEW FRONTS HONEST METHODS

Playing Only the Following Big Cities:

- CINCINNATI, OHIO.
- LEXINGTON, KY.
- CLEVELAND, OHIO.
- TOLEDO, OHIO.
- COLUMBUS, OHIO.
- DETROIT, MICH.
- LOUISVILLE, KY.
- NASHVILLE, TENN.
- MEMPHIS, TENN.
- BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
- MONTGOMERY, ALA.
- MOBILE, ALA.
- SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.
- NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The above circuit comprises the biggest and best State Fairs ever organized by any one man or set of men in the United States, with no exception. Absolute consecutive time, four months' consecutive work; no chance of failure. Frank P. Spellman will handle all the free acts, percentage shows, etc., on this circuit, no shows being booked independent. The Frank P. Spellman Shows will carry three hundred people, special train of 15 cars, every modern convenience, and, by far, the largest and most advanced line of shows the world has ever seen.

ALWAYS WANT TO HEAR FROM ANYTHING THAT IS NEW AND NOVEL FOR THIS CIRCUIT. IF YOU HAVE A NEW SHOW, I WILL EITHER BUY IT OUTRIGHT OR PAY YOU A FLAT GUARANTEE FOR SAME, BUT IT MUST BE NEW.

A WORD TO CONCESSIONS—THIS IS THE BEST CIRCUIT OF FAIRS AND EXPOSITIONS IN THE WORLD, and will get you the money. Bear this fact in mind: No Concessions are carried with the Spellman Shows; you must do your business direct with the local secretary of each State Fair; if you don't know their addresses, I will gladly furnish same, or any other information that will benefit the circuit.

A Word to the Wise—You will notice that every fair that played the Frank P. Spellman Shows last season has re-engaged them for 1909, and a few added new Real Big Ones that did not have them last season have them this year.

It takes square dealing and honest methods to get the confidence of the above prominent fair secretaries and directors. The same treatment is accorded to every member of the Spellman Shows, whether he be a star or a small employe, and no exception to any one, but for the benefit of a few wise ones, will say: Don't tell us one thing and do another; tell us what you have, and do what you say you will do, and you will have a very pleasant and successful season; but if you come on, and do like a few grafters did last season, and think that you are wiser than the other people and resort to dishonest methods in your business, you will meet the same fate that a few of them did with me last year. GRIFT AND DISHONEST METHODS DO NOT GO WITH THIS SHOW.

Address all communications to THE SPELLMAN SHOWS, FRANK P. SPELLMAN, Gen. Mgr., En Route.

COHEN CLAIN'S THE CLIMAX

For some time past there have been quiet rumors that Meyer Cohen, of song writing fame, had some interest in The Climax. The story runs that Cohen suggested the theme to Walter N. Lawrence, the latter told Weber, and according to the story, these gentlemen called in Edward N. Locke to shape it into a play. The author is in the attorney's hands now.

TANGUAY WITH FOLLIES

Eva Tanguay replaced Norah Bayes this week in The Follies of 1909. Different reasons are assigned for Miss Bayes' withdrawal. Miss Tanguay will not go to Europe this summer.

Gertude Hoffman arrived from Europe last week to open at Hammerstein's.

John Considine left no will. The personal estate amounts to $15,000, realty unknown at this time.

Grace LaRue has returned from England. The roof garden atop the Astor Hotel is now open.

Dallas Wolford will star next season in a new farce comedy.

Rumor has it that Sam Weller will assume the general press work for the Shuberts next season.

MARGUERITE CLARKE TO STAR

Little Marguerite Clarke now playing in The Beauty Spot, leaves August 16 to play Peter Pan in stock at the Suburban Gardens, St. Louis.

The Week in Chicago

The Hermann Lieb Players have closed their season at the Birch Temple on account of a death of applicants at the box office willing to exchange coin for seats.

H. C. Cummins has been busy since away last year painting scenery. He took the first opportunity to renew acquaintance with the local office of The Billboard.

Joe Callis, of The Girl in Red Amusement Co., writes from Danville, Ill., that he is looking for the rest of the season and is making some good contracts.

Sam Edwards, who is playing the role of Lewellyn in The Blue Mouse, received a telegram just before the holiday matinee, July 5th, announcing the death of his brother, Maze Edwards, in Plainfield, N. J.

Lotta Fausthus been offered an opportunity to star in The Girl Behind the Counter, which will be one of the Shuberts' early productions for the western territory.

J. Hartley Manners is the author of The Mouse Trap, in which Mabel Barrison will be starred next season.

J. G. Condemnan has gone to New York on business. He will remain away during the summer months and in consequence the Julian Theatre will be closed until he returns. The Julian will open in the fall and will give the same class of vaudeville as before.

B. E. Gregory, director of amusements at the Minnesota State Fair, was in Chicago last week.

E. A. Warren, well known in amusement circles, announces that he will put out at least one company in A Race for a Widow. The cast will contain eight people and the show will open about the first of September, playing the houses in the middle West. He has a fine line of paper and ought to come away with the money.

The Follies of the Day will be at the Great Northern Theatre some time in August.

Stutzman and May, in the Soap Peddler, by Harry L. Newton, are playing Keith and Proctor time, and report a most successful season thus far.

T. Perry, of Sidello's Comedy Black Art Co., reports that they are billed for the next two weeks in Chicago.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Welsh Brothers' Circus had a big opening on the 5th of July at a new location, and business was enormous at night. The success of this venture, playing the lots in and around Philadelphia, can be traced to the fact that the show is booked up just right, and the performance given is much better than one would expect for the low prices of admission.

After reading the Declaration of Independence at the Chestnut Street Theatre, at both performances on July 5th, William Ingersoll, the leading man of the Orpheum Players, went on his vacation. He will make a long tour in his motor car and will return in September to resume his old position. Miss Marlon Barney, the leading lady of the organization, is also taking a much needed rest, but will report for duty the latter part of August.

Harry Jordan, local manager for R. F. Keith, has had a severe spell of illness, but as he was taken at once to Maine, he is now convalescing rapidly and will soon be strong and hearty again. The illness was a break down, after a long season's work. Mr. Jordan is always on the job and his intense devotion to the theatre was responsible for his illness.

The Passmore Thomas Orchestra will remain at Willow Grove Park until July 11, when Victor Herbert and his Orchestra will begin an engagement.

A slight fire in one of our moving picture houses last week thoroughly tested the safety of those places. Although the audience had to leave by the rear exits they got out quickly and with safety. The Board of Inspectors will, however, make all of the smaller houses provide more exits.

Harry W. Palmer, of Oneonta, N. Y., met with a serious accident while making a balloon ascension in this city on July 5. The ascent took place from Frankford, one of our suburbs. The balloon was of the hot air type and as soon as it rose in the air it was evident that there was something wrong with it. In endeavoring to arrange the guide ropes Palmer made a mistake and cut loose the parachute before the balloon was at a great height. The result was that it did not open and Palmer lit on a stack of cannon balls in the Frankford Arsenal. These balls, which were used during the Civil War, had been piled in the yard to be eventually sold for scrap iron. When attendants from the Arsenal reached the pile they thought that Palmer had been instantly killed but upon examination it was found that he was still alive. There being a hospital on the grounds he got instant medical attention. His right leg and left arm are fractured, and he is a mass of cuts and bruises. He was taken to the Frankford Hospital later, and the physicians there state that unless there are some inward injuries he will recover. He bore the shock with heroism and asked the doctors to patch him up quickly as he was scheduled for another ascension in a few weeks. Palmer is 28 years of age and has been a locomotive engineer for years. He has made many parachute drops and this is the first aerial accident that he has had.

For the next thirty days we offer the REMODELED TONOPHONE, that plays thousands of tunes from cheap Perfected Paper Music Rolls, and is a 500% better instrument than the old style Tonophone, at a special reduced price, that makes it the most astonishing piano bargain on record.

For belly-hoo or luscious use this instrument will attract larger audiences and enable you to cut out the expense of musicians.

You can pay for it on terms less than musicians' hire; and afterward, your music will cost you practically nothing.

reflection of himself and, bling!—there is a puff of smoke, and leeman and mirrored self have vanished. With his own touch he sent himself the way of all other things he had placed hand upon that fatal morning, and the Egyptian pendant went with him.

THE SECRET OF THE LOCKET. A woman, the wife of a rich man, Thomas Underwood, is driven to despair by the nagging of her husband's relatives at home and, finding no relief at her husband's hands, finally leaves with her little girl, Mary. The struggle with the world is harder than she realized; the last dire poverty and hunger are the portion of mother and child. Mrs. Underwood receives an offer for work. Alas, it will be sixteen days before the position is open. Her child may starve meanwhile. She has an idea. She pawns the little one, intending to redeem her in thirty days, in the interim she can live on the money thus secured.

She falls from starvation at the door of a restaurant, and dies, without recovering consciousness, in a hospital. There is no clue to the identity of the mother, save a picture in a locket which the Jewish pawnbroker has secured.

The Jew keeps and cares for the child. Sixteen years later the child's father's home is burglarized and the thief attempts to pawn with the old Jew a locket he had secured there. In the locket is a picture of the same woman who pawned the little girl with him years before. Through this the child is restored to its parent, the Jew nobly refusing to accept even a cent from the father in commemoration of his years of care for the girl. He had supported the child through sheer love for her.

The story is fascinating; it is full of powerful scenes and situations and has been adequately told in the pictorial pantomime.

CAUGHT BY THE COUPON CRAZE.—For months Bilkins had been confronted by the numerous coupon signs in the cigar store where he traded, yet paid no attention to them. The gifts, alluringly exhibited, to go with so many coupons, failed to attract his notice. The offers of coupons made by the obliging clerks whenever he made a purchase, he scorned. He would have no coupons, didn't want to be bothered with them.

One fatal day, however, Bilkins had his wife with him when he bought some cigars. She saw a beautiful lamp among the gifts for coupons, and that was the beginning of Bilkins' undoing. She urged him to get coupons and save them. She wanted that lamp and wanted it without delay. Bilkins began to get coupons at once, presently he had the craze in all its virulence. He bought cigars for the sake of coupons. He stacked his house with them. He bought for his friends. He would use money for no other purpose. Theatres were eliminated from the family's horizon. Bilkins must buy cigars to secure more coupons.

When Bilkins lost coupons or they were blown away by the wind he forgot everything else but to recover the little green billets, even though the chase led him, splash, into a pool of water. If he lost the cigars while he was chasing, what mattered it? He had the coupons.

He smoked himself blue in the face, he could no longer look at a tobacco sign, but still he bought. At last the glad day arrived. He had the necessary 500 coupons and the $7.98 lamp was escorted home in triumph. It was given a place of honor on the parlor table. The family raved over it. Their excitement ran high. Then it happened. Bilkins was waving his arms in enthusiastic description, the lamp was in the way; over it went, and then the firemen came. When they departed Bilkins stood in the midst of a wrecked home—stood and mourned. Sadly he gazed, and as he gazed the friend for whom he had bought so many cigars arrived to sympathize. He offered Bilkins a cigar—Bilkins, who had just been brought to such ruin through cigars. Can you imagine how he felt? It was too much for Bilkins.

ing charms of Estelle Morse, during a house party at his residence. From that evening on, he becomes her slave to the neglect of his own devoted wife and child. Mrs. Edmonds tries hard to dissemble and keep her sorrow from the little one, but he too misses the society of papa, his little romps with him, and his good night kiss on going to bed, until at last he is constrained to write papa a note, complaining of his neglect. The baby's innocent mischievous almost breaks mamma's heart, for he feels that her husband is being weaned away by some unknown power. Robert is simply oblivious to all sense of duty, through this blinding fascination, and would have cast aside wife, child and all things sacred for this woman, and not Jack Hudson, his dearest friend, stepped in, and resolved to save him at all hazards. Jack learns of Robert's intention to elope with the other woman, and calls on her just after Robert has gone to get his suitcase, preparatory to departure. Jack steps boldly into the affair and during Robert's absence, becomes so ardently carressing in speech and action, that she, the most feckle of her sex, forgets Robert and is now Jack's apparent affianced. At this moment Robert returns ready for flight, but at once realizes the change. Crestfallen, he returns home, where he finds baby's letter on the table. The child's fearful, mute appeal awakens him from his lethargy, and we leave him with the little fellow clasped to his breast, while the mother, unseen by him, views the spectacle from the staircase.

TENDER HEARTS.—A pretty little pastoral beautifully set and admirably acted. It shows how one slight, thoughtless action may discover the true nature of a man, and dash to atoms his fondest hopes. Nellie's hand is sought by a pair of swains. One is a simple farmer lad, while the other is a handsome, dressy chap, who has lived in the city. As appearances are everything, the city chap is the favored one, until one day a hunter shoots a dove, which he carries wounded in the road. Nellie witnesses this occurrence with grieved heart, but the worst comes when her dandy suitor passes, sees the bird and kicks it aside. A moment later the farmer boy approaches, and picking up the dove, carries it carressingly away in his straw hat. This decides her. The simple lad wins the day.

"SALOME CRAZE."—This picture shows a Turkish prince at Riverview Park demonstrating the peculiar power of a certain liquid he has recently discovered. He has an old-looking spraying device, in which he puts the liquid. He then sprays it upon the head and shoulders of his subjects upon the platform and they immediately start to perform the Salome dance.

The fun is at its height when a small boy sneezes through the crowd to see the sight. He decides that he must have the machine and waits around until an opportunity presents itself, then steals it.

The Turk soon discovers his loss and frantically rushes after the boy, who easily eludes his pursuer by dodging through the crowd.

He then sprays the liquid on everyone whom he meets, and it is most laughable to see these people moving along the street "doing" the Salome.

The boy is enjoying himself hugely, when up comes the Turk. As he is about to take the machine from the boy, he turns it upon the surprised Turk, who immediately starts to do the Salome, much to the amusement of the small boy and to those looking on.

"FLIRTATION COLLAR."—This is a very funny story of a young lady who has a very annoying experience with her collar.

While walking along the street her collar becomes very tight and uncomfortable. As she tries to adjust it the little side jerk she gives her head is very similar to what a coquettish young girl might do when trying to flirt. Consequently, as she is a very attractive young lass, she is soon being followed and accosted by a number of men, both young and old.

Of course she gives them the "icy freeze," but nevertheless the persistency of the male flirts become so embarrassing that she tries to elude them and becomes so exhausted, that she finally sinks down on a bench in the park.

She is hardly seated before a young man is at her side. Good works in many guises, and this chance meeting proves love at first sight.

THE ESCAPE FROM ANDERSONVILLE.—This is a thrilling story of the escape of six prisoners from Andersonville prison, as told by one of them. The six were natives of the same little Massachusetts village. Belling in different regiments they became widely separated, only to meet again as fellow prisoners in the pen.

Scene 1—Federal prisoners in the stockade. The first scene opens with a view of a corner of the stockade that surrounded the land comprising the prison. Here, stretched out under the sweltering sun of a July day, are little bands of Federal prisoners with whom the story deals. Scene 2—The Tunnel. Scene 3—Liberty at Last. Scene 4—The Flight Through the Swamp. Scene 5—A Northern Sympathizer. Scene 6—The Stolen Locomotive. Scene 7—The Pursuit. Scene 8—The Confederate Engine Breaks Down. Scene 9—Orders to Blow up the Trestle Before the Fugitives. Scene 10—A Narrow Escape. Scene 11—Ten Days Later—Home at Last.

VITAGRAPH.

THE COBBLER AND THE CALIPH.—Mustapha, a cobbler, is discontent with life and tired of his work. He envies the Caliph, who passes down the street with a procession. A wicked dervish, passing along, offers him a wishing ring in exchange for a pair of shoes. By means of this ring any wish can be gratified. Mustapha takes the ring and wishes himself Caliph. He is immediately transformed to that individual and for a while enjoys life, but soon becomes mixed up in court intrigues, murders and family troubles with the ladies of his harem. Omit, a desperate man, whom he has offended, starts a conspiracy and tries to murder him. He manages to escape in his night clothes and, as he is fleeing for his life, opportunely meets the dervish, to whom he begs for help. The dervish takes the ring and wishes the Caliph back to a cobbler again. Back to his original vocation, he sits contentedly working at his bench, never wishing to be a Caliph.

SKIING TOURNAMENT AT ISIEPHEUNG, MICH.—The first scene shows the contestants polishing their skis, preparing for their jumps. After they are ready they start one at a time down an incline to gather momentum and then shoot upward into space, their jumps being measured after they are through. The measurements are for height and distance. A very interesting winter scene.

THE MAGIC FOUNTAIN MEN.—The pen draws sketches and change themselves slowly. First, Napoleon is drawn, this evolves into Emperor William, who in turn changes to King Edward, wearing a silk hat and smoking a cigar. This turns into a fine likeness of the Father of Our Country, George Washington. Then the smoking lamp on a pedestal changes itself into a young lady in one of the new style dresses and a large hat.

Then there is a warning to engaged couples; the duke and his girl have the kissing habit and finally turn into a pair of ducks. Then a flower pot is drawn and a little package of seeds. The seeds fall into the flower pot, a watering can is drawn, then raises up and the water pours out and sprinkles the earth in the pot. The sun comes out and its rays cause the seeds to sprout and in a few seconds a beautiful lily is grown.

The last sketch is just a circle, which changes shape until it becomes a picture of Bridget, the kitchen queen. The features then undergo a series of wonderful changes and, although it remains a complete picture throughout, finally turns into a society queen wearing a fashionable peach basket hat.

Manager Fisher expects to begin repairs immediately.

The Warrens of Virginia was given last week by both the Franklin Square Stock Company and Poll's Stock Company, at Worcester, Mass. There has been much comment as to which company was the best, and last was known as comparison week. If appliances and crowded houses are any criterion of appreciation, it is a problem to solve, as to which company is the best. The fact that the companies were competing, every player was up on lines and business, and the scenic effects were great. Patrons of Poll's house went to see the Franklin Square Company, and vice versa. Crowded houses were in evidence at every performance.

The Alhambra Stock Company, at the Alhambra Theatre, Chicago, Ill., is now in its eleventh week, and business continues big. All the big royalty melodramas are played. The company numbers twenty-eight people, besides two scenic artists. Sam Morris is stage director; Heulah Poynter, leading lady, and Nell Henderson, leading man. This week Miss Poynter is appearing in her own play, Lena Rivers, which will be followed by The Great Hubby. Stock will continue at the Alhambra next season, dispensing entirely with road shows.

The Bennett Hamilton Company played return dates at Woodstock, Vt., July 12-14, and drew large audiences.

Manager Sparks, of the Lillian Mar Company, now playing the Aldome Circuit through Kansas and Oklahoma, reports business fine. Manager Sparks has five companies now playing this circuit, and all are doing well. The roster of the Lillian Mar Company has remained unchanged since the opening, and includes Ray Benson, Sidney Morris, Jack Simmons, Hilly Wise, Sam C. Major, Eddy Foy, Mae Derran and Leon Griggs.

Secret Service was the bill presented by the Murlimer Snow Stock Company, at Albany, N. Y., the week of July 5, and Manager John T. Pearsall, of the company, announced that the remaining two plays to be presented before the company closes will be a choice from The Sawaw Man, Arizona, in the Bishop's Carriage Salomy Jane and Sherlock Holmes. Among the new members of the company are Richard Lyle, an Albany Stock favorite, Miss Jimmie Jiminton and Beasle Davis, late of the Illinois forces.

Miss Agnes Finlay, one of the most popular principals in the Alborn Opera Company, now at the National Theatre, Washington, was the guest last week of Miss Margie Ramey, on South Royal street, Alexandria, Va. Miss Finlay returned to the Alborn Company this week, playing her old part in "The Belle of New York."

E. Sardis Lawrence, manager of the Patcon Stock Company, featuring Rachel May Clark, has had new scenery painted by the Kansas City Scenic Company, and is getting his company in shape for the winter's stock work, which begins in September. Only a few changes in the cast will be made.

The Goodman-Hatchler Court Theatre (R. L. Moore, mgr.) Stock Co. at Wheeling, W. Va., presented Divorcena in their usual high class summer week of July 5 to very good attendance. In the Bishop's Carriage, 12-17.

The Whyte Dramatic Company is doing well at the Aldome, Atchison, Kans.; capacity business is the rule.

EMPIRE DRAMATIC COMPANY.

The Empire Dramatic Company is now in the fifth week of the summer season, and business continues good. Miss Zone is featured with the company. A very successful week was just concluded at Crawfordsville, Ill., and Manager Fenn says that the town is a real live one, with real airdomes and real managers.

The roster of the company is as follows: 1. Fenn, manager; Chas. Inskip, director and leading man; Doida Zone, feature soloist; Nettle Davenport, Ethel DeLancey, J. Henry King, G. C. Roberson, Franklin Hall, Howard Holston, G. L. Howard, Max Kluger and Baby Frances. The vaudeville features are Miss Zone, Crawford and DeLancey, Franklin Hall, Kluger, the magician, and Howard and Holston. All plays are owned and controlled exclusively by the company. The company has five more weeks of the summer season, then a three weeks' lay-off and start rehearsals for the three one-night attractions which Manager Fenn will have out the coming season.

Notes of the Airdomes

Chas. F. Crump, owner of the Palace Theatre, Columbus, Ind., has just completed the erection of an airdome on Fourth street, that city. Vaudeville and moving pictures, with occasional engagements of stock companies will be the policy. The seating capacity of the house is 400.

Louis Pike has accepted a position as pianist at the Aldome Theatre, Elwood, Ind.

The Alliance (O.) Open Air Theatre was opened to the public July 1.

Berlin Letter

he or she will never know what to do with his hands and feet and appear perfectly clumsy. It is wrong to suppose that only amateurs would show up badly under such conditions. The experienced actor only knows better how to help himself, but he has to have accessories that will also help him. During the great monologue scene the stake was clean empty and Mabel did not care, nor was he prepared to pose as the recitator would. To change his position he advanced to the front of the stage and put one foot upon the prompter's box.

The thing may be considered sure if Max Reinhardt ever again comes to Munich, it will not be to a reform-theatre. Kurt Kraatz the author of quite a number of very successful comedies, which have been adapted for the American stage, has enriched this sort of stage literature with a new work under the name "The Three Lieutenants." Its premiere happened in the Berlin "Komische Oper" and the success was no outspoken that it is in for a good long run. The piece is in Kraatz' usual happy vein, lively from start to finish, interesting development and more than entertaining characters, including the American soldier-friend, Lieutenants without money, old maids, in this case three of a very young German naval cadet and a Yankee, who insists on taking the grand cadet for an elevator boy. It is said that the American rights for the production have already been sold and arrangements made to rewrite the comedy for the production in the United States.

Dr. M. Altherl, the well known former opera singer and later teacher of singing, has undertaken to furnish popular opera for Berlin in the old Belle Alliance Theatre, now named the "Berlin Up-street Theatre." Dr. Altherl leased the house for three years and is now busy round up an acceptable ensemble. His plans are not the production of new operas, but revival of old international favorites those operas in whom the bel canto, the flow of melody, is best developed. The prospectus names works of Lortzing, Flotow, Marschner, Verdi, of course, Donizetti, Bizet, etc. Some of the older operas which have not been given in years are to be brought out, amongst them "Lucia di Borga," by Donizetti; "Intra," by Flotow; some operas of Bellini and Halévy, also by Giordano.

Paris Letter

THE BERTON PLAY.

"La Rencontre," (The Meeting) by Berton, which I described in last week's letter to The Billboard, is more of a French play than I thought at the time, having only real accounts of it—the first performance, then being a matter of the future. I've seen it now and can say that it is Parisian all right enough, spicy and all that. The story runs and a prominent politician, on the eve of becoming Prime Minister, has been married four years to Renee, a pretty, artificial woman whom he has ceased to love. An aristocrat by birth, she despised Serval's democratic origin, and takes no interest in his political career beyond the fact that his position means power and social influence. Her friend, Camille de Lancy, comes upon the scene, a high-minded, generous woman, who has sacrificed her fortune to her colonial husband to save his mother from the knowledge of her son's disgrace. This fortune she is trying to regain through a lawsuit, her husband having died, leaving the money to his mistress.

Camille is staying with the Servals at their country house when Serval is called to town, and Renee, after his departure, opens the door of her room to De Brovannes, a friend of Serval's, this being seen by Camille. At this instant, Serval returns unexpectedly. Camille, to save Renee, detains Serval, and ultimately falls into his arms. She no longer has the same reasons for withholding her love from Serval. A painful scene ensues in the following act between the two women, the baseness of Renee's nature being shown in a stronger light than ever. Camille, who could disclose Renee's guilt and be free to marry Serval, decides to keep her secret and allow Serval to believe a divorce to be impossible because Renee would never consent to it, and that the fault is solely on his side. Serval and Camille separate, to meet six months later when Renee is seen in her true colors and Camille becomes Serval's wife.

The three acts of the beginning are strongly written, but the fourth act—the Waterloo of so many playwrights—collapses a bit.

FETE DE NEULLY.

For more than a week now, the Avenue de Neully almost two miles long, has been the scene of a street carnival called the Fete de Neully. On both sides of the street, which is tremendously wide, being a continuation of the Champs Elysees and the Avenue de la Grande Arce, are to be found scores and scores of the side shows familiar to Americans at street fairs, and daily the street is packed.

WARNER'S ROLE.

Lucien Guilty, perhaps the best of all French actors, has left Paris for London. There he has just appeared in "L'Assommoir," (The Hudgen) taking the role of the late Charles Warren in English this play was known as "Drink." In Paris, Guilty had made a big hit in the piece, and it is expected that he will repeat in London.

OTERO SUES.

Mlle. Otero, the pretty dancer whose picture has appeared more than once in The Billboard, has been given $40 damages against a newspaper. The paper in question published the alleged memoirs of the dancer and she claimed that they were not authentic. She asked for $1,000.

LUNA PARK HUMS.

I am told at Luna Park that records are being broken one after the other. That the second week beat the first, the third beat the second, and the fourth—in spite of unseasonable weather—had beaten the third. The manager of the big cafe-restaurant inside the grounds also owns the Cafe de Paris on the Avenue de la Grande Arce. He said, after seeing the big success of Luna:

"No Frenchman could do anything like this, his feet are too cold. He'd be too afraid he'd lose something if it takes an American to do big things, every time. If he loses he smiles and tries again. The Frenchman would cut his throat or jump off the bridge."

SOME NOTES.

Princess Barstoff, Russian singer, and La Navarro, a Spanish dancer, are new members of the Bill at the Olympia.

Miss Margaret Roe, whose pictures and stories have made her so well known to readers of the New York Telegraph, was married in London, June 14th to Roy W. Howard, General News Manager of the United Press Association. They are now in Paris. They return to London within a week after which they go to Berlin for a few days then return to New York.

The third week's figures at Luna Park were 132,000 visitors, 11,947 being holders of season tickets.

The Trio Williams, comedy acrobatic act, is making good at the Etolle-Palace. The Ashbury baby acrobats likewise are a go. Alton and Lytton are getting much applause.

Miss Sabel continues to deliver the goods at the Cigale.

"America" is the title of an acrobatic act originated by the Four Vincents, now playing at the Etolle-Palace.

At the Theatre Cluny this week the premiere of "L'Orphelin des Hautes," (The Orphan of the Markets) a spectacle in five acts, was given. It was fairly well received.

On the days of June 23, 24, 25 and so on, when the people in the eastern half of the United States were sweltering and some of them dying in the heat, Paris was in overcoats. It was cold as the mischief and such places as the Jardin de Paris, Ambassadors and so on were saying bad things about the weather man and the frost in the air.

Paris has caught it at last! "Les Veux Joyeux" (The Merry Widows) is the title of a special chorus number at the Cigale. At the Apollo, the tuneful operetta is still drawing the crowds.

BUFFALO, N. Y.

At the Golden Palace Theatre, a refined picture house, a baby prize contest was held, 28 July 10, in conjunction with the moving pictures. Twelve reels are used here each week, which are changed daily.

Randall Brothers' Big Plantation Show is well framed up and drawing the crowds at the Expo. A band, orchestra and a talented company of negro minstrels make up the show, one of the best on the Midway.

A partial return to old time customs in the attractions was made by the Shipman Players at the Cigale, by having one of the company sing between the acts. Eleanor Wisdom acquitted herself in popular songs, winning much applause.

Zel De-Kea, a strange specimen of humanity, who was rescued from one of Geronimo's bands of Indians, and of which little is known, is the headliner with Holstein and Saunster's World of Wonders. She is known in private life as Zella De Coupe, and Manager Coupe is well pleased with business at the Mid-Summer Expo.

Shea's Bill Fourth of July week was Emma Janvier, Alexander and Scott, Francini, Oloms and Pige, Julius McVicker and Co., in a Couple of Cocktails; The Mosler Brothers, Horace Porter, The Hess Sisters, moving pictures, and Bert Leslie in Hogan in Society.

With the Teak and Garden closed, two more of Buffalo's theatres are dark for a short time. The others open are doing well and providing good summer shows. The stock companies at the Star and Lyric announce The Truth, given by the Bonstelle Co., and The Girl of the Golden West, by the Shipman Players. The Lafayette is putting up first-class burlesque and vaudeville.

The Star Theatre will have a complete overhauling before the regular season opens. The stock season having opened one month earlier than usual, the Bonstelle Company will close the last of July, and for the remaining four weeks request plays will be in order. The first will be The Strata, with Captain Jinks to follow.

All the summer resorts are in full blast. Manager MacBroom celebrated the Fourth and week with fireworks displays and the Fire Marriottes, Leroy and Lavanson, Linta and Paul, three big free acts. Crystal Beach had fireworks and a good working Midway. Fort Erie Beach had the Wannabago Indians and kindred attractions.

Of all concessions on the Expo, Midway, Orchestra Hall, managed by the North Tennesse Musical Co., is giving the most delightful concerts, with their full band and concert orchestras. Big crowds are always assembled and the company are making a big success. Playing all the popular airs of the day they are the equal of the best bands traveling, and please the patrons.

Winning Brothers' Circus has come and gone. July 2 was an ideal circus day, and the great parade was one of the best seen in the streets of the big village. The show, under the big top was in a class by itself, and carried out the name "World's Greatest." J. J. Brady, press agent of the World's Greatest, was at one time manager of the old Court Street Theatre in its palmy days, before he changed from the sock and buskin to sawdust and peanuts.

Dave Devil Schreyer is now manager of the Mid-Summer Exposition, where mirth and melody reign. The Big Otto Show, Fighting the Flames, The Great Train Robbery, The Girl in Red, Quintard's Performing Horses, Mile, De-Lous Mile Paula, and other attractions are there seen. The Expo will remain open all season.

Will Edwards and Company, rapid fire illusionists, including The La Follettes, started from here 12, opening at the Academy with four people, presenting a series of original magical experiments and illusionary effects. Their tour will carry them through Ontario, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, covering a long season of nine weeks' looking.
